Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

One of the most exciting moments for folks in the caravan en route to Tecumseh, Canada, came in Detroit.

From that point to the entrance of the tunnel, the ride was a real thriller, bringing cheers and horn - honking from vehicles in the caravan.

The 12 cycles to guide a caravan of more than 200 cars, trucks and buses along the Ford and onto the John Lodge, blocking off all incoming traffic ramps, keeping the line moving at 50 miles an hour and waving away other motorists from cutting into the convoy was a masterpiece of timing and technique.

As the line turned into the tunnel entrance, the escort cycles wheeled up to a halt nearby and the officers grinned and waved as folks in car after car thanked the policemen for their magnificent job.

"I'm writing to Mayor Cavanagh to tell him what a fine job you did," the editor shouted.

"Thanks. And tell him we should get that raise," was the smiling response of the lad in blue.

I DID PEN a quick note to the Lord Mayor of Detroit and here is what I said.

(You will note the use of his first name. Ever since our meeting in Adrian, shortly after I had editorialized that our backing was with him against Soapy Williams in the senatorial primary, but would be with Bob Griffin in the finals and he chided me good naturedly, I refer to him as my "buddie Jerry.")

Dear Jerry,

Last Saturday, 1,000 citizens of Tecumseh, Mich., were honored guests at Tecumseh, Ontario's giant celebration of Canada's 100th confederation birthday.

This was the third time the two communities had exchanged visits, the others being 17 years ago when our town was 125 years old. Folks around here have talked about those 1950 visitations ever since.

Well, last weekend's party was a real zinger as 5,000 Tecumsehites — Canadian and American — watched a giant parade, two ball games, firemen's waterball fight, square dancing, teen stomp, and the opening of a new $75,000 swimming pool.

They intercepted us on the Edsel Ford Expressway at Miller Rd. and whirled our convoy through to the John Lodge and down to the Tunnel — all at 50 miles an hour with nary an interruption or mishap.

Speaking for 1,000 who witnessed this dynamic demonstration, I would like to extend a warm thank you to Detroit and its police.

Realizing the next few lines might be a little touchy, (like my pre-election editorial), I ask that you accept them in the same sincere manner in which they are written.

In shouting my thanks to your men, I added that I planned to write you of their excellent job of escorting us.

All the best,
Tom

Fireworks Display Viewed by 2,000 on Fourth of July

Approximately 2,000 watched the annual Chamber of Commerce fireworks display Tuesday night at the athletic field.

The exhibition went off as scheduled after several businessmen volunteered to handle the fireworks.

James Fielder had headed the display for the past few years. Earlier in the day, his wife was killed in a traffic accident on Tipton Hwy., and he was hospitalized.

AS WE KNEW HER — Judy Fielder was popular in The Herald office, always laughing, talking, and dashing around, confident that the job could be done regardless of size.

Herald Writer Killed

Funeral services will be held Friday morning at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church for Mrs. James Fielder, 27, who was killed in an auto accident early Tuesday morning on Tipton Hwy.

Her husband, James Fielder, 32, is in Herrick Hospital with six broken ribs and lacerations.

The Fielders were traveling south on Tipton Hwy. when their car struck a bridge abutment. State Police arrived at the scene about a half hour later, after a resident of the area heard and reported the crash.

The Clinton Post reports that Mr. Fielder probably fell asleep while driving, crossed over the centerline and crashed into the bridge.

Mrs. Fielder, born Oct. 23, 1939, graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1957, was married Aug. 10, 1957. Judy and Jim and their four children, Jody 9; Jennifer 8; Jacqueline, 6 and Jill, 4, resided at 112 W. Shawnee St.

She was a member of St. Elizabeth Church, its Altar Society, Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary and the Michigan Women's Press Club.

She was an employee of The Herald since March, 1963, and a correspondent for the Jackson Citizen-Patriot. About two years ago she became a licensed real estate agent, working part time for Osburn Real Estate and Insurance.

The Rosary will be recited Thursday evening at 8:30 at the Proctor Funeral Home and services Friday morning at 10 at St. Elizabeth Church.

Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

Cambridge Voters Hold Key to New Speedway

For registered voters in the unincorporated portion of Cambridge Township, July 18, 1967, will be an important date. They go to the polls in the Onsted fire station that day to decide if their township should make a zoning change which would allow erection of a $4 Million super speedway. This story tells what the proposed deluxe race course would be like.

International auto racing can never be considered the sport of long-haired, almost neolithic hippies with IQs of —20.

"With companies like Ford, Ferarri of Italy and Jaguar of Britain annually spending millions of dollars designing, building, then sending their cars all around the world for competition, it is easy to see that racing of this variety is an expensive and highly technical business," states John Marsh, a representative of Michigan International Speedway.

"This is the type of racing we propose to introduce to Cambridge Township," said Mr. Marsh.

"It should not be confused with the small, dirt-track operations," he noted, "where jalopies rescued from junk dealers flail around, hitting and bumping one another."

The new speedway will cost between $3 and $4 million and will include permanent grandstands, a restaurant, fully equipped pits and lockup garages for 30 cars, adds Mr. Marsh.

On the infield, a paved road-racing circuit will be incorporated into the overall design.

"The United States Auto Club (USAC) has approved the speedway at Cambridge for this type of racing, and this type of racing only," Mr. Marsh stressed.

"In the two Indianapolis-type races where a starting field of 90 cars will probably exceed a total value of $2 million going for prize money of over $100,000, it is patently clear that limited-budget racing is not intended for Lenawee County," Mr. Marsh stated.

"This rules out that element which Hollywood likes to depict as 'average' race fans. The beer-swilling, black-jacketed hoods just won't be able to afford the price structure for races at the speedway," he noted.

Michigan International will charge $25 for the grandstand and $10 for general admission, to its least expensive races, Mr. Marsh said.

The Speedway's own police and fire departments, required by USAC law, will maintain and protect the shareholders' investment.

On race and practice days, the standing force of about 12 patrolmen and 12 fire and maintenance officers, will be backed up by nearly 180 protection men.

"Michigan International will be needing a lot of help from people to work for the track," Mr. Marsh noted.

"A permanent staff of at least 50 people, including fire and police, is visualized."

Mr. Marsh concluded that the speedway head offices will be at the track with personnel living in the community.

RACING IS HIS GAME — John Marsh, a racing sports-caster from England, is relaxed before the microphone as he speaks of the possible Michigan International Speedway to be located in Cambridge Township. Marsh, a former driver himself, is now public relations chief for the Speedway.

Jean S. Preston Is Now Attending Merrill-Palmer

Among the undergraduate students enrolled at The Merrill-Palmer Institute in Detroit during the summer quarter session is Jean S. Preston, daughter of Richard A. Preston, 316 N. Union.

The Merrill-Palmer Institute is the only center of its kind devoted to teaching, research and community service in the special fields of human development and family life.

Its world-wide reputation is based on more than 40 years pioneering in the study of individuals and families, and their relationships with each other and with the community.

Following her studies at Merrill-Palmer, Miss Preston will be returning to Hillsdale College to complete her degree.

Road Marker Put in Place

An official historical marker to the LaPlaisance Bay Pike (M-50) will be dedicated by the Lenawee County Historical Society at public formal ceremonies July 9 at 2:30 p.m., at the Tecumseh Community Center.

Dr. Lewis VanderVelde, of Ann Arbor, president of the Michigan Historical Commission, will be the guest speaker and Clara Waldron will tell the history of the road.

Justin Sutton of Morenci, president of the society, will be master of ceremonies and present the marker.

In 1832, the federal government appropriated funds for the survey of the road which began at LaPlaisance Bay on Lake Erie in Monroe.

With the opening of the Erie Canal in 1825, Monroe's LaPlaisance Bay became the gateway to the west, as it passed through Tecumseh to Cambridge Junction, where it joined with the Chicago Rd., now US-12.

Mrs. Lawrence Hall of Blissfield, is chairman of this project with the help of Earl Baker of Jasper and Phyllis Robertson

Mike Hill Matches Brother's Score of 71

Comes next summer's PGA results, sports fans will probably become confused over the Hills Brothers.

And that's not the coffee makers.

Both Mike and Dave Hill likely will be together on the lush pro golfers circuit.

Dave has been making his living on the PGA route the past nine years and rates as one of the nation's money winners.

Younger brother, Mike, chomping at the bit to join Dave and other top-flight linksmen, should start the coast-to-coast swing, chasing hundreds of thousands of dollars in prize cash next spring.

To do so, he must qualify in the PGA rookie tournament in Florida next October. Last year he missed by one stroke.

★

MIKE SHOWED Sunday at Tecumseh Country Club, where he is in his second year as pro, that he can match Dave shot for shot.

In an exhibition, both Hills fired one-under par 71's.

Mike and Adrian's Jake Fesseke, who had a 73, teamed on best ball to go one-up on Dave and his partner, Leo Bishop, former TCC pro now in Birmingham, who carded a 78.

With nearly 200 spectators following the foursome on a gorgeous day, the match turned out to be a thriller.

HALLMARK of both Hill Brothers' game is the long ball. Spectators saw some real boomers by both Mike and Dave, several going 300 yards.

On the 350-yard hole, Dave's drive was about 30 yards short of the green to rank as one of the day's most spectacular shots.

Jim Wilson Wins July 4 Tournament

For a second straight year, Jim Wilson of Brooklyn captured the Fourth of July low-gross tournament at Tecumseh Country Club.

This time he needed a two-hole sudden-death playoff to accomplish the feat.

In the first extra hole the threesome was still tied, then the winner hit a par four on the second hole while both the others got home in five.

The Frank Smith Memorial Trophy, for best low net card, was captured by John Stommen of Milan, who had a 65.

Walt Daniels was runner-up with a 66 and Joseph Weigle third with 67, tied with Messers Thoss and Dickinson who had 67 net scores.

Bob French and Warren Boldt carded 68's.

Prize for longest drive on No. 11 went to Bob Lowery of Dundee. Fred Randall came closest to the pin on No. 6.

Most netbirdies, nine, were turned in by Dr. Walt Elwartowski.

Leo Bishop Keeps Puns Coming Fast

One-time Tecumseh Country Club golf professional Leo Bishop said he was delighted to be invited to take part in Sunday's exhibition.

Now the head man at a new course near Birmingham, where his daughter, Sandy, is one of the instructors, Leo said he'd be happy just to caddy for Dave Hill.

Then he started to tease his many friends at TCC.

Asking one member to show his style off the practice tee, the fellow complied. The resulting shot was just mediocre.

"Yea? What's that?" asked the golfer eagerly.

That's the way it went during the entire exhibition.

On the 165-yard, par-three 15th hole, the pros were discussing what iron to use, finally agreeing on No. 6.

"Naw, that wasn't the right club at all. Should have been a two iron," he told the crowd.

Mr. Bishop was delighted with the condition of the course. He spent 12 years here, carved out the first nine with his own hands, knew every blade of grass, dip and swirl, how old the trees were.

It was his thinking that the club should have bought up much more land to the east, enough for a housing subdivision, in addition to room for the new front nine holes.

When developers of his layout, which includes housing and recreation, started out several years back, the land was selling for $400 an acre. Now the price is $25,000.

Dan, Dave Bush Speak Publicly in 4-H Competition

Daniel and David Bush, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ellwood Bush, 8381 Pennington Rd., Tecumseh, participated recently in the 1967 4-H Public Speaking Contest.

The Bush boys and other participants concluded a series of bi-weekly public speaking classes.

The winners were selected to represent Lenawee County in competition to be held Aug. 23 at the State 4-H Show at Michigan State University.

Macon Guests

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore called on Mr. and Mrs. Delmer Bruder, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carey, Sr., and daughter, Luella and Mr. and Mrs. Edward Furlong, in Ypsilanti Sunday.

Local Gals To Attend GOP Club

Republican Women have been invited to an all-day meeting July 8 in Jackson by the Republican Women's Club there.

A coffee hour will be held at the site of the first Republican convention at the corner of Franklin and Second St., from 10:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m.

A barbecue will be held at the Jackson Fairgrounds at 2 p.m., followed by a program featuring Congressman Fred Schwengel of Iowa, noted Lincoln authority.

Tickets may be obtained from Helen Sisson, 423-3656, or Mrs. Melvin Wegner, 423-3283.

Officers for the local Shawnee Republican Women's Club were elected at a meeting June 27 at the home of Mrs. Sisson.

Mrs. Stella Hubbard is president, Mrs. Sisson, vice president and Mrs. Laine Holden, secretary-treasurer.

Reports of the national convention were given by delegates, Mrs. Raymond Platt, Mrs. Clayton Greenwald and Mrs. Sisson.

The July meeting has been canceled in deference to the County Republican dinner at the Devils Lake Yacht Club when Congressman Marv Esch will be the speaker.

Cancer Society Crusade Receives Top Donations

The volunteer workers and board members of the American Cancer Society held a potluck dinner at the Methodist Church, Adrian, June 29.

It was reported that $16,944.19 has been received for the crusade. Due to the generosity of Kenneth Herrick and several other donors, this put the Lenawee County over the top.

Door to door volunteer workers were commended for their tireless efforts. Seventy citations were awarded.

Joe Fortunato, 1967 Crusade Chairman and Mrs. Bernard Patmos, Dressing Chairman, received plaques for their dedicated service to the Lenawee County Unit.

TIPTON — There will be a Fellowship dinner honoring the Rev. Gordon Blossem, and family of Plainwell, the former pastor of the Tipton Community Church following worship services Sunday.

Rev. Blossem will fill the pulpit.

Each family is to bring fried chicken, table service, a dish to pass and dessert.

Potatoes, rolls and beverage will be furnished.

McClues Bid Farewell

BRITTON — Neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. Carl McClue surprised them with a farewell cookout supper party last Thursday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Osterhout.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Ned Brown, Mrs. David Bush, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rowlands, Mr. and Mrs. William Bailey and son, Mrs. Jack McClue and daughters, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Jeffers and son, and Mr. and Mrs. Osterhout.

Other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Ground and children who have purchased the McClue home on Chicago Blvd. They were welcomed to the neighborhood by the group.

Mr. and Mrs. McClue have moved to Moran.

Cards were played to conclude the evening.

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Miller, 9481 Britton Hwy., will be guests of Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Hass at a dinner party to be held at Weber's Saturday, Frederick Miller and Alys L. Gitus were married July 11, 1942, by the Rev. Fred Schroder in Britton. They are the parents of two children, Mrs. Clifford Haas of Lambertville and Pfc. James Miller in Vung Tau, Vietnam. They have two grandchildren, Adam and Staci Haas. A celebration will be held on their son's return from Vietnam.

TIPTON CHURCH NOTES

Church hours at the Tipton Community Church will be: Church School at 9:30 - 10:30 a.m. and Morning Worship from 10:30 - 11:30 a.m. for the summer months.

The Women's Fellowship met at the home of Mrs. Wilhelm Spycher. A short business meeting was held and $74 was made on the recent bake sale.

Birthday cakes will be furnished for Maple Lane Manor for the months of August and September. Election of officers will be held at the next meeting.

The Youth Choir met Monday evening for regular practice and observed the birthday anniversary of their choir leader, Kay Becker. A decorated cake, chips and Kool-Aid were enjoyed by the group.

Interlochen To Greet Van Cliburn

Van Cliburn, the young pianist who came to Interlochen somewhat reluctantly in 1961 to play again the concerto that had brought him fame, will be back here July 18.

This time it will be for a ninth concert in the seventh successive year he has come to the National Music Camp.

The concert again will benefit the Joseph E. Maddy Memorial Fund — that fund which receives $1 from the W. Clement Stone and Jessie V. Stone Foundation for every $4 raised from other sources.

Inasmuch as tickets are priced at $4 and $2.50 — with all seats reserved — each $4 ticket will bring $5 to the fund.

Ticket orders may be addressed to the National Music Camp Box Office, Interlochen, Mich. 49643.

Mrs. Glenn VanVleet, of 7306 E. Monroe Rd., is among 5,000 participants from the U. S. and abroad at the Third Triennial National Meeting of United Presbyterian Women in New York, N. Y.

The meeting, which is being held on the campus of Purdue University, will end Saturday.

The purpose of the meeting is to make evident and compelling the meaning of God's gift of reconciliation through Christ and the ways in which 20th century Christians can believe it, accept it, share it and live it.

School Principal Charles Schankin Resigns His Post

BRITTON — The Britton-Macon Board of Education has accepted with regret the resignation of Principal Charles Schankin.

Mr. Schankin has accepted a similar post at Fowlerville. He has been principal at Britton for two years.

Edgar Ericson will assume his duties as director of the summer school program.

In other action at the regular board meeting Wednesday night, contracts were approved for Ruth Ann Sturgeon, second grade teacher; Kathryn Smith, first grade; and William Ozak, government and civics.

Still needed, according to Supt. William Saxton, are third, fourth and fifth grade teachers; a band director, high school English teacher, librarian, counselor and principal.

Foundation Gives Grant

The H. B. Earhart Foundation of Ann Arbor has awarded a tuition plus $1,500 fellowship to Arthur J. Collingsworth, of Tecumseh.

"The Foundation's grants allow outstanding undergraduates in political science and economics to pursue graduate studies," a representative said.

This fall, Arthur will enroll in Georgetown University's master of arts program in international relations.

There, under Dr. Eleanor Lansing Dulles, author and sister of the late John Foster Dulles, Arthur will study American foreign relations and begin researching the private papers of the former Secretary of State.

Emergency Game To Prepare Youths for Short Course

4-H'ers from Lenawee, Monroe and Washtenaw Counties were involved in the Emergency Preparedness Game June 28 at the Washtenaw County Farm Youth Center in Ann Arbor.

The game required the participants to make decisions as if they were typical community leaders during a time of community crisis.

In each role, the individual was forced to decide among realistic alternatives of duties of work, aid to disabled persons and one's family.

Groups interested in participating in an Emergency Preparedness opportunity may contact the 4-H office for details.

Showers Honor Barbara Gillespie

BRITTON — Barbara Gillespie was the guest of honor at a bridal shower June 28 in the home of Mrs. Lawrence Ash, given for her by Mrs. Ash and Mrs. Harold Rhorback, both of Britton, and Mrs. Kenneth Ringman and Mrs. Robert Ferguson of Tecumseh.

Decorations for the event were in pink and white. A large pink and white umbrella was over the gift table. Miss Gillespie was presented with a corsage of pink rosebuds and white carnations.

Party bridge was played, with duplicate prizes being awarded the guest of honor and the winners: Mrs. Paul Rowlands, Mrs. Connie Lewis, Mrs. Raymond Kahle and Mrs. Gerald Benedict.

Refreshments were served to the 40 guests by the hostesses. Favors of tiny umbrellas containing rice were given to each guest.

Grace Methodist Has Bible School for Vacationers

BRITTON — The Grace Methodist Church Vacation Bible School will be conducted July 10-14 this year, from 9-11:30 a.m. daily.

Classes will be held for children from kindergarten through sixth grade age.

The church bus will pick up children who are unable to get to the school. Call Mrs. Raymond Bird for transportation.

A potluck supper Friday evening will conclude the week's activities. Mrs. Paul Frazier is in charge of the school.

Baptist Church To Have Dinner at Robert Barrons

The Clinton Baptist Church will hold a regular business meeting at 6:15 p.m., at the church July 8, followed by a cooperative dinner at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barron on the South Shore of Wamplers Lake at 103 Pine St.

Young Bride-Elect Feted by Friends

Games were played by 14 Britton High School classmates with prizes awarded to Mrs. Larry Miller, Mrs. Philip Benedict and Mrs. William Carson.

Romance candles were presented to the honored guest along with many other gifts.

Miss Gillespie's marriage to William Veeser of Chicago will be solemnized July 29.

Miss Gillespie opened many lovely gifts. She will become the bride of William Veeser of Chicago on July 29.

Britton Bachelors Softball Team is 3-2 for Season

BRITTON — The Britton Bachelors softball team were victorious twice last week, downing Iott's Insurance, 6-5, and Carson's Inn, 10-1.

The Bachelors are now 3-2 for the season.

Recreation Notes

By DON MOFFATT, SUPT.

Last week was a busy one for Tecumseh's Park & Recreation Department, with activities ranging from a bicycle safety check on the playgrounds to the organization of the Tecumseh Swim Club.

A total of 52 children passed the bicycle safety check which was conducted Thursday and Friday. Things such as brakes, handlebar stability and tires were checked.

From the possible 130 points, 80 were required to pass the check. The overall survey showed that most bikes lacked mirrors and lights, things which are necessary if complete safety is to be accomplished.

TECUMSEH ACRES

In a drawing of those with the highest number of points, Frank Stanley was chosen as playground winner. Jeff King and Nancy Sinkey were the winners of the bicycle races.

SHADY LANE

Shady Laners continued playing softball and kickball last week and are scheduled to play the Herrick Park team in [illegible] Monday.

Those participating and winning ribbons in the bicycle safety check are Jana, Joanie and Peggy Upell, Luke Somerlot, Timmy and Jimmy Street, Lorrie Harrold, John Rathke, Sharon Brown and Danny Harrold.

John Rathke was the playground winner.

PATTERSON

Those at Patterson playground enjoyed whiffle ball every day last week, with the standout player being Scott Durkee.

Bicycles were checked on Friday and those receiving ribbons were Marcie Prettyman, Jody Graham, Mary Beth Lay, Debbie Hamilton, Mark Cheever and Julie Cook.

HERRICK PARK

Ribbon winners in the bicycle safety check were Jean Lemanski, Gary Brion, Mark Booze, Nancy Kitson, Bobby Cheers, Cindy Adams, Jeff Langham, Ike Smith, Marc Graff, Debbie Burkhard and Mark Burkhard.

Bobby Cheers won a prize for having the safest bicycle at Herrick Park, and also received a bicycle safety belt as city winner.

In the 8-10 year old group, Mark Booze, Paul Lemanski and Nancy Kitson were winners in the bicycle race. In the older age group, Debbie Burkhard and Gary Brion were winners.

Two girls have been placed at each of the playgrounds so that activities for the older and younger children may be supervised. Any child over three is invited to participate.

GIRLS' PEE WEE LEAGUE

On Tuesday the Red Sox outlasted the Indians, 16-7, behind the excellent hitting of Carrie Hyatt. The Indians came back to defeat the Red Sox Thursday, 26-13.

Jill Barton of the Indians was the star of the game, hitting two homeruns and making an unassisted triple play.

GIRLS JUNIOR SOFTBALL STANDINGS

	W	L
Lake's Frogs	2	0
Gayle's Goofs	2	0
Female Sluggers	0	2

Tuesday's game with the Female Sluggers was victorious for Lake's Frogs. Natalie Hopson was the winning hurler, allowing only five runs. The final score was 21-5.

Elaine Aebersold lead the team in batting, pounding out two grand slam homeruns. She was aided by Nancy Dustin, who also hit two homers, and Debbie Hollister, Lisa Lee and Nancy Hamilton, with one each.

In Tuesday's other game, Gayle's Goofs defeated Nancy's Nicies, 8-5. Mary Jo Rosacrans and Peggy Upell were defensive standouts.

Lake's Frogs won a tight one Thursday, 11-9, over Nancy's Nicies. Nancy Dustin was the leading batter with a perfect 4 for 4, including two triples. Mary Banda was the winning pitcher and did a fine job batting.

Excellent pitching by Mary Jo Rosacrans led Gayle's Goofs to a 9-6 victory over Female Sluggers Thursday. Captain Jan Felton led in batting, with Janice Miller and Peggy Upell also turning in fine days at the plate.

BOYS' PEE WEE LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W	L
Mensing's Mudhens	2	1
Mobley's Moles	2	1
Dalton's Little Devils	2	1
Lewis' Lunkheads	0	3

Tecumseh's seven and eight-year-olds are off to a flying start in the Recreation Department's Boys' Pee Wee League Baseball Program, which is under the direction of John Oberlin.

Three teams are tied for first with identical 2-1 records.

In action last week, the Mudhens dazed out the Moles, 23-21, skinned the Lunkheads, 5-2, and tasted defeat on a 5-2 loss to the Devils.

The Moles scorched the Lunkheads, 17-12, and bounced the Devils, 7-6. The Devils blasted the Lunkheads, 15-11.

Substitutes are Scott Edwards and Jim Hunt.

TENNIS

The tennis program has outgrown all expectations this summer, with some 35 students enrolled in classes.

Instructor Mike Allen has announced that all classes are now full. Lessons will last four weeks with a tournament planned at the completion of the program.

MOMS' SOFTBALL

More women are needed for the Moms' Softball League, which meets each Wednesday evening at 8 on the athletic field.

POOL

The fee is $5 per student, unless there are more than one in the family taking lessons, in which case the fee is $4.

All those taking junior or senior lifesaving are required to pay $5.

Diving lessons begin July 10 at 5 p.m. The fee for eight lessons is $2, and classes will meet each Monday and Wednesday from 5-6 p.m. There is still room in this class.

Those interested may still join the adult lessons, which are held each Tuesday and Thursday from 8:30 to 10 p.m.

Family Nights are a special feature of the pool program. They are held each Tuesday and Thursday evening, when the entire family is admitted for 50c.

A swimming demonstration is planned for this Friday night at 7 p.m. at the pool. The public is invited to see the first session students perform.

SWIM CLUB

The newly-organized Swim Club, under the direction of Larry Merx assisted by Bill Dustin, has attracted about 75 area young people.

The Club will meet the Adrian YMCA Swim Club in Tecumseh's pool Friday at 8 p.m., or immediately following the swimming demonstration.

More meets are in the offing, but have not been definitely scheduled yet.

Club members have been divided into five age groups: eight and nine year-olds, 10 and 11 year-olds, 12 and 13 year-olds, 14 and 15 year-olds, and girls over 16. Within the groups they are divided into free style, back stroke, breast stroke and butterfly.

Interested people may join by attending practice sessions which are held Tuesday and Thursday from 5-6 p.m., at the pool or on Saturday morning.

Mr. Merx is encouraging all those who enjoy swimming to join, and stressed that more girls are needed especially in the over-16 age group.

Mr. and Mrs. Merton H. Thielan, 514 W. Kilbuck St., will celebrate their golden wedding anniversary July 9 at the Tecumseh Grange Hall. Guests are invited from 2 - 5 p.m. Mr. Thielan and Bernice Edwards were married July 3, 1917, by the Rev. Montgomery at Adrian. The couple are the parents of three children, Mrs. Richard Preston, 316 N. Union St., Mrs. Bill Hanna, 600 Center Dr., and Mrs. Maynard Lucas of Chamblee, Ga. There are eight grandchildren and three great-grandchildren. The couple ask that gifts be omitted.

Police Union Upset

Unfair labor charges may be filed against the city unless changes are made in the work schedule for Tecumseh policemen.

City officials have received telegrams from the police union, charging the city with failure to notify the union of a change in work schedule and refusal to arbitrate.

City Manager Cal Zorn said the police department is short two patrolmen and a change in schedule was necessary to have two officers on duty at all times.

The schedule was changed last Friday.

DIAMOND RESULTS

► MIDLAND 9, ADRIAN 4

The Eagles lost their first game to Midland, 9-4.

Jan Zimmerman was the winning pitcher.

The next Eagles' game will be at Island Park, Adrian, at 7:30 p.m. July 8, against Toledo.

July 9 will see the ladies up against a double-header with league-leading Akron, O. The first game will start at 2 p.m.

► ADRIAN EAGLES 5, MT. CLEMENS 1

Fast action has been seen by the Adrian Eagles Women's Softball Team as the 1967 season began in the Michigan-Ohio Fastball League, which includes nine teams.

Muriel Schneider of Adrian was on the mound for the Eagles, fanning five, and Eloise Dierker of Maumee, O., was behind the plate.

Edie Migan and Peggy Mattern were the losing battery.

Sandy Sebring of Adrian and Darlene Borton of Hudson each singled in the sixth and later scored the last two runs.

Mary Lou Weekly of Adrian had two hits.

Aviation Apprentice Larry A. Henning, who was graduated June 9 from Great Lakes Naval Training Center, recently spent a 14-day leave with his mother, Mrs. Gladwin Henning, 6565 N. Countyline Rd., Britton. Airman Henning reported to Miramar, Calif., for 12 weeks' schooling as an aviation electrician.

► RUHL'S CITGO 5, KEMP MURPHY 3

A grand slam home run by Mike Montgomery in the sixth inning clinched the game for Ruhl's Citgo as they defeated Kemp Murphy, 5-3.

C. E. Locker was on the mound for Citgo and Brad Hatch was behind the plate.

Lawson and Mark Vaillancourt were leading hitters for Citgo and Mel Oberst led the way for Kemp Murphy.

► TEC. MERCHANTS 11, 3 LAKES SUPPLY, 0

Pete Burns and Dave Jedele were the losing battery.

► EAGLES 0, G & J 0

Eagles win over G & J by forfeit.

► EAGLES 7, TPW 4

Eagles defeated TPW in fast action recently, 7-4.

Mervin Maynard laid down a perfect bunt and was safe at first but a ball wide at first allowed him to go all the way to third.

He scored on a wild pitch in the third inning.

TPW had a double play in the second. Marvin Maynard lined to Pitcher Kennedy who threw to Denny Puffer at third to double off Sam Whitney.

► KIWANIS 9, EXCHANGE 2

► INDIANS 5, TWINS 1

Indian Ricky Brooks and Twins' Tim Rutherford were the game's pitchers, with Brooks fanning nine.

► G & J 10, TPW 4

The final score stood 10-4 as G & J whipped TPW.

Bob Reed and Steve Tilton were the winning battery. Craig Smith relieved Reed and together they fanned 10.

Smith, Tilton and Tim Lasky were lead hitters for G & J and Kennedy and Durkee led the TPW batters.

► LENAWEE FUELS 11, KIWANIS 5

Lenawee Fuels' hitting attack was too much for the Kiwanis as they defeated them, 11-5.

► LENAWEE FUELS 3, TPW 2

Jack McCarley and Rick Vealey relieved Berry.

► EAGLES 13, VFW 3

In recent action, Eagles downed VFW, 13-3.

Eagle Robin Hatch hit a hard smash which the pitcher knocked down and couldn't find. Alex Gibson then doubled, scoring Hatch, and Mike Mattison tripled in the third to score Gibson with what proved to be the winning run of the game.

Catcher Maynard ran down the first base line to catch a foul fly then ran on to step on first, doubling Greenfield who had been trying to steal second.

Fifth inning action won the game for the Eagles as they defeated VFW, 7-4.

Through the combined efforts of Sam Whitney, Roger Ashenfelter, Robin Hatch, Marv Maynard and Alex Gibson, four runs were driven in.

► EAGLES 5, MIDLAND 0

Marie Zeigler and Loraine Alexander were the losing battery.

Theresa Wells of Tecumseh singled home Elaine Langenderfer of Adrian and Eloise Dierger in the third who scored what proved to be the winning runs.

Nuptial Vows Are Exchanged

Sue Ann Hammack became the bride of James Alex Kirk in a double ring ceremony performed Saturday evening at the Friends Church by the Rev. Dale Neff.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. Ernest Hammack, 410 W. Brown St., and the late Mr. Hammack, and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Kirk, 603 N. Union St.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her uncle, Darwin Creger. She wore a floor length gown of organza with an empire bodice and an A-line skirt appliqued with Alencon lace and a removable coat style cathedral train.

Bridesmaids were Nancy Bird and Mrs. Carl LaGore. They wore floor length gowns of orchid organza fashioned like the bride's and also carried fans with glamelias.

Susan wore a pink gown fashioned as that of the maid of honor and carried a basket of miniature carnations.

MRS. JAMES A. KIRK

The tiered wedding cake was decorated with a miniature wedding party dressed identically to the bride and groom and their attendants. It was flanked with brandy snifters holding floating candles and miniature bridal couples.

Shiela Adkins, sister of the groom, registered the guests attending from Lexington, Ky., Chicago, Ill., Dayton, O., Detroit, Leslie, Jackson, Ann Arbor, Saline and other surrounding towns.

The young couple are both 1965 graduates of Tecumseh High School. The bride was also graduated from Cleary College and is employed for the Department of Interior at Ann Arbor.

The groom, after graduating from the Professional Barber School of Detroit, was employed in an Ypsilanti Barber Shop before entering the army in March, 1967.

The rehearsal dinner was given at the Country House by the groom's parents.

The newly married Mr. and Mrs. Kirk will live at Fort Gordon, Ga.

Washington Report

There are some welcome signs of late that Washington may slowly be headed toward fiscal responsibility. The voice of the people way last November calling for sound spending policies is finally beginning to be heard and reflected in our nation's capitol.

Most significant of recent steps in this direction was the refusal of the House to raise the national debt ceiling, as requested by the President, for the second time this year.

This time he asked for an increase of 29 billion bringing our total national debt to an all time high of $365 Billion. The House defeated this request by a vote of 197-211 — a vote which reflected the concern of both parties and all philosophies over the continual lack of fiscal integrity in national spending practices. My own vote was with this new majority against the increase.

This action did not come as a complete surprise. Actually it was preceded by several cuts in the President's budget — the total reductions now amount to nearly $2 billion.

There has been a real failure on the part of the White House to recognize these growing economy trends and to realize the fiscal mood of Congress and the people.

The reasons given for raising the national debt ceiling basically revolved around the costly war in Vietnam. To the contrary, however, two-thirds of the increase in federal expenditures in the last three years are accounted for by non-defense spending.

And of the projected increase from 1966 to 1968 over half is to be in non-defense programs. In the light of these facts, it is just not honest to blame the need for increased indebtedness entirely on the war.

Screening Plans Set To Beautify Local Highways

Junkyard screening at two locations on US-12 and US-127 have been estimated at a cost of $10,000, it was recently reported by the State Highway Commission.

The screening will be paid for from the Federal Highway Beautification funds.

The locations are on the east side of US-127, three-fourths of a mile north of Addison, and the north side of US-12, west of Moscow in Hillsdale County.

The completion date is set for Sept. 30, 1968.

Print Exhibition

An exhibition of engravings, etchings and lithographs may be seen in Gallery 8 of The Toledo Art Museum until Sunday, Aug. 20.

7 Ladies Attend State Conference for Baptist Women

Those attending the Michigan Baptist Women's State Conference at Grass Lake were Mrs. C. O. Baily, Mrs. Henry Howard and Mrs. Blair Bashore who attended all three days.

Those attending Tuesday were Mrs. Bertram Updike, Mrs. Thomas Brooks, Mrs. Llewelyn Sisson and Mrs. George Miller.

Mrs. Ben Armstrong, who served many years as a Baptist missionary to the people of Swatow, China, and in later years in Hong Kong, was the featured speaker of the Conference.

Deborah Holden received a bachelor of arts degree in American studies at Michigan State University June 11. She was the only graduate in the new division of the College of Arts and Letters in pre-library work. Miss Holden plans to return to the University in the fall to obtain her teaching certificate. Her mother, Mrs. Laine Holden and sisters, Joyce and Jill, Mrs. Norman Groeschow of Adrian and Mr. and Mrs. Dean Jones of Macon were among others attending from here.

Seaman Apprentice Barry L. Winder, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Winder of 129 W. Church St., Clinton, helped land Marines and equipment in South Vietnam, 17 miles south of Da Nang, as a crewman aboard the amphibious dock transport ship USS Ogden. The amphibious landing, named operation "Beacon Torch," began in the predawn darkness of June 17. Fast Navy patrol boats first went close inshore to clear the area of junks and sampans, and then remained nearby to block possible enemy infiltration of the attack zone. At dawn, Marine and Navy amphibious assault craft loaded with "Leathernecks" of Battalion Landing Team 2/3 with their equipment, splashed out of the Ogden on their way to the landing area. At the same time, other Marines of the battalion were being moved ashore by helicopters from a Navy assault ship nearby. A Navy destroyer stood further offshore and provided heavy gunfire support for the attacking Marines.

HERALD PHOTO BY TOM RIORDAN

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Judy Fielder lived life every minute to the fullest, giving freely of herself to her friends as well as to her family. She bubbled with enthusiasm, lightening the burdens of others with her gay-hearted ways.

She appreciated the fine moments, such as one recent experience she had of hearing her dad and brother sing a nuptial mass at a family wedding.

"I'll never get any closer to heaven," she remarked.

God must have had great need of her, to have removed her vibrant presence from our midst.

Diane Dorpoy was the guest of honor at an open house given for her by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Bumpus recently. Seventy-five guests were present from Toledo and Sylvania, O.; Hillsdale, Adrian, Temperance, Tecumseh, Tipton and Britton. A buffet luncheon was served, including a book cake in blue and white, baked and decorated by Mrs. Don Spaulding of Dundee.

Mrs. Rita Blake, Tecumseh Junior High art teacher, will be sending a check to CRIA this week.

The $49.10 check is the amount taken in from sales of paintings, prints, drawings, sculpture and jewelry made by the students in her art classes this year and offered for this benefit sale.

CRIA — the Committee to Rescue Italian Art — is the international organization created when the flood waters filled Florentine galleries, basilicas, and libraries housing art treasures and archives of incalculable value to all the world.

The flood occurred in November 1966, but the restoration work will continue an estimated 30 years, costing millions of dollars.

Anyone wishing to aid in this historically important work can do so by contributing to the Tecumseh Junior High CRIA Fund or writing to Mrs. Blake, 209 Adrian St., Tecumseh, Michigan.

DEARBORN — First national tour of the Model "T" Ford Club of America will be held here July 15-6.

Headquarters for the program will be The Dearborn Inn and Greenfield Village.

For tourists visiting Greenfield Village on Sunday, July 16, the excitement of a Model "T" Ford meet is included at no extra charge in the regular admission to Greenfield Village.

Summons Issued To Two Drivers

George S. Heitzler, 46, of Cincinnati, drove from a parking place on W. Michigan Ave., in Clinton Sunday evening, colliding with a car driven by Robert W. Mattis, 46, of Detroit.

Heitzler was given a summons for an unsafe start from a parking space and Mattis was given a summons for no proof of insurance.

DAY CAMP ENDS — Day Campers at Osburn's Woods ended their week of adventure with an all-camp cook-out. The girls enjoyed grilled cheese sandwiches, carrots, potato chips, celery and milk. But the special treat was watermelon, of which the girls couldn't get their fill. Back for seconds — and thirds — it was an appropriate end to the fun-filled week.

Memoriam

In memory of the late Raynor Ross who saved my life, 32 years ago on July 4th.
To save my life you risked your own,
This debt I can't repay.
I can only love you in death,

And throughout all eternity.
Loved, remembered and sadly missed by one whose life he saved. J6p

VOICE of THE HERALD

Herald Loses a Friend

Tragedy struck The Herald family July 4 when Mrs. James Fielder was killed in an auto accident.

Judy had worked with us on-and-off since March of 1963. On a weekly like ours, everyone is pretty close. Happiness, woes, kids, in-laws are all part of everyday conversation around the office.

Always full of a zest for life, Judy made many contributions to The Herald during those four years.

Her work ranged from copy editing, head writing, feature stories and photography to advertising sales. She was a natural at selling and continually amazed us with an ability to crack accounts we hadn't been able to nail down.

Judy was particularly fascinated with our Newspaper Bingo promotion and did more than anyone on the staff to line up participants. She could quickly grasp a sales point and then clearly explain its advantage to the customer. Usually they bought.

Most folks who go into newspapering at some time or other want to write a personal column. Judy broached the idea last February and we said, 'Fine, go ahead."

Her "Any Think" offerings were often poignant. For the week of Mother's Day she wrote from her heart. Judy started as a letter to her four daughters:

"Dear Jody, Jennifer, Jacqueline and Jill,

"Sunday is Mother's Day.

"This isn't a plug for a gift, because I already have a present that money can't buy."

Following the opening she had a series of "I remember" segments, recounting the hours just before each was born. Then she closed:

"I REMEMBER:

"Messy diapers, formula, dusting powder after morning baths, measles, chicken pox, baby food, the first step, the long walks and constant running.

"These are memories that only a mother can cherish.

"Thanks, kids, for being a great gift."

It's a Natural

Would a giant, international speedway be an asset to Lenawee County?

We think so.

But it's up to more than 1,000 registered voters in Cambridge Township actually to decide. They'll vote on a zoning change July 18 to decide if two residential segments of their township can be used for commercial purposes.

Michigan International Speedway, with options on 600 acres of land in that area is all ready to go on a $4 million deluxe racing plant. All that is needed now is an affirmative vote.

There is some concentrated opposition to the plan, mostly from residents who would like to keep the Irish Hills area just as it is. They'll be out in force to cast "no" votes.

Based on what we've observed and heard around the area, most Cambridge citizens are in favor of the super speedway. However, the plan could well be lost by their lack of getting out and voting.

A lot of effort is currently being made to make certain those favoring the track do take the time to cast ballots. Voters must remember to make a complete "X" or it won't count. A simple check mark isn't enough.

Voting will be in the Onsted fire hall from 7 a.m. until 8 p.m. All registered voters living in the unincorporated part of the township — this counts out Onsted Village — are eligible.

What The Herald particularly likes about the speedway is that here is a natural addition to what already is a recreational area. The land to be used is primarily swamp and unsuitable for farming.

Promoter Lawrence LoPatin of Detroit has a record of connection with top-flight enterprises. He was the key man in development of the multi-million dollar Windsor Raceway, a Florida theme park and other successful ventures.

He's extremely keyed up over the possibilities for the speedway in Cambridge. And the money from investors is poised and ready.

With a self-contained plant which would be of no burden to the area, the super raceway has all the earmarks of a winner.

Besides its six allotted national and international race dates, the track would be used for testing purposes by auto manufacturers, spark plug and tire makers.

It's a sure bet to say if the track becomes a reality, property values in Cambridge will start to increase.

How About Staffs?

Our legislators argue and bicker, raise their salaries, play pat-on-the-back with political cronies and finally reach some sort of an agreement on a state income tax.

They've made certain of no austerity program for Michigan for the next fiscal year — but at whose expense?

We've frequently heard of tremendous slashes in many worthwhile programs — unless a new tax program is adopted.

Perhaps, sweeping off their front steps would help.

Unofficial employment figures for various departments are somewhat startling and should start the taxpayer thinking.

During the past year, employment in the governor's office has jumped from 32 to 156. House of Representatives, excluding the Representatives themselves, 102 to 144 (it was 66 in 1965). In the Senate, excluding the Senators, 68 to 77 — exactly 30 more than in 1965.

For the State during 1965 - '66 - '67, the employment has gone from 34,907 to 38,472 to 40,515.

Our wandering governor is an excellent man, for sure, but does it take a staff of an additional 124 to do his work? Only the lieutenant governor's staff has been kept the same for the past two years, with just four employees.

Where does austerity start when the belt is tightened? We heard about everything except cutting the staffs on the state payrolls.

Board Names

The Rev. Frank W. Hawthorne was recently named among five to the Board of Advisors of the Neils Hansen Memorial Foundation.

The Foundation provides scholarships for high school foreign exchange students. It was established last December to honor the memory of the late Neils Hansen, a German exchange student at Tecumseh High School in 1961-62.

Last November, Hansen was killed in an auto accident in Germany. His friends, who believed that he exemplified the merits of student exchange programs, established a foundation to provide scholarships for secondary exchange students.

The first grants were made this year in early June.

Besides the Rev. Hawthorne, others named to the board by Chairman of the Board of Directors Arthur Collingsworth, were Senator Robert P. Griffin, Dr. Harold Spanberg, president of Eastern Michigan University, Mrs. Rachel Andresen, founder and director of Youth For Understanding and the Grand Duke Tihon, eldest son of the late Grand Duchess Olga and a nephew of the late Czar Nicholas II, of Russia.

Euchre Party

The Tecumseh Grange will sponsor a public euchre party at the hall July 8 at 8 p.m.

The committee requests that those attending bring sandwiches or cookies for refreshments.

READERS WRITE

TO THE EDITORS:

I want to thank all of the people who wrote me about the letter in which I told how our boys in Vietnam feel and how I feel.

(Editor's note — Sp/4 Dunham recently wrote of talking to wounded men and how they were proud to have fought in Vietnam.)

I would like to thank Mrs. Judy Fox for her wonderful letter. Her husband is in Vietnam. I'm glad to know there are still people back home who are behind our boys.

In closing, please keep The Herald coming and send a copy to all our servicemn because it feels good to hear about home.

In closing, may I also relay a special message to a friend, who is back in the States after being hit in Vietnam?

To Dennis Avery: Heard through a letter from my folks you had been wounded. I sure hope you are feeling better and you get well soon.

To Host Hillsdale and Monroe Gals

Tecumseh Country Club women golfers will host Monroe and Hillsdale ladies here July 12.

Those on the committee are Dale Bowen, Mrs. Frank Owen, Mrs. Fred Feldman, Mrs. Frank Stanton, Mrs. Don Smith and Mrs. Frank Dalton.

New York 4 H'ers Visit Local Area

Thirty 4-H'ers from Saratoga County, New York, will arrive July 7 to spend a week with Lenawee 4-H families and share home, church and club activities.

A Hallabaloo starts the week off with an evening of music and fun. Later, the New York exchangees will learn, along with Lenawee 4-H'ers, abut Michigan's industry and history as they tour the River Rouge manufacturing complex and as they choose between a visit to Greenfield Village and Henry Ford Museum in the afternoon.

Throughout the week free time is scheduled for family planned activity.

Four-H'ers in Lenawee County have established the tradition of exchanging visits with 4-H youth in counties of other states.

In recent years, exchanges have been held with groups from Iowa, Nebraska and Kentucky.

Carol Grafe, William Goodrich Speak Vows

Carol Jean Grafe, 415½ S. Pearl St., and William M. Goodrich were united in marriage Saturday, June 17, at the First Methodist Church, Hudson, by the Rev. Roland Liesman.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. George Grafe and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Goodrich, all of Hudson.

Her gown and those of the attendants were designed by the bride who made her own dress.

Her bouffant veil appliqued with lace roses was secured to a fabric rose and she carried two large yellow-throated orchids edged with stephanotis and ivy.

She wore a yellow crepe cabbage rose set on lace on her head and carried yellow roses with stephanotis and ivy.

Mrs. Ron Pearsall, sister of the groom, of Pontiac and Lana Volkert of Fort Wayne were the bridesmaids attired as the maid of honor.

David Batch of Grosse Ile was best man and the 225 guests were seated by Ron Pearsall, Pontiac, Larry Gruber, Ypsilanti, Larry Atkin, Hudson and Jerry Collins, Detroit.

Both young people are graduates of Hudson High School. Mrs. Goodrich is a graduate of Michigan State University and teaches in Tecumseh Public Schools.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents Friday evening at the home of Mrs. M. J. Mulraney.

The couple will be living at 415½ S. Pearl St.

MRS. WILLIAM GOODRICH

MRS. EUGENE VERRIER

Marry Ellen Smith, Eugene Verrier Married

Mary Ellen Smith became the bride of Eugene Verrier Saturday when the Rev. Blair Bashore performed the double ring ceremony in the First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Smith, 750 N. Union St., and Mr. and Mrs. Frank Verrier, 1203 Shady Lane.

On the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of empire design of silk organza with schiffli embroidery, portrait neckline and long tapered sleeves.

Her cathedral train was complimented by a long veil of French illusion detailed with matching appliques.

Mrs. Terrence Griffin, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Phillip Hazlett, Mrs. Jerry Hebb and Iva Brooks.

Connie Retan, niece of the groom, was the flower girl. The attendants were dressed in rose chiffon floor length gowns with matching veils attached to a rose. They carried rubrum lilies and ivy.

Theodore Verrier of Salt Lake City, was his brother's best man and the guests were seated by David Brock, Bruce LeFevre and Allen Wilkerson.

A reception for 250 guests was held in the Youth House.

After a week's trip to Montreal, the couple will live at Wamplers Lake for the summer.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents Thursday evening at the Country House.

MRS. FRED WEGNER

Judy Miller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John A. Miller, of Cassidy Rd., Chelsea, became the bride of Phillip Radant, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. P. Radant, 709 S. Union St., in a ceremony performed June 17 at the First Methodist Church, Chelsea.

Her veil of silk illusion was attached to a crown of seed pearls and lace and she carried a bouquet of white roses and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

Lois Ann Ranney of Plymouth was maid of honor in a pink and rose empire styled gown of taffeta and crepe with matching taffeta coat.

She carried a cascade of pink carnations.

The bridesmaid was Marilyn Miller, sister of the bride, attired as the maid of honor, but in pink only. She carried rose colored carnations.

Mrs. Gary Packard, sister of the bride, cut the wedding cake at the reception held in the church social center. Mrs. Ernest Cameron, sister of the bride, and Mrs. Ashley Chase, aunt of the groom, poured coffee and punch.

Regina Mulligan and Barbara Jane Bowes were in charge of the guest book and gifts.

The bride is a senior in education at Eastern Michigan University and is affiliated with Kappa Delta Pi and the National Honor Society.

The groom is a June graduate of EMU and will teach elementary education in the Plymouth Community Schools.

He served as president of the Student Education Association while at the University.

Mr. and Mrs. Radant will live at 245 Fair St. in Plymouth.

Mrs. Lois Ehlert Wally MacGeorge Are Married

Mrs. Lois Ehlert and Wallace MacGeorge were married June 17 in an evening ceremony performed by the Rev. Laszlo Gero at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church. The Rev. Wilbur Williams of the Deerfield Methodist Church assisted.

Her corsage of cymbidium orchids was centered with a pin, and a double circlet of pearls matching her necklace and earrings, all gifts of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Roland Reister attended the couple and five-year-old Sandra MacGeorge was the flower girl carrying the rings in her nosegay.

Kenneth John of Milan, brother-in-law of the bride, was the soloist.

Mr. and Mrs. Reister, who have been staying in the MacGeorge home, moved back to their Evans Lake residence taking Sandra and Sherry MacGeorge with them while the newlyweds were on a wedding trip to northern Michigan.

Darlene Wagner, Fred Wegner Marry

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wagner, 5200 Sutton Rd., Britton and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Wegner of rural Blissfield.

The altar was decorated with flowers and four candelabra enhanced with miniature ivy. The pews were marked with white satin bows.

The organist was Carol Seager who accompanied the soloist, Ann Marks.

The bride entered the church on the arm of her father. She wore a floor length bouffant gown of lace and nylon organza. It was fashioned with a Sabrina neckline and a lace panel in the front skirt with apron type over skirt of nylon organza edged with sequins and with trimmed lace appliques.

The flower girl was Mary Moll, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Moll of Holloway. Her gown was in empire [illegible]

Ring bearer was Paul Wilson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lora Wilson, of Holloway. Mrs. Douglas Goldsberry of Britton, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her floor length empire gown was of mint green lace.

Ushers were Douglas Goldsberry, brother-in-law of the bride, Jerry Marks, cousin of the groom, Lyle Marine, uncle of the bride, and Mark Wegner, cousin of the groom.

Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Wegner and Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Marine were hosts and hostesses.

The couple will be in Northern Michigan for three days.

The bride graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1966 and is employed at Osbornes' Department Store.

The groom graduated from Blissfield High School in 1962 and is employed at Ford Motor Plant in Rawsonville.

Rehearsal dinner was held in the church basement of North Blissfield Lutheran Immanuel Church, given by Mrs. Stanley Wegner.

The young couple will reside on Pixley Rd., Palmyra.

The engagement of Barbara Jo Damon to David Richard Borgeson of Prospect Heights, Ill., is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Damon, 5383 Macon Rd. Miss Damon was graduated from Michigan State University in 1965 and has been teaching English in Traverse City Senior High for the past two years. Mr. Borgeson, a graduate of Lake Forest College, Lake Forest, Ill., was also employed in the Traverse City High School as a teacher of English. An Aug. 5 wedding is planned. The couple has accepted teaching positions in Oregon for the coming school year and will be making their home in Portland.

Dorothy Nettleman Weds Joseph Poley

Dorothy Jean Nettleman and Joseph Edward Poley were united in marriage Saturday evening in a ceremony performed by Dr. Laszlo Gero at the Gloria Dei Lutheran Church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Donald E. Nettleman, 408 N. Union St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Poley, 311 W. Patterson St.

Gladioli and pompons enhanced the altar and lighted candelabra were used at the front of the church and aisle entrance.

Her fingertip veil was bell shaped.

Susan Simmons of Lansing was maid of honor in a yellow sleeveless, floor length gown in empire design of lace and crepe. A detachable train was supported by a large bow of crepe.

Steven Hollar was best man and the ushers were James Osburn, 11, Dennis Robinson, Douglas and Dennis Kayner.

A four-tiered wedding cake trimmed with daisies and flanked by two lighted candelabra was served at the reception held in the church parlors for 300 guests.

Those assisting at the reception were Mary Clauda, Mary Nettleman, Mrs. George Heeman, Kathleen Hall, Carol Allen, Letty Ringman, Mrs. Charles Lauer and Janice Whelan.

The newly married couple are both studying at Eastern Michigan University. She is a senior in elementary education and he is majoring in organic chemistry and mathematics.

They will live in Ypsilanti.

The rehearsal dinner Friday evening was given by the groom's parents at Bill Cones in Jackson.

Barbara Anne Rose Weds Gary Williams

A huge basket of white miniature carnations and gladioli graced the altar of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church at Sherbrooke, Quebec, Canada for the wedding of Barbara Anne Rose of Grand Rapids to Gary Albert Williams June 17.

Mr. and Mrs. John A. Rose of Waterville, Quebec, Canada are the parents of the bride and Mr. and Mrs. J. Albert Williams, 111 S. Maumee St. are the groom's parents.

The Rev. Alex McCombie performed the ceremony and Glenn Williams, brother of the groom, was the soloist accompanied by Lewis Jenne.

The bride wore a full length gown of lace and satin fashioned with empire waist and A-line skirt, lace bodice and long tapered sleeves. A train of satin was attached at the waist and her elbow length veil was held in place by a bow of lace.

White lace trimmed the waistline. Her lace veil was secured to an aqua bow and she carried a basket of yellow shasta daisies.

Gordon Williams of Houghton served as his brother's best man and the guests were seated by David Farrell, Wayne Swift and Kenneth Rose, brother of the bride.

The Canadian traditional three tiered fruit cake was served at the reception at Ripplecove Inn and the three traditional toasts of punch were made, by the minister to the bride, the groom to the bridesmaids and by the best man to the bride and groom.

The bride is a graduate of Institute Feller, a high school in Canada, the Hanover School of Practical Nursing, Hanover, N. H., and the Grand Rapids School of Bible and Music. She is employed at the Butterworth Hospital, Grand Rapids.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Grand Rapids Baptist Bible College and has one year seminary work to complete there.

After a trip to northern Ontario and Upper Michigan, the couple will live at 313 Prospect Ave., Grand Rapids.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents in Lennoxville, Quebec, Canada.

They also hosted a reception Saturday evening in the Fellowship Center of the Presbyterian Church here for the couple to introduce the bride to friends and relatives in the area.

About 80 guests attended when a program was presented by Alva Clark of Dundee.

Mrs. Clark gave a reading, Barbara and Beverly Thompson of Grand Rapids presented piano and violin music and slides of the wedding were shown.

The American tradition of cutting the cake was carried out with Mrs. William Faust assisting. Others helping were Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Kempf, Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Baker and Kenny, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Van Vleet, Mrs. Clare Rozelle, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Barnard, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Feller, Becky and Randy Swift, Mrs. Thomas Swift, Mrs. Ed Hansn, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bartenslager, Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Williams and Mrs. Carl Schneider.

MR. AND MRS. GARY A. WILLIAMS

MRS. JAMES M. YOST

Adelle DePuy, James Yost Exchange Marriage Vows

A pryamid of white gladioli and Majestic daisies with seven branched lighted candelabra served as the background for the wedding of Adelle E. DePuy and James M. Yost Saturday afternoon at the Friends Church.

Cathedral candelabra fronted with fern and white roses stood at the altar entrance with topiary trees of white roses flanking the kneeler.

Family pews were marked with white roses and satin bows along the white carpeted aisle as William DePuy escorted his daughter to the altar.

Mr. and Mrs. DePuy, parents of the bride, live at 309 W. Pottawatamie St., and Mr. and Mrs. Marion Yost, parents of the groom, are of North Lawrence, Ohio.

The bride wore a floor length gown with hoop skirt of white silk bombazine fashioned with Sabrina neckline, long tapered lace sleeves and natural waistline.

Her veil of illusion was secured to a forward head-piece of petals and seed pearls and she carried glamellias centered with ivy.

Alison Derby was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Carol Yost, sister of the groom, Marlene Rhoads, Connie Schneider and Joyce Brugger.

They were attired in floor length gowns of light blue silk faille styled with scooped neck lines, elbow length sleeves, lifted waistlines and A-line skirts. Trains were detachable at the shoulders.

They wore pearl combs with short tulle veils and carried yellow carnations, cornflowers, daisies and Goldilock roses in baskets cascaded with ivy.

Dean Yost was best man for his brother and the more than 200 guests were seated by Stephen Derby, David MacDonald, Ben Brantingham and LaMar Wyse.

The bride is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and Aultman Hospital School of Nursing, Canton, O., and the groom was graduated from Tuslaw High School and Malone College.

He is presently employed at Crown Steel in Orville, O. and will teach in North Ridgeville, O.

Following a wedding trip to Lake Placid, the newly married Mr. and Mrs. Yost will live in Dalton, O.

The rehearsal dinner, given by the groom's parents, was served at Don's Beef Buffet.

Brenda Clark, Samuel Kobel Marry

Brenda Mae Clark and Samuel Kobel were united in holy matrimony Sunday afternoon in a double ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Blair Bashore at the First Baptist Church.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Carl J. Clark, Jr., 216 E. Chicago Blvd., and Mrs. Walter Ford, 511 W. Brown St.

White gladioli and carnations were used in the altar vases and palms enhanced the chancel.

Mrs. Thomas LaBean of Clausen, aunt of the groom, was matron of honor in a blue taffeta dress with lace jacket and hat of blue net and ribbon. She carried pink carnations.

Sisters of the bride, Diane, Charlene, Linda and Marsha, were the bridesmaids attired in mint green taffeta dresses with matching lace jackets. They wore tiny hats of pink net and ribbon and carried cascades of pink carnations.

Polly Ann and David LaBean, niece and nephew of the groom, were the ring bearer and flower girl.

She wore a miniature dress like the bride's and also carried a basket of pink carnations.

Thomas LaBean was best man for his nephew and the guests were seated by John Clark, brother of the bride, and Larry Clark, her uncle, Richard Steel and Daniel Schmenk, cousin of the bride, of Manchester.

The bridal cake was made and decorated by Mrs. Ralph Snyder. It was served to 150 guests at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall by Mrs. Larry Clark of Brooklyn.

Mrs. Daniel Schmenk assisted with the serving.

After a trip to northern Michigan, the couple will live at 511 W. Brown St.

WREN SURVEILLANCE REPORT NO. 2

June 7: Our tiny wrens are definitely acting differently. They are staying closer to home, singing more (if that is possible) and carrying small white things into the house.

Even with glasses we can't make it out, probably plant fluff or a cobwebby glob. Twice we noticed one bird following the other inside. That would be a bit crowded.

June 8: So much has been carried into the little house, I marvel that there is still room for a wren. Nesting material visible in doorway. After popping through door birds don't go down anymore, they just go straight in.

June 9: Oh, what singing! Occassionally both birds inside but more often, one is in and the other clings to the side, looks through the door and serenades. New sound sometimes, a shrill, squeaky lisp.

★

JUNE 10: IT is just as we noticed last year, often when Mr. Wren peeks through the doorway and chatters, she is inside. After "telling her off" he hops to the roof of the house. She quickly comes out and flies away, he tears right after her. It is a good game of follow the leader.

June 13: Yesterday and today things seem quieter. The wrens still sing but it is in short bursts. One seems to be in house more — are there eggs?

June 15: Wonder if our good old fashioned Michigan hot spell is any way affecting the wrens' singing? Early in the morning and then again late in the afternoon they are sounding off loud and clear, but during mid-day there is a decided slack-off in the vocal gymnastics.

June 19: Few of us can spend all of each day watching the happenings around a wren house, but for about one hour this morning, I enjoyed quite a performance.

Mr. Wren sat on the roof of the new feeder and sang a very short trill-song; he then flew to his house, looked through the doorway and hopped up to the roof: Mrs. Wren came flying-ball balling out of the house almost before he was out of the way; she was gone for less than five minutes and, except for the once or twice he jumped down to the doorsill to look inside, he stood guard on the roof until she returned.

When she came back he took off. In the 60 minutes I watched, this scene was repeated 3 times and in exactly the same way.

JUNE 21: Good gracious, there was great excitement for a little while. One of the wrens took something white into the house but we have noticed no other carrying in so apparently the eggs have not yet hatched and this morning did not signal the start of feeding baby birds.

Wrens' eggs are dull white with heavy spottings of reddish brown, the book which is now on my reading table comments that the incubation period for the Carolina wrens and the Bewicks wrens' eggs is 14 days. Our house wren must be about the same, but I must check for sure.

June 22: Apparently the standing guard bit was just a happenstance. Mrs. Wren is doing much sitting inside and looking out through the little round doorway. When she is gone, he comes often to look inside but there seems to be no pattern of action.

June 24: For the second Saturday in a row we are having a violent storm. Thunder and lightning not as bad as last week but wind stronger and rain much harder. Regular sheets of it are pouring in from the west, fortunately the wren houses opens to the east. If it didn't, they would be flooded. They rode out the last storm well, hope they do the same today.

June 25: Everything O. K. after yesterday's storm. Glorious singing. No unusual activity, though — when are those eggs going to hatch?

So it is that I end this Wren Surveillance No. 2.

NEW BOOKS

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

CREATIVE DECORATIONS WITH DRIED FLOWERS, by Dorothea Thompson. IA handsomely illustrated book with color plates, photographs and numerous drawings.

ONE CHILLY SIBERIAN MORNING, an adventurer-photographer's daring journey through the Siberia no free Westerner has seen since 1917, by Douglas Botting.

THE GREAT ADVENTURE, a novel of the Rocky Mountain fur trade, by Janice Holt Giles. In the westward movement of our nation perhaps no period was more vivid or played a more vital role than the brief era of the Rocky Mountain fur trappers.

ANATOMY OF A PHENOMENON, unidentified objects in space; a scientific appraisal, by Jacques Vallee. The author discusses in detail the unsolved cases occurring between 1947 and 1964, a period of high activity which is susceptible to research.

KING OF THE CASTLE by Victoria Holt. An intriguing story of romance and suspense set in the rich wine-growing country of southern France.

SILVERHILL by Phyllis Whitney. Another novel of romantic suspense in an atmosphere of shuddering mystery, of stagnant evil which lurks behind the beauty of the setting.

THE SILVER SABER by Carter Vaughan. A thrilling and swift paced story of an indentured servant in the American colonies who, in the 1740's, answers England's call for mobilization against the French, and gains his freedom when he helps force the retreat of the enemy to Quebec.

WASHINGTON, D. C. by Gore Vidal. The author, with characteristic wit and insight, traces the fortunes of a number of men and women who, in the years 1937-1952, helped to transform the American republic into what Vidal refers to as "possibly the last empire on earth." In the course of this fascinating novel, some historical figures are introduced and many fictional ones as well.

THE SEA AND THE STARS by Robert Wilder. This well-known author recounts a story that begins with a state that was little more than miles of pine flats, palmetto scrub and sand dunes, and ends with the gold and tinsel that is Florida today.

FOSTER KIDS HELP JAM — Mrs. Graham Foster, 501 Blanchard and her two children, Wally, 4½ years, and Bobby, 19 months, prepare strawberries for preserves. They plan to share jars of the ruby-colored berries with the Presbyterian Church for the fall fair to be held in October. Other ladies of the church are taking advantage of the abundant harvest just now to add to the shelves of the Country Store under the leadership of Mrs. Dale Bowen, Mrs. Wilbur Boyce and Mrs. James Feight. The committee urges members to remember the fair when other fruits and vegetables come in season and thus provide canned goods, relishes, pickles, etc., for the fall money-making project.

Golfers Win $72

Golfing at the new Meadow Lane nine-hole course on US12, five miles east of Clinton, can be fun — and profitable.

That is what four fellows happily discovered Sunday.

In a shot-gun tournament, a team captained by Dale Roberts of Clinton earned $72 by posting the lowest best-ball score, a 32.

His teammates included Mike Johnson, Milton Stemer and Wally Larson, all of Saline. Seventeen teams entered the fun, in which groups teed off simultaniously at every hole when a shot gun was fired.

★

MEADOW LANE was opened last summer and co-owner and course manager Glenn Clark says more and more golfers are finding their ways to his first tee.

The greens are greatly improved over 1966 and Mr. Clark is now in the process of rebuilding several tees.

Some sort of celebration will be held on the layout's first birthday, Sunday, July 16. Maybe Mr. Clark will even get a chance to play. His greenskeeping chores seldom permit any golfing.

In partners with Mr. Clark on the project are his brother, Coral, and William Stoll, both of Saline, and Barry Brueckner of Wayne.

★

FIVE LEAGUES compete weekly at Meadow Lane, including the Tecumseh Fisher Body Tuesdays at 6 p.m.

Other groups include:
Saline Jaycee — Monday
Clinton Teachers — Tuesday
Ford Saline — Thursday
Saline couple — Friday

WEE TEE GOLF ON US-12 OFFERS PLENTY OF CHALLENGE TO GOLF ENTHUSIASTS

Wee Tee Golf Course Is Fun For the Entire Family

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Fun for the family is provided by Waldman Amusements in three areas — on US-12 in the Irish Hills, at Devils Lake and on Monroe St., in Toledo, only a half hour's drive from Tecumseh.

Mike Jonas handles the Wee Tee Golf Course in the Irish Hills at the entrance to Hayes State Park on US-12 and also the coin arcade adjacent to the miniature 18 holes. He has been there for the past eight years.

Adults as well as children enjoy trying their skill and "luck" at getting the hard little ball in the hole in less than or equal to par number of strokes.

The Devils Lake public golf course is one of the toughest in the area, located on US-223 at the north end of Devils Lake. It is regarded as one of the finest in the county, measuring 3,100 yards in distance and has a par of 36.

The longest hole on a public course in Lenawee County, a 535-yard par five, is found at Devils Lake. A tee shot on this hole is hit into a large hill. There is an out of bounds on the right.

Waldman Amusements is in its 22nd season. Ed is the golf pro, assisted by Jim Massey, who has been with the company for 11 years.

Electric cars are available for rental. Clubs, balls and other golf equipment may be purchased in the pro shop. A new building is presently being erected to house the electric cars.

A Dodgem bumper car ride is located right next to the golf course, as well as a coin arcade for the pleasure of young and adult patrons.

There are three miniature golf courses there, 18 holes each, and Ferris Wheels, large and small, Flying Cages, Tilt-a Whirl, the Haunted Castle Dark Ride and many others. A coin arcade is also in operation there.

Mr. Waldman has moved all of his Kiddieland rides in Toledo to the one area, incorporating more than 20 adult and children's rides at the Monroe Rd. location, easily found by traveling southeast on US-223.

Certainly any vacationing family would find much of interest at any of the three places of entertainment provided by Waldman Amusements.

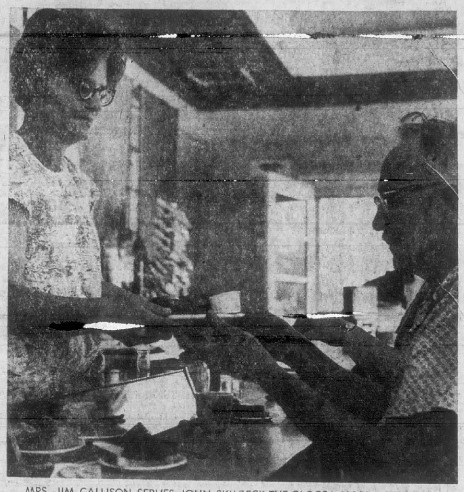
Glocca Morra Famed for Fish Dinners



MRS. JIM CALLISON SERVES JOHN SKILBECK THE GLOCCA MORRA SPECIALTY.

By DENICE ANDERSON

If you seek a pleasant restaurant, look about you.

The Glocca Morra, right on US-12 as it enters the heart the Irish Hills, is under new ownership and sports some the best meals in the popular resort area.

Mrs. Nortley is well-known throughout the Hills for her king, having been a chef more than 27 years.

Mr. Nortley was a grill cook when only 18, but dropped ing to become a driver, owning his fleet of trucks. He sports a wicked spatula.

Mrs. Nortley recently fell and broke her left arm and hip and is recovering at home for an indefinite period.

"It's been rough doing everything without her around," said Mr. Nortley, "but we're doing it and business is getting better every day."

"I enjoy cooking," he said, "and meeting people."

"We have an especially good turn-out on Saturday, our smorgasbord night. And our fish is very popular. We have lots of vacationers and many of the local people drop in quite often, too."

So if you're driving by, just drop in and say "Hi, how's the fish?"

THE GLOCCA MORRA IS A POPULAR EATING PLACE FOR BOTH VACATIONERS AND LOCAL RESIDENTS.

July 1 the new mail route from Lake Ridge to Balch (Britton) will take effect.

The population of Tecumseh is about 2,800.

Tecumseh Celery Company now has 18 hands on their plantation.

Mark Randall and Mills Hatch rode their wheels to Detroit Saturday and returned Sunday.

Adrian is now organizing a bicycle association and the first job will be to make a path north to the Quaker meeting house.

1907

1917

The U. S. Express Company has been taken over by the American Express Company and John Gaston is agent; his sister, Edna, is cashier. O. McBride, U. S. agent, has taken a position with the American Express Company, Jackson.

James McKinney will observe the 4th of July in a fitting manner by raising a flag staff.

Harvey Hindes has received a shipment of Rainbow trout from the State Fish Hatcheries and has planted them in the Raisin River.

For six consecutive Saturdays, Tecumseh has had a heavy downfall of rain with an occasional shower between times.

Anna Furgason has received orders to report for duty as a Red Cross nurse.

Edward Judge and Marvel Stout, both of Clinton, were married June 25.

C. J. Horn has opened a modern lunch stand in the Irish Hills.

A. O. Howard will succeed H. H. Hanna as supervisor when the latter takes over his new duties as postmaster. E. E. Heilman will take over the managership of the Railway Express Company local office.

Jens Touborg, J. F. Elliott and Richard Preston were painfully injured Saturday morning when they were exposed to sulphur dioxide gas while carrying out experiments at the Tecumseh Products Company.

The Rev. E. F. Hildebrand of Hartland is to succeed Rev. Walter Saxman as pastor of the Methodist Church. Rev. Saxman has been assigned to the Saline Methodist Church.

A cement wading pool, about 40 ft. in diameter, is to be constructed in Adams Park this week.

we care

we never "run out" on a sale!

We never advertise a special sale item unless we have an ample supply. Once in a great while, the special is more popular than we imagined. So occasionally, we do run out of the item.

But we never "run out" on a sale. If the item is sold out, just ask the manager for a "RAIN CHECK".

We think that's the fair thing to do. We think that shows "WE CARE".

Not every store can care that much. A&P can...and does. Shouldn't A&P be your store?

CURBS INSTALLED — After years of patient waiting, residents who live along Occidental Hwy., just north of Russell Rd., witnessed installation of curb and gutter on their street during the latter part of June.

Past Chiefs Play Cards at J. Jones

TIPTON — Members of the Tecumseh Past Chiefs Club were guests of the Addie Kemp Past Chief Club at the home of Mrs. John Jones at Killarney Lake. There were 28 present.

Euchre was played with Mrs. Beatrice Shook receiving high prize and Mrs. Rena Hubbard low prize. Mrs. Frances Schroeder received the mystery gift and lone hand prize.

The hostesses were Mrs. Jones, Mrs. Grover Swarts, Mrs. Thomas Boyd and Mrs. Frank Crosby. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Herbert Reed with Mrs. Lawrence Mohr as associate hostess.

For Larry, Glenn It's 'Apprentice Airman' in Navy

Two young men from Tecumseh have graduated from a two-week recruit training at Grosse Ile Naval Air Station.

Now airmen apprentices are:

More than 200 parents, friends and sweethearts were present to see the young airmen in "liberty whites" receive their diplomas from Capt. R. K. Brown, commanding officer.

The ceremonies, held outdoors in front of Grosse Ile's huge main hangar, were followed by an informal celebration hosted by Capt. Brown at the White Anchor Club on the base.

THE 14-DAY "boot camp" was designed to provide basic indoctrination to military life.

The curriculum included classroom and practical instruction in seamanship, first aid and water survival as well as physical training and discipline.

The new airmen will drill monthly with a reserve squadron at NAS Grosse Ile and receive specialized job training in preparation for two years of active duty with the fleet.

I Remember When . . .

By ELSA DAISHER

Editor's Note—Elsa Daisher, 77, of 2804 Laurence Ave., Toledo, recalls her youth in Tecumseh.

When I was 12 years old, Mother took me to the Lutheran Church School, 12 miles from the Celery Farm, (Prairie Side) north Ridgeway.

Once on the way home, the horse drank from the water trough on E. Chicago St., and when he backed from the buggy, the fill broke on one side.

Mother needed help, so she went up the north side hill and found a man who came and fixed the buggy fill with wires and pieces of wood.

He was a middle-aged colored man, who said his name was George Washington. He had a nice fruit orchard.

I'll always remember the three Elliot brothers. Each had a blacksmith shop and our horses were shod at Tom Elliot's.

I remember seeing pretty girls riding on a wagon in the Decoration Day parade when we moved into town.

I also remember a China Laundry.

★

MY FATHER had his collars done there. Chinaman said, "No ticket needed for that big, tall, nice-looking man."

I was with Mother once in a while, but I was always afraid to go in the laundry and stayed in the buggy.

One September I did go in with Mother. I was older then, and the Chinaman asked Mother if he could take me to the Adrian fair.

Oh! I heard her say no and I hurried out and never saw that place again.

Clara Waldron and Anna Carson attended country school with me.

Deborah Osburn Honored Guest at Open House

Mrs. Ed Osburn and daughters entertained about 70 at an open house honoring Deborah Osburn on her graduation from Tecumseh High School June 11.

Allens Are Visited by Their Daughter and Grandchildren

Mrs. Karl Piekarek and two children, Debbie and Danny, of Bakersfield, Calif., are spending some time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Allen, 10901 Wisner Hwy.

Mr. Piekarek has been selected nationally in a new and expansive overseas study program to receive a nine-week scholarship to study German in Bad Boll, Germany.

He is a teacher of German in the Foothills High School in Bakersfield.

Mrs. Piekarek, the former Anita Allen, was employed in the the office of Drs. Murray and Laidlaw about nine years ago.

Selfridge Celebrating

Selfridge Air Force Base, Mt. Clemens, a major unit of the Air Defense Command and one of the oldest operational airfields in the United States, will celebrate its golden anniversary July 7 and 8.

Often termed "the cradle of famed Air Force flyers and home of Air Force generals," the Selfridge Golden Anniversary open house will include a demonstration by the world-famous Air Force precision flying team, the Thunderbirds.

Also featured July 8 will be static displays, demonstrations of aircraft and missiles and a military parade.

On hand to participate in the festivities will be many of the more than 150 Air Force leaders of the past and present who served a part of their careers at the U. S. Air Force Air Defense Command base, now home of the 1st Fighter Wing.

Many units were trained at Selfridge including the world-renowned 1st Pursuit Group which produced such figures as Capt. Edward V. "Eddie" Rickenbacker of World War I aerial combat fame.

Today the 1st Fighter Wing is an integral part of ADC. Flying Convair F-106 Delta Dart supersonic aircraft, its mission is to maintain a state of readiness for and to participate in the air defense of the United States and of the North American continent.

Area residents are urged to participate in the festivities and to witness events outlining the aerospace defense of the nation.

FOURTH GAME

GOLD CARDS

JULY 5 to 10

PLAY BINGO NUMBERS APPEARING IN THIS ISSUE ON GOLD CARDS

WIN as much as $50 THIS WEEK

Here How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of The Tecumseh Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Check the classified ads for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS — YOU HAVE A "BINGO" — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spends like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE TECUMSEH HERLAD: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Wednesday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards each week will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE HERALD, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The Herald. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be someplace in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

Airman 3/c Paul W. Kruse has been promoted to the rank of Airman 2/c. His promotion was based on time in grade, knowledge of his career field, ability to perform his assigned duties and military bearing and conduct. His promotion is effective as of July 1. Airman Kruse is stationed in Turkey as a ground radio operator. His parents are Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kruse of Tecumseh. Mrs. Kruse received a telephone call from Turkey at 11:30 a.m., Thursday wishing her a happy birthday.

Auxiliary Donates

The June meeting of the Jaycee Auxiliary brought the announcement of two new appointments for the coming year.

Mrs. Walter Elwartowski has been named State Chairman of HELP MRS., a committee that aids emotionally disturbed and mentally-retarded children.

Mrs. Richard Creswell was named R&R Co-ordinator for the local district.

The Auxiliary is sponsoring a Serviceman's Bulletin Board, which will be a map pinpointing the location of local servicemen and giving their addresses.

A loose leaf notebook will be kept stating the servicemen's name, address, location, parents' names, church affiliation and birth date. The notebook will be kept available for any organization that may wish to use it.

Anyone who has a friend or relative in the service may call Mrs. Gordon Gutowski, 423-7365, or Mrs. Charles Robinson, 423-2246, to have the necessary information recorded.

Delegates Attend VFW Convention

The 48th Annual VFW State Convention was held in Sault Ste. Marie June 22-25 with local delegates Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. Norman Sisty, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Eisenminger and Mr. and Mrs. Gaza Kish of Post 4187 attending.

Mrs. Mueller was elected president of the post, leaving Mrs. Sisty past president.

The new Auxiliary president is Ruby Brown and the next convention will be held at Muskegon.

The new house committee appointed by the Commander includes Harlon Boyes, Lloyd J. Stites and Gaza Kish.

The next post meeting will be July 12 at 8 p.m. at the Post Home.

Busy Days Are Ahead for Youths

Lenawee County 4-H youths have busy days ahead for them as the summer months bring extra activities.

July 6 the 4-H Council will meet at 8 p.m. in the Michigan Producer's Dairy Building.

July 7 area delegates from Saratoga will arrive.

July 11 the Lenawee Horse Committee Meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the extension office.

July 13 the Saratoga delegates will leave and the Junior Livestock Junior Directors meeting will be held at 8 p.m. at the extension office to plan the 1967 Livestock Banquet.

Sleeping Driver Misses Curve and Hits Ridge

Nancy Ann Wetzel, 19, of 807 Occidental Rd., Tecumseh, was driving on M-50, south of US-12 at 12:40 a.m. Saturday when she apparently fell asleep and missed a curve.

Miss Wetzel was uninjured, but a passenger, Ronald Sowle, 26, of 5357 Monroe Rd., Tipton, sought his own treatment for bruises.

Frazier Stationed in USN at Vietnam

Airman Apprentice James R. Frazier, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Frazier of 157 Cheever St., Britton, is serving with the Seventh Fleet in the Western Pacific aboard the attack aircraft carrier, USS Hancock.

While in Vietnam, aircraft squadrons of the Hancock have engaged in numerous air strikes against enemy supply lines in North Vietnam.

Evangelists Charles and Eloise Fairfield, Jr., will be the featured speakers at evening meetings at the Tecumseh Assembly of God Church, 210 W. Bidwell St., from July 5-16. The couple are both graduates of North Central Bible College and play the electric guitar and accordion. They also sing while conducting services. Following a pastorate at the New Bethel Church in Grand Rapids, the couple were employed for a year by the Chrysler Corporation and resigned to enter full time ministry as evangelists. The pastor of the local church, the Rev. Harold Speer, cordially invites Tecumseh area residents to see and hear the Fairfields.

Berlin Girls Hurt As Speeding Car Flips on US-12

Janelle M. Berlin, 17, and a passenger in her car, Connie Berlin, 16, both of Clinton, were treated for minor injuries and released from Herrick Memorial Hospital Sunday morning.

Miss Berlin was attempting to pass a car driven by William M. Smith, 70, of 116 W. Kilbuck, Tecumseh, when she saw approaching traffic and pulled in behind the Smith car.

She was going too fast, swerved to the right shoulder, lost control and struck the right rear of the Smith car, then ran off the road and overturned.

Miss Berlin received a summons for violating the basic speed law and Mr. Smith received a summons for violation of license restrictions.

The collision occurred at 8:30 a.m., on US-12, just west of Tipton Hwy.

OFF the TOP

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

While stopping at Kerby's the other morning for a cup of coffee and roll, I couldn't help but think, as I gazed out the big Chicago Blvd. window, what a good place it is for anyone with the hobby of people-watching.

You can never be bored, or impatient, or restless, if you belong to the People-Watchers Society. Any time you have to wait for someone, for service, for a red light, in the doctor's reception room or at a checkout counter, you can indulge in your favorite sport.

And unlike bird-watching, people-watching can be carried on at all hours of the day or night, because people do not go to roost when the sun goes down. (And in these days of Daylight Savings, this now is about midnight.)

★

IT IS FUN to guess what kind of work a man does. To note whether he is dressed neatly or not. To ponder on whether the women are married, and what kind of homemakers or mothers they are.

Many times there are tiny clues that reveal their personalities instantly, even to a stranger.

The doctor's outer office is a likely spot, as you sit and muse about the other waiting patients. (They are probably doing the same thing about you!)

Did you ever notice that few people look sick who are going to see the doctor? Sometimes a child will be feverish or runny-nosed, or there will be a patient with an arm or leg in a cast, or an obviously expectant mother, whom the people-watchers can readily diagnose.

But the majority of patients seem to be there to read the out-dated magazines. One can secretly speculate on what mysterious maladies they may have.

Teen-agers on the street are always interesting. I for one think they are gay with their carefree, good looks and colorful clothes. They stride along the street, sometimes barefooted, always tanned it seems, healthy young folks out for a stroll.

STANDING IN line at the supermarket checkout can be boring unless you let your mind wander and watch the other shoppers. You can always idly look over the next shopper's cart, guessing how many she has to cook for, perhaps noting a bargain you may have missed.

Parents with small children are among the watchables. Some are so gentle with the little ones. Others are so rought, even in public, so much so that one wonders how the children are treated in private.

One memorable scene I caught once was a young mother pushing a loaded cart, which also contained a little boy, almost buried in the groceries.

She was intently studying her shopping list and searching for various items, while he was solemnly poking holes in a package of hamburger, picking out bits of the meat, and just as seriously dropping them over the side.

Many mothers have learned not to push the carts too closely to tempting shelves, they stay in the middle of the aisle so Junior cannot surprise her at the check-out with HIS shopping!

★

WELL, THERE goes that phone again. More on the People-Watchers Society later.

In the meantime, join the club and have fun. It doesn't cost a cent, doesn't hurt anyone and relieves many otherwise boring moments.

Wieczorek, Gove Vows Spoken

CLINTON — The nuptial vows of Victoria Helene Wieczorek and Petty Officer 3/c Paul Lawrence Gove were solemnized in St. Gerard Majella Catholic Church, Hollis, N. Y., June 24, by the Rev. Fr. Conlin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wieczorek of Hollis, N. Y., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gove of Eccles Rd., Clinton.

Maid of honor, Francine Vanora of Jamaica, N. Y., wore an empire crepe A-line gown styled with a brief train and a matching picture hat. She carried a bouquet of yellow gladioli.

They wore gowns styled as the maid of honor's in mist blue crepe with matching picture hats. They carried yellow gladioli bouquets.

William Vanora of Jamaica, N. Y., was the best man. The ushers were Alfred Usuriello, Adam Sapeta, both of New York, and Richard Wilkens of Boston, Mass., a shipmate of the bridegroom.

A dinner reception was held after the ceremony at Hillside House, Queens Village, N. Y., attended by 150 guests.

The bride is a graduate of Bernard M. Baruch School of Business, of the City College of New York, and is employed as an Internal Revenue Agent with the U. S. Treasury Department.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Adrian College two years. He is Petty Officer 3/c, aboard a nuclear submarine of the Navy.

The couple spent a week on a wedding trip to Bermuda and will visit his parents in Clinton before going to Charleston, S. C., to make their home.

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gove will entertain at a post-wedding reception for their son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gove, July 9.

Friends and relatives may greet the newlyweds in the Tecumseh Community Center from 2 - 5 p.m.

Nan Mabry Has Party at Poolside

CLINTON — Nan Mabry celebrated her 12th birthday last Tuesday with a swimming party with seven girl friends.

Afterwards, Nan's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Mabry, entertained at a birthday dinner attended by Mr. and Mrs. David Van Tuyle and family.

A flower cart shaped cake, made by Mrs. Jerry Jaqua, was a feature of the dinner.

Ice Cream Treat for Day Campers from Local Bank

CLINTON — Thanks should go to the State Savings Bank at Clinton for the ice cream treat for the closing day of the Girl Scout day camp at Osburn's Woods, reports the neighborhood committee, which mistakenly received credit for the generous gift.

Village Council Accepts Rezoning

CLINTON — The Village Council has approved the rezoning of land located at the western edge of the village, which is owned by the River Raisin Development Corporation.

The 23 acres will now be rezoned for non-conforming residential use.

The River Raisin Corporation plans to develop the area to provide large lots to accommodate 144 mobile homes.

The $2,000,000 development is scheduled to include a community building and recreational facilities for the residents.

The present mill race will be land filled and a restricted beach and boating area created on the mill pond.

It is now necessary for the corporation to submit the proposal for approval by the Michigan Water Resources Commission.

No protest to the rezoning was expressed by the 15 persons who attended the public hearing Wednesday.

In other action, the Council voted to purchase a new sewer router at a cost of $5,000.

Pastor Conducts Unique Holiday Worship Service

CLINTON — The Rev. Charles Sturm conducted an unique pre-holiday worship service at St. John's Episcopal Church Thursday evening.

The service took the place of the regular Sunday morning service this week, to permit parishioners to participate in a long uninterrupted holiday weekend.

This is the first such pre-holiday service which has been arranged and the attendance was as good as for the usual Sunday service, Rev. Sturm reports.

For the summer months, the 8 a.m. services will be discontinued at St. John's, and the only services will be held at 10 a.m. Sunday mornings.

Clinton Calendar

Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Rathke are vacationing at Expo '67 in Montreal. Mrs. Rathke's son, Airman Roy Schwartz, who had been visiting at his home, accompanied them back to his station in Maine.

√

While Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Rathke are vacationing, her nieces, Beth and Nan Bingham, of Tucson, Ariz., are staying at the Rathke home and visiting with relatives in the area. The girls are daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Grover Bingham and were Clinton residents several years ago. Beth is now a junior and Nan, a freshman, in high school.

√

Airman 2/c James Hoyt left Wednesday to return to Loring Air Base, Me., after spending a week at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Hoyt. Also home for the weekend was James' brother, Donald, who is attending DeVrie Institute in Chicago.

Mrs. Cynthia Chase is reported improved at Herrick Memorial Hospital where she has been a medical patient for three weeks. Her daughter, Tonya, is remaining at the home of her great-grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Werth.

√

Mr. and Mrs. James Meeks and daughter, Jeannie, entertained for the Fourth of July holiday weekend at their cottage at Evans Lake. Guests included all of their children and their families, Dr. and Mrs. Louis Meeks, of Ann Arbor, Mr. and Mrs. Duane Semark of Ypsilanti and Mr. and Mrs. Wally LaSovage of Kent, O.

Dr. Meeks will leave July 9 to assume his duties as orthopedic surgeon in the hospital at the paratroop induction center at Fort Campbell, Ky. He recently returned from Vietnam.

MRS. ROGER HAFT

Cherryl M. Faust Weds Airman Roger R. Haft

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were solemnized for Cherryl Marie Faust and Airman 3/c Roger Roy Haft at a high noon ceremony in St. Dominic's Catholic Church, Saturday, by the Rev. F. Joseph Noelke.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Faust, 11241 Braun Rd., Manchester, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Haft, 3717 Clinton-Macon Rd.

As she approached the altar with her father, the bride wore a gown of white organza with a Chantilly lace bodice and long sleeves. The skirt was bouffant and a chapel train was attached to the shoulders.

Kathleen Burger of Detroit, was the maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Delores Settles of Milan, cousin of the bride, and Ruthann Haft, sister of the bridegraum.

The bridal attendants wore identical empire styled gowns of aqua lace and crepe. The sheath skirts were accented with lace chapel trains.

Roy Haft, Jr., was his brother's best man and the guests were seated by David Faust, brother of the bride and David Langham, of Tecumseh, brother-in-law of the bridegroom.

A reception attended by 150 guests was held Saturday evening in the Bridgewater Town Hall.

The bride and groom are both 1965 graduates of Clinton High School. Mrs. Haft attended Cleary College and was employed, until her marriage, at Budd Company in Clinton.

Mr. Haft attended Jackson Junior College and was employed at Budd Company before entering the Air Force in February.

Carl Schwab Set To Work In Europe

CLINTON — Carl Schwab, son of Mrs. Reo Schwab, left June 25 to spend nine weeks working in Europe.

He was one of six students selected by Michigan State University to participate in the work training program.

He will be working at the Dow Chemical Company in Rotterdam, Netherlands.

Later this fall, he will help organize a committee to select up to 20 students for similar training next summer.

Carl and his brother, Clarence, earlier in June, motorcycled to Montreal to see Expo 67. They slept in sleeping bags on the 1,500-mile trip, which proved to be a rugged one.

Mrs. Robert King Is New Member of the CC Board

CLINTON — Mrs. Robert King was named to succeed Mrs. Gene Pribble, who resigned as a member of the Community Center Board, last Monday.

Mrs. Pribble and her family will be moving from the village for about six months.

Methodist Church Women To Serve At Charter Night

CLINTON — The Charter Night dinner of the Junior Chamber of Commerce will be held July 15.

The women of the Methodist Church will serve the dinner in the church.

Rotary Club Entertained by M. Hurst

CLINTON — Michael Hurst, vice-president of Win Schuler Restaurants, provided a humorous and entertaining program for the members of the Rotary Club and their wives last Wednesday.

Other guests at the dinner meeting, held in the United Church of Christ, were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Steffens and Mr. and Mrs. Loren Scott.

Mr. Hurst described the various elements which are essential to a restaurant's success. While good food and service are important, the color and decor of the dining room add to the appeal of the food, he said.

Door prizes provided by Mr. Hurst were presented to 10 women in the audience.

Gift earrings were presented to each woman present by the Rotarians.

Pfc. Rick Sparks Has Malaria Bout Over in Vietnam

CLINTON — Pfc. Rick Sparks was recently hospitalized at Cam Ranh Bay, Vietnam, with malaria. He is recuperating and will be back with his unit soon.

Pfc. Sparks has been in Vietnam for several months and will complete his tour of duty there in February, 1968.

Mrs. Sparks is staying with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Parker, in Clinton.

The railroad was torn up about a year ago.

Now the land will be used to permit future utility expansion, including sewer facilities.

Lancasters Attend June Wedding in Mt. Clemens

Mr. and Mrs. George Lancaster, Lois Lancaster, Mrs. Carrie McDermott and Mrs. McGlashen and daughter were in Mt. Clemens June 24.

They attended the wedding of Joseph Jeannette, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jeannette, and Claudie Blank at Mt. Clemens American Lutheran Church.

"What can we do for fun, Mom?"

The question hasn't changed, but the answer sure has — even in the last 36 years, since I came to Clinton when I was 11.

After trudging home two miles from the old Allen School on Fisk Rd., I hurriedly walked another mile to Clinton each Wednesday evening to take part in the activities of a church group, the Junior Mission Band.

The group of youngsters were taught by some pretty dedicated adults, about the world-wide missions of the Congregational Church.

The programs were interesting and the food was great. If we happened to be studying China, we could expect a gooey Chop Suey supper — and, when we got to Mexico, the meal was sure to be chili. We went on through a variety of countries and international taste treats.

The free movies on warm summer nights were always a favorite gathering spot for Clinton folks.

There was a vacant lot owned by the Lancaster family, where Vescio's store stands today.

Long before dusk, families would gather in that lot, sitting around on blankets, waiting to watch old favorites like Janet Gaynor, Rin-Tin-Tin and Hoot Gibson westerns.

Sometimes on Sunday nights, there would be a car load of folks going out to Sand Lake to see the free movie there — on the big knoll above the lake, where the children's camp buildings are now located.

Sand Lake was an exciting place to be when we were old enough to dance in that beautiful big-floored hall.

We all felt a little sad when the dance hall was converted to a roller skating rink, but soon skating was such a favorite pastime that we loved to skate there, too.

But first, we had to hitch a ride in somebody else's jalopy to get there. There weren't so many young folks with their own cars, then.

I guess we must have gone to bed a lot earlier in those days before TV and daylight savings time.

Anyhow, I can remember one summer night when I had gone to bed quite early and my chum, Hope Brown and her family, the Clifford Browns, stopped in after they had finished milking their cows and wanted me to go along to the circus in Tecumseh.

I hopped out of bed and got dressed so fast — I was sitting down on the bleachers in the big tent before I noticed that I had my dress on backwards!

Most summers there was a street show in Tecumseh on Wednesday nights and sometimes there would be a way to get there to see the singing and dancing performers.

It was easier then, than it is now, to find a picnic table at Hayes State Park and we went often.

One could drive a car to within a few rods of the State Park Beach.

We never used the bath house.

With a paper in the car window, we were able to scamper into swim suits and dash for the lake — and it seemed a little clearer then. You could even see the stones at the bottom!

We had to climb to the top of Lookout Point at least once that day, and sometimes we'd go down the other side to walk around the foot of the hill for a glimpse of the cottager's side of the lake.

Some Sunday afternoons there was dancing in the old pavilion at Wampler's Lake — and we'd stand there and look in the doorway and envy the two-stepping couples swirling about that big breezy floor.

There's a new dance pavilion there now, and the dancers cavort in a livelier fashion these days, but these are the "good old days" our children will remember.

Frank Martinez, 32, of Tipton, was sentenced in Lenawee County Circuit Court June 27 on a charge of larceny from a motor vehicle. He was fined $150 and placed on two years probation.

Martinez was apprehended May 29 at 3:55 a.m., at the Underwood Chevrolet lot in Clinton, where he was seen removing two tires and wheels from a new car.

He was found at the scene by Village Constable John Monaghan, and an employee of the car dealer, David Rafferty.

Martinez had been lodged in the Lenawee County Jail until May 31 when he posted bond for his release.

Gas Pump Falls As Local Driver Errors on Distance

Carl Brighton, 17, of 1980 Taylor Rd., Tecumseh, was the driver of a car which was being pushed into the Tri-County service station, when he misjudged the distance and struck a gas pump, pushing it over.

The mishap occurred at 8 a.m., Saturday.

Two Local 4-H'ers Win Tel-Award

Two Lenawee 4-H'ers, Barbara Vincent and Bill McAdam, have been selected as district Tel-Award winners and can compete for state awards.

Barbara in swine, and Bill, in photography, can submit records and participate in state interviews, each competing in his specific area for a Club Congress Trip to Chicago.

The Tel-Award program is organized for older 4-H members who have been involved in a project for several years, in order that they can go on to county, district, and state competition.

Youths interested in information concerning enrollment in 4-H and the Tel-Award program are asked to contact the Lenawee 4-H office located in the courthouse.

Local Asphalt Co. Bids $315,738

The Ayling-Cunningham Asphalt Co. of Tecumseh bid $315,738 to work on modernization and construction of the highways in Lenawee County.

Work is scheduled to begin on one-fourth mile grading, widening and paving on M-52 from Valley Rd., north to the D.T.&I. Railroad and 11.3 miles of paving on US-223 from Onsted Rd. to Wolf Creek Rd. Work will also begin on US-12 from M-50 to M-124.

The completion date is set for Oct. 15.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

Her funeral was the most moving I have ever attended.

Fr. Leon Begue conducted the service at St. Elizabeth and his eulogy was heart-rending. Few, if any, eyes were dry after he concluded his words.

Although he has been an assistant pastor here less than a year, Fr. Begue has gotten to know most of the 1,200 members of the parish.

He told us last week he first met Judy in The Herald and two weeks ago had a long talk with her at the Tecumseh High School Alumni Banquet, which she had master-minded in typical One-Man-Gang Judy Fielder style.

Judy started out as assistant chairman, but suddenly found the top gun wasn't able to perform and took over, lock, stock and barrel.

★

WHIRLING through a schedule that would wilt the average person just to look at it, Judy soon had things in apple-pie order.

Then an idea struck.

She decided to present special Rose Certificates from the Class of 1957 (her group nominally, which was in charge), to the 50-year grads, the Class of 1917.

The idea hit Judy as a new back shop crew was snowed.

So Judy, again in her outgoing fashion, said with a grin, "I'll set it up myself, if you'll show me where that fancy type is with the curley-cues."

For the next two hours, Judy labored at the Ludlow, laboriously hand-picking one character at a time, then casting the lines on the machine.

Well, her Rose Certificates rolled off the press just at the 12th hour and were warmly received the next night at the banquet.

Judy had scored once again, as she and everyone knew she would.

★

IN MOVING fashion, Fr. Begue used the lines from two songs, "Born Free" and "Impossible Dream" to bring into sharp focus the 27 years of life on this earth for Judy Whiting Fielder.

It's fantastic how these so tell the story.

Judy is now . . . "as free as the wind blows, as free as the grass grows."

"She 'dreamed the impossible dream, fought the unbeatable foe . . . to reach the unreachable star,' " Father said.

★

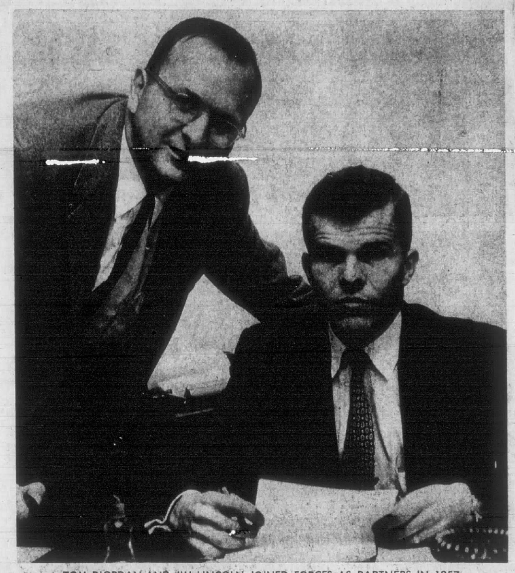
THE GIRLS at The Herald presently have undertaken two wonderful projects.

First of all, Judy kept a scrapbook of all her stories, pictures and columns. They're getting final clips into it, plus obituaries from our paper and others.

Fr. Begue will present the notes of his talk, and these will conclude the book, which will go to the family.

Their second project is putting together a memorial fund purse for Judy and Jim's four daughters, ages four through nine.

If you'd like to make a donation, drop by The Herald. Memorial cards have been provided by Proctor Funeral Home and these can be signed and included in the gift when it is given to the Fielders.



TOM RIORDAN AND JIM LINCOLN JOINED FORCES AS PARTNERS IN 1957

Lincoln Buys Out Riordan

Change Will Begin on Aug. 1

A sales agreement was signed Friday with the effective date for the final transaction set for July 31.

During this interim, the partnership will continue as in the past 10 years.

The Herald has grown steadily during the partnership with the circulation rising from 1,900 to a normal press run today of over 4,200.

During 10 summer weeks, the press run is 5,300 with 1,000 papers being circulated in the Irish Hills resort area.

Mr. Riordan's specialty is photography, and he is regarded state-wide as one of the best with a camera. His photos have been subjects of discussion at numerous press meetings, and he's participated at numerous conventions with photography on the agenda.

He has served on several press committees, including the board of directors of the Michigan Press Association, the state's top journalism body for newspapers.

His plans for the future include writing a book on photography, and perhaps teaching part-time at an area college.

Super Speedway Vote Could Establish Record

An all-time voting turnout is a definite possibility when the "super speedway question" is answered in Cambridge Township Tuesday.

Balloting begins at 7 a.m. in the Onsted fire hall and continues through 8 p.m.

All registered voters in the unincorporated portions of Cambridge are eligible. This totals 1,095 citizens according to Mrs. Charles Schultz, wife of the township clerk.

Last fall's election was the pace-setter for Cambridge when 900 voted, with only 12 unused ballots left in the two precincts. That time all 1,295 eligible voters could take part. This vote excludes residents of Onsted Village.

Mrs. Schultz said that all 10 election workers will begin to count the ballots immediately upon closing of the polls.

"It should be complete by 10 p.m.," she said, noting there is just the one question to tabulate.

As the election draws nearer, the issue of allowing a $4-million international speedway to be constructed at the junction of M-50 and US-12 grows more intense.

Concerted efforts to sway voters is being made by both opponents and supporters of the race course, which would cater to only top competition, similar to events run at Indianapolis, Ind., Daytona, Fla. and LeMans, France.

★

SPOKESMEN FOR THE project have reassured residents the Michigan International Speedway organization would only go first-class in every aspect. Complete fire and security protection is promised on a year-round basis. The group already has options or sales agreements on 600 acres of land, which would become a beehive of activity immediately upon an affirmative vote.

Fire Guts Picturesque Bruce Home

A Tecumseh showpiece sustained severe damages early Sunday morning when fire wracked the Bill Bruce home at 405 N. Union St.

Damages to the two-story colonial home could top $30,000; including many valuable antiques collected by Mrs. Bruce.

Tecumseh firemen were summoned to the blaze about 2:30 a.m., and found the rear section of the house in flames. A neighbor had called the local department.

Just moments earlier, Mr. Bruce, asleep in a downstairs bedroom, was awakened when he heard something fall. Thinking that Mrs. Bruce was in an adjoining room, he attempted to reach her.

He was forced to leave the house, then raced around to a door leading to the den, where flames were heaviest. In breaking the door glass, he cut his hand and was taken to Herrick Hospital for treatment.

Early in the fire, flames broke through the roof and reached beyond tree tops. Only the family car, removed from the garage before firemen arrived, escaped damage.

Thousands gathered in the early morning hours to watch the spectacular blaze. Many did not leave until firemen returned to their station about 4:30 a.m., two hours after the fire started.

"Our firemen did a magnificent job," noted Mrs. Bradley Bruce, daughter-in-law of the Bill Bruces. "If there would have been a wind, the house probably never could have been saved," she added.

Unfortunately for volunteer fire fighters, many of the spectators were free with comments on how the blaze should be battled.

39" Pike Fights 45 Minutes

Gerald Griffin, 5848 Holloway Rd., caught a 39 inch pike Sunday morning at Devils Lake about 10 a.m.

The fish, 11¾ lbs., was a crafty one according to Mr. Griffin. It took him and his uncle, Archie Dunsmore, 2679 Round Lake Hwy., about 45 minutes to land it.

Caught on six pound test line with a popper, the fish swallowed both the popper and a six inch blue gill also caught on the popper.

Mr. Dunsmore, a winter resident of Tecumseh, said that damage to their summer home was not extensive and had been confined to the chimney in a recent fire there.

Adults Eat—Youths Benefit

MANCHESTER — Manchester's 14th Annual Charcoal Chicken Broil takes place July 20 at the high school athletic field, beginning at 4:30 p.m.

Over 10,000 people are expected with some 300 citizens of the town preparing and serving the chicken.

The committee of some 100 chefs presiding over the 300 foot long pits is under the supervision of Dr. Howard Zindel of the Michigan State University Poultry Department.

There will be two ticket lines and a special take out line. A large host committee will show guests to the tables, seating 2,500 people at one time.

Visitors will be transported back through time to that period just after the Civil War as Manchester celebrates its 100th birthday. Women will be in long skirts and the men will have beards.

Two Class-A softball games will entertain guests before and after dinner.

Tickets are $1.50 and the proceeds will go to the youth activities of the community.

Fisher Extends Invitations to Clubs for Plant Tours

Fisher Body Tecumseh Plant Manager Frans vanWestrenan has announced that plant tours have been arranged on a weekly basis. Visitors will be escorted through the plant every Wednesday at 1 p.m.

Children under 12 are not allowed in the plant and those between 12 and 17 should be accompanied by an adult.

Special group tours may be arranged at other times by contacting the Plant Personnel Department.

The plant features a long front hall lined with administrative offices. Behind the offices is the large production area that is well-lighted, clean and surprisingly quiet.

Of particular interest are the "Prontow" material handling devices, automated highboy storage system, Dielectric Embossing Presses and "Zero Defects" quality program.

In the plant, which employs 900 people, visitors will see interior trim being fabricated for the Oldsmobile F-85, Pontiac Tempest and Buick Special automobiles.

Mr. vanWestrenen invites area residents to come and see first-hand how Fisher Body produces sets of upholstery trim for General Motors cars.

Satterthwaite Will Speak

Joseph C. Satterthwaite, a Tecumseh man who once served as Ambassador to South Africa, will speak to two Adrian College classes July 17. The classes are open to the public.

Mr. Satterthwaite is currently a special consultant to the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, and is in Michigan in connection with Sesquicentennial activities at his alma mater, the University of Michigan, where he was a Phi Beta Kappa.

Beginning in 1924, he served in diplomatic posts in Germany, Mexico, Argentina, Turkey, Syria, Ceylon, Morocco and Burma, in addition to numerous assignments on special conferences and meetings.

He will speak to two classes being taught by Steve Royer, graduate of Adrian High School and George Washington University, who is teaching for the summer at the college.

From 1958 to 1961 he was Assistant Secretary of State for African Affairs, and in 1961 he assumed his duties as Ambassador to South Africa.

Mr. Satterthwaite is scheduled to speak during the 8:45 a.m. class in American National Government on the operation of the State Department, and during the 10:0 a.m. class on the topic "The Emerging Africa."

Both classes will be held in the lower level of Shipman Library.

Driver Dies

Paul Burkhardt, 78, Clinton, retired farmer, was killed last Thursday morning when his car crashed broadside into a pickup truck driven by Robert Sage, 51, of 2840 Taylor Rd.

Mr. Burkhardt was traveling south on Billmyer and Mr. Sage, east on Allen Rd. The Burkhardt car was completely demolished in the crash, as was the heavy duty pickup.

Mr. Sage's life undoubtedly was saved by seat belts. The impact caved in the entire right side of the pickup, and then knocked the truck into a utility pole, hitting the cab at the driver's side.

Both were taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital where Mr. Burkhardt was pronounced dead. Mr. Sage's condition was first listed as just fair with possible internal injuries and lacerations.

He was released Saturday morning.

Funeral services were held for Mr. Burkhardt Sunday at the Proctor Funeral Home in Clinton.

They Are Dedicated

In order to provide truly fine funeral service, the staff members must be dedicated to that goal. We are particularly proud of our staff: each member performs his task as perfectly as is humanely possible.

Janice K. Whelan Weds Jay T. Osburn

White gladioli were used in the altar vases and in pyramid arrangement for the chancel of the Tipton Community Church Saturday when Janice Kay Whelan and Jay Thomas Osburn were united in marriage by the Rev. Gordon C. Blossom.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father.

Her gown was designed and made for her by her mother. It was a floor length sheath with empire waist, shirt sleeves of delicate lace and a floor length train of matching lace secured at the shoulders.

Her veil of illusion was also floor length and was attached to a headpiece of white roses and lilies of the valley.

She carried a Eucharist lily, stephanotis and white rosebuds atop a Bible, the gift of the bride's late maternal grandmother.

Mrs. James Peterson of Kalamazoo was matron of honor in a floor length gown of mint green shantung featuring a train of matching shantung with eyelet lace center panel threaded with contrasting dark green velvet ribbon.

Darlene Whelan, cousin of the bride, was the flower girl dressed as the matron of honor and she carried a miniature bouquet like Mrs. Petersen's.

A centerpiece of the bride's flowers, gift of her aunt, Mrs. John Becker, and white candelabra was used. Individual tables were decorated with candles and sweet peas in brandy snifters.

Mr. and Mrs. Becker and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Holubik of Blissfield were hosts.

The couple were both graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1964. The bride will graduate from the University of Michigan in December.

They will live at 301 W. Logan St.

MRS. JAY THOMAS OSBURN

Games were played with prizes given to the bride and the gifts were presented to her from beneath an umbrella on the table.

Iced tea, pink lemonade and strawberry dessert were served.

Marilyn Mumaw feted the bride at a kitchen shower when gifts were arranged in a clothes basket decorated with green and lilies of the valley.

Frosted molded dessert and punch were served.

Jane Ann Whelan held a pantry shower with guests presenting the bride with favorite recipes. A green and white decorated cake was served with chicken sandwiches and lime punch.

The bride was also feted at a luncheon by school friends in Ann Arbor and Mrs. Ray Jackson also gave a shower for her.

Barbara Lenheiser, John Kanten Are Wed

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Harold Lenheiser, 1018 River Acres Drive and Mr. and Mrs. John B. Kantner of East Lansing.

The bride wore a street length white shift and carried daisies and stephanotis in a colonial bouquet.

She was attended by the groom's sister, Margo Kantner, wearing a blue shift and carrying white chrysanthmums and pink rosebuds.

Mr. Kantner served as best man for his son.

A dinner for the bridal party was served at the Gas Buggy Room and the couple left for San Diego, Calif., where they will live while the groom is stationed there with the Navy.

Ann Harvey Is Honored with Shower

Mrs. Elmer Wilt and Mrs. Walter Mueller entertained at a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Mueller June 29 for their niece, Ann Harvey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Harvey of Stone Hwy.

Games were enjoyed and Miss Harvey opened many lovely gifts from under a beautiful yellow and white umbrella decorated by Mary Ann Mueller.

Out of town guests were Mrs. Dennis Jordan and Mrs. LeRay Jackson of Manitou Beach.

Nita Hart, Junior Is on Dean's List

Among the students named to the current Dean's List of Hillsdale College is Nita M. Hart, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Spangler.

Mrs. Hart received straight A's.

A junior at Hillsdale, she is a graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Hart are residents of Coldwater.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Gove Honored at Reception

Mr. and Mrs. Gordon Gove of Clinton, entertained at a post-wedding reception in the Tecumseh Community Center Sunday for Petty Officer 3/c and Mrs. Paul Gove, who were married in Hollis, N. Y., June 24.

More than 200 guests greeted the young couple and met the parents of the bride, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Wieczorek, and son, Richard, and daughter, Virginia.

Matron of honor, Mrs. William Venora and her husband, of Jamaica, N. Y., were also present for the reception.

A tiered wedding cake, topped with a miniature bride and groom, was made by Mrs. Florence Pearson, and served on a table skirted in rainbow colors.

Assisting with the reception were Mrs. Garland Gove, Mrs. Mervyn Witherell, Mrs. Robert Allen, Mrs. J. J. Wellnitz, all aunts of the groom and Mrs. Ernest Williams, Mrs. Arthur McElhiney and Mrs. Lester Handy.

Mrs. Gerald Eaton played the organ throughout the afternoon for dancing.

Among the guests were Mr. Gove's maternal grandfather, G. E. Wellnitz, and paternal grandfather, Irving Gove, Mrs. Carl Piekarek and children, Debbie and Danny, Bakersfield, Calif., Brenda Hoag, Boise, Ida., and Mr. and Mrs. David McKee of Plymouth.

Congratulations were received from Paul's aunt and family, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Glover of Charlotte, N. C., and Mr. and Mrs. Willis Piper in S. America.

Mr. and Mrs. Gove have purchased a house trailer and will live in Charleston, S. C. He is Petty Officer 3/c aboard a nuclear submarine of the Navy.

MRS. JACK DOUGLAS SISSON

Linda Sue Ivan, Jack D. Sisson Exchange Vows

Linda Sue Ivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Ivan of Grosse Pointe Shores, became the bride of Jack Douglas Sisson in a ceremony performed by the Rev. Paul Keppler at the First Eng. Ev. Lutheran Church in Grosse Pointe June 30.

Both young people attended Ferris State College and the groom spent four years in the Navy.

They plan to live in Adrian until September when they will move to Big Rapids and the groom will return to Ferris to study marketing.

Picnic and Golf

Mrs. Merwyn Blanden, Mrs. Robert Moore and Mrs. Larry Hogan will be the hostesses for a picnic and golf July 19 at the Tecumseh Country Club.

Golfers from Somerset will be guests at the Club July 25.

MRS. JAMES RICHARD COOK

Lynn Elizabeth Shufelt Marries James R. Cook

Lynn Elizabeth Shufelt and James Richard Cook were married by her father, the Rev. Dr. John M. Shufelt July 1 at St. John's Episcopal Church in Royal Oak.

Dr. and Mrs. Shufelt live in Royal Oak and Mr. and Mrs. L. Stanley Cook, parents of the groom, live at 401 Seneca St.

Terrance Beland was best man with Richard Fielder, James Johnson, Jim Brown and Stephen Cook, brother of the groom, seating the guests.

She carried roses and stephanotis.

They wore matching short sleeved coats and carried baskets of roses and daisies.

Her husband is a senior in pre-med at Michigan State University. Both are continuing their education and will live in East Lansing.

The rehearsal dinner was given at Northwood Inn, Royal Oak, Friday evening by the groom's parents.

Robert Pardee on Dean's List

CLINTON — Robert Pardee, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Pardee, 608 Tecumseh, Clinton, has been named to the Dean's List at Hillsdale College.

Hillsdale, a selective, liberal arts college, listed 158 scholars on the honor list, which requires at least a B in each course of a full-time study program.

PATTY MANNINO AND HER TRUMPET

Flames Destroy Trailer

The mobile home of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Mason, 12996 Pennington Rd., Britton, burned to the ground July 4 while the couple were away.

The Milan Fire Department answered the call when the fire was discovered about 5:30 p.m.

The trailer was a total loss according to insurance agents from the fire of undetermined origin.

The couple observed their second wedding anniversary July 9. Many of their wedding gifts were lost in the flames.

Two Evangelistic Musicians Lead Church Sessions

The Rev. Harold Speer, pastor of the Assembly of God Church, announced Tuesday that Evangelists Charles and Eloise Fairfield, Jr., will continue meetings through Sunday, July 16., with the exception of Saturday evening.

The local pastor issues a cordial welcome to area residents to attend.

D. Hebb Attends WMU Orientation

Dean Hebb, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Hebb, 516 W. Chicago Blvd., spent three days at Western Michigan University for orientation this week.

He was among 1,400 registering for classes, meeting with counselors, living in residence halls and getting a "taste of life on campus."

Hebb will be studying a general curriculum.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

They were the only people from Michigan there — The William Frownfelders, with their four children, at the July Fourth celebration in Malvern, Ia. The family was recognized during the festivities.

On a two-week vacation with relatives, Mrs. Frownfelder spoke enthusiastically of a different type of competition they watched from the grandstands.

A huge ball, seven feet in diameter, filled with air was pushed and belted around by players in Model "T" cars protected by cages built around them.

The "cagers" wore seat belts and crash helmets and Mrs. F. said the struggle to "block the ball" was uproarious for both audience and players.

She would like to see similar competition here. So would we.

The Frownfelders visited her sister and mother in Omaha and Lake Okiboji, Ia., and other relatives in Yankton and Scotland, S. D., before returning home Saturday.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Whiting and Bill and the four granddaughters, Jody, Jackie, Jenny and Jill are spending this week at Evans Lake. Jody and Jill have the mumps.

√

Robert Thomas Hanna, the two-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hanna, arrived home Sunday from St. Joseph Hospital where he was born May 9 weighing in at 2 lbs., 11 oz. Proud grandparents of the little man, now a husky five pounds, are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hanna.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Miles Cowdrey and two children left Tuesday for their new home in Shippensburg, Pa. Their address is Herwen Drive, R 3, and the zip code is 17257. Tecumsehites for the past seven years, the Cowdreys would certainly enjoy a note or two from their friends here when they arrive.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Neville Hart have been entertaining her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Corsier, and Lisa Rae of Shavertown, Pa., this past week. Saturday Grandpa and Grandma Hart had a party for their little granddaughter's second birthday anniversary. "Happy birthday to me," was the immediate answer from the little girl when her Grandma asked what her cards read.

Mr. and Mrs. LaMar Rufner, 215 W. Pottawatamie St., will celebrate their silver wedding anniversary July 1 at an open house at their home. Guests are invited from 2-5 p.m. Mr. Rufner and Mary Ross were married July 5, 1942, in Kendallville, Ind. The couple are the parents of three children, Mrs. Tom Emerson, Adrian, LaMar, II, and Sue Ellen, both at home. The couple ask that gifts be omitted.

Sp/4 Howard Hunt arrived home July 2 from Fort Huachuca, Ariz., to spend a leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hunt, Corky and the rest of the family.

Robert E. LaPrad, personnel man, spent two weeks with his aunt, Margaretta Brisbin, before returning July 4 to the minesweeping squadron in Long Beach, Calif. Mr. and Mrs. William J. LaPrad of Staten Island, N. Y., were also weekend guests of Mrs. Brisbin. He is employed with the American Telephone and Telegraph Co.

√

Mrs. Joseph LeFevre has just returned from a trip south. he drove back to Albany, Ga., with her son and daughter-in-law. From there she went to Biloxi, Miss., to visit her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Gray. She also visited friends on the Sinclare Sugar Plantation, Port Allen, La., and returned by plane from New Orleans.

The folks in Biloxi said they really appreciate The Herald — it's like hearing from home each week.

√

√

Mrs. Amy Jack of Britton is recovering from a broken hip at the home of her daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wagner, Pixley Rd., Palmyra.

√

The Erwin Penningtons of Louisiana, Mo., are the parents of a son, Jon K., born June 28. Mr. and Mrs. Earl Pennington of Hessel are the grandparents of the little boy.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Larry Kimble and Tracy, 2½, have moved from Central Illinois to 1004 Sunset Drive. He is district sales manager for Funk Bros. Hy-Brid Seed Corn Co. They are a Methodist family. He collects coins and she enjoys bridge.

√

Roger Hoag and Susie Hoch were among other students at Ferris State college for orientation this week.

√

Sgt. Carl H. Bowers, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bowers of 4346 Ridge Hwy., Britton, was recently promoted to Sgt. E-5, and is now Battery Supply Sergeant at Camp Casey, Korea. He has been in Korea since May, 1966. He entered the army in December, 1965, and received his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and advanced artillery training as a cannoneer at the Army Artillery and Missile School, Fort Sill, Okla. A 1964 graduate of the Tecumseh High School, he was employed at the Tecumseh Products before entering the service.

John Whitney And Mike Zorn Make Dean's List

John W. Whitney, studying commerce, and Michael F. Zorn, studying general education at Ferris State College, have been named to the dean's list for the spring term.

A student must maintain at least a B average while carrying a full academic load to be named on the list.

Jackson CC Is Attended by 4 Grads

Four Tecumseh High School graduates are enrolled in Jackson Community College's 1967 summer session.

They are:

Mrs. Joyce T. Graham, 8410 Rixerside, Brooklyn, sophomore, THS Class of 1955.

The four are among 411 students enrolled in the eight-week summer session.

Mickey 'Finds' New Friends

Mickey Partridge, recently hospitalized, thought he had a group of new friends from the many cards he received in the mail. Mickey was named after his grandfather, M. G. Partridge. A lot of Mel's buddies thought it was he instead of his grandson who was vacationing at Herrick.

Dr. Marsh Recalls First Penicillin Patient

TO THE EDITORS:

Greetings to all of you and congratulations on your recent award. We always look forward to receiving the paper.

We usually receive it on Saturday, but lately it has been coming on Monday.

In fact, the last paper we received had "Mixed Colorado" written on the wrapper. Please note zip code numbers above.

We are sharing hail, rain and warm weather. The hail has been somewhat severe in certain areas.

This afternoon, we had some hail and a lady across the street was out after the storm and after picking up some hail stones, called out, "Anyone for tennis?"

They were almost that size. North of where we live, cars and houses were damaged.

During June, we had some relatives visit us from Adrian and Britton.

Marjorie's brother, Guy Hindes and his wife, came from Adrian, and her sister-in-law, Dorothy Hindes visited from Britton. None except Guy had seen any mountains before, so we showed them some!

We took them to Aspen to see Robert and his family and, of course, on the way we crossed the Continental Divide. Independence Pass is 12,095 feet elevation. It was the first trip west for all of them.

The roads west of here and going to Aspen, goes through mountains or over them. It is about 200 miles to Aspen.

I do not know how far it would be if it was flattened out!

I was thinking the other day about the first time that "penicillin" was used in Tecumseh, or perhaps I should say Lenawee County.

The patient's name is Lynn Hubbard and he lives at 814 Outer Dr., Tecumseh.

Incidentally, I have permission from Mr. Hubbard to use his name and all information that he gave me, including dates.

The patient had a severe pneumonia (lobar). I called Dr. H. H. Hammel for consultation. He agreed that we had a very sick man to treat.

Penicillin was just being talked about and was hard to get.

We called on Gertrude Spalding, of Herrick Memorial Hospital, to see if she could help us out. Through her contacts in Detroit, we were able to obtain a good supply of penicillin.

The trouble was that neither Dr. Hammel nor I knew anything about it except what we read in the Medical Journals.

The patient was not getting any better. I tapped his chest and found no evidence of empyema (pus in the chest). With a certain amount of fear and trembling, I put a full dose of penicillin in a syringe and gave him the "works".

Dr. Hammel and I had been taking turns seeing the patient during the day. The afternoon of the day of the medication of penicillin, Dr. Hammel told me that the patient said, "About one hour after Dr. Marsh gave me that shot, I could feel myself getting better."

We gave him daily doses until it was evident that he was getting better. It was a wonderful thing for all concerned.

We have Miss Spalding to thank for her part in this case. Without her help it is doubtful that Mr. Hubbard would be in his present good health today.

The date of this episode was February 25, 1946.

Today, the use of penicillin is very common.

Perhaps some people in Tecumseh would like to know that we are quite well, including "Duke".

I take Duke to a Veterinary Clinic at irregular times. Recently, I took him there for an examination and his semi-annual bath and as I was leaving, the doctor pointed to Duke and stated, "He is a fine old gentleman."

He is 14 years old now, since May the 1st.

Incidentally, this is our second year of retirement and everything is fine!

Best Regards to all.

R. G. B. Marsh, M. D.

VOTERS of CAMBRIDGE TOWNSHIP

You've heard the rumors, now here are the facts about Speedway Vote July 18

FACT 1 — The Speedway will pay $45,000 every year in township taxes.

FACT 2 — The Speedway will have its own police and fire department. The fire equipment would be available to the township for emergency use, as well as any other equipment the speedway would have.

FACT 3 — Local people will have job preference during construction, as well as when the Speedway opens.

FACT 4 — The natural contour of the land, the drains, will be enhanced by major landscaping.

FACT 5 — The bowl construction of the Speedway in the center of 600 acres will reduce noise to less than highway truck traffic level. A good illustration is the Halifax District Hospital in Daytona, Fla., now undergoing an expansion program while located within a mile and a half of Daytona Speedway.

FACT 6 — The adequacy of the roads has been confirmed by all governmental authorities including the State Highway Department, Lenawee County Road Commission, USAC Traffic Control Department, speedway traffic consultants as well as independent traffic control experts from leading state universities.

FACT 7 — The soil in the area where the speedway is proposed has been found to be marginal for agriculture and recommended for use as a recreational area by County Extension Agent of Lenawee County as well as the Community Development Specialists of Michigan State University.

WE LIVE IN THE GREATEST RECREATION AREA IN MICHIGAN — LET'S MAKE IT AN EVEN BETTER PLACE FOR TOURISTS TO VISIT.

Pony League TPW Shoot Down Eagles

By K. F. KOEPLIN

In a wild, exciting, extra-inning game, TPW knocked the Eagles from the ranks of the unbeaten in Pony League play.

Mike Kennedy and Bud Bennett combined to hold the Eagles to two hits. Kennedy went seven innings and limited the Eagles to one single by Alex Gibson in the first inning which produced one of the three Eagle runs.

Kennedy was quite wild, walking seven and hitting four batters through the first four innings.

He settled down and in the last three frames allowed neither hit nor run.

The game see-sawed. The Eagles scored first on five walks and a single, good for three runs. TPW got two back in the second on singles by Gary Alcock and John Travis, plus two fielders choices.

In the third, TPW went into the lead, scoring three on singles by Guy Manwaring, Travis and Alcock, sandwiched around a triple by Kennedy to deep right center.

Two TPW errors and a walk gave the Eagles one in the third, and two hit batsmen, two fielders choices plus a walk, tied them in the fourth at six apiece.

It stayed that way until the eighth when Robin Hatch walked the first two lead-off men, Dave Kelly and Scott Durkee.

Marv Maynard then took over the mound chores. Bud Bennett bounced one back to him, trying for the forceout at third.

He unfortunately overthrew and that was the game.

Scott Durkee and Dennis Puffer were the victory catchers and Robin Hatch and Marv Maynard were the losing catchers.

Mike Harrison and Alex Gibson combined pitching efforts for the Eagles.

2 Victories Are Posted by Gals' 9

In recent Michigan-Ohio fastball competition, the Adrian Eagles girls softball team won two and lost one.

► ADRIAN 3, TOLEDO 0

Marian Rozell of Tecumseh was on the mound for the Eagles, fanning eight Toledo batters. Eloise Dierker of Maumee, O., was behind the plate.

Elaine Langenderfer of Adrian was the team's leading hitter as she scored the first run in the second inning on a sacrifice and an error, then drove in two runs in the fifth with a triple.

► AKRON HAMUN 4, ADRIAN 0

The Adrian Eagles lost the July 9 game to Akron Hamun, 4-0.

Brenda Trent was pitcher for the victory team. She also drove in all of Akron's runs. Barb Klicka was her catcher.

► ADRIAN 18, AKRON AREA 3

The Adrian Eagles collected 17 of their hits, scoring seven in the second and six in the fourth, as the team walloped Akron Area, 18-3.

Janice Chatfield of Addison was lead hitter, with 4-for-4, including a single, double, triple and homerun.

Other Pony League Games

► VFW 10, INDIANS 5

In recent Pony League action, VFW defeated the Indians, 10-5.

Larry Getz pitched the winning game, fanning three Indian players. He was relieved by Rick Schuyler who struck out five.

Mike Tilton was the VFW catcher.

The winning runs were scored in a series of events.

Hallenbeck scored the third run of the inning on a single by Neil Booze. Getz was tagged out at third to end the fourth inning.

► G & J 3, INDIANS 0

field was behind the Indian plate.

Lisenbee and Paul Randall were leading G & J hitters.

► G & J 6, VFW 1

Craig Smith let only one hit go by him to lead G & J to a victory over VFW, 6-1.

Steve Tilton was behind the plate for the winning team.

Tim Baaske was sacrificed in a flyout by Randy Skinner

Markham Whiffs Nine in 12-5 Win

► DODGERS 12, CUBS 5

Tim Markham pitched a nine strikeout game for the Dodgers as they defeated the Cubs, 12-5.

Kim Beard was the catcher and Bob Williams was a lead hitter.

► DODGERS 19, BRAVES 12

Bob Williams and Frank Rappin composed the winning battery as the Dodgers beat the Braves, 19-12.

Steve Flanders was an outstanding hitter.

Mike Moffatt led the Red Sox to victory recently as they defeated the Giants, 6-4. Moffatt fanned eight Giant batters.

► INDIANS 15, RED SOX 9

► INDIANS 15, GIANTS 9

Ricky Brooks was the Indian pitcher with Peter Mitchell as his catcher. Brooks had eight strikeouts.

Kent Jacoby and Chris Stanifer were the losing battery.

My Neighbors

Ruhl's Still on Top

In recent slo-pitch softball action, Kemp Murphy defeated the Tecumseh Merchants, 11-10.

► RUHL'S CITGO 16, 3 LAKES SUPPLY 1

A triple by Brad Hatch in the first inning was all Ruhl's Citgo needed to drive in the two men on base to wallop Three Lakes Supply.

Don Handley and Delbert Marsh were the losing battery.

► TEC. JAYCEES 20, WAGON WHEEL 17

Ronny Albert was the catcher.

'Preserve Me'

"Preserve me, O God: for in thee do I put my trust . . . Thou wilt show me the path of life."

This verse from Psalms is the Golden Text of this week's Christian Science Lesson Sermon on "Life."

Kiwanis 9 Fights Back To Grab Cub League Tilt

Kiwanis had been behind, 7-0, in the bottom of the fourth inning but managed to tie the score then go on to win by four runs.

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Fair time is fun time in America.

Interest in fairs has continued unabated for almost all of our country's history.

I mentioned to my parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Follis, that we would soon be heading for one of the biggest and oldest state fairgrounds — in Springfield, Ill., to attend the National Landrace Conference.

That started lots of reminiscing since it was in that fairgrounds where they first met 61 years ago.

Clarence Follis and Bessie Cass were just 14 then and both had been working after finishing grade school.

When summer came the boys headed for the Illinois State Fair, where their oldest brother, Sam Follis and his wife, Hattie, ran a big food tent every fair week for ten years.

Sam owned a grocery store and lived in Springfield, but he had a farm a few miles from town.

Clarence drove a buggy out to the farm each morning and night and milked a dozen cows, then brought the milk back to be bottled in town.

He'd rush back to the fairgrounds in the middle of the morning to work all day frying hamburgers and handing out pop and lemonade.

★

FAIR EXHIBITORS and visitors swarmed into the tent which was large enough to have sleeping quarters back behind the spacious kitchen section.

Sam Follis sat on a raised platform at the entrance and raked in the 50-cent pieces — that's all it cost for the hearty family style meals that were served at long wooden tables.

Heaped up platters of food were passed again and again until all were satisfied. There was roast beef, long, flat, black pans of molasses - flavored baked beans, fried potatoes, vinegary cabbage slaw, crunchy stalks of celery, juicy red tomato slices, all topped off with slices of fresh fruit pie.

Hattie managed the kitchen area where all the food was prepared. The August Cass family lived just outside the fairgrounds gate, and Mom's mother, Mrs. Cass, worked in the food tent each summer with several other women.

There six huge black coal ranges belched forth heat and 200 pies every day. Tall lard cans on the top of the stoves heated all the water used to wash and scald the mountains of dishes which piled up in those days before paper plates and cups.

Natural casing hot dogs came in long chain links and a huge cluster of them was tied together and dunked in steaming kettles to simmer.

Several ice chests each held 300 pound chunks of ice to keep the food and pop cold.

ONE NOON when business was better than usual the food began to run out just after the tables were filled with hungry people.

Scotch-blooded Sam eyed the crowd as they began to get impatient, and just as the first few got up to ask him for their money back — he grabbed those sacks of clanking half-dollars and — one in each hand — dashed out of the tent.

He darted as fast as he could through the throngs of fair visitors — across the trotting horse track where the races were in full gait.

Then, he plopped down in the grassy center strip, where he waited safely for about an hour.

He knew by that time his fast-moving kitchen crew would have some more food served up — and he wouldn't have to give back the price of a single meal!

'Any Wednesday' Has Frank Dalton in Leading Role

The Clark Lake Players will bring "Any Wednesday," the most popular Broadway comedy of the 1960's, to the stage of the Clark Lake Playhouse.

The Muriel Resnik comedy will play July 13, 14, 15, 20, 21, 22.

It is a sprightly tale of a business tycoon and the young lady he visits every Wednesday at an apartment he has listed in his company's ledgers as an executive suite and, therefore, tax-deductible.

This business-pleasure arrangement has been devised by a dynamic, highly-successful executive, John Cleves, to be portrayed by Frank Dalton of Tecumseh.

G. L. Blanchard is the director.

Dean Moore New Prexy of Reunion

MACON — The 40th Annual Illinois Reunion was held July 9 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore. The reunion is held the second Sunday of July each year.

In the absence of the president and vice-president, Mrs. Moore conducted a short business meeting.

The following officers were elected:

President — Dean Moore
Vice-president — Donald Moore
Secretary-treasurer — Bertha Lapoint
Historian — Mrs. Carl Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hintz of Metamora, O., invited the group to meet with them next year.

Mrs. A. C. Ashely of Adrian announced the program which included three instrumental numbers by Mrs. John McTosh and sons, Paul and Allen, of Adrian.

Three songs were sung by the Emanuel Lutheran Choir of Ridge Highway, under the direction of Helen Bendes of Tecumseh.

The rest of the afternoon was spent visiting.

Drive-In

Macon Notes

By MRS. HAMILTON MOORE, JR.

The Senior Choir is sponsoring a Public Cafeteria Supper July 15. Serving will begin at 5 p.m.

The Ann Arbor District Program Planning Workshop will meet July 18 at 9:30 a.m., in the Denton - Sheldon Methodist Church.

The Macon Community Club will be having an old-fashioned picnic supper July 18, at 6:30 p.m., in the Britton Park. Everyone is to bring a table service, dish to pass and a joke for the Program.

Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Bush and some of their family motored to Interlochen to pick up their son, Daniel, who had been attending the music school.

Mrs. Agatha Camburn, Mrs. Lilah Howell, Mrs. Truman Jordan, Mrs. Clarence Hall, Mrs. Ray Smith, Mrs. Clayton Bigelow, Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore and Cindy Rathbun of East Lansing, enjoyed a picnic dinner at the Chelsea Methodist Home in Chelsea. Mrs. Wilma Briggs and Mrs. Minnie Sarvey, formerly of Macon, and two adopted sisters of the Home were their guests.

Sunday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore were Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carey, Sr., and daughter, Luella, of Ypsilanti, Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore and family and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore and son, Rodney, of Tecumseh. Home-made ice cream and cake were served in honor of Mr. Hamilton's birthday anniversary. Evening callers were Rev. and Mrs. Roland Liesman of Hudson.

Mr. and Mrs. C. Conners (Ida Maude Howell), Ross and Beth, of Claremore, Okla., spent several days with friends in the Macon vicinity.

Mr. and Mrs. Archie Hintz of Metamora, O., called on his brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Hintz.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Mueller and family attended a family reunion at Vincennes, Ind., July 1 and returned home July 5.

Mr. and Mrs. Gail Pants and family of Holland, O., were Sunday callers on his sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Rowe.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Ruhl and family attended the Rinehart Family Reunion Sunday near Dexter.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Castiligion and sons, Jeff and Jack, spent the weekend with her father, Mills Swick. They attended the wedding of Mr. Swick and Mrs. Verna Meyers of Jackson, Saturday. The wedding was in Britton.

Car Sideswiped as Driver Crosses Over Center Line

David M. Crosby, 23, of 305 E. Pottawatamie, and Mary E. Karpo, 45, of 3393 W. Michigan Ave., Clinton, were drivers of cars which sideswiped on Shoreline Dr., and Wellwood Dr., in Norvell Township at 10:40 p.m. Saturday.

Crosby was given a summons for failure to stop and identify himself and for driving on the wrong side of the road.

Pvt. E-2 Bill Chandler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Brown of Rt. 2, Britton, left July 7 for Ft. Lewis, Wash., where he was assigned to the overseas replacement station. Chandler, a graduate of Tecumseh High School, has been home on leave after completing basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky., and advanced training at Ft. Polk, La.

Consumers Power To Install Gas in Tipton Village

Ray Jackson, supervisor of Franklin Township, announced Friday that Consumers Power Co. will install gas in the unincorporated village of Tipton early in August.

NEWCOMERS

Who Have Moved to Tecumseh

Mrs. Robert Judy and five children have rented a home at 212 N. Pearl St., and moved here in March from Ballstonspa, N. Y.

Mrs. Judy's husband, Robert, Intercommunications First Class, is aboard the USS Enterprise, out of San Francisco, Calif.

Mrs. Judy is formerly from Monroe and the couple selected Tecumseh for their residence to be near her relatives.

Son, Robert, II, will be in fifth grade; Anita, 9, fourth grade; Karen, 7, third grade; James, 5, kindergarten, all in Patterson School; and Brian, 2, at home.

Cake decorating is a special skill of Mrs. Judy, who also likes to sew and knit.

Dr. and Mrs. Joseph Bachman moved to an apartment at 212 Marlboro Ct., when they were married in April. Dr. Bachman opened an office in Tecumseh last October for the practice of internal medicine.

Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Joachim and two daughters moved from Houghton Lake when Trooper Joachim was assigned to the Clinton State Police Post. They have purchased a home at 2875 Russell Rd.

Daughters, Diana 14, will be in 10th grade, and Holly, 11, is in seventh grade in junior high school. The girls are Campfire Girls and Diana is a member of the Future Teachers' Club.

The family is Lutheran. Mr. Joachim is handy with woodworking and likes to hunt. Both enjoy bowling and gardening.

Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Dallas moved from Dryden and purchased a home at 402 W. Kilbuck St., when he purchased the Wilson Motor Sales. The new business is now called Les Dallas Dodge.

Son, Michael, 19, will be a freshman at Michigan State University; Diane, 16, is a senior, and David, 15, is a sophomore, both at Tecumseh High School.

The family are enthusiastic about winter skiing and Mr. and Mrs. Dallas play bridge and golf.

Retirees, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Myers, came from Crystal Lake near Somerset to rent an apartment at 10 Marlboro Ct. Mr. Myers was formerly employed at Consumers Power Company, Jackson.

Their pastimes are bridge and gardening.

Recently moved here from Bryan, O., are Mr. and Mrs. William Adams and two daughters. They have purchased a home at 607 Center Dr. Mr. Adams is employed at Stauffer Chemical.

Daughters, Cindy, 6, will be in the second grade at Herrick Park School, and Sandy, 4, at home.

Wamplers Pavilion Draws 4,000 Jiving Youths to Opening

By DENICE ANDERSON

First big production at the new Wamplers Lake Pavilion, Inc., — a swinging grand opening July 3 — was attended by over 4,000 teenagers and aduk[illegible] listened and danced to music by some of the nation's top recording artists.

"Yes, this can be considered our real grand opening," said Howard Herman, president of the corporation. "Up to now we've only featured lots of semi-hits, but now we'll have at least one star attraction per week."

The Pavilion opened Memorial Weekend. Roy Biandis, vice-president, Charles King, manager and Dick Russ round out the board of directors.

"Considering the crowd, it was a 'quiet' evening,"

THE STARS — Thousands of teens gathered at the of Wamplers Lake Pavilion, Inc., July 3, to gain en- the star-studded performance which included Sam the Sham and the Pharoahs, Keith, Tommy James and the Shondells and The Royal Guardsmen. When not dancing, teens could play pool, pinball or sit around and enjoy a soft drink.

Mr. Herman, meaning that there was relatively trbuble.

"There's bound to be some problems when you his many people, young or old, together, what with heat and excitement of the evening."

"There were approximately 17 security guards or carrying badges helping to keep things running thly in the area," stated Mr. Herman. "We had ers from the Jackson County Security Police, a esentative of the County Sheriff, a deputy sheriff a township constable."

Teens enjoyed the sounds of Sam the Sham and the oahs, Keith, Tommy James and the Shondells, and Royal Guardsmen.

Upcoming attractions to the Pavilion will include celebrities and musicians as Mitch Ryder, Wed., 19, the Outlaws and Jerry Lewis.

"We plan on spreading to adult entertainment," Herman commented.

July 16 the Michigan Dutchmen will provide polka c from 3:30 to 7:30 p.m.

"We're returning the big bands," said Mr. Herman, hope to possibly have Tex Beneke and his Band, ative date Fri., July 28. In August the Glenn Miller and Woody Herman. We are also thinking of Louis Armstrong and Pete Fountain." This will be determined by the adult turnout.

"These plans are strictly being negotiated," Mr. Herman stressed. "They are in the planning stage and no definite engagements have yet been made."

Also scheduled for the 16,700-square-foot of floor space, called the multi-purpose building, is Club Night, aimed at featuring special Tuesday and Thursday night dances for groups throughout the summer months.

"The restaurant and recreation room open at 5 p.m. daily and at noon weekends," said Mr. Herman.

There are eight pool tables, four pinball machines and other amusements.

An addition to the recreation room is being planned for the near future, as are ideas for additional parking spaces and additional lounge facilities for the ladies' rest room.

Admission at the Pavilion for top name entertainment is $3 per person. On regular evenings, the cost is $1.50.

After appearing at the Pavilion Sam the Sham and the Pharoahs headed for Detroit where they were scheduled to appear at the Roostertail for three shows July 4.

Laughing faces and clapping hands proved that it was, indeed, a successful opening night.

FIFTH GAME

ORCHID CARDS

JULY 10 to 17

Here How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of The Tecumseh Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Check the classified ads for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS — YOU HAVE A "BINGO" — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spends like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE TECUMSEH HERLAD: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Wednesday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards each week will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE HERALD, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The Herald. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

THIS WEEK

PLAY BINGO NUMBERS APPEARING IN THIS ISSUE ON ORCHID CARDS

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be some place in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

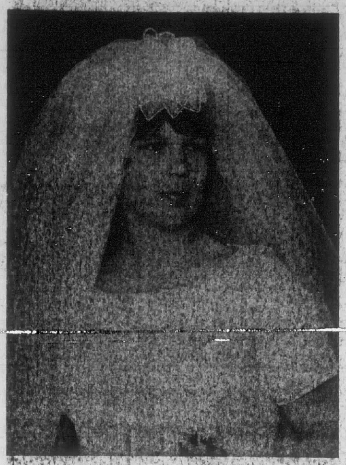
Sheryl Ann Olson Weds Gary Couture

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were recited by Sheryl Ann Olson and Gary Lee Couture in Grace English Evangelical Lutheran Church, Tecumseh, Saturday evening.

The 7 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. K. F. Koeplin.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Olson, of 108 Bartlett St., and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Couture, 11645 Braun Rd., Manchester.



MRS. GARY L. COUTURE

LuAnn Rhoades was the soloist and she was accompanied by Mrs. Koeplin at the organ.

The bride was given in marriage by her father.

The gown was made by Mrs. Paul Hawkins. A diamond pendant, a gift of the groom, was worn by the bride.

Her veil of illusion was held by a forward headpiece of petals and seed pearls, and she carried a cascade of white miniature carnations and blue daisies.

The best man was David Olson, brother of the bride, and guests were seated by another brother, Daniel Olson, and Roger Proctor, and Terry Brooks of East Lansing.

A reception which followed the ceremony was held in the church social room and was attended by 200 guests.

A tiered wedding cake, made by Mrs. Robert Weinberg of Tipton, was served. Assisting were Mrs. Richard Lee of E. Tawas, Mrs. Charles Kotts, Sylvia Williams and Barbara Hawkins.

The bride is a graduate of Clinton High School and is a Dental Hygiene student at Ferris State College. She is employed by the Michigan State Department of Health, Dental Division.

The groom is a graduate of Clinton High School and is employed by Proctor Funeral Homes.

Following a short wedding trip, the couple will be at home at 111 Washington St., Clinton.

The Bridegroom's parents entertained the members of the wedding party at a rehearsal dinner at the Country House, Tecumseh, Friday evening.

Sheila E. Dykes Exchanges Vows with Clifford Whitney

CLINTON — Sheila E. Dykes and Clifford M. Whitney were united in marriage in a ceremony at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Smith, Clinton, Saturday evening.

The ceremony was performed by the Rev. David Liscomb, pastor of the Clinton Methodist Church, before a candlelight arrangement of white gladioli and chrysanthemums.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mildred Britton of Belvidere, Ill. The groom is the son of Mrs. Kenneth Smith of 218 E. Michigan Ave., and Melvin Whitney of Tecumseh.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother, Dan Dykes. She wore a white pique street length dress and her bouffant veil was held by a crown of petals and crystals.

Carlene Roy was the maid of honor. She wore a fitted yellow street length dress with an overdress of matching lace, and carried a bouquet of white and yellow daisies.

A reception attended by 150 guests was held in the Smith-Kimball Community Center. A five-tiered wedding cake, decorated in yellow and white, was served by Mrs. Kenneth Mangus, and punch was poured by Mrs. John Tracy.

The bride, who had been making her home at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Guy Roy at 215 Brown St., is a 1966 graduate of Clinton High School.

Among the out-of-town guests for the wedding were Mrs. Elva Dikes, Chicago, Mrs. James Busby, and sons of Chicago, Mrs. Martha Smith of Oscoda and Mrs. Muriel Faust of Jackson.

Pilot and Family Prepare for Move to Miami, Florida

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Jack Taffe and two daughters will move later this month to Miami, Fla., where they expect to live for two years.

Mr. Taffe is a pilot for United Air Lines, and he will be going to Denver, Colo., next week to be checked out to pilot jet planes.

When jet flights begin to originate from Detroit in about two years, the Taffes plan to return to their home at 1602 W. Michigan.

Meanwhile, their house will be rented to another United Air lines pilot, Rex Campbell, and his wife. With their infant son, Mr. and Mrs. Campbell will move here later this summer from Chicago.

Picnic and Dance Highlight Fourth at Charles Steffens

Assisting with the cooperative outdoor beef barbecue, which was an all-day feature of the event, were Mr. and Mrs. John Hoelzer and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Porterfield.

There were 18 families present.

Rudolph Pratts are Grandparents of Lisa Marie

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Danny Pratt of Britton are the parents of a daughter, Lisa Marie, born July 5 at Saline General Hospital. This is a first — girl, that is, after four boys.

Junk, Old Cars Draws Township Board Criticism

CLINTON — The Clinton Township Board has received complaints about the growing problem of accumulations of junk, mainly old automobiles, on premises throughout the township.

The board discussed ways of controlling the unsightly conditions at their regular meeting last Monday.

The new State Constitution provides that board of review members must now be appointed to two year terms. Appointments to this board are to be made soon.

Mr. Halley explained the problem of ambulance service in some parts of the county and the proposals that are being considered by the county supervisors.

Trustees Robert Braden and James Meeks were appointed to represent the Clinton Township on the joint Village-Township fire department board.

VOICE of THE HERALD

We Say Vote Yes

Telling a neighbor how to vote on any issue or candidate, in his own backyard, is a dangerous past-time.

Some might call it offering your two-cents worth where it wasn't particularly wanted.

But when the decision is going to have an effect like the tossing of a pebble into a mirror-smooth lake, with ever-widening circles rolling in all directions, we feel inclined to give our opinion.

The Herald thinks Cambridge Township should OK the change in zoning, which would allow the giant race course to be built there.

Like the circles in the pond, effects of this project would roll over an extremely wide area. With it could come some wonderful benefits.

As a starter, there'll be a new $4-million assessment on Cambridge Township's tax roll — and that's not peanuts.

Next, a general swell in the over-all economy would follow — always a pleasant thought — with motels, restaurants and other service businesses coming to our area.

Then, too, there is the possibility of new industrial complexes joining the Lenawee County lineup, firms which would be using the speedway for test purposes.

Since the Irish Hills cater to tourist trade, what better attraction can we add than have a championship speedway, running half a dozen major events a season, each capable of bringing more than 100,000 to Lenawee. Some of these folks are bound to enjoy the Hills to such an extent they'll likely consider vacationing here as well as just popping in race days.

And lastly, backers of the project, including two well-known Adrian men, give assurance that such a speedway would be a thing of beauty and generate new pride in our county.

So there you have it, friends in Cambridge Township who will actually decide the issue Tuesday.

We think you should put an "X" in front of "yes" at next week's vote.

Job Rates Praise

Anyone want to volunteer for the Tecumseh Fire Department?

Many of us were awakened the other morning by the wail of sirens, but we didn't have to go. The firemen did, though, and it was a dangerous experience for several of the Tecumseh volunteers.

With flames shooting from the roof and smoke puffing from under eaves and through windows, several firemen donned oxygen masks and braved the blackened and smoke-filled interior of a strange house, in search of a lady who was not there.

It's fortunate, indeed, that she was not there.

Too often their heroics go unrecognized, but we're sure Sunday morning's crowd would give them a pat on the back for a job well done — and they deserve it.

MORE BLUEJAY FUN

Just lately I seem to be preoccupied with all of the family-raising activity in the bird world. Actually, though, there is really no escaping it. The nest building bit is about over — of course, it is almost time for the preparation for the second broods to begin.

Soon the late nesting goldfinches will join the future parent club, too, but if the construction work is not monopolizing our attention these days, baby birds certainly are.

There are young robins, sparrows and grackles everywhere. The eggs in the bluejay's nest have hatched — Mom saw tiny round heads stuck atop scrawny toothpick - thin necks waving above the sides of the nest.

We had assumed there were baby jays because of the adult birds' actions. At the feeder they bolted down big mouthfuls of scratch, flew away but were back in just a few minutes for another crop full.

I could not follow them, the leaves on the maple trees are just too big. Mom, however could kneel down and peek under enough to see that they were going to the nest. It was while on her knees that she saw the babies.

★

WE HOPED when the little jays were big enough to leave the nest, that they would be brought to the feeder. It would be an easy snack place, they could be introduced to the etiquette of feeder eating and furthermore, they would be such fun to watch.

Apparently Mr. and Mrs. Bluejay had other ideas — sometime over the week-end the whole family moved out. I am rather disappointed, too, I never did catch a good look at the youngsters.

SEVERAL YEARS ago there was an old bluejay who was smart enough to bring her kid to the feeder. It was a riot to watch. Junior was all soft and fluffy, of course, and looked bigger than his mother. When the two of them flew in, he would crouch down, start fluttering his wings, open his mouth wide and scream.

The adult bird grabbed up scratch feed as fast as she could and rushed over to stuff it into her "starving" child's mouth. Such impatience, though, he was never satisfied with what she brought nor the speed with which she brought it. He screamed and hollered through their whole feeder visit and, believe me, it was something to hear.

It was really something to see, too. We were surprised that a bird, even one the size of a bluejay, could have such a huge mouth. When he opened his bill it was like a cavern in there. And the inside of his mouth was bright red — it was quite a startling sight.

★

BUT GETTING back to this year's bluejays. One morning Liz and I saw a little gem of a scene which just has to be titled, "The Tables Were Turned."

For days and days and days the bluejays had been attacking anything and everything in sight. They were the personification of protective instinct. Nobody was welcome in their home territory.

We noticed a bird sitting on the lowest limb of the nearby little maple tree. Who was he? He was looking up the creek so his back was towards us.

His back was dark and his tail was the silliest, shortest thing you can imagine. There was a little white at its end which looked like a white ruffle. We assumed that the visitor was a baby robin. He was leading a dangerous life, though; that maple tree was bluejay country.

Suddenly the jays spotted him and roared in for an attack. One swooped down from the right and the other from the left. Poor little robin must have been terrified, he fell off the limb and was almost to the ground before his frantic wing-beating co-ordinated into flying.

The pay-off, however, was taking place back up in the maple tree. Mrs. Robin had seen bluejays take after her youngsters and, my, she was not going to stand for that. She tore into the jays and sent them both flying. Flying figuratively as well as literally. It was great to see.

So it is that things are going well and, as the summer continues, who knows — there may be even more bluejay fun.

Hayden Kin Singing in European Concerts

Deborah and David Kenneth Wells, children of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Wells and grandchildren of Mrs. Perry Hayden, have been selected as members of the All-Student Band, U.S.A. Orchestra and Chorus.

They are presently in Paris, France, and over the weekend will make the last leg of their 30 day tour of the European countries at London, England.

Mr. and Mrs. Wells are chaperoning the group of select music students from throughout the United States on the trip sponsored by the Conservatory of Music at Winchester, Va., in co-operation with the State Department and the American embassies.

The group functions for one month during the summer as both a concert performing organization and European study program.

In addition to routine sight seeing excursions, their itinerary includes visits to the opera, concerts, conservatories, birthplaces of noted composers and lectures.

They perform in at least 12 cities of Europe and give one final performance in Washington, D.C., when they return July 19.

The young people are members of the youth choir of the First Baptist Church of Beaumont where their father is the minister of music.

Mrs. Wells is the former Mary Jane Hayden.

Washington Report

By CONGRESSMAN MARV ESCH

Here's a review of major pieces of legislation which I have introduced since taking office in mid-January.

► The Human Investment Act of 1967: This bill would encourage job training by private industry. It provides a 10% tax credit to employers for expenses incurred in the training of the unemployed.

► Select Committee on Standards and Conduct: This was introduced by myself and a number of new members all interested in establishing uniform guidelines for Congressional ethics and creating a constant watchdog over members' activities. The House established a similar committee, but has yet to give it the power and direction needed to do the job.

► The Dairy Import Act: This bill is designed to reduce dairy imports from foreign countries which have been forcing down the domestic market. It received such overwhelming sponsorship in both houses that the President recently responded and finally curtailed imports by executive order.

► National Home Ownership Act: This bill would help to alleviate the housing problems of low income families by assisting them in buying and owning their own homes.

► Early Funding for Education: This resolution would start the ball rolling toward earlier funding for federal educational programs. As it now stands, Congress takes so long to appropriate funds that local and state schools are unable to do any planning and sometimes do not know whether they will receive any funds for deserving projects.

► National Commission on Public Management: This bill would apply modern computer technology and management know-how to increase efficiency in government agencies and programs.

► Opportunity Crusade: This is my alternative to the war on poverty. Its basic purpose is simply to fight poverty effectively. It transfers several programs to existing major agencies, establishes new programs in areas where the needs are not being met, expands and increases funds for successful projects and puts more emphasis on the utilization of voluntary and private resources.

► Representation for the District of Columbia: This measure would allow the citizens of Washington to have a voting representative in Congress. Certainly these people deserve a voice equal to that of all other United States citizens. A House Committee has begun hearings on this and favorable action may not be too far off.

If you would like more information on any of these bills please write me here in Washington. I always welcome and appreciate learning your views.

Homemakers Club Has Annual Picnic in Potluck Style

Members of the Harmony Homemakers Club and their families will meet for their annual Pot Luck Picnic meeting July 19 at the home of Mrs. Ed Aebersold, 109 S. Union.

The meeting will begin at 12:30 p.m.

All former members of the club and their families are invited to attend.

Gerald Hale Commended by Guards

GERALD HALE

Cadets appointed to the Commandant of Cadets' List are those who have excelled in the fields of military bearing and conduct.

Throughout the summer, the cadets will be receiving at-sea experience aboard the 295-foot sailing bark Eagle, and four other high endurance cutters.

They will also receive basic knowledge of Coast Guard aviation at an air station; small arms training at Quantico, Va., and search and rescue instructions at a Coast Guard district headquarters.

They will be visiting such places as Expo '67 and various ports in the Great Lakes and the Caribbean.

Each cadet will experience all parts of the summer training program.

TP Co. Workers Play

Tecumseh Products Company's annual Employee Picnic will be celebrated July 15 at the Merchants' Building, Lenawee County Fairgrounds.

All employees and retirees of the company are welcome.

Gates open at 8 a.m., and ample parking space is available.

Picnickers are requested to bring their own charcoal burners, tables and chairs. Inside tables are available at the building.

Games start promptly at 10 a.m.

Highlights of the day include a horseshoe contest, a Tug-of-War between Machine Shop and Assembly, a baseball game, Tecumseh vs. Marion, and rides on the American Legion's 40 & 8 train.

Prizes — 48 in all — will be awarded at a drawing at 12:45 p.m.

Dundee To Stage Outdoor Program

The Dundee Arts and Crafts presents its Fifth Annual Outdoor Art Show July 16 from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m., at Ford Park on the River Raisin in Dundee.

This year crafts will share the stage with paintings, drawings and prints in all media. Artists come from many points in Michigan and Ohio.

The MacGregor Bagpipe Band of Temperance will play and other entertainment will be offered.

There is no admission and a food concession will be on the grounds during the day.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. CHESTER PILBEAM

Services were held Wednesday in Pioneer, Ohio, for Mrs. Chester Pilbeam of that city, formerly of Tecumseh and Britton, who died July 9 in a nursing home there.

Born in North Ireland, she came to Tecumseh at the age of 8 years. She was the daughter of Robert and Sarah Jane Russell McCaughey.

She moved to Pioneer 43 years ago from Britton to live with her daughter and husband, Doris and Tom Gamboe.

Her daughter died in 1960.

Mrs. Pilbeam was a member of the Methodist Church, the WSCS and a church circle. She was a life member of the Rebekah Lodge.

She is survived by one son, two grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Edna Gamboe received word of the death.

The family has asked that any tribute in the form of contributions be made to the church building fund.

—o—

● MRS. F. C. HANNA

Services were held Wednesday the Dunn Funeral Home for Mrs. F. C. Hanna, 73, of 705 W. Pottawatamie St., who died at 8:30 a.m. Friday at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

She had been admitted a short time before and had been in failing health for the past five years.

She was born June 23, 1894, in Des Moines, Ia.

Graduated from Kansas State College in 1916, she taught school until her marriage to F. C. Hanna June 23, 1919. She had lived in Tecumseh since that time.

Mrs. Hanna was the president of the F. C. Hanna Insurance Co.

She was a life member of the American Legion Auxiliary, Tecumseh Garden Club and Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary.

Mrs. Hanna is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Earl Coulson of Santa Barbara, Calif., and Mrs. William Maloney of Springfield, Ill., and one brother, Gerald Germar of Los Angeles.

She was preceded in death by her husband in 1957.

The Rev. Julian Gresham officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

—o—

● JAMES DUSSEAU

Services were held in Deerfield Saturday for James M. Dusseau, 25, who was fatally injured in a traffic accident July 6.

Scheduled for induction into the army the same day as his death, he had been laid off at the Jim Davis Body Shop in Adrian pending his induction in service.

Mrs. Ivan Weasel, 3926 Kaiser Rd., and Mrs. Robert Miller, 4484 Allen Rd., sisters of the deceased, are among the survivors.

—o—

● STANLEY H. MORSE

Survivors include his wife, Sarah, two sons, Thomas of Claremont, Calif., and Robert of Adrian, and six grandchildren.

One sister, Mrs. R. K. Maxwell of Monroeville, Pa., and one brother, Robert F. Morse of Mira Loma, Calif., also survive.

The Rev. Henry J. Thorhauer officiated.

GLOCCA MORRA — Charles Fittler is shown in front of the Glocca Morra, a popular resort area restaurant, which specializes in smorgasbord and fish dinners. Fittler is filling in as cook for his wife, Nina, who is at home recovering from injuries suffered in a fall. Merl Nortley is a business partner. The Glocca Morra, which serves both vacationers and local people, is on US-12, directly across from Evans Lake.

Do you think that crime and the threat of a government grab for guns is something new?

Don't kid yourself! Despite the passing of almost 21 centuries, government still contains many short-sighted men. Proof is offered from "The History of the Han Dynasty, 124 B.C." which had this to say:

The Imperial Chancellor, King-sun Hung, petitioned the Emperor, saying: "The people should not be allowed to possess bows or crossbows. When 10 bandits bend their crossbows to the full, a 100 officials dare not advance . . . If the people are not permitted to possess bows or crossbows, then thieves and robbers will carry only short weapons, and when two groups carrying short weapons meet, the larger number will be victorious.

"In your subject's humble opinion, it will be advantageous to forbid the people to carry bows or crossbows."

★

WHEN THE Emperor sent down this suggestion to his council for discussion, an elder, Shouwang, replied saying:

"Your subject has heard that when the ancients made the five kinds of weapons, it was not for the purpose of killing each other, but to prevent tyranny and to punish evil.

When people lived in peace, these weapons were used to control the fierce animals and to be prepared against emergencies.

If there were military affairs, then these weapons were used to set up defense and to form battle arrays . . . .

★

"YOUR SUBJECT has heard that the Sage Rulers brought the people together and practiced shooting to demonstrate instruction, and he has never heard any prohibition on bows or arrows.

"Furthermore, the cause for prohibition is that the bandits use them to attack and rob.

The crime of attacking and robbing is subject to death; yet that they have not been stopped is because the great lawbreakers do not care, indeed, to avoid severe punishment.

"Should the suggested prohibition be enforced, your subject fears that wicked persons will still carry weapons and the officials will not be able to stop them from carrying them, and that the good people who keep their weapons for self-defense will encounter the prohibition of the law.

"This will make the power of robbers exclusive and take away the means of defense of the people . . ."

When the petition was presented, the Son of Heaven questioned the Imperial Chancellor, Hung, who promptly withdrew his suggestion.

New Computer

The Tecumseh office of Adrian Federal Savings and Loan Association is creating a greater personal service with an impersonal computer.

The confidential aspect of the individual's relationship with his financial institution is increasing to a high point of confidence for the customer and institution.

"Most people view their savings and investments as confidential and want them that way," John M. Surratt, manager of the Tecumseh office said.

Adrian Federal Savings and Loan is in the final stages of converting its accounting system concerning home loans to an "on-line" computer shared with six other savings and loan associations in Michigan.

The giant computer is based in Chicago. Information and accounting of mortgages and savings accounts are fed into the computer through General Telephone's telephonic system.

Though the primary advantages are efficiency of Adrian Federal's accounting and record procedures and a higher degree of speed and accuracy in doing business, the confidential aspect of Adrian Federal is the only Lenawee County institution which has its accounting system fully computerized in its Tecumseh and Adrian officers.

For more than a year, accounting information and records of savers of Adrian Federal have been "stored" in a giant NCR computer through the five keyboard machines in the Tecumseh and Adrian offices.

The savings accounts, primarily those held by Lenawee County residents, number more than 12,300.

Allan C. Graybiel, president of Adrian Federal, points out that the advantages to the individual and institution are many.

"Those who are financing their homes have more personal knowledge about their accounts . . . their balance, interest paid, escrow and other pertinent data," Mr. Graybiel said.

"The customer also can now transact his business in a matter of seconds."

"The confidential aspects of transactions are increased because all information is coded. Other than the teller who handles the transaction, information about the account is unknown to others and it would take considerable searching for anyone else to gain knowledge regarding the account.

When the conversion is completed, more than 4,000 Adrian Federal home loan accounts, primarily to Lenawee County people, will be on computer.

Helen V. Dyer, assistant treasurer at Adrian Federal, who is in charge of tellers, believes that the institution's newest accounting system is "the greatest stride taken by financial institutions in the development of efficiency and accurate data concerning savings accounts and home loans."

During her 18 years with the Association, Miss Dyer has participated in three major accounting system changes.

"This is the best ever," says Miss Dyer. "The system is fantastic in terms of efficiency, speed and accuracy. It's hard to imagine that it takes only 15 seconds to complete the financial transactions."

Mr. Graybiel and Mr. Surratt point out that the efficiencies gained through computerization increases staff abilities and "puts us in a position of further expansion at minimum costs."

"Any change results in problems," Mr. Surratt said. "Confidentially, they have been fewer than we expected in the beginning."

Ready To Stage Po-Ke-No Party

Cars driven by Edison Vogel, 19, of 3429 Kehoe Rd., Clinton, and Larry Palmer, 18, of 205 E. Cummins St., Tecumseh, collided Saturday on M-50 at Matthews Hwy.

Vogel, eastbound on M-50, was unable to avoid the collision when Palmer pulled out of Matthews Hwy., in front of him.

The accident occurred at 12:15 a.m., and Palmer, who failed to stop at the scene, was apprehended 12 hours later.

He was given a summons for failure to identify himself, failure to yield right of way and for having improper plates.

HERRICK PARK

Missy Barton won the prize for the best decorated girl's bike, while Jack VanRiper took top honors in the boys' division.

Herrick Parkers also had a good time decorating the swing set and slide with the crepe paper.

PATTERSON

SHADY LANE

At Shady Lane, Dewey Harrold had the best decorated boy's bicycle, while Sandy Gittings showed fine artistic talents in the girls' category.

TECUMSEH ACRES

Sandy Sprague topped all the girls and Chucky Elliot won out over the boys in the bicycle decoration contest.

D. J. Biscupski received a special prize for his tricycle.

Thursday, the Shady Lane kickball team traveled to Herrick Park for a seven-inning match. Herrick Park trailed, 8-0, at one point of the game, but came back to win, 10-9.

After the game, cookies and Kool-Aid were enjoyed by both sides.

July 10 a softball team from Herrick Park will challenge Shady Lane at Shady Lane.

MOMS' SOFTBALL

Only six women participated in Moms' Softball last Wednesday. Those who came and played work-up were Helen Aebersold, Gloria Barrett, Charlene Williams, Eris Murphy, Dee Colson and Jo Brueckner.

More women are definitely needed for the program. Interested women may join by calling Kathy Hall at 423-4603 or by attending sessions at the athletic field any Wednesday at 8 p.m.

GIRLS' JUNIOR LEAGUE
Standings

	W	L
Lake's Frogs	3	0
Gayle's Goofs	2	1
Female Sluggers	1	2
Nancy's Nicies	0	3

July 6, Lake's Frogs took sole possession of first place by defeating Gayle's Goofs, 10-4.

Linda Gerten led both teams in batting, hitting a homerun.

The Female Sluggers won third place after a five-inning game with Nancy's Nicies. Slugger pitchers Peggy Aebersold and Susan Baaske combined their efforts and totaled five strikeouts.

With a single and a double, Judy Gittings led the Sluggers, while Kris Koeplin led the Nicies with a triple and a single.

BOYS' PEE WEE BSAEBALL
Standings

	W	L
Dalton's Little Devils	4	1
Mensing's Mudhens	3	2
Mobley's Moles	2	3
Lewis' Lunkheads	1	4

Last week's action was shortened by the holiday.

Games played found the Mudhens spitting a pair of decisions as a result of beating the Moles, 14-7, and losing to the Devils, 6-3.

The Devils also beat the Lunkheads, 5-2, to take over sole possession of first place.

GIRLS PEE WEE SOFTBALL

Thursday the Indians defeated the Red Sox in the Girls Pee Wee League, 21-19.

Leading batters for the Indians were Jill Barton, Cindy Litteral, Karen Bunch and JoAnn Flanders, each of whom hit a homerun.

The Red Sox were led by Melissa Barton, who hit two homers.

Swim Club Sinks Adrian

By KATHY HALL

Tecumseh's newest sport is off to a flying start.

Under the direction of Larry Merx, the Tecumseh Swim Club winged its way to its first victory last Friday evening at the city pool.

The score was Tecumseh 253, Adrian 146.

Tecumseh captured 18 first place honors to Adrian's 10.

Other scoring was as follows:

Tecumseh also took 15 second place honors; 19 third place honors; 19 fourth place honors; and 8 fifth place honors.

Adrian gained 13 seconds; 9 thirds; 7 fourths; and 8 fifths.

Frank Bock topped all others in his class in freestyle and back stroke. Steve Cook was first in freestyle and fly and Tommy Fielder was another double winner, excelling in the breast and back strokes.

Other first place winners included:

Shawn Dalton — freestyle
Beth Leathers — breast
Doug Eggleston — breast
Bruce Costigan — breast
Jack Allen — breast
Pat Weigle — breast
Amy Montague — back
Dennis Puffer — back

Second and third place winners were:

HEY, THAT'S NICE — Mrs. Ben Hammack, 607 N. Union St., admires check shown her by Vale Venia, plant superintendent at H. W. Tuttle Co., which she earned with a suggestion to management. It concerned a new method of "fixturing", allowing more versatility in handling the many types of assemblies used at Tuttle, also cutting down on employee fatigue. The idea advanced by Penny, as she is known to fellow workers, allows quicker set-up when converting from one assembly job to another.

Youths Discover Russian

What would make a high school sophomore travel eight miles across town to attend a class at 7:30 in the morning, even though he didn't get credit for the course?

"Curiosity," says the 16-year-old boy, studying Chinese. "I want to know about a language almost a whole continent is speaking."

This observation was revealed in a survey just completed at the Chinese-Russian Study Center of the Toledo Public Schools — believed to be the only such center for high school pupils in the nation.

The Center, located in DeVilbiss High School, 3301 Upton Ave., serves some 25 public, parochial and private high schools in metropolitan Toledo, a city of almost 400,000.

Students, including a few from the University of Toledo, may take beginning or advanced Chinese language, beginning or advanced Russian, and Russian and Chinese history.

The history courses each run for one semester.

The Center, which began operation last October, gained impetus last year from a DeVilbiss teacher of English, Toledo-born John Campbell, who learned Chinese on Taiwan, while in the armed forces.

A federal grant of $53,000 provided funds for the Center so books, tapes and other language aids, could be purchased.

There is no fee to students.

Succeeding Mr. Campbell, who was killed in a plane accident March 5, as Acting Director is Marshall Lipman, former member of the University of Toledo history faculty and an authority on Russian history.

Enrollment of 114 pupils from 19 schools the first semester, dropped to 109 from 20 schools, second semester.

Next September, however, enrollment will reach 193 students from 20 schools.

Chinese is spoken by more people (700 million) than any other language in the world. More than 300 million speak Russian.

FOND FAREWELL — Donald Fleser shakes hands in parting with Frans vanWestrenen, Fisher Body Tecumseh plant manager. Mr. Fleser, general factory manager of all trim fabrication plants, was hosted by Tecumseh personnel with a retirement luncheon on June 29. Mr. Fleser worked particularly close to the Tecumseh operation from the outset and through his guidance, the plant grew and prospered, a spokesman said.

July 28's Winning Band Will Play at State Fair

So far, 10 groups have signed up to compete in Tecumseh's second annual Battle of the Bands.

Featured as part of the Chamber of Commerce's annual Sidewalk Day, Friday, July 28, the 1967 affair is going to offer some exciting rewards for the No. 1 band:

► Be automatically placed among the 36 finalists in the State Fair Band Battle, which is expected to have more than 200 entries vying for a first-place award of $75 and second-place $50 prize.

Arrangements were made with the State Fair through Cleighton F. Melin, director of the fair's department of entertainment and special events.

Each band entered in the Tecumseh contest is being assigned a special 30-minute playing time during the day for preliminary judging, according to Battle of Bands chairman Caryl Riordan.

In the evening, they'll return for the finals and perform 15 minutes apiece. Dancing in the street will be allowed from 6 to 10 p.m.

Among bands so far entered and times they'll be performing are:

► Inverted Order, 10 a.m.
► Rhythm & Blues, 11 a.m.
► Intersanctum, 12 noon
► The Radicals, 12:30 p.m.
► Adolescence, 1 p.m.
► This Kind, 1:30 p.m.
► Outbound Voyage, 2 p.m.
► The Contempts, 3 p.m.
► Left Sides, 3:30 p.m.
► Utility Pole, 4 p.m.
► Midnight Criers, 4:30 p.m.

There is still an opportunity for other bands to enter the fun. A second prize has been set at $30, $20 oing to the No. 3 group.

Judges will not be identified until announcement of winners. They'll be on hand all day.

As musical units prepare for the annual Sidewalk Day in Tecumseh, area merchants are setting up for a smashing summer sale — with prices slashed to the invoice, reminds John Day, manager of Woolworth's and July 28 chairman.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

A few years back, Dr. and Mrs. Nicolaas deWit and children were living in their native Netherlands.

He and his wife quickly fell in love with the area and purchased a magnificent brick farm house on Green Hwy., just north of the Stauffer plant.

The deWits are pretty well Americanized now, but there is one Old World tie they probably never will break — reading their hometown newspaper, De Telegraaf of Amsterdam.

Often it takes weeks in coming, but each issue is always welcome and thoroughly read.

One article in the June 9 edition jumped out at the deWits and they called me to see if The Herald might be interested in reprinting it. Well, when I heard the content, my reply was quick and affirmative.

It was an authentic radio-telephone conversation between President Nasser of Egypt and King Hoessein of Jordan, who between them conjured up bogus USA and British involvement with Israel against the Arabs in the recent Mid-east war.

We scooped the message and De Telegraaf printed it.

Mrs. deWit kindly translated the Nasser-Hoessein dialog from Dutch to English for us and here's the conversation:

—"Hello, is his majesty ready? Hier comes the president."

—"Hello amman, is his majesty on the line?"

—"Hello his excellency the president is ready."

—"How are you? I can understand his majesty very well, your brother wants to know if you're fighting along the whole front?"

—"Yes. Will we get the U. S. in it too? You have any information about that, already? Shall we say that the U. S. A. helps Israel?"

—"Hello, I can not understand you, the connection is very poor. The line between you and the palace of the king is very bad."

N.—"Shall we say the U. S. and England, or only the U. S.?"

H.—"The U. S. and England."

N.—"Does England have carriers?"

H.—"(answer was lost)

N.—"Okay, King Hoessein makes an announcement and I do, also. Thank you and don't give up. Yes, Hello? Good morning brother. Doesn't matter, be brave. Yes I can hear you."

H.—"Mr. President, if there is anything or you want to talk to me . . . anytime . , ,

N.—"We fight with all we have and we have fights along the borders the whole night through. It doesn't matter if we get in trouble, we'll overcome it. God is on our side, your majesty will announce considering the U. S. and England . . . . ?"

H.—(answer lost)

N.—"By God, I swear you, I will make an announcement and you will too. We will also take care that the Syrenes will announce that U. S. and British airplanes have been used against us from American carriers. We shall stress our announcement and make sure it is well understood."

N.—"Fine, that's a deal."

H.—"Your majesty does thus agree?"

(answer lost)

N.—"Thank you very much, persevere! We will stand by you at all times. We'll send our planes to Israel today, our pilots will attack their airports this morning."

H.—"Very well, thank you, my best wishes."

Cpl. Wallace Back to War

Marine Cpl. James Wallace has returned to DaNang, Vietnam, after 30 days here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Wallace of Carson Hwy. Cpl. Wallace volunteered for six more months over there where he has been since Sept. 2 of last year.

Medford Palmer Is Seriously Ill at Medical Center

Medford Palmer, 307 S. Maiden Lane, is in critical condition at the University Medical Center but was taken out of the intensive care unit Monday night.

Mr. Palmer was at work in construction at Siena Heights July 7 when he was taken ill and admitted to Bixby Hospital.

He was transferred from there to Herrick Memorial Hospital and then to the Ann Arbor hospital where he has been undergoing tests.

Mrs. Palmer spends much of her time with him.

Horse Causes Accident

Two autos were damaged and one man injured in an early morning episode with a horse on Occidental Hwy., July 18.

Charles Michal Glisson, 25, of Adrian dodged to miss the animal. His car hit a bump and he was thrown out about 5:35 a.m. The car stopped in a nearby field.

Minutes later Max Wilson Morden, 30, of Lee Villa Mobile Court struck the same horse, killing it.

Neither Mr. Morden or his passenger, Helen Morden, were injured according to Sheriff's officers. The car was extensively damaged.

Products Workers Boost Blood Bank

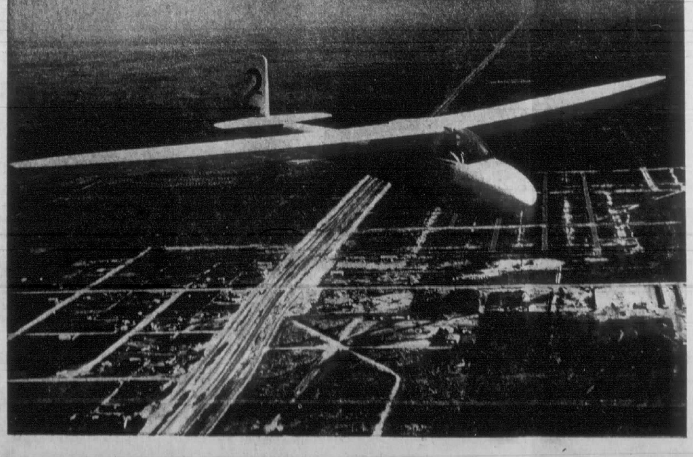
NATIONAL CHAMP — Jim Smith, Tecumseh architect now working on the multi-million dollar Burroughs complex, captured the 1967 National Soaring Contest in Marfa, Tex., last week. Mr. Smith ousted the 1966 champ, Richard Schreder of Bryan, O., who finished second. Mr. Smith held the title in 1962. Richard Johnson of Texas soared into third place and George Moffatt of New Jersey placed fourth. Adrian was scheduled to be the location of next year's annual national event, but lost out at the last moment to Elmira, N.Y., in a close 11-10 vote last week in Texas. The 1965 contest had been in Adrian. In photo below, Mr. Smith shows his soaring style.



Cambridge Voters OK Track, 521-162

Residents approved a zoning change, 521 to 163, in a special vote Tuesday, which will allow commercialization of 600 acres immediately north and east of US-12 and M-50.

"I'll be getting on the phone first thing in the morning and start buzzing around," said Detroit land developer Larry LoPatin following the vote Tuesday night.

Reaction of the township was "obviously fantastic," noted Mr. LoPatin and it "more than confirms the board of trustees' action. (To previously OK zoning change.) This was a marvelous type of win. It means the township really wants us."

Mr. LoPatin said all field work has been done at the super speedway site, including the contour maps and elevation levels. Now it's up to engineers, who will map out construction requirements.

There are two ways to go — competitive bids or negotiated prices — the latter being quicker, said Mr. LoPatin. Determinations are expected to be made on this score as quickly as possible.

When will the track open?

"We'll have a meet in 1968 or I'll die trying," said Mr. LoPatin.

Michigan International Speedways, the group formed by Mr. LoPatin to bring the track into being, is franchised by the United States Auto Club and already listed with four dates for major races next summer.

Bill Powell Real Estate of Tecumseh handled all options and sales agreements for the acquisition of the 600 acres, having begun work on the project in mid-March.

NEVER MISSES — Smiling Bill Beardsley has never missed an MSU alumni summer session in Tecumseh, and he'll be here again, Aug. 1. He's ticket manager at State and this is the lull before the autumn storm for him, when 150,000 fans seek to see every Spartan home game in a stadium seating 70,000. Bill somehow always keeps his good humor.

Turkey Has Keen Scenes

Editor's note — Back to Turkey will go Sarah Wright for her second year of teaching in Izmir. Sarah has been spending a few weeks with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Wright, 810 Outer Dr.

By DENICE ANDERSON

Sarah Wright has recently returned from Izmir, Turkey, where she spent the past year teaching children of American servicemen.

"Turkey is working on development," said Miss Wright, "and tourism is being encouraged. There are beautiful ruins all around Turkey.

"I've just returned from a trip through Eastern Turkey and the country is amazing. I was within 150 miles of the Russian border.

"Fewer tourists visit eastern Turkey because the natives are more clannish.

"But the ruins and historical settings are just as great as those in Greece or Italy," she said, "and they are preserving the culture by prohibiting artifacts being taken from the country."

"Driving is horrible as there are no street lights in the cities and you drive with your horn."

The popular modes of transportation include taxis and horse and carriages.

"They are just now building

Spartan Coaches Bring Golf Clubs

This year's Michigan State Alumni of Lenawee County summer outing will have a new twist.

Instead of steaks, guests will devour a side of prime Angus beef with their roasted corn and assorted trimmings on Tuesday, Aug. 1.

As always, the event is being held at Tecumseh Country Club with Charlie Butler as major domo.

All Lenawee MSU alumni and their friends are invited to attend. Guests can golf most of the day.

MSU athletic director Biggie Munn and football coach Duffy Daugherty will be attending along with a dozen of the university's top officials.

The ox and corn roast will start about 6:30 with Bill and Jack Brown in charge.

Following the meal there'll be an informal program featuring talks by MSU coaches and distribution of many prizes.

Charlie has a raft of chairmen with tickets in every committee. Those in the immediate area include:

Tecumseh — Bob Ries, 423-4365.

Tipton — Dr. Fred Freeman, 431-2060.

Reservations must be made Tuesday, July 25.

They will also conduct a special clinic at 5 p.m.

A visitation to MSU's Hidden Lake Gardens, just west of Tipton on M-50, will be a new feature of the annual alumni day.

As part of the evening program, there will be barber shop and group singing, with Gordon Comfort and John Howell doing the conducting.

★

AMONG OTHER Spartan brass expected to be on hand:

► Jack Breslin, secretary of the university.

"There probably will be others from state as well," states Charlie, adding, "They love to come to Tecumseh."

The Luther League of the North Blissfield Immanuel Lutheran Church is sponsoring an ice cream social July 27 at the church on Blissfield Hwy.

Homemade ice cream, pies and cakes will be served beginning at 7 p.m.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

The July 6 issue of The Herald with the "On to Tecumseh" pictorial supplement was a complete sell-out on the news-stands. This is the first sell-out since the 1965 Tornado supplement. Totaled, that makes 1,394 papers sold, just from the newsstands. Herald press run is now 5,300.

If you're looking for someone to call bingo numbers, get Ernie Robison of 307 S. Evans St. There was no mistaking the number as Mr. Robinson called this week's Newspaper Bing numbers out, loud and clear.

The Jayeee Auxiliary is sponsoring a Servicemen's Bulletin Board which will be displayed at the main office of the United Savings Bank. It will pin-point the location of local servicemen and list their addresses. Call Mrs. Gordon Gutowski at 423-7365 or Charles Robinson at 423-2246 with names and addresses of our servicemen.

Mrs. Glen Driscoll, 601 N. Evans St., gave The Herald several copies of old-time newspapers, dating back as far as 1889 and 1906. The pages were full of "foul things," typical of the news writing style in those days.

"He never bites," the lady explained as she strained to keep the struggling dog from leaping on the innocent newspaper carrier. The dog snarled. The one hazard The Herald runners, delivering 1,000 free copies of the paper to re-sorters in the Irish Hills, face is THE DOG. Never seriously bitten, the runners have been nipped and scared. So if someone doesn't find a copy of the Herald on his steps Thursday morning, nine chances out of ten, it's because a snarling, barking dog has kept the runner from delivering it.

Don't miss Riley's Reuben sandwich this week. He does something really different with corned beef, sauerkraut and Swiss cheese. We're going to try one Friday at the Chicken Basket.

Mary Van Doren of Bauer Manor said Friday that the air conditioning was installed and ready to send cooling air through the old Stagecoach Inn July 13. Only problem — weather next day was such that Mary thought it more suitable to start a fire in the fireplace.

Latest addition at Bauer Manor is an oil painting by Calvin Brussell of St. Joseph's Catholic Shrine, done at a recent Paint-Out in the Irish Hills.

Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Schmidt and son, Gary, of Dinius Rd., and the Wayne Curtises of Tipton, had a hand in the naming of a lake in Canada. The group flew about 45 miles north from Wawa in Ontario and then their guide left them with the moose and the beavers as he got to leave the axe — thus the name now is No Axe Lake.

Would the kind Britton man who loaned Mayor George Shinn of River City, Iowa, a white linen suit for the Tecumseh Players' version of "The Music Man" please step forward? His garment has hung in a Herald clothes press for lo these past three years. If he wishes to abandon same, Mayor Shinn will gladly keep it and wear the suit on his vacation.

Mothers and older brothers and sisters waiting for the youngsters in the pool Friday morning looked more like they were expecting the first snowfall. They sat shivering in winter overcoats in the bleachers.

If you happen to have an extra double bed or studio couch setting around taking up space, the Tecumseh Service Club has need for such an item as well as some bedding for a needy family. Mrs. Carl Thompson, 423-2831, will be glad to provide additional information or if she is not at home, she suggests calling 423-3087.

July 21, 1890 was a happy day for the parents of one of Tecumseh's residents. They would have been even more elated, had they known what heights their little red faced boy would attain in his lifetime. Happy Birthday, R. W. Herrick, 807 Red Mill Drive. We hope your friends send many jolly greetings to you on your day.

What a smudge that would make! We were informed Sunday that the new Edison plant at Monroe will use 14,000 tons of coal a day in furnaces 20 stories high. Guards at the gate said, however, that new smoke arrestors or smog control filters will be installed on each stack.

"Can I go in the pool?" Leisa Hibbard asked her mother, Mrs. James Hibbard while the family was visiting friends recently. When told it would be OK, the six-year-old added, "Come watch me, because I drown quite a few times when I swim."

While sirens wailed, speakers blared, lights flashed, flames crackled and hundreds of people stood in the front yard of the William Bruce residence as it burned last week, Mr. and Mrs. Don Nettleman slept soundly across the street. It's even more unusual because Don is always one of the first to any other fire.

At least one tiny Tecumseh Cub Leaguer knows just how important his daddy is at The Tecumseh Products Co. When asked at the ball game last Tuesday evening where his father was, he replied, 'They called my Daddy to come back to work tonight because if the plant blew up, they wanted him to be there." Paul Hover of Macon overheard the remark after the bomb threat at the plant at 4:30 p.m.

Miss Wright is a Tecumseh High School graduate who received her higher education at Colorado Women's College and Siena Heights College where she majored in English.

She will be returning to Izmir Aug. 2, but will first tour Yugoslavia for several weeks.

Miss Wright will return to the same post to instruct in cooperation with the Department of Defense, Air Force Division.

"Youths, 18 and over, are eligible for the draft and they are taught reading, writing and conservation methods. The country is 80 per cent agriculture," Miss Wright said.

"Once the youths receive an education, they are expected to return to the country and teach their people. The Turkish draft is for four years and a private's pay is the equivalent to $1 per month, American money."

"Farming is cooperative," said Miss Wright, "and the women cultivate big tracts of wheat fields. Most also have small individual plots."

The men work with wood-carving, pottery and bricks.

"Western dress is found in the towns," said Miss Wright, "but not to the extent that mini-skirts are in fashion."

"The women always dress as women and in the rural towns, they still cover their faces."

"There are good police and fire departments in Izmir, but the police are used mostly for traffic direction."

"As far as inconveniences are concerned, there were relatively few."

"There's no central heating as temperatures drop to 35 degrees during the winter. But it never snows, it just rains."

"The cobblestone streets ruined my shoes."

Soccer is the national sport and other amusements that interest the natives include swimming and camping.

"Lamb is one of the country's main dishes, along with fish, egg plant and yogurt. We drink wine in Turkey," said Miss Wright, "because we were advised by our government not to drink the milk.

"It is an extremely friendly country."

Miss Wright's plans as to her future after she completes her year in Turkey are still uncertain.

Congressman Plays Cupid

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Pvt. and Mrs. Don Becker will long be boosters of Congressman Marvin Esch.

He was instrumental in getting a promised furlough for young Becker so he and Jeanne Alison Asmus of Grosse Pointe could be married as planned.

When Don graduated from Western Michigan University in April, he and his fiancee planned to marry this summer.

He enlisted in army intelligence in Kalamazoo right after commencement, assured by the army recruiter there that he would receive a leave July 7 or 8 after basic training, fitting neatly into Don and Jeanne's July 15 nuptial schedule.

Informed by the company commander that he was to be at Fort Holabird, Md., July 16, the disturbed bridegroom-to-be consulted with the chaplain and the inspector general, only to receive the same answer, "No."

The bride was frantic. Invitations had been sent, gowns purchased, commitments made for a hall and orchestra, besides the busy Grosse Pointe Church where several weddings are held each summer weekend.

It was after the groom had given up hope of being home for his own wedding that his mother, Mrs. John Becker, of Tipton, got to work.

She called the Red Cross, the Veterans Administration and finally Congressman Esch, who in turn contacted the Pentagon.

On July 12, the exhausted army private, tired from two days' bivouac, was called to his commanding officer's office and informed that he had been given a two-week leave.

"The CO concluded his remarks, "Either you are a very important person or you know some important people. You are very lucky."

Now Her Name Is Mrs. Donald Becker

Jeanne Alison Asmus and Pvt. Don Wayne Becker were united in marriage Saturday at the Grosse Pointe Methodist Church by the Rev. Gilbert Smith.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Asmus of Grosse Pointe Farms and Mr. and Mrs. John Becker of Tipton.

She carrid white Shasta daisies and stephanotis.

Mrs. Thomas Bruna of Peoria, Ill., was her sister's matron of honor in a floor-length gown of yellow chiffon in empire style accented with Shasta daisies.

She wore elbow-length gloves, had daisies in her hair and carried more of the same blossoms

Kay Becker, sister of the groom, and Ellen Pruss of Midland, a roommate of the bride, were the bridesmaids attired as the matron of honor.

Robert Baker of New Baltimore served as best man and the guests were seated by John Asmus, brother of the bride of Colorado Springs, Colo., and Richard Lamb, fraternity brother and roommate of the groom.

The young couple were both graduated from Western Michigan University at Kalamazoo this year, the groom in April and the bride in June.

Her degree is in education and his in business administration. He is affiliated with Phi Sigma Epsilon.

He recently completed basic army training at Fort Knox, Ky., and is on an en route leave to Ft. Holabird, Md., where he will receive five months training in army intelligence.

Parents of the groom were hosts for the rehearsal dinner in Stauffers Restaurant, Detroit.

Mr. and Mrs. George Rinehart and their daughter, Donna, and Carol Davenport, recently toured beautiful Rock City Gardens atop Lookout Mountain, near Chattanooga, Tenn. Rock City is one of the outstanding scenic attractions in the South. Mr. Rinehart is employed by Tecumseh Products Co.

Expanding Parcel Post

Postmaster Jack G. Metcalf today announced that parcel post deliveries in Tecumseh will be expanded from five to six days a week as of July 24.

This is in line with a recent directive from Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien following the signing of the Post Office Department appropriation bill by President Johnson.

The legislation contains an $8.5 million item for restoration of the six-day a week delivery which had been cut back in May 1964 as an economy measure.

Nearly 5,000 cities are affected, Postmaster Metcalf said.

The Tecumseh postal official noted that the improved service will remove an inequity for many business and residential routes.

Postal customers served by "motorized" letter carriers have been receiving six-day deliveries all along.

They were not covered by the 1964 cut back inasmuch as carriers on vehicles can deliver parcels of any size.

Customers living on routes serviced by foot carriers have received larger parcels from a five-day week parcel post route covered by truck.

Carriers on foot only deliver small packages.

BRITTON

Recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Lorenz of Buena Park, Calif., were his brother, David Lorenz of Britton and Uncle Herman Devermann of Palatine, Ill. Their visit included a trip to Disneyland and Knotts Berry Farm.

Mrs. Rose Simons of North Baltimore, O., Mr. and Mrs. Norman Peterson of Perrysburg, O., and Mr. and Mrs. James Underwood of Sylvania were Sunday guests of Mrs. Grace Underwood.

Clifford Underwood returned home Saturday after spending four weeks in Saline Community Hospital for a heart condition. He is feeling fairly well.

Mrs. Dwight Kanous and daughters of Clayton spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Clifford Underwood.

Mrs. Florence Ferris of Tecumseh was a weekend guest of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Graf.

FREE A Complete Wedding

Girls Win

The Adrian Eagles' girls softball team in the Michigan-Ohio Fastball League defeated the Detroit team, 2-1, Thursday at Detroit.

But over the weekend, the Eagles lost four.

Lansing won, 2-0, Saturday evening and also took the night-cap, 7-0.

Eloise Dierker of Maumee, O., with two singles for the Eagles, and Theresa Wells of Tecumseh were the leading Eagle hitters.

Yvonne Freeman of Vandercook Lake and Theresa Wells had the only two hits in the night-cap.

The Eagles lost two to Wooster Sunday, 3-0 and 2-0.

Theresa Wells was the only runner to reach base on a double in the fifth. Tecumseh's Marian Rozelle allowed three hits in losing.

Two hits were all Adrian collected in the second game.

Behind Page One

Over 40 Senior Citizens will be leaving Friday on a chartered bus for Detroit where they will board a ship for a trip to Bob-Lo island. They will spend the day at the popular amusement park.

The Rescue Squad and the Irish Hills Fire Department came in full force to the Pre-Historic Forest Monday evening about 9:15 only to find that the "smoke" came from a spray fogging machine Charles Vance, manager, was using for mosquito control. A motorist alerted the firemen who took immediate action. Their trip was not all for naught. Mr. Vance invited all of them plus the Sheriff's Department to a free tour of the pre-historic animal land, due to their fine service.

Did anyone else see the frog migration on M-50 just east of Springville Monday? Bob Hunt, en route to Brooklyn, said that literally thousands of young bull frogs were crossing the road, creating a traffic hazard. When he returned an hour later, the road was still filled with frogs and slippery from the squashed bodies killed by cars.

Youths To Learn Basic Essentials of Demonstrating

4-H youths interested in learning procedures of good demonstrations are invited to attend the July 27 Demonstration-Action Workshop to be held from 2-4 p.m., at the project building of the Lenawee County Fairgrounds.

Experts will be on hand to show the essentials of demonstrating projects.

'Weekend Show' to Feature Hills

Several attractions including the Prehistoric Forest, Mystery Hill, Bauer Manor and the Irish Hills Towers will be featured on the Weekend Show with Ron Gamble commentating Tuesday, July 25, on Television Channel 4 at 7 p.m.

To Build New Park

The federal government has awarded the City of Tecumseh a grant for $1,402 to acquire land for the development of a conservation park.

Don Moffatt, superintendent of Parks and recreation, announced that the grant, which will be matched by the city, will go towards the purchase of 80 acres of land on the northwest corner of the Taylor Rd., Carson Hwy., intersection.

The Department of Interior, Bureau of Outdoor Recreation, awarded the grant.

Planned recreational activities for the former Conservation League property will include a trap and skeet range, camping sites, hunting, archery and hiking.

What is now Tecumseh Park was also acquired by a grant of $17,300, again half the purchase price, said Mr. Moffatt.

Santa Goes To Vietnam

"Christmas in July" is the name of the community project of the North Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club currently in progress.

Fifteen five-pound boxes of goodies were packed for local servicemen in Vietnam at a special meeting of the club members at the home of Judy and Patti Wilson.

Sealed cans of meat, nuts, crackers, shoe string potatoes, candy, instant soup, sweetened beverages, orange juice, with easy open tops and gum home-made cookies and popcorn used for packing, were donated by members and their parents.

The packages were sent the latter part of June.

A bake sale netting $40.26 was held earlier to raise money for postage for the project.

After the boxes were packed and tied, the members went swimming.

They hope to receive some answers from the men to whom they have sent the boxes:

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Women's Editor

Sp/4 Keith Kruse arrived safely at his home July 11 in Milan after a harrowing one-week trip from Cameron Bay, Vietnam. He had served 14 months. To his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Kruse, Keith's first words were, "it's good to be back in the world."

Kruse and a buddy from Lansing were discharged. They had to turn in their weapons before they got out of the danger area.

The building they were housed in, before getting the plane out, was under mortar attack constantly and eight in the same place "did not make it." Keith told his folks.

By staying beneath mattresses and sand bags, they managed to keep from being hit.

From Oakland, Calif., they seemed to be safe until the plane could not land, due to fog, at Chicago and took them on to Pittsburgh Pa., where the weather was also "socked in."

Back again to Chicago and this time an instrument landing! Keith thought for sure they would crack up.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Dusseau and family of Deerfield were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence E. Cote, Sr., Saturday for dinner. Mrs. Dusseau's son, Sp/4 Harold J. Warner, called to speak with his parents and fiancee, Christine Cote. Mr. Warner is stationed in Bamberg, Germany, and will return home on leave in December. He enlisted in the army in January, 1966.

√

Mike Fero returned to Tecumseh June 30 after two years in South America with the Peace Corps and four and one-half weeks in Europe en route back to the states. He spent some time with his brother, Pat, and Mary Jo and the babies in Maryland before coming on to stay at his grandmother's home for a time.

Mike is being drafted into Uncle Sammy's army soon and hopes to be here long enough to greet his folks, the Bernard Feros and Kelly, who will be home from Cordoba, Argentina, some time the latter part of the summer.

Mike brought his brother, Tim, who was also visiting their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Newman, in Owosso, to Tecumseh today to see the Hoxy Kings and other friends and relatives here. Tim was to fly back to Minot, N. D., Monday where he is stationed with the Air Force.

√

The Robert D. Moore family celebrated birthday anniversaries of both father and son July 11 at Bauer Manor. Robert and his sisters, Carol and Beth, and little brother, Steve, all were present for the dinner and "Happy Birthday" cake.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Rathke have purchased a home at 34 Ridgemont Dr., Adrian, and moved there from Shady Lane over the weekend.

√

Mr. and Mrs Henry King entertained his sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. James Haworth, and daughter, Kathy, of Orange, Calif., from Saturday until Tuesday. The houseguests had been visiting their parents in Pennsylvania and Ohio last week. Sunday the entire group attended a picnic dinner at the Daniel Smith residence in Blissfield.

√

Laura Kay Joseph, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ben Joseph, was baptized Sunday morning during the worship service at the Tecumseh Methodist Church. The Rev. Donald Porteous performed the ceremony.

√

"Thumper and Bumper," the expected baby or babies of Mr. and Mrs. George Ruhl, are or is safe now but things were pretty uncertain Tuesday night when Mama entered Herrick Memorial Hospital Thursday morning, Mrs. Ruhl underwent emergency surgery for gall bladder removal. Her husband said that he expects her to be released the latter part of the week.

√

Mrs. Ellsworth Robison has been spending two weeks in Santa Ana, Calif., with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Larry Robison and son, Brett. Adj/3 Eric F. Robison stationed at Miramar Naval Air Station, returned home with his mother to spend two weeks' leave. They arrived Saturday morning via jet.

√

Mr. and Mrs. James Rohrer and five children returned Saturday evening after a 31-day vacation in California.

√

Any boy or girl between 9 and 19 years of age can participate in 4-H.

√

Jim Fielder was released Wednesday from the hospital and will spend the remainder of the week at Evans Lake with his four daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Eggleston and family.

Ann Harvey Marries Gary Jackson

Ann Louise Harvey and Gary E. Jackson were married July 15 in the First Baptist Church by the Rev. B. O. Bashore before 32 members of the immediate families.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Darwin K. Harvey Sr., 9400 Stone Hwy. and Mr. and Mrs. Lewis C. Jackson of Manitou Beach.

★

Her floor-length train of lace edged with crepe was secured to the shoulders and her shoulder-length veil of silk illusion was attached to a lace crown edged with pearls.

Mrs. Bob Renka was matron of honor in a floor-length yellow sheath with matching tiara and brief veil.

Mrs. James Brown assisted at the reception held in the church Youth House.

★

The groom is a graduate of Addison High School and is employed at Gray.

Following a week's trip to Montreal, they will live at 309 W. Shawnee St.

MRS. GARY JACKSON

Mary A. Stutesman, daughter of Mrs. Walter Stutesman, 113 S. Maumee, has been named a junior research biologist in the Department of Experimental Therapeutics, Ann Arbor. In this position she reports to Dr. C. V. Winder, laboratory director in Pharmacodynamics. Miss Stutesman is a 1967 graduate of Eastern Michigan University with a Bachelor of Science degree.

Eagles Win

EAGLES 11, INDIANS 0

Eagles scalped the Indians, 11-0, as Marv Maynard pitched 12 strikeouts in five innings to lead his team to victory.

Sam Whitney was his catcher.

In the second, five runs were scored.

Sox Tops

RED SOX 11, TWINS 6

Dave Spillman was his catcher.

Keith Fredrick fanned 10 for the Twins. Larry Miller was behind the plate.

Roger Williams' Attend Wedding in New York City

Mr. and Mrs. Roger Williams, Mrs. Bernice Williams and Mrs. Warren Finkbeiner flew to New York City last weekend to attend the wedding of Richard Williams and Joyce Kalmar July 15.

Roger Williams was best man for his brother.

The groom has been stationed in Maryland and is being transferred to Great Lakes Naval Base Aug. 1 where they will reside.

Immediately after the reception the group received a phone call informing them that a baby boy, Douglas Carl, 11 lbs. 3 oz., was born Saturday to Mr. and Mrs. Dale Dennison of Milan in St. Joseph Hospital.

Mrs. Dennison is the former Mary Ellen Williams, Roger's sister. They also have a little girl, Joanne, 3.

Mrs. Peggy Martin and Randy stayed with the Williams children while their parents were away.

Tirb - Withrow Family Reunion Meet at Cottage

The second meeting of the Tirb-Withrow reunion was held July 16 at the cottage of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Withrow Sr., at Gray Goose Lake, Jerome.

There were 45 people present from Clinton, Tecumseh, Tipton, Adrian, Hudson, Devils Lake and Bainsbridge, Md.

Boating and swimming was enjoyed by all.

Airman A. Kaizer To Spend Month Visiting with Folks

Airman 2/C Andrew Kaizer is spending a months leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Kaizer of 515 N. Evans St.

He will be stationed at Port Clinton, O., for special rifle training after which he will return to Charleston Air Force Base, Charleston, S. Carolina.

Centennial Caravan Is Coming

Tecumseh is to be invaded — by men in beards and ladies in long skirts.

All will be part of the Manchester caravan to Tecumseh Saturday as we prepare to help our neighboring village celebrate its centennial.

Manchester participants will gather at the athletic field at 7:30 p.m. for the trip to Tecumseh, where they will be greeted at Allen Road by the firetruck, which will escort them into Tecumseh.

Over 125 cars are expected in the caravan.

The mayors of the two cities will exchange greetings and Vicki Roberts, Manchester Centennial Queen, will be on hand to view the events.

The waterball fight between the two fire departments will begin at approximately 8:30 p.m. Immediately after that contest, groups will gather for the tug-of-war through water spray.

A dance in back of the fire station will end the evening with Manchester furnishing music.

ACCIDENTS

Only three mishaps were investigated by the Tecumseh police during the past week, but two involved three vehicles.

None was injured in the accidents.

A resume is:

July 17 — Geraldine Hall, 38, Britton, was cited for failure to yield the right of way after a mishap at E. Chicago Blvd. and Wyandott St. She attempted a left turn off E. Chicago, and in the process, struck Robert Van Fleet, 18, of 7306 E. Monroe Rd., and Hazel Koppler, 45, Manchester.

July 18 — James E. Snowen, 42, Toledo, and Maida Thompson, 46, Palmyra, collided in an intersection at the Tecumseh Products parking lot.

July 18 — Elmer T. Pocklington, 86, of 5963 Ridge Rd., was charged with failure to have his car under control after striking two parked cars on S. Ottawa St. He first ran into Dr. Ralph Helzerman's automobile, and then backed into Marian C. Mason of Britton.

2 Teens At-Large in Police Search for Staup Burglars

Two teenage boys are suspects of a burglary charge which occurred here Tuesday morning at the Pamela Staup house, 607 Adrian St.

Entry was gained by breaking a glass panel in a rear door. A money box, containing an undetermined amount of cash, was taken.

The two boys are believed to have escaped in a car stolen in Detroit. The car and the money box were found abandoned Tuesday morning on Sutton Rd.

'Catch Me' Comes To Clark Lake

"Catch Me If You Can," a nutty whodunit that won a special citation from The Mystery Writers of America Assn., for the originality of its plot-twists, will open at the Clark Playhouse July 27.

A man calls the police to locate his bride of two weeks, who has disappeared from the mountain cabin where they have been spending their honeymoon.

A pretty young woman turns up and claims to be the missing newlywed — but the worried young groom says she's no such thing.

A priest supports the young woman's claim and, before a jury detective of the mountain region unscrambles the mystery, a series of startlingly unexpected events occur that lend to exciting pistol-shots, mayhem and murder.

G. L. Blanchard is directing "Catch Me If You Can" with a cast that will include John Raymond of Tecumseh as Daniel Corbin and Elizabeth Farrell as Elizabeth.

The play will be seen July 27, 28 and 29, August 3,4 and 5.

Reservations may be obtained by calling 529-9141 or 529-9512.

Tickets sell for $2.25 and curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Road Construction Has Local Firm To Do Contracting

The $229,966 project will improve conditions of paving on US-223 from Onsted Rd. to Wolf Creek Rd., near Adrian, and on US-12 from M-50 to M-124 near Cambridge Junction.

Lloyd H. Leonard of Adrian is project engineer of the work which is expected to be completed in October.

George Moricz will enter the University of Michigan School of Dentistry in September as one of the 95 students accepted into the Class of 1971. A 1964 graduate of Tecumseh High School, he is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Bert Moricz, 410 E. Logan. Seven additional students will be chosen shortly, bringing this entering class to an all-time high of 102. The major increase in enrollment is due to the scheduled completion, in two years, of the University's new $17 million dental building with its expanded clinical facilities, classrooms and research areas.

Stagecoach Tips

Ken Palmer, driver of the stagecoach at Frontier City, used strength he didn't know he had last Wednesday when he lifted the 2,300-pound stagecoach that had tipped over, pinning two passengers beneath.

A driver at the City for the past three or four years, Mr. Palmer raised the wagon to allow Mrs. Marilyn Balan and her daughter, Sherry, of Oak Park to crawl out.

They had been riding on the seat with the driver. He was uninjured except for some bruises.

Mrs. Balan and her daughter were taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital for emergency treatment and transferred to St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Others of the 17 passengers were shaken. Eight were taken to the hospital for treatment.

Ivan Hunt, owner of the tourist attraction, said that more would have been seriously hurt if it had not been for the guard rail on the top of the coach.

"Ideas are only ideas and you never know how they will work until tried. In this instance, the rail was a good idea and we are happy we have not had the chance to try it before."

Republican Congressmen Urge De-Escalation in Vietnam

Congressman Marvin L. Esch was joined by eight other Congressmen in a statement proposing new diplomatic efforts to bring peace in Vietnam.

WASHINGTON — Republican Congressmen today proposed a unilateral diplomatic initiative by the United States for the staged de-escalation of the Vietnam War.

Taking exception with Administration policy and with both sets of its critics ("those who would bomb more and those who would bomb less"), the Republicans said the United States should halt all bombing in North Vietnam north of the 21st parallel for 60 days.

This area would include the city of Hanoi but not the city of Haiphong.

If the North Vietnamese respond with a similar de-escalatory step within the 60 days, the U. S. would then end all bombing north of the 20th parallel for a 60-day period — and so forth.

Assuming that both sides would respond in turn in this de-escalatory process, both the U. S. bombing of the North and North Vietnamese infiltration into the South could come to an end.

Congressman F. Bradford Morse explained the proposal as spokesman for the group: "By halting the bombing in stages, by starting the cessation in northern North Vietnam and gradually working southward, and by tying each successive stage to equivalent North Vietnamese reductions in its support operations to the South, the plan minimizes the military risks to the United States."

"The plan calls for a series of small steps", said Morse, "each of which builds confidence in the genuine sincerity of each of the combatants. If it is successful, a spirit of confidence might emerge.

That spirit of confidence could provide a real opportunity for fruitful and honorable negotiations or for a similar staged de-escalation in South Vietnam itself — or both."

The Republicans said that both the Administration and its major critics have lost sight of the imperatives of successful diplomacy in a limited war, which they listed as follows:

- It must not risk expansion of the limited war to total war.
- It must not risk significant erosion of the current military advantage of the United States in Vietnam.
- It must induce a growing atmosphere of mutual confidence.
- It must permit each side the opportunity to claim initiative.
- It must not require either side to "lose face".
- It must be susceptible to presentation, verification and implementation through the private channels of diplomacy.

The Congressmen warned that a policy of "rapid or steady escalation in the power applied against North Vietnam" might change the conflict from a limited war to a total war.

At the same time they argued against a complete cessation to the bombing because "a cessation long enough to prove the genuine sincerity of the United States would involve a great military risk to the United States.

The statement described Administrative diplomacy as "unyielding and inflexible — rigidly insisting that the first concrete step toward de-escalation be taken by North Vietnam.

It is a position which comes dangerously close to changing the atmosphere of restraint to an atmosphere of power — and a limited war cannot stay limited or be ended in an atmosphere of power."

★

ESCH STATEMENT

Last month we passed the largest military appropriation in the history of this country.

It brought home to me the enormous cost of our military operations in Vietnam.

Even more significant was the figure published recently showing over 3,000 American casualties in one week. Should this rate continue, and I have not seen any evidence that it will not, American casualties in the next 12 months may approach 160,000

Additionally, hundreds of thousands of Vietnamese civilians and soldiers will become casualties of the war.

Surely this is a time for Congress, as an independent branch of our government, elected by the people, to exert increasing leadership in the conduct of our foreign policy.

The Vandenburg bipartisan concept developed in the post World War II era has been utilized by the Administration to justify unilateral action without adequate involvement, reporting and consent of Congress.

The late Senator from Michigan did not conceive of such a process; rather, in his time the Vandenburg policy meant full consultation, informal though it may have been, with the Members of Congress on the administration of our foreign policy.

It is in this framework that I and eight other Members of Congress prepared the statement — not as a panacea but rather as what we consider to be a practical alternative in the efforts to move toward peace.

We do not argue that this is the only possible alternative, but that it is deserving of full consideration and discussion, and that its implementation might open new doors to peaceful settlement of the Vietnam conflict.

Sunday Sermon

"Thou are the God of my strength: . . . O send out thy light and thy truth: let them lead me; let them bring me unto thy holy hill, and to thy tabernacles."

These verses from Psalms are the Golden Text of the Bible lesson on "Truth" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

Farm Service Center Opens

Lenawee County's new Standard Farm Service Center will stage a formal "grand opening" at its new facility at 1325 W. Beecher Rd., Adrian, July 21-22.

Matt O'Meara, center manager, said the center actually has been in operation for several weeks "but we wanted to be sure we had all the bugs out of the operation and the place was shipshape before our formal opening."

"We hope all our friends in Adrian, as well as our farm friends throughout Lenawee County, will drop in and see us during those two days," O'Meara added.

Prizes to be awarded to visitors at the grand opening will include two tons of dry blend fertilizer, a $50 gift certificate, a boy's or girl's new bicycle, LDO premium motor oil, and several burner service specials.

Facilities include a modern office building; a dry fertilizer blending and loading plant; storage and loading facilities for LPG (liquified petroleum gas) and anhydrous ammonia; nurse tanks and fertilizer applicators.

Among services offered at the center will be those of a graduate agronomist, Bob Rollins, who is available to take soil samples on customers' farms, interpret the results, and advise on the proper use of fertilizers and agricultural chemicals for maximum results.

Rollins is a native of Tennessee, a graduate of the University of Tennessee and served two years as a soil scientist for the Soil Conservation Service in Kalamazoo and Lansing before coming to Adrian.

The office building houses a meeting room, complete with audio-visual equipment, for use without charge by 4-H, FFA and adult farm and community service groups.

The center also will be the control point for a two-way radio network that will link it with 11 Standard Oil bulk plants in the area for instant communication and efficient delivery of petroleum products and farm fertilizers and chemicals.

Oil and LPG heating equipment and burner service also is available from the Farm Center.

The center employs a staff of seven, including the manager, agronomist, the fertilizer plant manager and his assistant, an LPG truck driver, a burner service man and a secretary.

A number of executives from Standard Oil Division of American Oil Company, offices in Detroit and Chicago, are expected to be in Adrian during the grand opening, O'Meara said.

Band Boosters Set Final Date

The date of Sept. 3 was set for the annual chicken barbecue to be put on by the Band Boosters in the village park.

The band camp week was discussed and members who have planned to go will receive letters soon with information about what they will need to take. They will leave for the camp in northern Michigan Aug. 20, returning home Aug. 27.

Mrs. H. Schrader Is Honored Guest at Baby Shower

The guests were the 10 members of the Altar Guild of St. John's Episcopal Church.

A variety of gifts for the baby-to-be were presented to the honored guest.

Church Missions Shown by Slides To Baptist Women

CLINTON — "Churches United in the Association Missions" was the subject of colored slides shown at the Clinton Baptist Church Tuesday evening.

The occasion was the Southeast Association Meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of the Baptist Churches.

Others taking part in the evening program were the Rev. Hugh Dalton of Monroe, and Mrs. Elmar House of Tecumseh.

Attending the meeting were women from Monroe, Tecumseh, French Town, Ypsilanti, Dundee and Clinton.

Board of Education and CHS Faculty Discuss Problems

CLINTON — The Board of Education held a prolonged discussion with several members of the faculty at the regular board meeting recently.

Problems concerning the budget, curriculum and contracts were considered, and will have to be solved before school convenes in September.

Mrs. O. Tomlinson To Live with Son in Columbus, Ohio

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Amos Wilson entertained at a farewell party for her sister, Mrs. Olive Tomlinson, Friday night.

Mrs. Tomlinson will go to Columbus, O., to make her home with her son, Allen Tomlinson.

Guests at the dinner party included Mr. and Mrs. Richard Sell and family of Hillsdale, Mr. and Mrs. Arnold Wilson and family, and Mrs. Jennie Slater of Tecumseh, with whom Mrs. Tomlinson has been making her home for the past two years.

Council Approves Installations

CLINTON — The Village Council approved the extension of water and sewer installations for two more lots in Pleasant Valley Estates No. 2, as requested by Donald Thomas, representing River Raisin Development Corporation.

Mr. Thomas also stated they wished to close the Mill Race as soon as possible.

They want to work out with the Village Council the matter of cooling water for the engines at the Electric Plant and the carrying away of the residue from the sewage disposal plant.

Also discussed were connection fees for sewer and water as they might concern the Mobile Home Park.

The Council will study these matters further.

Four picnic tables and benches are to be purchased for placement in Waterworks Park.

Bids will be asked for a new dump truck chassis and box.

BAKERY DELIGHTS
FRESH DAILY

By BILL WHITING

Calorie-counters beware.

Just down the road from the dinosaurs and cowboys of the Irish Hills stands a roadside business ready with some delectable items to which you just can't say no.

Rene T. Crombez, owner of Rene's Donuts, US-12, in front of Stagecoach Stop, promises his customers some tantalizing delicacies to whet their appetites.

"We make 21 varieties every day, plus specials from time to time," says Rene, who has had six years' experience in both doughnut shops and full-time bakeries.

Currently working through their third summer at Wampler's Lake, Rene and his wife, the former Melinda Schwartz of Clinton, open their business two weekends before Memorial Day. They operate 24 hours a day, seven days a week through Labor Day.

Mr. Crombez, who takes high value in the "personality and window manners of my employees," hires area high school and college students to help.

Contrary to popular opinion, there is a great deal more that goes into the making of a doughnut. Not just a small clump of dough with something missing in the middle!

Rene starts out with 60 pounds of dough at a time. It is allowed to rise for approximately one hour, then brought to the rolling bench to be divided into six or seven piles.

This is where Rene really goes to work. He skillfully rolls out each pile into several dozen individual donuts and places them on a screen. These, in turn, are placed in a proff box to allow the rolls to rise.

After about 45 minutes, the screens are pulled out and the donuts are fried at 375 degrees. The only thing left then is to fill and ice them with some of that delightful goo that makes them so enjoyable.

Among the most popular varieties of the 3,000 dozen rolls baked weekly are glazed doughnuts, chocolate iced cake doughnuts, elephant ears and doughnut holes.

Mr. Crombez prides himself on his daily baking.

"There are no day-old doughnuts sold. If there are any left over they are donated to such places as the Girl Scout Camp or Boysville.

Don't let your diet get the best of you.

Summer is a time for fun and recreation. Who can have fun without eating?

Touch of Past

By MAXINE CALHOUN

1857

On and after the 10th of July, our citizens are requested to shut up their cattle, pigs and other animals, by order of Mayor Hyde and backed by the village fathers.

1887

1897

Negotiations are pending relative to starting an independent telephone line in Tecumseh. The council has given James S. Brailey, P. W. A. Fitzsimmons and F. B. Wood the franchise to organize and maintain an exchange in the village.

1907

Jerome Snow has sold his place west of town to Mrs. Frank Bryan for $1,500.

Frank Snedecor, who, two years ago, sold his interest in the barber shop to Lavern Barrett, will return Monday to work in the shop.

J. J. Belcher has moved his shoe store from the Witherell building to the store formerly occupied by Mead, the clothier.

The Men's Class of the Presbyterian Church has purchased a flag staff and will erect it on the soldiers' lot at Brookside Cemetery July 19.

1927

Claude Cowan was struck by lightning Sunday, the shock entering his left arm, passing down his left side and out his left leg. He will be confined to his home for several days.

The ladies' rest room in the council building was opened to the public Wednesday.

1937

A 16-pound badger was shot and killed Monday evening by R. B. Bowerman of Raisin Township.

The Tecumseh Police Department is sporting a new 1947 model car. The new car is painted black and bears large silver lettering. It is also equipped with siren, special lights, etc.

Jens Touborg was elected president of the Board of Education, in the school election. There were 149 votes cast.

Work has begun to organize a Chamber of Commerce with a full time paid secretary and an annual budget of $10,000 to $12,000. The committee is made up of Charles O. Butler, Ned Rosecrans, Wade L. Jones, Robert H. Moore, Leon P. Williamson, Paul Breitenwischer and William H. Wehr.

A new telephone toll line to Dundee, speeding up calls to that village, as well as to Blissfield, Erie, Ida and Maybee, is now in operation.

The new City Hall will be built by Elliott Construction Company at a cost of $88,333.

A trailer residence owned by Fred Avis, in Paul's Trailer Court on N. Union St., was completely destroyed by fire July 14.

Ski Enthusiasts Set To Watch Championships

The 1967 Michigan State Water Ski Championships, sponsored by the Michigan Water Ski Association, will be held July 22 and 23 at Oxford Lake, on M-24.

A special Novice class for men and boys has been included for beginning skiers.

Twenty-seven events are slated and will begin at 8 a.m. each morning.

Skiers from anywhere in Michigan can obtain an entry form by contacting the Tournament Director before July 20.

He and his wife, the former Linda Sue Ivan, will live in Big Rapids.

SIPPIN 'COON — John Merz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Al Merz, 9251 Tonneberger Dr., owns a pet raccoon. What's so unusual about a pet raccoon? Nothing, except for the fact that this one drinks wine — and loves ice cubes.

ACCIDENTS

Only two accidents were investigated here the week of July 9-15 by Tecumseh Police.

A resume is:

July 8 — George W. Shumate, 46, of 126 W. South St., Adrian, was traveling north on S. Pearl when a car driven by Edna C. Codling, 110 N. Union, failed to yield the right of way and collided with the Shumate vehicle.

Viola Mark, 305 S. Evans St., an occupant of the Codling car, was taken to Herrick Memorial Hospital where she was treated for minor injuries. Mrs. Codling received a summons for failure to yield the right of way.

July 10 — A vehicle driven by Alden W. Brinningstaull of 417 4th Ave., Lake Odessa, was traveling west on Chicago Blvd., when the top of the trailer struck the traffic light. The trailer was checked for height at Cambridge Junction and the height of the traffic light is being checked.

Erie Kelley Goes To San Francisco

FIFTH GAME

ORANGE CARDS

JULY 19 to 24

Here How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of The Tecumseh Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Check the classified ads for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (and CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS — YOU HAVE A "BINGO" — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spends like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE TECUMSEH HERLAD: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Wednesday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards each week will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE HERALD, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The Herald. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be some place in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

by GORDON CHARLES

Among the many new devices you will soon be hearing about are infra-red detection systems for the early discovery of potential forest fires and for super-accurate big game counts.

It was less than a year ago that Ontario scored what was probably a "first" in North America when the pilot of a forest fire patrol plane pin-pointed an otherwise invisible lightning fire.

It had been smouldering in a dead tree for nearly a week.

The Turbo-Beaver aircraft was equipped with an odd-shaped pod at its wing tip. This was part of an infra-red detection system.

When an instrument light flashed on, the pilot knew a heat source had been passed over, even though he had seen nothing out of the ordinary.

★

It was two days later, however, before another plane watching the area on patrol saw a wisp of smoke.

A fire crew was quickly sent in and the blaze was killed before it could do any serious damage.

Ontario's Department of Lands and Forests has been testing various infra-red detection scanners since 1962 and the latest system, produced by an Ottawa firm, shows considerable promise.

In addition to pin-pointing fire sources before they become serious, this airborne system is also highly useful in mapping the boundaries of full-scale forest fires, such as plagued Ontario last month.

It can also determine whether forest fires are "dead out" once crews have brought them under control.

Here in Michigan, the University of Michigan is working on infra-red detection equipment which is even more sensitive to heat sources on the ground.

There is little doubt now but what the very near future will see this type of equipment being used to count deer and possibly elk with a high degree of accuracy.

A plane flying over a big game area can register with a camera what the human eye can't even see.

THUS, IF 10 or 12 deer are resting in a wooded area and screened by leaves, it will make no difference to the camera, which is part of the infra-red detection system.

A specific number of white dots on the developed film will reveal the exact number of deer which were betrayed by their own body heat.

Further refinements of this equipment will also make it possible some day to make accurate census counts of small game since various creatures give off different amounts of body heat.

Heat-sensitive equipment will count what is desired and ignore the others.

How about this science stuff? Great, isn't it?

Drive-In

The teen-age film "Without Onion" will be shown Saturday and Sunday at the Devils Lake Drive-In.

The programs begin at dark and there is no admission charge.

War and Morality To Be Discussed

"Is the War in Vietnam Just?" will be the topic of a discussion on morality and the war from various points of view, to be held July 19 at 8 p.m., at the First Presbyterian Church of Ann Arbor.

The public is invited to attend and participate. The discussion will be initiated by a panel consisting of noted authorities in the field.

The second lecture-discussion in the Vietnam Study Course will be presented July 18 at the Wesley Foundation Lounge of the First Methodist Church of Ann Arbor.

Eric Wolf, professor of anthropology at the University of Michigan, will speak on "Historical, Cultural and Sociological Background of Vietnam."

The series is sponsored by the Interfaith Committee for a Conference on Religion and Peace, in cooperation with Vietnam Summer.

When It Comes to Guns, Frank Gignac Is Expert

If it's a new gun you're looking for, give Frank Gignac of Frank's Sporting Goods a visit.

Frank has over 120 models on rack at his shop, just south of Clinton, with a complete assortment of loading supplies. He is authorized to sell both hunting and fishing licenses.

Frank has a repair shop in the back where he excels in gunsmithing and will fix up anything from guns to motors.

The business, which has been in operation for eight years, as built entirely by Frank. He has no help in the shop, operating it entirely by himself.

Because he is employed full-time by the Thomas Co. in Clinton, Frank has set his store hours to match his free time.

On weekdays, the store is open from 4 to 9 p.m. It is closed on Mondays.. Hours on Saturday are from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. and from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Sundays.

Knives, fishing equipment, boating goods, and targets are also included in Frank's vast storehouse of goods.

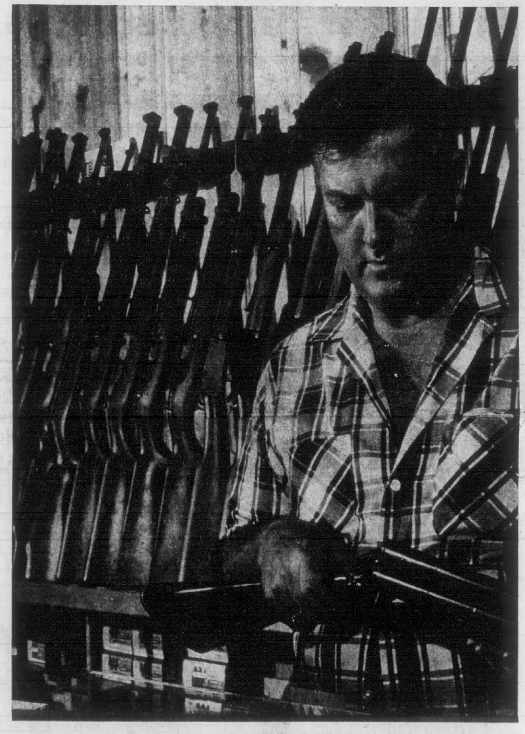
Frank's future plan for the store is to operate it full-time.

Any hunter or fisherman in the area can become fully equipped just by visiting Frank's Sporting Goods.



HE'S BOSS — Frank Gignac loves the life of the sportsman and everything that goes with it, like deer hunts, fishing trips and the care and repair of equipment. His sports shop along the Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., is loaded with top-flight gear, even has a complete gunsmith shop.

Britton Bachelors Baseball Team In Second Place

BRITTON — The Britton Bachelors baseball team were victorious twice last week, posting an 8-1 win over the Petersburg Merchants, and upsetting first place Adrian VFW, 15-10.

Against Adrian VFW, Mike Prochaska, Ken Ives and Larry Ivan had three hits apiece, and John Korican, four hits, including a home run, as the Bachelors won their fifth straight game.

The Bachelors now have a 6-2 mark in league play and are in second place.

Back from Chile

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

BRITTON — Dennise Ivan, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ivan, recently returned from a month-long visit to Rancagua, Chile, where she stayed with Ana Gonzales, an exchange student who spent six months with the Ivans last year.

Dennise felt it was really an interesting experience.

"If nothing else, I learned to realize all the advantages we have here," she stated.

The people were all good to her, she said, and although she read "Yankee, go home," printed on some of the buildings, she never met anyone who was unkind or rude.

She was treated royally by everyone. Even the storekeepers gave her everything cheaper when they knew she was an American.

There are three classes of people, more or less the same as here, but in different proportions, Miss Ivan noted.

The very poor are in the majority, and are mostly Communist. The middle class people are businessmen, and the wealthy class is composed of the professional people.

Dennise was shocked to see the starving poor, shivering in the streets of Rancagua. It was their winter time when she was there.

The people of Chile live a much slower life than we do here. They are much more patient and polite.

The boys, Dennise found, were completely different. They were very polite and treated a girl like a woman.

"At home, we are treated like teenagers; in Chile, we are treated like women."

Boys and young men in Chile dress up all the time in suits and tie. Girls usually date fellows several years older.

When they went shopping, Dennise discovered that with Chile being a great leather center, there were little or no synthetic leather imitations available.

Shoes, bags, etc., were all well made.

She had a beautiful dress handmade for her for only $10.

And the seamstress used no pattern; one just goes in to be measured and to describe approximately how she wanted it made, and returned in a few days for the garment.

The countryside around Rancagua is very hilly, with high mountain ranges surrounding the city on all sides. Landowners own large tracts of land, many over 3,000 acres.

The change in food was difficult. They do not pasteurize the milk, and Dennise was ill while there.

Also, she reported, Chileans fry much of their food in grease, which she wasn't used to.

The girls wear a lot of eye makeup. All the women have pierced ears, but are so used to it that many wear fake earrings.

All the older ladies wear black.

To sum up her impressions, Dennise felt that she had had a very interesting and enjoyable trip and would like to return for a visit some day, but wouldn't want to trade places with them.

Ana Gonzales lives with her widowed mother and grandmother in an apartment in the center of Rancagua. She has completed high school, and is now attending college, part time. She returned with Dennise for a few weeks here.

Lori Anne Kroeger Is Honored Baby at Cradle Shower

BRITTON — A cradle shower for little Lori Anne Kroeger, 5-week old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kroeger, was held Sunday afternoon. Karen Ivan was hostess for the event, which was in her home.

Twelve former classmates of Mrs. Kroeger were on hand to play shower games. Prizes were awarded to the winners.

Refreshments, including a pink and white decorated cake made in the shape of a bassinet, were served by the hostess.

Lori Anne received many lovely gifts.

A potluck dinner was served to the 33 family members present from Sylvania, O.; Hudson, Weston, Devils Lake, Adrian, Ridgeway and Britton.

The afternoon was spent swimming and playing games.

The reunion will be held at the same place next year.

Down on Farm

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Earl Murphy returned to their home on East Chicago Blvd., recently, after spending four weeks at the farm home of their son near Tipton.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Murphy and daughters Donna and Patty were on a camping trip through northwestern Canada and up to Fairbanks, Alaska.

They returned home by way of Yellowstone National Park and the Black Hills of South Dakota, traveling some 11,000 miles on the trip.

They also visited Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Murphy at Cedar Rapids, Ia., on the return trip.

Trailer Caravan Travels Up North

BRITTON — A caravan of travel trailers left Britton Thursday afternoon and Friday morning of last week, heading north to see preparations being made for the annual Traverse City Cherry Festival.

Six families camped at the State Park on Traverse Bay.

The days were spent sightseeing and the evenings roasting marshmallows and playing cards around the campfire.

The group included: Mr. and Mrs. George Brablec and son Chug; Mr. and Mrs. Lee Taylor, Peggy, Patty and Perry; Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Downing; Mr. and Mrs. Martin Ivan and daughter Dennise; Ana Gonzales and Rita Vershum; Mr. and Mrs. Tom Korican and Donny; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Studnicka.

Haviland Museum Is Scene of Tour for 10 Maconettes

BRITTON — Ten members of the Maconettes Extension Study Group enjoyed an outing recently.

The group had dinner at the Country House, then toured the Haviland family museum.

Mrs. Haviland told the ladies several interesting stories about the history of her family. The club members also enjoyed seeing the tools and household items early settlers had used.

The women ventured to the barn to view farm tools and an antique buggy and sleigh.

The next meeting will be in September.

"Honestly, I'm not a complaining woman. But I'm tired of messy defrosting! Tired of waiting for the great "spring thaw"—then mopping the kitchen afterward. Tired of being embarrassed because I ran out of ice cubes at a party...of doing the "water watusi" as I try to balance a brimming tray between the refrigerator and sink. It would take a magician to get enough food for entertaining and holiday time into my little, round-shouldered relic. Wouldn't it be grand to never have to defrost again?

4-H CLUBS

By MARY HANSON and BILL WALTER

4-H delegates and chaperones at the Citizenship Short Course, will depart for Washington, D. C., Aug. 26, for a one-week citizenship opportunity at the National 4-H Center.

They will have the opportunity to observe their government in action, meet with their elected representatives and discuss in detail all aspects of the U.S. way of life and government.

County 4-H Clubs will compete in a Club Meeting Demonstration Contest July 24 at 8 p.m. at the Fairgrounds.

The clubs' presentation of a model 4-H meeting will be evaluated in three parts for effective business procedure, educational value and socio-recreational spirit.

One team will be selected to represent Lenawee County at State Show at Michigan State University in August.

The importance and the techniques of educational demonstrating will be emphasized at the 4-H Demonstration-Action Exhibit July 27 from 2-4 p.m., at the Fairgrounds.

Interested persons, leaders and junior 4-H leaders are invited.

Recreation Notes

PLAYGROUNDS

Last week was Travel Week at the playgrounds, but participation was below average because of bad weather.

Material from Expo '67 highlighted the week, while the children also enjoyed Friday's "watermelon picnic."

TECUMSEH ACRES

Monday and Tuesday were spent making handicrafts — Indian rugs, baseball purses, comb cases, bird houses, model cars and telephone wire animals.

Thursday the children were divided into two age groups: under eight, and nine and over, to have an Expo '67 treasure hunt. While the younger children were playing on Nelson, the older children hid pieces of candy on the playground.

One piece was marked Expo '67, and whoever found it was to be the winner. Second place would go to the person retrieving the most pieces of candy.

In the older age group, the winner was determined on a point system: each color counting a different number of points.

Laura Purkey found the candy marked "Expo '67".

JoAnn is assisted by Nancy Kennel.

PATTERSON

Patterson children enjoyed pick-up sticks, keep-away and whiffle ball throughout the week. They also were busy practicing for this week's checker tournament.

SHADY LANE

Shady-Laners spent the entire week practicing for their softball game with Herrick Park, which was held Thursday.

Herrick Park outclassed Shady Lane, 11-7, in a seven inning game. Herrick Park led most of the contest and teammates were treated to ice cream after the game.

Both teams enjoyed Kool-Aid and cookies furnished by Shady Lane.

Next week is pet week.

MOM'S SOFTBALL

Mom's Softball, or Thursday morning aches and pains drew 12 women last Wednesday. The women were divided into two teams: Dee's Delightfuls and Eris' Erratics.

Dee's Delightfuls is headed by Dee Colson. Her teammates are Barbara Retan, Beverly Calloway, Helen Aebersold, Leona Ashenfelter and Cleo Upell.

Dee's Delightfuls defeated Eris' Eratics by a score of 18-17. Highlight of the game was a double play in the opening inning made by sisters, Olis Puffer and Eris Murphy.

Those hitting home runs were Mrs. Puffer, Jo Brueckner, Leona Ashenfelter, Phyllis Simon and Barbara Retan.

The women are looking for more players. Those interested may attend a session any Wednesday evening at 8 p.m. on the athletic field.

GIRLS PEE WEE SOFTBALL

In Girls Pee Wee action last Tuesday, the Red Sox overran the Indians, 15-14. The Indians oened the game with six successive home runs by Janet Williams, Jill Barton, Cindy Litteral, Sandy Sprague, Linda Wicky and Pat Kiley.

Things looked dark for the Red Sox until the bottom of the fifth inning, when Sandy Dunn and Rita Sprague each hit a home run to make the tying and winning runs.

Thursday the Indians came back and whipped the Red Sox, 15-8. Hitting home runs were Melissa Barton, Maureen Flanders, Janet Williams, Nena Murphy and Cathy Retan.

Eagle Pitcher Posts 1st Win

► EAGLES 11, INDIANS 2

"Strong throwing enabled Eagle pitcher Marv Maynard to post his first win as a starting pitcher," reported Eagle manager, Jack R. Puffer.

"He allowed the Indians two runs, six scattered hits and only three walks," said Puffer. "Sam Whitney and Louie Rebottaro shared the catching role."

"Indians starting pitcher Bob Aten pitched a strong three innings, retiring the first seven batters before being relieved by Indian Steve Camfield," said Puffer.

"Indian play was highlighted," Puffer said, "by Indian Tom Edwards' deep centerfield catch of Eagle Alex Gibson's long hit with strong defensive work at shortstop by Rick Bunch.

—o—

INDIANS 18, CUBS 0

"The Indians did an outstanding job at the plate with 13 hits," said victory manager, Tom Mitchell of his team as they defeated the Cubs, 18-0.

Rick Brooks, Indians pitcher, struckout nine as Pete Mitchell was behind the plate.

Mitchell was outstanding hitter as he belted a homer with one on, a triple and also got a walk.

► INDIANS 15, BRAVES 0

David Allen, Indian pitcher, hurled a no-hitter as his team scalped the Braves, 15-0.

GIANTS 16, BRAVES 13

"Wildness was almost the downfall of Giants pitcher, Martin Harper, who worked the first three innings, allowing only four hits but who walked five," said team manager Harry Stanifer as the Giants stomped the Braves, 16-13.

"Phil Carter finished the game allowing no hits, walking 10."

Giant catcher was Chris Stanifer.

GIRLS JUNIOR LEAGUE STANDINGS

	W	L
Lake's Frogs	5	0
Female Sluggers	2	3
Gayle's Goofs	2	3
Nancy's Nicies	1	4

In Girls' Junior action last week, Lake's Frogs continued their winning streak and strengthened their hold on first place.

Tuesday they squeaked by the Female Sluggers, 10-9, but breezed by Nancy's Nicies Thursday, 8-2.

In other games, Nancy's Nicies defeated Gayle's Goofs, 12-8, and the Female Sluggers pounded their way past Gayle's Goofs, 11-6.

	W	L
Mensing's Mudhens	7	2
Dalton's Little Devils	7	2
Mobley's Moles	3	6
Lewis' Lunkheads	1	8

Last week saw the Mudhens move back into a first place tie by defeating the Devils, 7-6. The Mudhens also beat the Lunkheads, 17-12, and socked it to the Moles, 6-3.

The Devils found consolation in whipping the Lunkheads, 18-14, and edging the Moles, 7-6. In the final contest the Moles outlasted the Lunkheads, 21-14.

Tomorrow marks the end of this year's Pee Wee League Baseball Program.

Clinton Tops THS Gals, 11-8

By KATHY HALL

Tecumseh's sixth and seventh inning comeback failed to offset Clinton's seven run first inning, as the local girls were defeated Monday, 11-8.

Clinton took advantage of three errors and two walks in the first to take an early lead. They did not score again until the fourth.

Tecumseh bats didn't begin to click until the sixth inning, when singles by Wendy Ehlert and Gail Greene, and walks to Peggy "Peps" Martinus and Loretta "Pee Wee" Vogel sent three across the plate.

When Tecumseh went up for final bats, they trailed, 11-3. Four walks, a single and a wild pitch led to five tallies before a strike out and two close plays at the plate ended the contest.

The girls challenged league-leading Monroe July 18, 8 p.m. on the athletic field.

"It should be a tough game," stated coach Theresa Wells. "But I feel we're prepared to give them a good fight."

Eagles To Play in Tourney

The Adrian Eagles will play in the State Fast Pitch Tournament in Midland July 22 and 23.

Eight teams are entered and will all see action starting Friday evening.

The winner will advance to the Regional in Maumee, O., Aug. 4, 5, and 6.

TPW Trounces VFW, 4-2

By K. F. KOEPLIN
TPW 4, VFW, 2

It may be a worn out cliche'—but it's still true: "The game isn't over until the last man is out."

TPW proved it in its 4-2 win over VFW.

Rick Schuyler, VFW pitcher, was sailing along with a two hit shutout until the fatal seventh.

With one out, Gary Alcock reached first on an infield error. Dave Kelly doubled him home with the first TPW run.

Kelly reached third when Mark Johnson's soft liner was dropped for the second VFW error of the inning.

Both Johnson and Durkee scored on two fielder's choices and the third VFW error of the inning. That was the game.

Up to that point, the game was tight and well-played by both sides.

VFW drew first blood when, in the third, Mike Tilton walked, stole second, took third on a fielder's choice and came home on a passed ball.

They added to their lead when in the fourth Larry Getz got the first VFW hit off Kennedy, stole second and rode home on Scott Dalton's double to left center.

It stayed that way until the seventh.

Both pitchers hurled strong games.

TPW pitcher, Kennedy, whiffed 13, a personal and team high for this year. He walked four.

Kennedy allowed only two hits while Schuyler was almost as stingy, giving up four hits to TPW.

He was thinking of suing his infield for divorce — non-support.

Tilton tried to advance on the play. Alcock fired the ball to Bud Bennett at third to put the tag on sliding Tilton to complete the DP, ending the game.

It was a pretty "picture" play.

TPW Scalps Indians, 11-6

By K. F. KOEPLIN

► TPW 11, INDIANS 6

In a wild, free scoring game, in which the two pitchers combined to strikeout 16, walk 15, plus one hit batsman, TPW took one from the Indians, 11-6.

The Indian pitcher, Jim Kane, banged a two-run homer in the sixth to bring the score to 7-6, TPW favor.

The homer tightened the game but didn't change the ultimate result.

Bud Bennett, Kane's mound rival, experienced control problems, giving up six walks. With the exception of the third inning when he walked three, he always seemed to have enough to get off the hook.

Both Bennett and Kane, in spite of control or control trouble, pitched reasonably strong games, giving up only five hits apiece.

Mark Johnson, TPW center fielder, took a sure base hit from Bob Mertz with a shoe string catch of Mertz' line drive in the top of the seventh inning.

It killed the potential Indian rally.

TPW went ahead to stay in the bottom of the fourth with the score, 4-4.

Dave Kelly led off with a single to center. He stole second. Scott Durkee laid down a perfect sacrifice bunt to move Kelly to third.

Police Nab Kiwanis, 6-2

TECUMSEH POLICE, 6
KIWANIS 2

The Tecumseh Police stretched their winning streak to three straight by grabbing an early lead and going on to defeat Kiwanis, 6-2.

Previously the Police had come from behind in defeating Credit Union, 6-5, in a nine inning affair that saw John Getz and Dave Biscupski hold the Credit Union scoreless over the last seven innings, while Mike Clement paced the Police by snaping out three hits.

Dave McLoughlin, with Dave Biscupski coming on in relief in the sixth, then pitched the Police to a 12-5 victory over the Exchange that saw Clement and Biscupski collect three hits apiece for the Police.

ROTARY 1, EXCHANGE 0

Kevin Mack, Rotary third sacker, walked, then scored after teammate Terry Pearson singled and an Exchange player made a wild throw to third base.

It was a well-played ball game, said Mel Murphy, manager of the victory team.

Both infields played good ball and the pitchers aided their own efforts with some good fielding, Murphy commented.

ROTARY 5, LENAWEE FUELS 0

"Dan Gunder's pitching highlighted the game," said Manager Mel Murphy of his victory team, Rotary over Lenawee Fuels, 5-0.

"He received able assistance from Rotary infielders Mark Murphy and Kris Eggleston," Murphy also noted.

Gunder struckout 15 Lenawee Fuels batters and walked five.

Jim Roberts was his catcher.

Roberts singled in the first to land on base then went to third on Bob Lawson's single.

Roberts scored when Gunder added another single to the cause.

ROTARY 6, JAYCEES 2

Dan Gunder, Rotary pitcher, relieving Mark Murphy in the fourth inning, came on with the bases loaded and one out to strike out the next two Jaycee batters, retiring their side.

It was a well-played ball game, said Mel Murphy, manager of the victory team.

Both infields played good ball and the pitchers aided their own efforts with some good fielding, Murphy commented.

Sunday Siesta

"I give up!" I cried to friend husband Sunday afternoon, after struggling for over an hour to take a quiet nap. "If it isn't one thing it's another around here."

Dinner was over and the dishes done. It seemed quiet enough, with daughter watching television and the two boys reading the Sunday papers out on the porch.

Dad was gone, checking some reports at the garage. So, full of grilled steak and at peace with the world, I felt it was an opportune time to settle down on the sofa for a nap.

Just as I was drifting off to dreamland, our nine-year old daughter became bored with TV. Disregarding the fact that I was almost asleep, she came over and asked if we could go for a ride.

"Maybe later," I replied, barely opening one sleepy eye, "Now please be quiet."

I dozed off again.

THEN, OUT of nowhere came a battery of local motorcyclists, we usually refer to as "Heck's Angels," zooming up and down the street in a cloud of limestone dust. After buzzing up and down like angry flies for a few minutes, the Angels receded out of town.

Peace descended, but not for long. Ringgggggggg! I stumbled to the telephone.

"Is David there?"

I might have known it wasn't for me anyway. I called my red-haired son.

He talked softly on the Alexander Graham Bell, as he calls it, then called in to ask if he could go to the Pit with a friend.

I debated with myself mentally: he was out rather late the night before and didn't really need to go again; and yet, if he went, it would be quieter around here.

"Okay," I breathed wearily. "Just go quietly."

He clumped up the stairs to change. I heard closet doors banging, and he yelled to his brother, asking where his suit was. Then the back door banged, and with a final "beep, beep" of the car horn, they were gone. Ahhhhh.

★

PEACE AND quiet?

Don't you believe it. By now, daughter was pushing her cause again. She came to stand beside the sofa, and noisily cleared her throat. I heard, but did not move a muscle, trying to discourage her. She coughed again. Again. Reluctantly, I opened my eyes.

"Can we go for a ride now," she questioned.

"Please, hon, let mother rest a bit first."

She pouted and went outdoors to swing the kitten.

For at least four minutes there was no sound reaching my ears save that of the distant hum of a lawn mower down the street. I was lulled into a semi-sleep once more.

Suddenly from the kitchen, the radio blared on — it was the Tiger ball game. "Turn that thing down!" I called to No. 1 son.

"Oh, I didn't know you were sleeping."

"Who says I am?" I muttered.

By now my good nature was wearing mighty thin. I turned over once more.

Rinnggggggg. Oh, no, not again.

"Can't someone answer the phone?" I called. But somehow, everyone was outdoors at the moment, so I dragged myself to the phone again.

"Is David there?" queried a teenage voice.

"No, he's gone to the Pit."

"Well, when will he be back?"

"I don't know, and right about now, I don't very much care."

Drat! I just run an answering service for teenagers.

★

THE BACK DOOR banged, and daughter came in while I was still seated by the phone. "Mom, you're up, so can we go for a ride now?"

I stifled the impulse to cry. After all, I am a big girl now, and it might frighten the child.

"In a little while, dear."

Wearily, I returned to the sofa for one more try. I closed my eyes, but every nerve was tense, waiting for the next assault on my poor ears.

Why fight it, I asked myself? Why not just get up and forget the idea of a Sunday siesta? I couldn't be that tired anyway.

As I was mulling over the pros and cons, I slipped once more into a state of semi-consciousness. Ahhhh. Maybe now, I could catch those 40 winks.

Suddenly, everything happened at once. The phone rang again, and as I went to answer it, daughter spied me up and moving. "Now can we go for a ride? You promised."

"I'm sorry, David is gone just now."

The roar of the unmuffled motors on the Heck's Angels' bikes was heard as they returned into town.

Older son: "Is there anything to eat in this house?"

"Mom, don't forget, you promised."

★

AS I PULLED myself to my feet, resigned to the inevitable, who walked in the door but friend husband. And what did he say?

"Did you have a good nap, dear? It must be nice to just lie around and sleep on Sunday afternoon."

Friends Church Welcome Class Has July Meeting

Sixteen members and 14 children of the Welcome Class of the Tecumseh Friends Church met Saturday evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. De Arle Brugger.

The youngsters participated in a baseball game in Manchester with another church team and returned to have refreshments of pie, coffee and lemonade with the class.

Mrs. Raynor Van Valkenburg presented devotions, "How Do We Know There is a God?" Each member gave his answer to the question.

The members judged the poster contest for the Vacation Bible School.

Winners were:

Miala Baker — Third and fourth grades.

After the meeting, Mrs. Eugene Vaughn presented a program of games.

Ladies Meet To Discuss Picnic Fun

The Christian Board of Education of the Macon Methodist Church met last Monday evening with Mrs. Harold Ruhl as chairman.

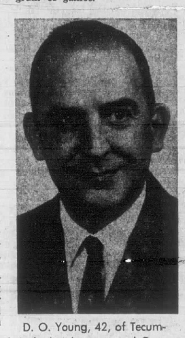
Mrs. Robert Osborne and Mrs. George Osborne will be in charge of the games for the Churchwide picnic and Mrs. John Hewlett will have charge of the picnic tables.

The group has decided to help promote the TV Evaluation program and Sept. 3 was the date set for the Rally Day and Promotion Sunday.

There was some discussion about having next year's Vacation Bible School in the evening.

The Sunday School has the film strip, "New Ways for New Days" which they will rent or loan out.

The group decided to continue the Bible studies.



D. O. Young, 42, of Tecumseh, has been named General Telephone's eastern division senior field engineer at Adrian. He had previously been Dundee District Manager. Mr. Young joined General Telephone as a lineman at Muskegon in 1945 and subsequently worked as a cable splicer before becoming a facilities engineer at Muskegon in 1951. In 1953 he was named plant engineer at Imlay City and became plant supervisor there in 1960. He was named Dundee district manager in 1961. An Air Force pilot during World War II, he is a graduate of Muskegon St. Joseph High School and he attended Western Reserve University. He and his wife have six children. The Youngs live at 203 Brown St.

Airman Apprentice Gary W. Stretch, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jessi T. Stretch of 8734 Matthews Hwy., has finished studying the basics of piston-driven aircraft engines in Memphis, Tenn., as a student at the 15-week Aviation Machinist Mate Reciprocating School. The school is taught by instructors of the Naval Air Technical Training Center. In addition to studying the mechanics of engines, he will become familiar with the procedures for conducting regular checks and inspections of the engines and their accessories. In preparing for Aviation Machinist Mate School, he underwent two weeks of familiarization in the procedures and language of naval aviation, followed by four weeks of studies in fundamental mechanics.

Melburn Preston Is New President of Family Reunion

A picnic dinner was served at 1 p.m. to guests from Milan, Blissfield, Adrian, Tecumseh Clinton, Macon and Britton.

The Rev. and Mrs. George Rendell and twins, recently returned from Nigera, Africa, where they have been missionaries for four years, and the Rev. and Mrs. McNeil of Britton Baptist were guests.

Hamilton F. Moore conducted the business meeting.

It was decided to have the 1968 Reunion on the third Sunday in July at the same location.

President — Melburn Preston

Vice-president — Mrs. Melburn Preston

Secretary-treasurer — Mrs. Iva Caswell.

The afternoon was spent visiting.

Mrs. Opal Miller Is Now Attending Library Workshop

Librarians and assistants from the state's small community libraries are spending a week at Ferris State College updating their technical training as part of their certification requirement.

Mrs. Opal Miller of Ridgeway's Hall Memorial Library is attending.

Workshop instruction deals with book selection, organization of library materials, use of materials and administration of the library.

While they are attending the short course, which Ferris is offering outside of its regular academic schedule, in cooperation with the Michigan State Library, the visiting librarians are living in one of the college's residence halls.

Senator Bursley's LANSING REPORT

American agriculture feeds our own people; it bolsters our foreign trade with over $6 billion in exports; it leads the world in research toward increased food productivity; and its surplusses provide our federal government with an ace card in the conduct of foreign affairs.

The men and women working on, and coming from, American farms have provided our nation with its greatest leadership and its highest standards of morality.

American agriculture is the world's most efficient producer of foods. Our research and our mechanization have led to the world's greatest yield per acre.

However, no greater problem exists in the world today than that of providing food for some 3 billion people.

Look at what's ahead of us. The arable lands on the earth's surface are in fixed quantity but global population will double to six billions by the year 2000.

Starving people in have-not nations will be — and presently are — a threat to the world's peace. It is in our own enlightened self-interest to see that they are better fed.

Our national responsibility is clear.

We must strengthen our programs in research toward better farm techniques; soil reclamation, irrigation; salt water conversion; fertilizers; and food processing and storage.

Research towards future major food yields from the oceans, lakes and rivers is of highest priority. And this research activity must be supported in climatic and geographic zones throughout the world.

Michigan plays a leading role in American agriculture. Michigan is located in the Midwest which produces half of our nation's foodstuffs — and on the Great Lakes from whence major food shipments go all over the world.

Agribusiness, meaning all business aspects of agriculture, involves a $5 billion investment in Michigan, 500,000 workers and an annual product of $2½ billion if one counts cash receipts, food processing and allied paper and forest products.

Michigan exported over $100,000,000 in agricultural products last year. Three-fourths of the navy beans eaten in the United Kingdom come from the "thumb" district of Michigan.

Our exports of foodstuffs to Japan alone amounted to $8 million.

Michigan State University's agricultural research programs are among the most successful and practical in the entire world.

Overseas markets for Michigan agricultural products are unlimited. Fruits, berries, soybeans, grains and processed foods are in wide demand. Markets can be greatly stimulated with imaginative promotion and sales efforts.

The Michigan Bean Commission puts out foreign language bulletins in Western Europe. The States Agriculture Department has sparkplugged displays of Michigan beans, cherries and mushrooms in food shows in Munich, Germany, and elsewhere in Europe.

United States Trade Centers in six major foreign markets have assured us they would welcome an All-Michigan display of food products. We hope to have such shows in Tokyo and West Europe yet this year.

At least two trade missions to sell Michigan food products are being planned.

Much must yet be done to make the foreign consumer aware of Michigan food products — to create customer acceptance. In some parts of the world this takes great promotional effort.

MANY MICHIGAN companies have exhibited in agricultural trade shows abroad.

Amongst them are Aeroquip of Jackson, Besser Overseas Corporation of Alpena, Big Dutchman Automatic Poultry Feeder of Zeeland, A. T. Ferrell of Saginaw, Kitson Poultry Equipment of Morley, Oliver Machinery of Grand Rapids, Saylor-Beall of St. Johns, Stainless Products of Belding, Tecumseh Products, and Velvet Foods of Livonia.

All these companies deserve credit for bringing Michigan food production into the position where it is helping meet world demand.

The United States has a responsibility and a selfish interest in seeing that people in all parts of the world receive adequate food.

Michigan has a vital role within this framework because we are a great agricultural producer, a leader in research, and a state whose government officials, business leaders and university researchers have all played key international roles in increasing mankind's supply of food.

Local Resident Now Attending Ferris Workshop

Charles Staples, Jr., of 1202 Shady Lane, is among a score of oil burner servicemen learning new servicing techniques at two workshops offered at Ferris State College July 9-14 and 16-21.

Two of a series of five workshops co-sponsored by Ferris, the National Fuel Institute and the Michigan Petroleum Association, the initial events in the series cover advanced special burners and advanced electrical controls. The other three will be basic burner workshops.

The self-supporting seminars, which Ferris is offering for the sixth year, include classroom lectures and laboratory sessions on working models in Ferris modern technical and applied arts area.

Billie Chapman Caught by Police on Driving Charge

Billie Lee Chapman, 30, was charged with reckless driving and leaving the scene of a property damage accident after a hit-run accident and a high speed chase July 12.

Sheriff's deputies said Chapman failed to stop at M-52 and US-12. He hit a car in the intersection and fled.

how is your rib roast trimmed?

That depends upon where you buy it.

At A&P, we sell only short-cut, 7-inch, oven-ready Ribs of Beef.

We remove the feather (back) bones for easier carving and cover the area with a thin layer of fat to protect the meat.

We remove the excess wasteful chine bone.

Is all this trimming important to you? Well, on an average five-rib roast, we trim up to 1¼-lbs. of excess fat and bone. At Rib Roast prices, that adds up!

One more thing. We cut our Rib Roasts only from the first five ribs.

All this makes our Rib Roast truly the "King of Roasts" and a joy to carve.

Next time you buy a Rib Roast, think about these things.

And then think, shouldn't A&P be your store?

VOICE of THE HERALD

Folks Love Bingo

The Herald's current 13-week series of games is almost mid-way through and we're convinced our readers love to play the game. It's easy, loads of chuckles and rewarding.

So far, we've given away $250 and have another $400 to go.

One winner told us she was delighted with her $13 prize and even if it had only been 50c she still would have been tickled. This was the first thing she'd ever won. And besides she noted, it was such fun to play.

We've had all sorts of excitement over Newspaper Bingo. But nothing tops a person rushing into the office, waving a card all X-ed out and shouting, "Hey, I have a winner!"

To the 26 sponsoring merchants, Newspaper Bingo has shown that customers and potential customers get a bang out of the game. Requests for cards are being made everywhere.

People usually end up playing six or eight cards each week, but a vacationing woman from Royal Oak had only one — and it turned out to be worth $17. Currently at Wamplers Lake, she dropped into Ken-Ray Drug to shop. One of the girls there, probably Florence Gilman, gave her a card and explained that numbers could be found among ads in The Herald.

An hour hadn't passed and she was back. Her card showed 24 X's and she was wearing a big grin.

★

SOMETIMES SPONSORS forget to have cards handy when visitors walk into their places. We'd like to remind them that getting out the cards is what helps to make the game swing.

Since we've continued to have such avid play with multiple winners the past three weeks, we've kept cutting down on numbers.

. . . then a 'Small' Snack

It's great for golfers and fishermen, who can stay with their sports until 10 o'clock, instead of 9, but we'd guess the discomfort to others far outweighs the joy of that 60-minute gift to sportsmen.

Those suffering most are parents with kids at home, especially the ever-vibrant brand of almost-teens and junior teens. They take daytime as their own reservation and want to drink in every second of it.

These kids are going right to the bitter end. The mom and pop who succeeds in getting them into the house by 10 o'clock is fortunate. But this is only the beginning. There must be a quick snack — something like a quart of milk, two bologna sandwiches and a king-size dish of ice cream.

Now come the reading of that day's comic strips and Dear Abbie, which were missed until that point due to outdoor playtime. Finally, it's a bath and would you believe the clock is striking 11 p.m.

This is absolutely straight reporting of facts because that's the way it is at our place and just about everyone else's in the neighborhood.

So to the advocates of daylight savings time, we say, concentrate your efforts on something worthwhile, like the 25-hour work week. If your folly continues much longer, instead of going for that extra nine holes of golf after 8 p.m., there should be a law requiring each of you to report at 9 o'clock to some home with kids to help herd them into bed.

Our Readers Write

Parents Warned

TO THE EDITORS:

We now are living in Indianapolis, Ind., and are coming to Tecumseh next week to visit Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hall.

I was sitting here this morning thinking about some articles I have read in the paper here in the last month of children dying because of neglect on the part of the parents.

For example:

► A baby was found dead with about 10 blankets in the crib with her. She had suffocated.

► A car stalled on the railroad track, so the driver left his two children, ages two and four years of age in the car while he went for help. While he was gone, a train hit the car and killed both children.

► A couple and their two-year-old were all in the front seat of their car when the child fell out and the father backed up and, rolling over him, killed the child. The parents said they hadn't known the child had fallen out of the car.

There are plenty more to read in the paper.

Of course, some of these accidents don't happen too often, but a lot more do.

For instance, letting small children stand up in the car when you are driving. What would happen if you had to make a quick stop?

Letting them go swimming and no one around to watch them? Maybe they can swim, but usually those are the ones that drown. Or playing in the street because there isn't any traffic? That's usually when a child gets hit by a car.

All I have to say is, all of us who have children maybe didn't realize how lucky we are until something happens to scare us and makes us stop and think. Sometimes it's too late.

I was scared to death once when we moved here from Florida.

I got to the door before it opened very far. Let me tell you, whenever he is in the car, he is in that car seat.

I don't care if we go a block. We were lucky.

Thank you for listening,
Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Gillette
413 S. Buckhart Dr.,
Indianapolis, Ind.

Julia Boyce Sends Sympathy on Judy's Death

TO THE EDITORS:

Was so sorry to hear about Judy (Fielder), and want to express my condolences to all of you.

Life is good in Kalamazoo, but am planning to move to Madison, Wis., in the fall. Don't worry — pretty soon I'll settle down!

Keep the news coming.

Julie Boyce.

Judd Arnett of Free Press Sends Regards

DEAR TOM—

I suspect that selling a newspaper is a good deal like being traded as a baseball player — it hurts like all get-out the first time, and it doesn't get too much easier thereafter.

Anyhow, you have been good for Tecumseh and I hope the opposite has also been true. The success you and Jim have had with The Herald has been earned, which makes it all the sweeter. It surely must be one of the finest weeklies in the Midwest, no light honor, that.

Whatever you do, have fun at it. That is my motto from now on. I lost one of my dearest friends last Saturday—and there was "so much he was looking forward to." You go around this track just once, so make the trip merry, baby, merry, merry, merry.

My best to Jim and the crew.

Cordially,
Judd Arnett
Detroit Free Press

Gives $50

TO THE EDITORS:

I was very much interested in your column "Long and Short" appearing in the last issue of the Tecumseh Herald commenting on the untimely passing of Mrs. Judy Fielder, a member of your staff.

I did not have the pleasure of knowing Mrs. Fielder personally, but I am a member of the Tecumseh High School Class of 1917 which received the Rose Certificate at the Alumni Celebration. The arrangements for which you indicate Mrs. Fielder was responsible seemed rather unique and was a welcome change from meetings I have attended in the past. Mrs. Fielder was apparently a person who got things done, and we just have too few of that caliber today.

You indicate that a memorial fund is being put together and I am pleased to enclose my check in the amount of $50 as a contribution to this fund.

Sincerely yours,
H. John Lowry,
Chairman of the Board

Mr. and Mrs. Orville Laidlaw, former Tecumseh residents are celebrating their 50th wedding anniversary. Ayesha Raven and Orville Laidlaw were married July 19, 1917, at St. Paul's Episcopal Church, Lansing. They lived in Tecumseh from 1918 until they retired to Florida in 1965. They are the parents of two sons, David O. Laidlaw of Milford and Dr. Robert W. Laidlaw, 510 Seminole Dr., and nine grandchildren. The sons and their families will honor their parents with an open house in St. Peter's Parish House July 23 from 2-5 p.m. All friends are cordially invited to attend and are asked to please omit gifts.

It's a Laff

By DENICE ANDERSON

Clark Lake Playhouse is continuing a fine season with "Any Wednesday" currently on stage.

Directed by G. L. Blanchard, "Any Wednesday" was a popular Broadway production of the 1960's. The Muriel Resnik comedy will continue July 20, 21 and 22.

Reservations may be obtained by calling 529-9141 or 529-9512. Tickets cost $2.75 and curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

"Any Wednesday" is a sprightly tale of a business tycoon and the young lady he visits every Wednesday at an apartment he has listed in his company's ledgers as an executive suite and, therefore, tax deductible.

★

FRANK DALTON of Tecumseh as John Cleves, plays a highly successful executive who thought of himself as the Eagle of the business world.

Mr. Dalton is perfectly cast as the still handsome aging businessman who got everything he wanted, no matter who was hurt.

Just as with business deals, Cleves had an obsession to lead games, and his "I start!" was characteristic, as was his, "I win!"

Ellen Gordon, a tax deduction in a fashionable Manhattan apartment, is performed by Gail Browning, a Mary Tylor Moore-type of actress who was excellent when ranting and raving around the stage.

Sticky sometimes, as if she were reading her lines from the script, Miss Gordon visibly improved as the play progressed.

When in fear of losing her apartment, she put up quite a storm, and you could see her desperately trying to control her temper and words as Dorothy Cleves, wife of her lover, ripped her apartment apart, verbally.

But underneath, she was as darling and loveable as the balloons she kept in her closet.

The man who brought out much of the temper, but most of the love was Craig Collicott as Cass, the young man out to get John Cleves, who had conned him in a business deal.

Mr. Collicott was great with facial expressions, showing friendliness with his grin in one instance and disgust as he turned his head.

He had quick wit which kept growing, but sometimes he got so excited that he tended to stumble over his lines.

★

THELMA HOLLENBECK of Adrian was the naive wife who thought of love as "fun" and who was the perfect social hostess, anxious to please all.

But Cleves, in his typical manner, lost interest in a thing as soon as he got what he wanted.

And once he got Ellen, she was no longer the exciting thing of his life, but just another part of his day.

The costumes were great, with Ellen appearing superb, from bathrobe to jeans to mini-shifts to hostess gowns.

The apartment was furnished in modern design, including weird statues, a garden, a purple chair — and balloons in the closet.

★

MR. DALTON, smiling backstage after the performance, accepted congratulations and noted, "Dress rehearsal was a bomb last night but we got all the words in tonight."

"We love the play," he said for himself and the rest of the cast.

You could tell that from their performance.

The next Clark Lake Players' production will be "Catch Me If You Can," an adaption by Jack Weinstock and Willie Gilbert.

The mystery will be July 27, 28 and 29 and Aug. 3, 4 and 5.

THE DUNCAN'S MISS MIDNIGHT

June has always been one of our favorite months. The weather should be soft and warm with great, great quantities of happy sunshine spilling out of high, sparkling, clear blue skies. (It should be this way but it doesn't always work out, does it?)

June has some important dates, too — Gram likes the 8th, cousin Jimmy, the 9th, Marda the 12th, Gertie the 13th, and Mary the 14th.

Now there is another date to add to the list. We must celebrate the 30th.

June 30 was the day that the Duncan family acquired a new member.

Missie is a little German shepherd puppy. She is just as black as night and this gave us a clue for her name, Duncan's Miss Midnight or Missie.

Her first night here, we expected, would be quite musical. After all, we were taking her away from her mother, six brothers and sisters, and a nice human family which itself had four young boys.

However, Mrs. Miller had separated her from the group several times as a break in to being alone, and Dad, when he went to get her, took one of my old blankets which was going to be put in her bed.

While Dad and the Millers signed final papers, discussed feeding, etc., the old blanket was in with the puppies picking up familiar smells.

★

IT WORKED — or at least something did because her first night here was just unbelievably quiet. We didn't hear a peep and, short pause while I knock on wood, she has never done the yipping and crying one expects of a new puppy.

Dorothy and Tina came over to meet their new neighbor. Missie wasn't at all sure about another dog — we were surprised at her loud, quite authoritative bark and, from the way she suddenly stopped, looked around and then went into her house, I believe she was a little surprised, too.

What can beat watching a puppy play! Our poor little thing doesn't have many toys — a rawhide bone and shoe, a ball, some old socks knotted together and one of Mother's slippers — and so doesn't it figure that her favorite toy is her aluminum food pan.

It is the greatest thing in the world to chew on, carry around, roll over with and paw. Her bed blanket is another fun thing, it is almost a Linus-type security blanket.

She pulls and tugs and occasionally even sleeps on it.

★

A FULL GROWN shepherd is a big dog and we suspect that Missie will live up to the family tradition. When nine weeks old, she weighed 12 pounds and if she grows up to her feet — well, they are pretty big feet.

She doesn't always know exactly what they are going to do, either. The floor in my room is rather slippery and sometimes, when she gets a little rambunctious, her legs shoot off in different directions.

Walking, of course, is something she seldom does; she runs, gallops, prances, leaps, hops and pounces.

As with any youngster, Missie's co-ordination isn't too good yet. She occasionally lunges for something, something like a leg, and falls short.

Great surprise.

One thing those front paws do very well, though, is splashing. She always drinks with one paw firmly planted in the water dish, water is apparently more refreshing that way.

★

BUT JUST for fun, she puts both feet in and starts paddling away. Paddling, churning, digging, splashing — she has a great time. Water flies all over the pen.

Once in a while, right in the midst of a hard play session, she will stop, look over her shoulder and lunge. Something black seems to be following her around but, by the time she reaches back to get it, it has disappeared.

Oops, there it is on the other side. What a time she has with her long tail.

Occasionally she does catch it — still trouble though, when she tries to move — she trips and falls head-over-heels.

Every night, just before going to bed, Dad takes Missie for a walk. She does very well on a leash — she does very well as long as he lets her carry it in her mouth.

I strongly suspect she feels that it is she who is taking Harry for a walk. And who knows, maybe she is right.

So it is that it has been my great, great pleasure to introduce The Duncan's Miss Midnight.

OPEN HOUSE — Saturday from noon to 5 p.m., Tecumseh officials will conduct tours of the city's new, enlarged wastewater treatment plant, along M-50 across from the Community Center. The expanded facility cost $441,000 and is capable of serving a population of 14,000, with a capacity of 1.4 million gallons of sewage per day. At the open house, officials will explain treatment procedures and new additions which were completed in June. The original wastewater treatment plant was built in 1952 with a design capacity of 700,000 gallons per day. Of the trickling filter type, it provided approximately 80% removal of the waste material before discharging treated wastewater to the Raisin River. With the addition of wastewater from the Fisher Body factory in 1965, the maximum capacity of this plant was reached and the enlargement dictated. This series of three photos, taken from atop the main building, gives a panoramic view of the entire plant.

Long and Short

By TOM RIORDAN

As far as can be determined, this Long & Short will be my 520th — and last.

Kinda grabs you ,doesn't it?

Cherie, my dear wife, said I'd probably end up crying before I finished this, but who ever heard of a 45-year-old, sitting at his desk, real tears rolling down his cheeks?

Sob.

Can 10 years have passed since Jim Lincoln and I bought The Herald? Can more than 500 new, fresh front pages in type and engravings have smiled up at me from the makeup stone on 500 Wednesdays? Can the shutter on my cameras have clicked over 30,000 times to record happenings around the area?

Golly.

★

ONCE WHILE I was visiting with the state editor of The Toledo Blade he invited me to accompany him into the composing room while he supervised makeup of his pages.

As I stood [illegible] of the turtle (metal table on casters), with the page chase (frame) gradually being filled with stories and pictures by a floorman (union representative in back shop), the editor told me.

"You realize I'm not allowed to touch so much as one line of type. If I did the union would call a walk out."

This amazed and befuddled me. What fun, I thought, is there in working on a newspaper if you can't be a makeup man once in a while and push around the type?

Of the many things around The Herald I'll miss (the staff, front and back shop, most of all) will surely be the chance to put pages together on our Wednesday press days.

Newspaper economists warn that publishers should be out selling advertising when they have a spare moment, not playing like printers. But I could never resist. Besides it made newspapering become a real, living thing for me.

★

JIM AND I got together on buying The Herald 10 summers ago, almost to this very day. We first became acquainted in Ohio when he labored at The Willard Times and Cherie and I ran The Greenwich Enterprise-Review.

Tecumseh came along in 1957 and I queried Jim to see if he'd like to team up 50/50. We toured the town and within an hour had made our decision.

It was a good move and the past decade has been happy and profitable for us. My only problem was that an idea for a book on photography has been gnawing away at me for about three years.

There is only one way to tackle such a project and it's to go as nearly full-time on it as possible. First of all, I had to divest myself of my share of The Herald.

Next came getting a sturdy desk (wooden, $25), which turned out to be too big to get into the basement and the giant toy had to be removed.

Thanks to neighbor lads Tim Irelan, Tom Horton, Spencer Curtis and Art Brazee and my son, Bernie, the old desk was taken apart, hauled down the stairs and reassembled in jig time.

The drawers are rapidly being filled up as I transfer a

WHAT A CATCH! — Dave Squires of 11191 Mills-Macon Hwy., caught this 20-lb., 36-in. lake trout in Lake Trout, Ontario, July 21. He was a member of a six-man fishing party that spent a week in the wilds near the White River area. It took Squires about 20 minutes to land the fish. Squires, along with fisherman Jim Archer of Plymouth, works at Fisher Body.

EDITORIAL — LBJ Plays Politics in Tragedy

LBJ picked a great time to play politics.

Life and property weren't worth a plug nickel in Detroit Monday and Tuesday as the commander-in-chief politicked like a ward heeler the week before an election.

LBJ was so anxious to take advantage of an opportunity to carve up George Romney and so timid at hurting feelings of civil rights leaders, he seemed blind to the crying needs of a city under siege.

Blabbing over and over again that due to the fact Governor Romney couldn't get things in line, he reluctantly was sending in federal troops.

Why shouldn't he get those soldiers into the area without delay? (Certainly he is quick enough to dispatch countless American boys into Vietnam.)

LBJ's reaction to one of our nation's most soul-crushing situations was obviously not that of a great president and he probably is going to regret it.

ASIDE FROM THIS unhappy aspect of the plundering and burning, what does the future hold and where do we fit in?

For one thing, non-perishable food is badly needed. An emergency collection agency for the Tecumseh-Adrian area has been established by church leaders with donations now being accepted at St. Peter's in Tecumseh, from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Thursday.

Elders Enjoy Bob-Lo Visit

By KATHY HALL

Bright and early July 21, 37 eager Senior Citizens boarded a Detroit-bound bus for a fun-filled day at Bob-Lo Island.

The larger part of the group was from Tecumseh, but a few from Hudson, Adrian and Clinton added a lot of pleasure to the day.

By 10 a.m., all were off the bus and on the ferry which took them on a luxurious cruise down the Detroit River into Lake Erie. They docked at beautiful Bob-Lo Island.

It was Senior Citizen Day at Bob-Lo and about 1,000 of the state's young old folks participated in the activities which were planned and supervised by the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association.

Throughout the afternoon, the seniors played bingo, danced to a live orchestra, played miniature golf, or just relaxed while taking the scenic train ride around the island.

At 4 p.m., the group once again boarded the S.S. Columbia for the return trip. While on the boat, many enjoyed dancing to a live orchestra, while others ambled around the ferry and made new acquaintances.

★

SOMEWHAT weary, but still young-at-heart group, arrived back at the community center at 7:30 p.m. with requests for other such excursions.

The seniors were accompanied by John Oberlin and Kathy Hall, both employees of Tecumseh Parks and Recreation, and Art Macham, also a city employee and his wife, Betty.

Clothes, Food for Riot Victims To Be Collected

Phil Duckham, owner of Modern Disposal which serves Tecumseh for trash and garbage pickup, has offered his services to assist needy families in riot-stricken Detroit.

Those who wish to contribute clothing — including children's — and canned food, may do so by placing these articles in clean, Modern Disposal trash cycles.

The sacks should be clearly marked "aid" and placed on porches, stoops or in garages, visible to the street.

Mr. Duckham will pick up the donations Friday in a pickup and then see that they're sent to Detroit as contributions from Tecumseh.

Passengers Are Injured in Accident

Although Tecumseh police investigated just one accident here the past two weeks, two persons suffered injuries and were taken to Herrick Hospital.

Carl H. Layman, Jr., 44, Petersburg, traveling east on W. Kilbuck St., collided with Shirley Ann Harvey, 29, of 3722 Noland Dr., in the intersection at S. Pearl St.

Neither Layman, who was cited for reckless driving, nor Mrs. Harvey suffered injuries, but their passengers were not so lucky.

Gordon Logan, 38, Adrian, passenger with Layman, and Louise Palmer, 49, of 307 Maiden Lane, were taken to the hospital for treatment.

Fertile Acres Farm Bureau Picnic Set

The Fertile Acres Farm Bureau picnic will be July 29 at noon at Camp Killarney.

This will be a family potluck. Bring your own dishes.

UP GOES ANTENNA — First receiver on the 200-foot cable television tower is adjusted by Paul Short of Ft. Worth, Tex., and Jerry Jacobs of Ft. Wayne, Ind. This one will bring in channels two and six. All told, there will be enough receiving units, each having a different appearance, to pull in 12 channels. Mr. Jacobs is technician in charge for GTEC Cable TV, with Bob Hawkins heading up the Fort Worth Tower Co. crew, which includes Jerry Bradley of Dallas, Mike Jackson of Angola, Ind., and Orville Brumley of Fort Worth., Work at the tower site is expected to be complete by the end of this week.

Camp O' the Hills Girls' Troop House Burns To Ground

The Shadow Valley Troop house at Camp O' The Hills was burned to the ground July 18 in the Timber Lake area, north of U.S. 12.

Cause of the fire has not been determined.

The building was new, having been built about a year ago.

It was used for both inside camping in the winter and for activities year around.

Mrs. John Hugel, assistant camp director, was mystified as to how the flames got such a start before it was noticed but said that Girl Scouts in the area were having lunch.

This could have been the reason the fire went undetected.

She also said that no one was hurt. Only the building and its contents were lost.

Council Seeks Purchase Bids for Dump Trucks

City Manager Cal Zorn was authorized by Council Monday night to seek bids for purchasing two dump truck chassis and three dump boxes.

Scheduled for the junkyard by city officials is the present 1945 dump truck still in use, and a 1956 model.

Paul Toland lost two Hereford cows when they were struck by lightning July 18 in the pasture behind the Toland barn at the corner of Killarney Rd. and M-50. The animals were worth about $250 each and were covered by insurance but Mrs. Toland said, "We feel badly. They were just like pets and the calf of one of them has been very lonely since his mother was killed. They must have been standing closely together but they weren't under a tree or anything."

Twice now, volunteer firemen have been called to 421 W. Pottawatamie St. Only thing, there is no such address. One alarm came last spring and then again Sunday. Voice on the phone was a woman's, reporting that the attached garage to her home was in flames. False alarms are serious and could land the caller in plenty of hot water.

Expo 67 apparently overwhelmed Frances Eberhardt, wife of the insurance baron. "Why just last night Elmer and I agreed that the British pavilion was finest one there," she was telling a friend, then turned to her hubby to ask, "Now what was it we saw in it?"

Seven olive drab helicopters, in military formation, roared through the skies above Tecumseh Monday evening at 7:35, headed for riot-torn Detroit.

Gosh, nary a Newspaper Bingo winner last week. So this time, we'll have 52 numbers.

Directing traffic during the street dance Friday will be uniformed auxiliary policemen Steve Illeck, Ken Lathrup, Stan Rentschler and George Halberstadt.

The Judy Fielder Memorial Fund now totals $342.40 with donations being accepted at The Herald. The cash is going to be presented to the family, along with letters and cards which accompanied contributions.

By accident Cindy Calhoun was left from the list of the Battle of the Bands contestants. Cindy is the organist in an all-girls' band called "The Inverted Order", one of the many vying for the $100 cash prizes. For a complete listing of the bands see Section C-2.

Would anyone like a cuddly kitty? A black cat has been roaming around the public library for over two weeks and needs a home. "The cat is very friendly with children and will make a wonderful pet," said the lady who has been feeding the stray. Just ask at the library for the cat that needs a home.

Long & Short

A lot of items are finding their way to the dump, but many which should, are not. I can't bear to part with them all, like that handsome appointment calendar with a page for each day of the year (1965), or the front-page layout of our tornado section (which required a reprint of 7,500 copies and was a sell-out.)

Darn this humidity, it's making me misty-eyed.

★

IF I TRIED to pick the most exciting event during my 16 years, it would take a year of consideration.

Right off the top of my head (as the advertising agency boys would muse), I'd mention the day two General Motors executives walked into the office to announce Fisher Body was building a plant here.

For sheer joy, there was the time Tecumseh's football team beat Adrian 6-0 in the mud, the first time such a thing had happened in modern times.

Countless other happenings will keep popping up whenever The Herald is mentioned, the friends we've made here — even the hostile creatures who let me know that I never could do anything right. (A minority, thank goodness.)

Running a newspaper is not like trying to win a popularity contest. Often you know what you print is going to cause a blowup.

But when it's public money concerned, or a public trust, the truth must come out. In the end, it makes for a lot finer community.

Once, a city councilman said to me, half in disgust, "The trouble with you, Riordan, is that you insist on calling a spade a spade."

★

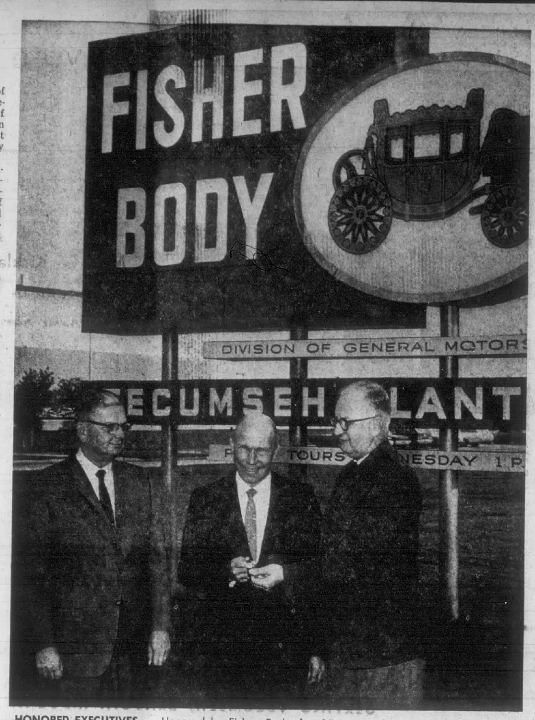
JIM WILL TAKE over completely as of next week and I know he's going to do a fine job. I wish him the best.

My association with him, Dorothy Grigg, Almina Hunt, Lonal Bishop, Bill Schooley and Mary Leismer on an almost daily basis for many years will be a difficult habit to shatter.

I hope they won't mind if I pop in from time to time, just to stand and watch as the frantic weekly edition is put together with the usual reckless rush, the last-minute gathering of news, the incessant ringing of the phones, the hum of the plastic engraver, the tinkle of mats falling into the Linotype assemblers and finally the groans and rumbles of the old Duplex press.

To you, faithful readers, and to you, wonderful Herald staff, I now take official leave.

So long.



HONORED EXECUTIVES — Honored by Fisher Body for 25 years of service were, left, Jay Marsh, senior buyer; Robert J. Broadbridge, superintendent, work standards and production engintering; and Gerald DeYoung, superintendent, production and materials control. The men were each awarded a watch. Photo by Jerry Milburn.

Watches Awarded

Fisher Body of Tecumseh has honored three of its executives for 25 years of service with the division.

Earning quarter - of - a - century awards were:

- Jay (Woody) Marsh, senior buyer.
- Gerald DeYoung, superintendent, production and material control.
- Robert J. Broadbridge, superintendent, work standard and production engineering.

Mr. Marsh, born in Lansing and graduated from Haslett High School, began his career with Fisher Body in 1942 as a senior clerk in the accounting department.

Following 24 months of military service, he was advanced to accountant and in 1955 was promoted to buyer, production materials in the Fisher Body Lansing plant. He held this position until his transfer to Tecumseh as senior buyer in March, 1965.

★

MR. DeYOUNG was born in Grand Rapids, graduated from Creston High School and attended Grand Rapids Junior College.

Mr. DeYoung began his career with Fisher Body in 1942 as an hourly employe in the planning and scheduling department at Fisher Body Grand Rapids No. 1.

A series of promotions led to his appointment in 1955 as Superintendent, Production and Material Control at Grand Rapids No. 2 where he worked until his transfer to Tecumseh in February, 1965.

★

MR. BROADBRIDGE attended General Motors Institute in Flint and was graduated with a degree in industrial engineering.

He was promoted to a time-study observer, labor standards analyst, labor standards estimator, senior methods engineer and labor standards supervisor.

Mr. Broadbridge was transferred to the Tecumseh Plant in February of 1965 as superintendent, work standards and production engineering.

His Fisher Body career was interrupted by three years' service in the Air Force during World War II.

B. Little To Call

Butch Little of Ohio will be the guest caller for the Shawnee Squares Dance Club July 29 at the Community Center.

All Western style square dancers are welcome to the Intermediate level dance beginning at 8 p.m.

Topics of Tipton

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Allen and family attended a family picnic Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Marion McCance at Devils Lake.

Recent afternoon guests of Mr. and Mrs. Wayland Kahle were Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Hall of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Harrison of Royal Oak.

Mrs. Harry Daniels and Mrs. Wayland Kahle attended a kitchen shower for Miss Greenwald Thursday night at Vineyard Lake given by Mrs. Charles Emery. Miss Greenwald will be married to William Witt of Toledo Sept. 9. She is the granddaughter of Mrs. Harry Daniels.

Mr. and Mrs. Grover Swarts have returned home after spending several days in Buffalo and Mt. Morris, N. Y.

Ray Smith of Adelaide, Australia, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Colyer and Steven of Blissfield were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Cook and family.

There will be a public card party at the K of P Hall July 29.

The Grandmothers' Club met Wednesday at the Simmons cottage at Wamplers Lake. A 12:30 p.m. luncheon was served to eight guests, after which two tables were filled for cards.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Cox entertained their card club Saturday evening. A potluck supper was served to 18 guests. Four tables were filled for euchre with prizes won by Mrs. Ray Jackson, Raynor Hardy, Mr. and Mrs. Bill LaFerriere and Mrs. Robert Karle.

NOTICE of Hearing

Jaycee Treasure Hunt Features TV Prize

A compact 9" Motorola transistor television set will be one of the highlights of the third Annual Jaycee Treasure Hunt Aug. 26.

Dr. W. C. Elwartowski, chairman of the event, is inviting the public to join with the members for an evening of fun with the drawing for the TV to climax the festivity.

The treasure hunt challenges players to unearth and decipher coded clues that lead from one destination to another, finally to a pre-arranged rendezvous for a late dinner and dancing.

Time limits are set and any player who is hopelessly stuck at a certain hour has a phone number to call for directions to the party.

Dr. Elwartowski has skillfully composed the clues, baffling but not incomprehensible. They will be the principal topic of conversation later in the evening as treasure hunters compare notes on how and when each went astray.

"Two separate searches will be run concurrently to avoid the traffic jams that have occurred in past years. Cash prizes will be awarded to winners in each group," said Dr. E.

He says nothing about the ultimate destination — except that there will be swimming and a buffet dinner as well as a band for dancing indoors or out at the water's edge.

Tickets are $10 a couple for the entire evening including the dinner and dancing.

Reservations are limited to 150 couples, 21 years or older. Additional information is available by calling 423-7800 or 423-3600, or by contacting any Jaycee.

Buys Citgo

He purchased the business from Gale Hooton, 110 S. Division St., who has operated it since 1933 except for six years from 1944 to 1950.

Mr. Hooton will operate the Citgo tank service, serving homes from his residence and the station, the same as in the past.

He started in the filling station business while still in school in 1929 — for Addie Clark when he operated a Standard Station at the corner of E. Chicago Blvd. and Ottawa Streets.

Mr. Hooton said, "I've seen a lot of people come and go, being on the main drag for that many years, and I still have a lot of friends."

He remarked that many funny coincidences have taken place over the intervening years.

Mr. Hooton and his wife, Esther, have two sons, Larry and Doug, and six grandchildren.

Bill Hollis, who has been employed by Hooton for 13 years at the station, said Tuesday, "I'm about to get used to it."

He said, too, that he plans "to offer the same good service as in the past, same hours and everything."

JAN COSTELLO AND DINO — Jan Costello, 15, and her mount, "Black Man" or "Dino," as she fondly calls him, are shown jumping in Ireland while her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Costello, are back in Tecumseh house hunting. The family of seven has been in Belfast, Northern Ireland, for the past two and one-half years. Mrs. C. said that they have enjoyed life there. Jan stayed with friends to continue winning prizes in show jumping in nearby towns and to attend the show at Dublin in August. Mr. Costello is only here for a week on business and will be bringing his daughter home with him when he comes Aug. 17 to remain permanently.

Tennis Are Playing

By DENICE ANDERSON

As one drives past the tennis courts in the wee morning hours, one is surprised at the bustling activity found there.

For four men, Tecumseh residents, work out every morning from 6-7, despite Daylight Savings Time, coldness or busy schedules.

Interested not only in keeping in shape, but also keeping in condition for the Adrian City Tennis Tournament, three of the regular players, Bob Cheevers, Ira Montague and Dr. Robert Murray, have entered competition in that tournament and have advanced in the doubles.

All were defeated in the singles.

Montague and Murray, teammates, have yet to play their first game in the doubles, but Cheers, teamed with Bart Haves of Adrian, won his matches, 6-1 and 6-3.

The tennis tournament, under the direction of Bruce Campbell, will feature second round play that will end July 29 at the Adrian College tennis courts.

Semi-finals will end Aug. 4 and finals will be held Aug. 5 at the College courts at 6:30 p.m.

★

CHEERS HAS been playing tennis since his high school days at Wayland, where he was on the tennis team.

"I've never taken lessons," said Cheers. "My playing is pretty normal."

Cheers won the doubles tournament in the Tecumseh City Tennis Tournament last year. He was teamed with Mike Brose, formerly of Tecumseh.

Three trophies were won by Cheers last winter at the Toledo Racquet Club as he took two seconds and one third place. Last year was his first in the Toledo competition and he plans on entering again this year.

Lee Prettyman of Tecumseh was Cheer's partner in Toledo and shared second place honors with him. Lee is the fourth regular who haunts the tennis courts during the early morning hours.

Cheers' wife, Alice, is presently taking tennis lessons under the direction of the Parks and Recreation staff. They have two sons, Robert, 6 and Steven, 3.

The tennis player is a project engineer at the Tecumseh Products where he has been employed for the past five years.

Aside from tennis, he enjoys fishing, hunting and has participated in slo-pitch baseball and basketball games throughout the seasons.

★

MONTAGUE PLAYED tennis on the Adrian High School team and has also competed in the Tecumseh City Tournament.

His indoor competition included the Toledo Racquet Club where he played last winter.

"I plan to play again," said Montague.

Montague's daughters, Kim, 11, Leslie, 14, and Amy, 9, are taking tennis lessons in affiliation with Tecumseh's Parks and Recreation Department. His wife, Joanne, doesn't play the sport.

A tool engineer at the Tecumseh Products, he has been employed there for 20 years.

"I am not too happy with the present Daylight Savings time," Montague noted.

"It's just getting light by 6 a.m., and pretty soon we won't be able to play because of lack of light."

"We play in the morning so we won't have to take time away from our families," he said.

"We're all hoping the present plans for a lighted court at The Pit will come about soon."

★

DR. MURRAY has been playing "longer than my game looks like."

A tennis fan in high school, the dentist has never taken lessons.

As for any outstanding swings — "Nope, I just miss them."

"I hope I can improve my game but I have so many bad habits."

Dr. Murray has been in tennis competition incuding the Tecumseh City Tournaments, the Adrian City Tournaments and the Toledo Racquet Club Tournaments.

He, teamed with Montague, won trophies in the Tecumseh competition and plans on entering again this year.

Dr. Murray and his wife, Virginia, have four sons: Bob, 16, Mark, 15, Paul, 13, and Peter, 11.

"Most of my plays are not as outstanding as I'd like them to be," Dr. Murray laughed, "but I make up for it with determination."

Dr. Murray has been a dentist for 18 years, 15 of which have been served in Tecumseh.

As far as other sports are concerned — "I just fool around with the kids, playing softball and football. I love horseback riding and swimming."

Dr. Murray and Montague will face competition in the first round of the doubles Friday at 6 p.m. at the Adrian College tennis courts.

★

"THIS YEAR'S tennis tournament began early to avoid conflict with August vacations," said Director Bruce Campbell.

"Representatives will be sent to the State Tennis Recreation Tournament to be held in mid-August at Ann Arbor," Campbell commented.

Trophies will be awarded to winners in the two divisions: men's singles and doubles.

"No women entered competition this year," noted Campbell.

SWING HIGH, SWING LOW — Dr. Robert Murray, left, Bob Cheers and Ira Montague practice mornings for the Adrian City Tennis Tournaments. The trio have advanced in the doubles and Murray and Montague will see action Friday night.

Britton Bachelors End 8-2 Season By Winning Duo

BRITTON — The Britton Bachelors baseball team, sponsored by J. J. Walper and Son, ended the regular season by posting an 18-15 win over Iott's Insurance, and an 8-7 win over Carson's Inn.

The double victories were the sixth and seventh straight wins for the Bachelors.

The team ended the regular season with an 8-2 record and they finished second place in the standings.

The Bachelors will round out the season playing two tournament games this week at Deerfield.

Police Win Fourth Game

► POLICE 15, LENAWEE FUELS 0

"Mike Clement, ace righthander of the Tecumseh Police, fired a no-hitter last Thursday night as the Police posted a 15-0 win over Lenawee Fuels," said Charles McLoughlin, Police manager.

"Clement issued three harmless walks and that, along with a Police error, was the extent of the Fuels base runners as he struck out 15 men en route to caping his fine pitching performance," the manager continued.

"Although Clement helped his own cause with three hits, he also received fine hitting support from his teammates as the Police banged out a total of 16 hits," said McLoughlin.

"As Eric Meyer and Frank Bock hit two singles apiece, the Police also showed fine power with triples by John Getz and Gregg Cote, along with doubles by Dave McLoughlin, Dan Knisely and Gary Wonderly eventually led to the Lenawee Fuels' downfall," he noted.

This was Police's fourth win.

► TWINS 10, INDIANS 8

The Indians were defeated for the first time this summer as the battle with the Twins went into overtime to bring a Twins victory, 10-8.

The winning Twins' pitcher was Larry Miller who pitched the last two innings after Allen Shafer had pitched for six innings.

"Dave Hemphill was the batting star for the Indians, driving in three runs with a triple to left field," reports Twins' manager, R. S. Rutherford.

Doug Bunch, Randy Knight and Allen Shafer all made outstanding plays in the field for the Twins, said Rutherford.

Indians' Danny Brooks, Dave Hemphill and Joe Mitchell teamed to execute a fine double play in the third inning to stop a Twins' rally, he noted.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Women's Editor

Somewhere in Florida, Orville and Ayesha Laidlaw have discovered the "fountain of youth" alright because the picture used in The Herald and also in the souvenir programs of their golden wedding anniversary was taken at Dixon Studio earlier this summer. In fact they came back early just to have it taken here.

Some of the 200 or so friends attending the open house Sunday suggested that perhaps it was one taken several years ago, but "No," it's just that 50 years together has been good, very good for the teachers of many a THS student.

Among the special friends coming to make the event so happy for the couple and their two sons and nine grandchildren were Mr. and Mrs. William Berkhoff of Mt. Clemens, just returned from a trip around the world, Mrs. Vincent Hewitt of Philadelphia, maid of honor and Mrs. Harold Griggs of Jackson, flower girl at the wedding in 1917.

Mrs. Laidlaw's sister, Mrs. Julia Homan of East Hampton, Conn., brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Raven of Bad Axe and Mrs. Floyd Kilmer of Dayton, O., a college friend of the bride as well as the next door neighbor's children, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Oseid of California and Mrs. Betty Griffith of Chagrin Falls, O., and their children were all present.

What with all the friends, the beautiful five tiered cake flanked by gorgeous gold vases of Fuji chrysanthemums, it's difficult to imagine that the couple could have beamed any more radiantly half a century ago than they did Sunday.

√

Mr. and Mrs. George Sprecher of Portsmouth, O., left Thursday after visiting her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Eddie Kirkland, Susan and Kevin last week. The group went to Lansing to visit Dean Kirkland Wednesday.

√

Cpl. and Mrs. Michael Meade have returned to Camp LeJeune, N.C., after spending a week with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Meade and the Rev. and Mrs. Russell J. Cooper.

√

Mrs. Thomas Rigg's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Martin and family of Quantico, Va., and her father, Melvin Martin, of Charleston, W. Va., left Friday with the elder Mr. Riggs to return home.

√

Mr. and Mrs. George Forgacs of Riverside, Calif., are the proud parents of a 6-lb., 11-oz. son, George Christopher, born July 7. Mr. and Mrs. William Houser of Occidental Hwy., and Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Oyer of Riverside are the grandparents. Mrs. Forgacs was the former Bonnie Oyer.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holdridge and Mr. and Mrs. Rick Holdridge and her daughter spent last weekend with Mr. and Mrs. Terry Holdridge on their boat near Elmira, N.Y., on Seneca Lake, one of the Finger Lakes.

√

Riley Koertge left Saturday with his son, David, to go to Wichita, Kan., where another son will fly them to the west coast to visit a daughter. They expect to be home next week.

Pony Loop

► G & J 4, TPW 3

Quick work by Craig Smith saved the game for G&J as the team defeated TPW, 4-3.

With no outs and Vern Bennet on second base, Mike Kennedy, TPW pitcher, stepped up to the plate and belted what should have been a solid base hit if Smith hadn't scooped it up at shortstop position.

Kennedy and Denny Puffer were the losing battery.

Tilton, Smith and Reed were outstanding G&J hitters. Bennett led the TPW batters.

► G&J 7, Eagles 0

First inning action cinched the game for G&J, but they went on to defeat the Eagles, 7-0.

"In the top of the fifth, Paul Randall, Craig Smith and Bob Reed all had solid hits," said Buck Smith, G&J manager.

Randall connected for a solid single, then Smith belted a triple to bring Randall home.

"On the next pitch," said Smith, "Reed sent a long hit into deep area which tallied for a homer."

Reed and Smith were the winning battery with Reed fanning 12.

► VFW 6, G & J 5

VFW sneaked past G & J in the eighth inning to take a victory, 6-5.

Jack Greenfield hurled the winning game but was relieved in the eighth by Rick Schuyler. Greenfield fanned 10 and Schuyler struck out one.

In the bottom of the eighth, Steve Hallenbeck walked, then stole second and third. Tom Prichard went to first base on an interference call on the catcher, reports Jack Schuyler, VFW manager.

► G & J 6, Eagles 5

Steve Tilton, G & J catcher, stole all the way around the bases in the bottom of the sixth to make what proved to be the winning run as his team defeated the Eagles, 6-5.

Bob Reed, G&J pitcher, fanned ten.

Reed, Paul Randall, Craig Smith and Craig Brown were leading G&J hitters.

Jackie Jardine, 19, an Auto Club secretary in Detroit, is wearing a blouse showing one of the new "Bring ME Back Alive!" iron-on transfers which are being distributed free to the public at The Herald office. This summer the Auto Club is stressing that vacation trips are safer than going from home to the local store. An investigation of 363 fatal Michigan accidents last summer points out that 82 per cent of the 504 drivers involved were within 25 miles of home not on vacation when their accidents occurred.

Obituaries

● JOHN HULL

Services were held Tuesday at the Dunn Funeral Home for John Hull, 74, of Clinton who died at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for only one week.

He had been in failing health for the past five years.

Mr. Hull was born Sept. 21, 1892, in Petersburg, Nov. 12, 1951, he married Abbie Smith House.

He was employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. for 19 years retiring in 1960.

He was a member of Tecumseh Friends Church.

Survivors include his wife, a granddaughter, Mrs. Jim Teegarden, Clinton, four stepsons, Ernest Groch, Clinton, Carson House Jr., 708 Outer Dr., David House, 5261 Macon Rd., and Gerald, 2142 Russell Rd., and three stepdaughters, Mrs. Evercette Philo, Clinton, Mrs. Richard Shepherd of Adrian and Mrs. Clark Pearson, 204 W. Pottawatomie.

Two sisters, Mrs. Ray Amiffion and Mrs. Etta Sharp of Palmyra and one brother, Charles Hull, of Blissfield, also survive.

He was preceded in death by one son, Harold Hull, who died in action in World War II.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham officiated and burial was in Deerfield Cemetery.

No newspaper loves Tecumseh like The Herald!

Wins Trophy

Pete Valentine received the trophy for fastest qualifier Friday evening at the Manchester Speedway for the Mid-Season Championship Trophy Race with Duane Valentine second, and Don Eagles third.

The first heat trophy went to Larry Gray with Don Taylor taking second and Louis Stemen, third.

The Super Stocks had their show in the third heat with Don Snider taking the victory, Ed Todd, second and Chuck Hines, third.

Doug Harvey took home the fifth heat trophy with Jim Martin, second and Von Hinkle, third.

The Super Stocks came round again for the sixth heat with Don Wiltsie crossing first, Mel Pruden, second and Ed LaRowe, third.

The seventh heat win went to Herbert Holbrook with George Passmore, second and Bill Davis, third.

The 20 lap Consey was a battle all the way with three of the leaders disqualified, leaving Doug Harvey, the official winner with Von Hinkle, second.

The 25 lap semi-feature presented a five car battle for first place with Butch Morell coming in on the 21 lap and holding to the finish, followed by Eddie Green, second and Bob Connin third.

A number of cars spun out in three restarts for the 50 lap feature which finally got under way with Dick Slade in an early lead.

Duane Valentine grabbed first position in no time and held to the victory line, taking home the trophy. Slade placed second and Don Taylor, third.

Nineteen cars started in the 30 lap Super Stock Race with a six car pile up on the second lap.

Past Chiefs Club Meets at Home of Mrs. H. Reed

TIPTON — The Past Chiefs Club met at the home of Mrs. Herbert Reed with Mrs. Laurence Mohr assisting.

Secret Sister names were revealed for the past year. There will be no August meeting. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Garrett Linger in September.

Cards were played with high prize and lone hand prize won by Mrs. Lyle Bailey. Low prize was won by Mrs. Dale Cook.

Mrs. Ernest Gleason won the mystery gift.

Card of Thanks

With deepest gratitude I extend this word of thanks for the many kind acts of sympathy expressed by thoughtful friends at the time of Paul's death. These kindnesses and flowers have meant much to me. Many thanks to the Fellowship for the dinner and to Dr. Wilson and Lester Proctor for their helpfulness. Also the Rev. McKenna for his comforting words and the pallbearers I say thank you.

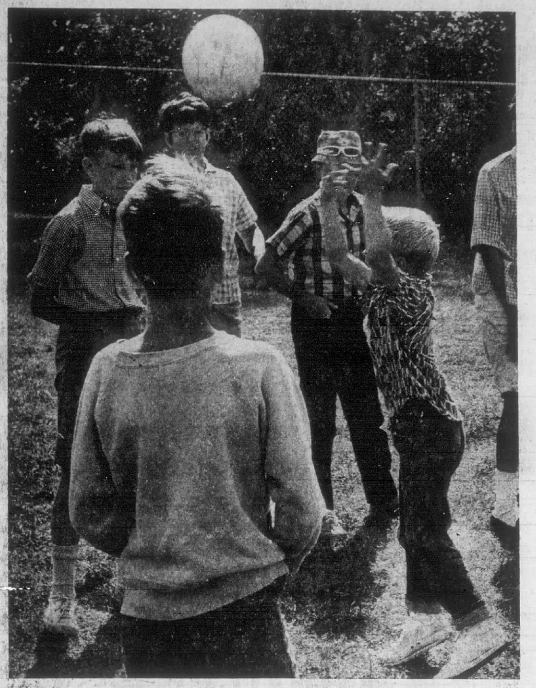
TECUMSEH'S SIDEWALK SALE DAY – FRIDAY – IS SPONSORED BY LOCAL MERCHANTS & TECUMSEH CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.



SPUD! — Sam Smith gets into the action along with the rest of the gang at Herrick Park as they bang a tired volleyball back and forth. One thing's for sure, they don't stand still very long.

Tot Lot Fun Time

Children no longer need be in mother's way these summer days as school is out and books are put away. Four tot lots, sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department, are in full swing each morning for kids of all ages, under supervision of willing, eager teenagers. PHOTO BY BILL WHITING

YEEEOW! — Sam Smith and Kendra Goldmann get the full treatment as they race through the "mill" at the Herrick Park Tot-Lot. They didn't really do anything bad, it was just something to break the monotony. Fun? You bet!

You Get ALL 5 in Every Prescription!

BOYS PEE WEE BASEBALL

	W	L
Dalton's Little Devils	9	2
Hensing's Mudhens	7	4
Mobley's Moles	4	7
Lewis' Lunkheads	2	9

In final games last week, the Devils beat the Mudhens, 11 to 10, to clinch the championship.

In other games, the Devils whipped the Moles, 26-9, and edged the Lunkheads, 8-7.

The Moles bested the Lunkheads, 13-11, and the Mudhens skinned the Moles, 6-4.

MOMS' SOFTBALL

Bad weather prevented the mothers from playing last week. However, the two teams were to scrimmage Wednesday night and will challenge the Junior Girls All-Stars next Wednesday at 8 p.m. on the athletic field.

A final game, in which the Moms will take on the Senior girls, is scheduled for Aug. 9 at 9 p.m.

TENNIS

PLAYGROUNDS

Last week was a busy one at the four Tecumseh playgrounds.

Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday were spent playing checkers to determine who would compete in the tournament on Friday.

In the 5 to 9-year old group, the semi-finalists were Steve Wright of Patterson, Brad Sisson of Herrick Park, Danny Harrold of Shady Lane and Rollie Litteral of Tecumseh Acres. Danny Harrold won the championship.

Those competing against Frank were Randy Macham of Patterson, Neil Booze of Herrick Park, and Roger Calzada of Shady Lane.

This is Pet Week at the playgrounds. Tuesday each playground held a Stuffed Animal Contest. Wednesday was devoted to live pets, as will be Thursday.

On Friday, Doll Day, girls are asked to bring their favorite dolls to compete for ribbons.

The weekly picnic will also be held Friday at each playground.

Next week is Physical Fitness Week. Children will be tested Monday through Wednesday. On Thursday each playground will have a Mock Olympics. Winners will compete Friday at Patterson.

August 7-11 marks the end of playground activities for the summer. A hot dog roast is scheduled during that week.

SWIM CLUB

The Swim Club will travel to Adrian Saturday for a rematch with the YMCA at 7 p.m.

Ypsi Lakeview will host the local swimmers August 5.

Coach Larry Merx also plans to take some swimmers to the state swim meet at Grand Rapids.

Membership in Tecumseh's newest club stands well over 100, according to Larry. Those who still wish to join may try out at any practice session, each Tuesday and Thursday at 5 p.m. at the pool.

GIRLS' PEE WEE SOFTBALL

Although the Indians showed lots of spirit, they were whipped by the Red Sox on Thursday, 20-8.

Nina Murphy hit two home runs for the losers and Cathy Retan had one.

The Red Sox were led by Melissa Barton, who hit two homers. Connie Retan of the Red Sox showed good defensive work as she pulled an unassisted double play.

GIRLS JUNIOR SOFTBALL

The energetic Female Sluggers subdued Nancy's Nicies, 13-9. Three of the Sluggers' runs came on Beverly Miller's homer. The Nicies came back to tie things up, only to see the Sluggers pull away and ice the game.

For the Nicies, Chris Kooplin and Linda Naugle each had a single and triple.

Thursday marks the end of softball for both girls' league. Watermelon will be the feature of next Tuesday's awards presentations at Kiwanis Park.

Gunder Hurls No-Hit Game

► ROTARY 3, UNION 0

Dan Gunder pitched a no-hitter to lead his Rotary team to victory over the Union, 3-0.

"Gunder's pitching highlighted the game," said Mel Murphy, manager.

Gunder walked five Union batters and fanned 15.

Jim Roberts was his catcher.

Mike Murphy, Union catcher, walked twice for Union and caught a good game.

"Larry Whelan, Rotary centerfielder, led off with a line drive single in the third," noted Murphy "and scored after teammate Will Gould walked and Jim Roberts singled.

► ROTARY 4, CREDIT UNION 3

It wasn't until the ninth inning of the game that Rotary pulled ahead of the Credit Union to defeat that team, 4-3.

Dan Gunder, Rotary pitcher, fanned 16 batters until he was relieved in the sixth inning by Mark Murphy, who struck out four.

Gunder relieved sixth inning catcher, Jim Roberts.

"Kevin Mack, Rotary third sacker, played an outstanding defensive game," noted Manager Mel Murphy, "getting some fine back-up by Mark Murphy and Jim Roberts."

Cort Larned, Rotary shortstop, walked to lead off the ninth inning and scored on a fielder's choice to tie the score.

Fred Sisty was the losing pitcher with 14 strike-outs. He was relieved by Ray Gould. Tom Tilton was their catcher.

Gunder and Terry Pearson of Rotary and Bob Beavers of Credit Union were the leading hitters.

Giants Stomp Twins, 26-18

► GIANTS 20, TWINS 18

Despite a 15-9 lead going into the sixth, the Twins still lost to the Giants, 20-18, reported Harry Stanifer, Giant manager.

Eleven runs in the last inning took the team to victory, said Stanifer, and eight walks and timely hitting by Jakey Hebert, Kent Jacoby and Phil Carter brought in the inning runs.

Jacoby was on the mound for the Giants and Chris Stanifer was behind the plate.

Starting pitcher for the Twins was Allen Shafer who held the Giants to just five hits and two runs until he was relieved in the fourth inning by Doug Bunch, said Stanifer.

Larry Miller was the Twins' catcher.

John Gaberowski and Tim Rutherford, along with Bunch and Miller, were outstanding Twins' hitters.

► RED SOX 17, BRAVES 3

Mike Moffatt fanned eight to lead the Red Sox to victory over the Braves, 17-3.

Rick Creswell and Shawn Dalton were the losing battery.

Indians Attack TPW, 4-0

► INDIANS 4, TPW 0

Indian Rich Bunch starred in the field as he had 12 put-outs from his short-stop position, reports Herb Camfield and Bud Crampton, as the Indians defeated TPW, 4-0.

Steve Camfield, Indians pitcher, scattered four singles through seven innings and in the last inning with a runner on first, he struck out the heart of the batting order to record the first Indian victory of the year.

Indian catcher Jim Kane played a fine defensive game by not allowing a pass ball and throwing out every runner attempting to advance on the base paths, the reporters noted.

TPW Vern Bennett, starting pitcher, picked up six strikeouts while allowing four runs on four hits.

Kennedy also served as Bennett's catcher and Denny Puffer was Kennedy's catcher.

Indian Zip Conklin made several fine scoops at first base completing the plays from Bunch and Camfield who accounted for 20 of the 21 outs in the game.

In the third inning, Jim McClain was hit by a pitched ball and Zip Conklin walked. Rich Bunch doubled the two runners home.

Camfield singled Bunch home and took second on the throw to the plate. Kane singled Camfield home to end the scoring.

Bennett, John Travis, Roger Slick and Dave Kelly were outstanding TPW hitters.

Adrian Eagles To End Season at Island Park

The Adrian Eagles play their last league games of the year this weekend when they take on Kalamazoo and Detroit beginning at 7 p.m. Saturday at Island Park in Adrian.

The team will play Lansing there at 2 p.m. Sunday.

That will conclude the season except for the Labor Day Tournament.

Eagles 2nd in State Tourney

The Adrian Eagles lost the Michigan-Ohio Fastball League state tournament in the final game but placed second in the nine team competition.

In the first state tournament game in Midland last Friday, the Adrian Eagles trounced Ypsilanti, 21-1.

Every player on the Eagles had at least one hit with Darlene Borton of Hudson leading the attack with four hits.

★

Yvonne Freeman of Vandercook Lake, Eloise Dierker of Maumee, O., and Muriel Schneider each collected two hits for Adrian.

Marion Rozelle was again the winning pitcher.

★

The Eagles scored two runs in the fifth on a single by Beverly Rutz of Kalamazoo. Yvonne Freeman was safe on an error and Jan Chatfield scored her in on a sacrifice.

Elaine Langenderfer of Adrian doubled and made it all the way home on two errors.

That ended Adrian's scoring and things looked good for the Eagles as they had a 4-1 lead going into the bottom of the seventh.

But hometeam Midland did not let their followers down and pushed across four big runs to win the game.

They had three big walks and three hits in scoring the runs off starter Muriel Schneider and eventual loser Bev Rutz.

★

This left each team with one defeat in the double elimination bracket, so the Eagles took a 15 minute break and played their third game of the day.

Muriel Schneider was on the mound to begin the game but was replaced in the second by Marion Rozelle who was pitching her fifth game of the tournament.

Four runs were scored in that inning, two in the fifth and one in the sixth to give the Midland fans seven runs to cheer about.

The Eagles scored four runs but that was not enough to down the inspired Midland team.

Adrian's Elaine Langenderfer was named most valuable infielder of the tournament.

Gals Defeat Unbeaten Monroe, 10-7

The Tecumseh gals put on their hitting shoes Thursday and defeated the previously unbeaten team from Monroe, 10-7.

The Indians scored one run in the second, two each in the fourth and fifth and five big runs in the sixth.

Tecumseh took a 3-2 lead in the fourth but Monroe came back on one hit and five runs in the fifth to take a 7-5 lead at the end of the inning.

The gals from THS came roaring back in the sixth.

Kathy Hall walked, Gail Green singled and Jackie Rodgers tripled to drive in two runs.

Peggy Martinus singled and stole second to set up the stage for a home run by Emily Manwaring.

That was all the runs needed by the Indians as they put Monroe down with one hit in the sixth.

Emily led Tecumseh hitters with a double, two home runs and scored three runs.

Little Garden Club Tours Beauty Spot

July 18 the Little Garden Club of Tecumseh took a tour along with the Junior 4-H Gardeners to rediscover Hidden Lake Gardens.

"As you follow the trails through the Gardens, you are impressed by the prominent knolls, the deep valleys, the tunnel-like depressions and the rounded boulders scattered over the surface," said Mrs. Richard Gobba of 614 Outer Dr.

Demonstration plots for growing a variety of dependable bulbs, annuals and perennials for home gardening are located near the greenhouse, she noted.

The greenhouse, too, serves an educational function with its display of plants suitable for specific conditions or locations indoors, Mrs. Gobba said.

A tour was taken of the Hidden Lake Gardens Center building. An exhibit concourse, auditorium, meeting rooms, reference library and an information counter comprise the building.

A sack lunch was enjoyed on the grounds after touring. Chairman for the tour was Mrs. Orrie Gilbert.

Camera Fun

More than 1,000 awards will be made for photographs taken by persons vacationing in Michigan and 12 other midwest states — Illinois, Indiana, Iowa, Kansas, Kentucky, Minnesota, Missouri, Nebraska, North Dakota, Ohio, South Dakota and Wisconsin.

The contest is sponsored by the Tourist Promotion Departments of the 12 states and first prize includes a Chrysler boat, motor and trailer, a week's vacation for two, a movie camera, a set of water skis and fishing gear.

The photographs must be taken in the 13-state area and show scenes, points of interest or people having fun. They will be judged on the basis of human interest and general appeal.

The contest is open to black and white or color prints, color transparencies or color slides, not more than 10 inches in the longest dimension. Negatives will be required for any prints which receive prizes, but should not be submitted until requested.

Undeveloped film will not be accepted.

Contest entry envelopes can be obtained in Michigan at more than 60 photo dealers, from the state's four regional tourist associations and their members, the eight highway information centers or by writing the Michigan Tourist Council, Lansing, Mich., 48926.

If an entry envelope cannot be obtained, entries can be sent to Mid-America Photo Contest, c/o Desaulniers and Company, P.O. Box 522, Moline, Ill., 61265.

The contest closes Nov. 30, 1967, and all entries must be postmarked on or before that date and received on or before Dec. 15, 1967.

Water Ordinance Set To Hike Rates of Water, Sewage

Tecumseh's new water ordinance was given its final reading by Council recently.

The ordinance raises both water and sewage rates and goes into effect immediately. Local residents will first notice the hike with their October billing.

Purpose of the raise, is to finance a new well field, north of the city near Staib Rd.

Macon Notes

By MRS. HAMILTON MOORE, JR.

The three circles will not hold their meetings for August. The general meeting will be held at the regular time.

The Rev. Thomas Badley, the new minister for the Macon Methodist Church, spoke his first sermon last Sunday. He and his wife and daughter plan to move into the parsonage Wednesday. They formerly were from Azalia.

The annual Macon Methodist Church picnic was enjoyed by 40 persons last Sunday as a picnic dinner was served at 1 p.m. in the church yard. The afternoon was spent playing soft ball and visiting. Ice cream and cake were served.

The Macon Community Club had to move their Tuesday evening picnic to the home of Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore because of the weather. Eighteen members and guests enjoyed a chicken supper and watermelon. Following a short business meeting, the pledge to the American Flag was given and the Lord's Prayer repeated. Then each shared a joke or happy memory. The group was invited to the Dewey Sturdevant cottage at Sand Lake for their August meeting. Mrs. David Bush and Mrs. Henrietta Lindsley of Tecumseh were guests.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Zick and son, Phillip, have returned from a week's trip to Expo '67.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Rowe had Donald Smith of Milan and Mrs. Carol Williams of Ypsilanti as dinner guests Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. James Thomas and family recently attended the Williams-Baker reunion at Round Lake.

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Mitchell and grandson, Earl Knight, of Jacksonville, Fla., called on Mrs. Grace E. Moore and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore, Thursday. They were en route to Manton to see his mother. They will return in a couple of weeks for a longer visit. They were Thursday supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore and family and Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore and Rodney at the Alderdyce cottage on Iron Lake.

Mrs. Gerald Carey, Sr., of Ypsilanti, accompanied her sister, Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore, to La Crosse, Ind., Friday. They attended the funeral of their cousin, Chansey Glen Bruder, Saturday afternoon. They returned home Sunday.

Mrs. Lilah Howell spent a few days last week with her son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Howell, in Dearborn.

Jim, Len and Mark Yoder are spending a month at Mystic Lake Camp in northern Michiger

Nancy Twork has returned home after spending several days in northern Michigan and a trip to Expo '67. She accompanied Mr. and Mrs. Sam Guntrept.

Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore called on Mrs. Delmer Bruder of Ypsilanti, Sunday. She is a patient in the Beyer Hospital, where she underwent surgery last Wednesday.

Mrs. Dick Meyers Entertains Cousins

Mr. and Mrs. William Vint, Sr., of Bellshill, Scotland, and Mr. and Mrs. William Vint, Jr., and daughter, Sue Ann, of Toronto, Canada, have been visitors at the home of their cousins, Mrs. Richard Meyers of Red Mill Dr.

It has been 32 years since the cousins last saw each other.

Bauer Manor, in operation since 1839, was originally an old stagecoach inn that accommodated passengers as they journeyed from Detroit to Chicago on an eight-day trip.

Now owned by Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Doren, the popular establishment across US-12 on the north shore of Evans Lake, still holds the old furnishings of yesteryear, antiques that take visitors back to the days when the Manor first had its start.

In air conditioned comfort, vacationers and year-r..nd residents alike, enjoy the specialties of the house which include Chicken Supreme, prime rib of beef, steaks and ham.

Included with the dinners are crusty individual loaves of homemade bread, biscuits with shortcake, homemade preserves and pickles along with special homemade soups and pies.

Bauer Manor is open daily from 11 a.m. to 8 p.m. or later by reservation.

The establishment is a popular place for catered parties, banquets and wedding receptions. Reservations may be made by calling 431-2506.

If you have a hunting dog, or any other kind of dog for that matter, those coming August "Dog Days" can be rather hard on him.

He will have to keep cool and this includes a constant supply of fresh water.

Some dogs, though, and particularly the retrieving type like Labs, don't know a good deal when they see it. They insist on picking up their water dishes and trying to move them around; thus dumping out the water.

Well, a friend of ours solved this one in good shape by heading for an old auto junk yard.

There he bought a couple of old brake drums. These he fitted out with some round, shallow pans that would just nest inside the drums.

His dogs tested out the 10-pound load a few times, then decided it just wasn't worth the effort.

That was the last time they spilled their water.

EVER STOP to give a thought to the reason why a fish actually strikes a lure?

Based on observations of researchers, these are some of the reasons:

- HUNGER — Fish stomach is empty but it was seen striking at minnows before it was caught.
- ANGRY — Fish was spotted and 34 casts later it struck.
- GLUTTONY — With stomach and throat full, bass still strikes a plug.
- GREED — Small fish starts for lure, bigger one beats him to it.
- CURIOSITY — Fish swallows lure, strikes it at boat.
- REFLEX ACTION — Lure hits water, fish strikes instantly.
- PROTECTIVE INSTINCT — Fish on spawning bed bumps lure away from area.

What's that? All the time you thought it was your skill?

WHAT HAPPENS to all those cock pheasants not shot by hunters?

Intensive studies by biologists show that at least 50 per cent of the cocks alive at the end of a hunting season will die from various causes during the following winter, spring and summer and will not appear in hunters' bags the following fall.

Cock pheasants cannot be stockpiled from one hunting season to the next.

Hustlers Present Exhibits

Lois and Robert Stamats were hosts for the North Franklin Hustlers 4-H Club meeting when demonstrations were presented by:

Barbara Vincent — Swine program

Charles Munger — Selecting Corn For Show

Bruce Carlton — Digestion of a Cow

Joyce Richardson — Care of Horse Equipment

Gregg Williams — Engaging a Film

Plans were started for the annual Lenawee County Fair. Health records were checked.

Barbara Vincent has been selected as one of the county "Tel-Award" winners and will participate in the state for a Club Congress trip to Chicago.

Members were chosen by records participation in club work.

Plans were made for the final club tour for the year July 23 at 1 p.m., to start at Gregg Williams home.

The tour will be concluded by a swim at Tom Carlton's home.

Parents are invited. Each member will show their livestock or corn project.

Lois Stamats was in charge of recreation and refreshments were served by Mrs. Stamats.

A special meeting will be held for Junior Leaders and Leaders at Patti Aebersold's home Aug. 8 to complete plans for the fair.

Mrs. Claude Creger and Mrs. Tom Adams and the junior leaders will attend the pre-fair meeting to be held at the Lenawee County fairgrounds Aug. 3 at 8 p.m.

Barnes-Carruthers Circus To Perform at the State Fair

The Michigan State Fair has scheduled a big, free, three-ring circus in the Grandstand for six days of the annual Fair which opens Aug. 25 and continues through Labor Day, Sept. 4.

It is the Barnes-Carruthers Circus which will be free for patrons once they are on the grounds. General admission to the Fair, itself, is $1.50 with children 12 and under free.

The circus entertainment will feature three rings of animals, clowns and daredevils including sway pole, aerial ladder, trapeze and tight wire acts.

Beauty Queens Urged To Enter State Fair Contest

Michigan beauty queens are reminded that the deadline to enter the Miss Michigan State Fair contest is Aug. 18.

Contestants must have won a sponsored, live, queen contest held in Michigan since September, 1966, and must be between 16 and 2 years of age and single.

A queen who entered last year's contest but who has won a new title since September may re-enter under her new title.

Application forms are available from Cleighton Melin, Michigan State Fair, Detroit, Mich. 48203.

The Fair opens Aug. 25 and runs through Labor Day, September 4.

Pocklingtons Have Reunion

The Pocklington Reunion will be held July 30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rieve, 5151 Feller Rd., Tipton.

The potluck dinner will begin at 1 p.m.

Mr. and Mrs. Ward Perso, 409 W. Pottawatamie St., announce the marriage of her daughter, Sharon Lynn Fielder, to William F. Garrett of Los Angeles, Calif. The wedding was in the Desert Bell Chapel in Las Vegas, Nev., July 22. Mr. and Mrs. Garrett will reside in Los Angeles, where Mrs. Garrett is employed by Cowell and Company. Her husband is with the Union Oil Co.

PLAY NEWSPAPER BINGO

WE'RE GIVING AWAY $650 IN BINGO BUCKS

'Bingo Bucks' Spend Like Cash at Participating Merchants Listed Below

Winners Last Week

SIXTH GAME

BLUE CARDS

JULY 31 to AUG. 6

Here How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of The Tecumseh Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Check the classified ads for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS — YOU HAVE A "BINGO" — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spends like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE TECUMSEH HERLAD: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Wednesday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards each week will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE HERALD, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The Herald. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the publicli...aries. You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be some place in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

Touch of Past

By MAXINE CALHOUN

1857

Our worthy marshal has arrested several pigs and a few cattle and confined them in the village tombs. Friends may call for them and pay for their keep.

1887

The new Clinton Woolen Mill will be lighted by electricity.

Three candidates for membership in the Free Methodist Church were baptized in the river near the Globe Mill Sunday.

The paper mill is closed on account of low water and hot weather.

Sunday was the hottest day in Michigan in over 50 years.

A new club house has been erected by Hunt's orchestra at Sand Lake, situated on the west shore, directly across from Putnamis Hotel.

1897

A Britton citizen tallied the trains in and out of that village Thursday and counted 51 trains in 24 hours.

1907

Orson Peters has sold his interest in the billiard and pool room to Arthur Pocklington and has purchased the Fred Aldrich bowling alley.

Lightning struck Isaac Mills' barn in Macon Tuesday in eight places.

The hotel called The Tavern, which opened three months ago in the old Patterson House, closed Wednesday.

1917

Myra Chase, who teaches in Calumet, won a Ford car, given away by a Calumet dry goods store.

Fire at the farm of Fred Shough, near Britton, caused a $2,500 loss July 22.

Mrs. E. Reckner has purchased the Cozy Cafe from Frank Ferris.

1937

A new $15,000 modern dairy plant, dealing exclusively in pasteurised milk and cream, was opened this week at 108 W. Logan St., by Clarence Gilman.

The Hammond Tavern and Smoke House on W. Chicago Blvd., was sold this week by A. P. and M. E. Hammond to John Frantz.

The Blue Water Bridge connecting the United States and Canada at Port Huron to Point Edward [illegible] now in progress.

A reception for the new pastor of the Methodist Church and his family, Rev. E. F. Hidebrandt, will be held Friday.

1947

The world premiere of Perry Hayden's sound and full color movie, depicting the six years of sowing, harvesting and tithing of a cubic inch of wheat, will take place at the Adrian Fair Grounds Saturday night. Dr. George Crane, noted psychologist of Chicago, who named the book and movie "God Is My Landlord," will be present.

The Village of Tecumseh officially accepted the gift of street signs presented to it by the Rotary Club Tuesday evening.

The committee soliciting for funds for the new Chamber of Commerce is most optimistic. C. O. Butler states that they have not received a single "no" answer and in several cases, a larger contribution was made than anticipated.

Eldon D. Colthurst and Albert Metz, co-partners in Tecumseh Equipment Company, plan to sell and service the new Edsel medium price car line to be introduced this fall by Ford Motor Company.

SAFEST BIKE IN TOWN — Young Bobby Cheers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Cheers of 408 Outer Dr., really has something to be proud of. His bicycle placed first among the 52 contestants in the recent Safety Check conducted by the Parks and Recreation Department. He even sports his own flashing safety belt to let people know where he's going, or been.

Moffatt To Visit In Jackson Area for Exchange Day

Don Moffatt, superintendent of parks and recreation, has returned from the July 12-14 annual recreation conference in Ann Arbor.

He will participate in recreation executive exchange day and will be visiting the Jackson area, in the program modeled after the mayor exchange program.

Aimed at spotlighting public, private and commercial recreation programs, it will give recreation leaders a new look at what is being done to answer leisure-time demands in other cities and towns.

July has been proclaimed Recreation and Parks Month by Gov. George Romney. The conference was sponsored by the Michigan Recreation and Parks Association.

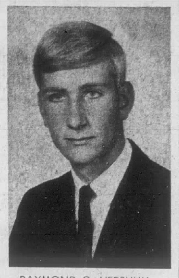
He's Now CG Cadet



RAYMOND G. VERSHUM

Coast Guard Cadet Raymond G. Vershum, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Vershum of 453 N. Main, Britton, is one of more than 300 newly-appointed cadets of the Fourth or freshman, class at the U. S. Coast Guard Academy in New London, Conn.

As there are no congressional appointments to the Coast Guard Academy, he was named to its Class of 1971 after competing against other applicants through the College Entrance Examination Board tests, and a review of his high school and other credentials.

He and his classmates are already involved in a military, academic and physical conditioning program designed to prepare them for the start of the fall semester in September.

Throughout the summer, the new cadets will be issued uniforms, taught the customs and traditions of the Academy and drilled in military formation.

Academic refresher courses in mathematics and English will help the cadets begin the four-year college curriculum which, when completed, bestows a Bachelor of Science degree, and a commission as a Coast Guard officer.

The new cadet is a 1967 graduate of Britton High Schoo.

Sunday Sermon

"How excellent is thy loving kindness, O God! Therefore the children of men put their trust under the shadow of thy wings."

Vietnam Plan Is Praised

Congressman Marvin L. Esch said that he is pleased at the response he has been receiving on his proposal for staged de-escalation of the war in Vietnam.

"Reaction from letter writers, newspaper editors and my Congressional colleagues has been overwhelmingly positive, Rep. Esch said. "Most have not debated the details of the proposal. Rather they have expressed interest in the idea and praised our efforts to open a meaningful dialogue on the present policy. In this respect, I think we have been extremely successful."

Esch reported that of the two hundred letters he has received so far — more than half of which came from his district — less than 10 percent were opposed to the plan that he and seven other House Republicans released two weeks ago.

"Comments from other Members of Congress have also been encouraging," Esch claimed. He referred specifically to several quotes from key Republicans.

Rep. Gerald Ford, House Republican leader said, "It is important for Members of Congress and particularly Republicans to constantly explore new approaches. It is wholesome to have new ideas. This is not inconsistent with my statements that we must keep the pressure on."

Rep. Melvin Laird, Chairman of the House Republican conference, on the House floor congratulated the eight sponsors of the plan for reopening the discussion on Vietnam policy and said, "The subject is too vital and the price we are paying too high to permit us to drift along under present circumstances without a fundamental re-evaluation of our present policies and objectives."

In a letter to Esch, Senator Charles Percy said, "Please accept my congratulations on the proposal you and your colleagues have made for phased de-escalation of the Vietnam war. I was especially pleased with your statement of 'the imperatives of successful diplomacy in a limited war.' "

Friends Church In Need of Help

The building and grounds committee of Tecumseh Friends Church is planning to spread top soil on the south church lawn, preparatory to seeding the area.

Help is needed and all are invited to come Thursday at 6:30 p.m., with shovel and wheelbarrow.

Thursday's ministry and oversight will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Saturday at 9:30 a.m., will be ball practice for all interested boys. They faced Adrian Baptist last Monday and the Macon Methodist Tuesday.

Bands Poised for Big Battle

Tecumseh's second annual Battle of the Bands is coming Friday with 13 groups blasting out live music as the entertainment feature of Sidewalk Day.

Judging begins at 10 a.m. as the first band takes the stand on Chicago Blvd. The other 12 units will continue with 30-minute sets until 6 p.m.

From 6 to 10 p.m. one block of Chicago Blvd., from Evans to Ottawa, will be blocked off for street dancing and final judging.

Merchants are putting up $100 in prizes for the top three rated bands — $50 for first, $30 for second, $20 for third.

Tecumseh Equipment Co. is furnishing one of the trucks from which bands will play.

Following is the complete preliminary schedule for the Battle and the full roster of each unit. These are the only ones eligible

THS Gals Trounce Britton, 21-5

The Indians scored six runs in the second, third and fourth innings and three in the fifth.

Britton scored all of their five runs in the first inning on three hits, two errors and two walks.

Gail Greene, Kathy Hall, Jackie Rodgers, Diane Lake and Wendy Ehlert each collected three hits.

Jackie Rodgers was the winning hurler. She allowed only the three hits in the first inning and a walk in the sixth.

The Britton batters were set down in order the rest of the way.

The Indian's next game is in Hudson at 6 p.m. Thursday.

Farming Loses Certain Luster When Hog House Is Added

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Farming isn't as much fun since we built the new hog barn a year ago.

Until then, we had hogs, all ages and stages, scattered in make-shift fenced lots and small buildings, and they were always nosing under fences and getting into funny mix-ups.

Now, the hogs stay neatly penned in rugged, fenced rows in the new barn, with nothing to do except eat and grow fat.

But, a lot of amusing events happened before we got to this predictable, and sort-of-dull, state of affairs.

Like the pleasant Sunday afternoon when we were entertaining the city cousins . . .

The phone rang and the neighbor queried, "Say — did you know you've got a sow down here making a nest in your field across from my front window?"

I thanked her half-heartedly for the good news and began wondering what to do.

My husband, Harold, broke up the sociable little horseshoe game he was enjoying and reluctantly went to change into something more comfortable — old overalls.

While the city kids got off the pony long enough to run and see what was going on, he hitched the small trailer to the tractor, hunted up a metal basket and took off across the fields, leaving our guests to shift for themselves.

The sow was the usual motherly type and she had a nice bunch of lively pigs running around squealing madly, in the neighbor's tall June grass. Catching them took some ingenuity. Finding them took more.

The city kins thought it was a great lark, but they weren't much help because they were afraid of the big sow.

We got the wiggly piglets into the big basket, loaded it on the trailer and by their loud squealing led the sow across the field to the barn.

Getting the mother into a pen, which wasn't ready for her, created enough diversion for the rest of the afternoon.

The cousins say they never remember a more exciting Sunday.

Any hog farmer could think of a few.

★

WHILE WE were away for the weekend, a severe ice storm glazed pond and pasture and our herd boar got out and tried to skate. He wasn't missed until we returned.

We found him still alive, with his frost-bitten hind legs spread-eagled on the ice. We wished we had never come home!

This took a little more help than the wife and kids, so a neighbor was called to help tie hog's hind legs together and hoist his practically dead weight up into a low trailer.

We had to leave his legs tied together for several weeks while he regained strength enough to stand up so he could be marketed.

We bought a boar at a hog sale 50 miles upstate and on the way home we parked the pickup on the main street in Mason while we ate lunch in a restaurant.

Returning to the truck, we found our hog had nudged open the gate and was wandering down main street, which was a bit disconcerting to timid drivers.

While I wanted to window shop and pretend I didn't know him, my husband performed for the interested bystanders.

He executed a fine bull-fighter's stance using the tail gate and with a few swishes was able to maneuver the wandering hog back into the truck . . . and we got out of town fast!

★

WE SOLD a hog to a fellow once and on the way to his home, the hog went over the low side of the truck and landed, somewhat dazed, near a farm house.

The farm woman, who happened to see the hog while he was still a bit groggy, succeeded in tying his hind legs with a piece of rope attached to her clothesline. He was still there several hours later when the folks who had bought him came back looking for him.

She didn't learn that trick from a hog manuel, either!

One sow decided she didn't like the farrowing facility we provided so she went to the neighbor's abandoned barn and produced a nice litter of pigs there.

If you're in the hog business, you have understanding neighbors. We were able to persuade those folks to keep our visiting sow for a few days until we could make room for her in the overcrowded maternity ward.

Besides, sows don't like to leave a place where they have just farrowed.

Most published advice on the subject suggests that you put your expectant sow into a farrowing crate a week before her litter is due.

Sounds easy, doesn't it? Only a frustrated baby doctor can appreciate how silly that idea is.

A pregnant sow can completely ignore any scientifically prepared breeding chart and outwit any experienced hog man when she gets ready to farrow.

Put her in early, and invariably a sow will stand nonchalantly in a farrowing crate for as long as a week. Then, when you think she's given up the whole idea, she'll have her pigs — at her convenience!

Just wait, though, until the hectic day when you're making hay after two weeks of soggy June weather, when every moment spent in the farrowing barn means more bales left in the field to get wet.

Then — every sow not due for the next three weeks will decide to have her pigs — before nightfall!

★

ONE SATURDAY night, after sloshing through mud in the pelting rain all day to do farm chores, my husband had just slipped into the steaming tub, leaving behind the pungent barnyard aroma in the sodden mass of work clothes on the washroom floor.

He splashed contentedly, while I shouted to him to hurry or we'd be late for the school banquet.

I never should have looked out the window at that moment — but, I did — just as an ingenious bunch of pigs discovered a hole in the fence and came strolling across the dooryard.

We were a little late to the banquet that night!

Helpful hints for hog farmers don't offer any suggestions for the busy farm wife whose husband comes in about 9 a.m. some morning and says, "Can you come out to the barn for a little while to watch that sow that's starting to farrow? She's so thin, I don't think she'll have many. You may be able to save a few weak pigs if you stay with her while I keep on plowing."

Six people for dinner and Saturday housework, but you mumble, "I guess I can spare an hour or so."

That's the day the "little thin sow" decides to have 15 pigs. It took her all morning to do it.

Meanwhile I made a dozen hurried trips to the house to start dinner and then returned to fulfill my midwifely duties in the farrowing barn.

You anxiously shake, pat and wipe dry each little form, lifeless as jelly, until after what seems an endless hour, those first gasps for breath become a gulp that swells the tiny lungs with precious life.

Then, you're amazed at the speed with which their eager searching leads them, brief moments after birth, to the fountain of life at their mother's breast.

You count their curling, wiggling tails and know that is your reward.

★

ONE OF the funniest things that ever happened to us, from the viewpoint of the watch-from-the-window-type farm wife, took place one market day.

While driving a bunch of fat hogs through the dooryard to load them on the truck, one got past our daughter, who was end-guarding the driveway, and fell through a loose board on the well pit.

This was a 200-pound hog that landed in the 10-foot deep, six-foot square pit filled with a pressure pump and water tank.

I couldn't see too well what was going on because the air was a little blue around the vicinity of my husband.

When he calmed down, he rigged up a rope on the hydraulic loader on the tractor, drafted someone else to drive it and lowered himself into the well pit.

It got sort of crowded in there, standing in that slippery mixture of water and grease, and the hog didn't like it any better than the fellow trying to put a rope on him.

I'll never forget the fantastic sight of a wildly-squealing hog, frightened and furious, swinging perilously in the air as it was lifted out.

I sorted the mail pretty carefully for a few days after that fearing the head of the household might become unusually interested in boxholder brochures entitled, "Winks Make Money" or "How 2,500 Chickens Can Feather Your Nest."

★

WE DECIDED to build the new barn and the ditcher had just completed a fine trench for the water pipe, six feet deep and two feet wide across the barnyard.

That night, about 10:30, our 750-pound herd boar, Bobby, nosed his way out of temporary quarters and walked into that trench.

Out for a late check-up on the barns, my husband discovered the unhappy hog hopelessly wedged in the deep trench, shoulders too wide to permit him to move.

I began to wonder what was keeping Harold out to the barn so long.

When he finally showed up, he said it had taken quite a while to shovel all that dirt back into that trench by hand so the hog could walk himself out of the hole he was in.

Nothing much has happened since we built that barn.

It seems sort of dull—.

BARRY WINDER

B. Winder Aboard Ship in Vietnam

Seaman Apprentice Barry Lee Winder, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Winder of 129 W. Church St., Clinton, helped to land and provide support for Marines fighting near the Demilitarized Zone in Vietnam, as a crewman aboard the amphibious transport dock ship USS Ogden.

The ship was one of several from the Seventh Fleet's amphibious force which took part in operations "Bear Claw" and "Beaver Track", along with Leathernecks of the First Battalion, Seventh Marine Regiment, and the Second Battalion, Third Marine Regiment.

Both operations lasted a total of eight days, and throughout the action, his ship continued to supply the Marines ashore with whatever they needed. The supplies, which included hot meals, munitions, medicine and other requirements, were ferried by helicopters and small craft.

Marine helicopters were kept busy evacuating the wounded ground-force Marines, as well as delivering supplies.

Deep in North Woods

Deep in the north woods, 14 miles north of Atlanta, on land donated by Charles Ruesink of Adrian was the scene of Troop 32 of Birdsall's week-long summer camp.

Sixteen boys and five leaders and counselors left July 16 and returned July 22.

The property was ideal for the study of wildlife management and the boys constructed animal shelters, tackled and observed deer, racoon, porcupine and even an old but still distinguishable bear track.

Scouts taking pioneering had the many poplar trees for cutting and lashing together.

Nearby, Clear and Ruth Lakes provided afternoon waterfronts. Many of the boys finished first and second class requirements as well as earned merit badges.

These will be awarded at a Court of Honor and Eagle Banquet to be held Aug. 5.

A special side trip was taken Wednesday evening when everyone went to the Mackinac Bridge.

Three mothers of the scouts also made the trip. They were housed in the huge cabin deep in the woods and near a clear stream from which they were able to find some Petoskey stones of good quality and size.

After visiting such places as Huron Beach, Roger's City and Indian River, Mrs. Mary Griewahn and sons, Scott and Todd, Mrs. Dorothy Breckel and daughter Carol and Mrs. Norma James and son Bob sang with the scouts around the campfire and put on a skit along with the "Grasshopper", "Born Losers" and "007" patrol.

Pictures were taken of the event.

Scoutmaster Richard James, assistant scoutmaster Glen Griewahn, Robert Sager, scoutmaster of Troop 16, Cliff Pifer and committeeman Wayne Griewahn instructed and passed the scouts on their requirements.

July 20 two members of the troop celebrated birthdays with two cakes, one decorated with a camp scene complete with pioneering tower and wildlife, and the other of the Mackinac Bridge, decorated by Norma James.

The boy scouts furnished ice cream in honor of Allen Breckel, 15, and Dennis James, 14.

Mrs. C. Murphy Is New Delegate to Conference

At a recent Society meeting of the Tecumseh Lower Light Church, Mrs. Carmon Murphy was elected delegate and Mrs. Hermon Murphy, reserve delegate to the annual Conference of the Lower Light Church.

The meeting will be held at Petersburg Camp Grounds Aug. 1-3.

Immediately following the conference, the annual camp meeting will convene with the Rev. S. D. Herron of Hobe Sound, Fla., as evangelist.

The camp meeting will continue through August 13.

Pastor and Mrs. Harlan Sanne of the local church extend an invitation to the camp meeting.

Wilhelmina Schock Weds Richard Meads

Wilhelmina Schock became the bride of Richard Lee Meads E.T.N. (2) S.S. in a double ring ceremony performed July 9 in the Mongaup Valley Methodist Church by the Rev. William St. John.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Fred Schock of Mongaup Valley, N.Y., and Mr. and Mrs. George O. Mead, 315 Adrian St.

The bride entered the sanctuary on the arm of her father. She wore a gown of silk organza with an A-line skirt and a removeable coat style cathedral train.

She carried white roses and carnations.

Jeanne Dross of Chester, N. Y., was the maid of honor in a floor length gown with empire waist and A-line skirt of pale green.

Her matching veil was styled with a large beaded bow and she carried yellow daisies tied with green satin ribbon.

Bridesmaids were Georgia Meads, sister of the groom, and Alice Irwin of Mongaup Valley.

They wore floor length gowns of apricot color matching that of the maid of honor in style and carried daisies.

The bride is a graduate of Mongaup Valley High School and is a senior at Orange County Community College.

The groom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is an electronic technician, petty officer second class serving aboard the newly commissioned USS Jack.

They also entertained Sunday afternoon at a reception in the Friends Church parlors for their son and his bride.

The tiered wedding cake topped with a miniature bride and groom was made and served by the groom's aunt, Mrs. Clarence Randolph.

Others assisting at the reception were Mrs. Ray Campbell, Georgia Meads, Mrs. Ferris Anderson, Gail Meads and Mrs. Gerald Penrod.

Friends and relatives attended from Monroe, Clinton and Brooklyn, including Mrs. Meads' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Schock from Mongaup Valley.

—o—

Mr. and Mrs. John Jones of Evans St., left Sunday for California for a four-weeks' stay.

Army Pfc Alonzo Sanchez, son of Mr. and Mrs. Candelario Sanchez, 105 Muscody St., participated in "Operation Billings" in Vietnam with the 1st Infantry Division. The large operation, centered about 40 miles north of Saigon, accounted for more than 340 Viet Cong killed. Billings also was responsible for the destruction of one battalion-sized enemy base camp and several smaller VC camps. Pfc. Sanchez is currently serving as a cannoneer in Battery B, 2nd Battalion of the division's 33rd Artillery near Lai Khe, Vietnam.

Gives to Judy's Fund

TO THE EDITORS:

I have been intending to write this letter since The Herald arrived last week and we learned of the tragic accident which took the life of Judy Fielder.

We wish to extend our condolence to The Herald staff on the loss of not only a friend, but a real asset and interesting writer.

Although we can't drop by in person, we would like to send along this small contribution to the fund for the girls, that has been set up by the staff.

While we are writing, may we take this opportunity to say congratulations to you, Mr. Lincoln, on your new venture as sole owner of The Herald now.

We feel confident that we shall continue to receive the same quality paper that The Herald has come to be.

I personally appreciate the improved sports coverage and trust that we shall see even greater improvements in this line by wider range of coverage if possible.

The pictures in The Herald are on a par with the best of the dailies I've seen and better than most weeklies. Keep it up.

In closing, may we take this opportunity to wish you, Mr. Riordan, a fond farewell and the best of success in your future endeavors.

To the rest of the staff, we say thanks for a good job well done, week after week, and keep up the good work.

Sincerely,
Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Williams

Mrs. Mae Bennett Has Been Visiting Mr., Mrs. J. Grace

CLINTON — Mrs. Mae Bennett of Flintstone, Md., has been visiting her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Grace, for the past two weeks.

The Rev. and Mrs. Howard Whitacre of Hoppleville, Pa., will arrive Friday to take her home.

Mrs. Bennett spent last weekend with her granddaughter, Mrs. Kenneth Koons, and her family of Sand Lake.

Sunday, the group visited Mrs. Bennett's nephew, Dale Bennett, and family of Southgate.

Beer Bottle Thrown at Cat Proves Lethal

TO THE EDITORS:

I would like to print this story for all the foolish people who throw bottles along the highway.

We raised a silver Persian cat from a baby kitten. He was never away from the house. He was trained to open the screen door and he loved a bath.

He was like a child to us and everyone who saw him, loved and admired him, but now he is dead and I would like to say to people who love pets, "Beware of unthinking folks who throw bottles. No one will ever know how we miss our Silver."

Mrs. William Kaizer
515 N. Evans St.

(Editor's Note — A Pabst Blue Ribbon beer bottle was found near the cat's dead body by his owner as she called him to come in before she left for work.

2 Youths Say, 'Auf Wiedersehen'

By UWE ZESCHKE

After living in Tecumseh for 11 months as "alien residents," it is now time for Burckhardt Rueffer and myself to say "good bye" to this town and its people.

Arriving here in late August, we started school as members of the class of '67.

Our first highlight was the assembly that day, because that was where Burckhardt and I saw each other again.

We had met in Germany before, but did not know that both of us were going to live in Tecumseh. Therefore it was a rather pleasant surprise.

I made my home at the Frank Dalton residence, 906 W. Pottawatamie and Burckhardt stayed with the Gaylon Robinsons at 109 W. Pottawatamie.

After a few weeks of school we were made honorary members of the National Honor Society and the Teen Club Legislature.

Also we both were active in the refreshment stand, selling pop and popcorn during the football games.

Shortly before Christmas, the Exchange Club asked us to talk about German Christmas customs.

The holiday itself was not very strange to us, and our families "on time" did a lot to make us feel at home.

They did this not only at Christmas, but all the time, for that matter.

We both were a little disappointed by the celebration of New Year's Eve. We were used to have it with a lot of fireworks and champagne.

After the long winter, during which we were kept busy by school and activities, we realized more and more that the count-down towards our departure kept going.

But first we had some more exciting experiences: The senior trip and Commencement Exercises; two rather commemorable occasions, one because of its fun, the other because of its very impressive character.

Every now and then we were asked to talk for a club or church.

Now we are living through the vacation, counting the weeks and days to our departure.

We are leaving Tecumseh July 28 to go by bus to New York and from there we will leave by boat July 29.

And at this point we want to say "thank you"

First — to our host families, the Daltons and the Robinson's, who gave us the chance to experience American family life.

They gave us the opportunity to see something of this country. Besides several short trips, I went to Florida and Burckhardt made a round trip journey to Arkansas.

Second — to the school, which I am sure, did more for us than most other schools do for their exchange students.

In this I also want to include the staff.

And third — to all the people in stores and offices who were always willing to help us, even if they had a hard time trying to understand what we wanted.

I know we were lucky to come to Tecumseh, and we both want to come back.

Therefore, I want to say for both of us, not good bye, but auf wiedersehen.

Bible School Has Betts as Workers

Daily Vacation Bible School is scheduled for Tecumseh Friends Church July 31 to Aug. 4.

The Musical Betts of Jackson will be the special workers for the school. They will come with several musical instruments and a wide selection of visual materials for the boys and girls.

Children desiring transportation, call 423-3977.

The Betts will be presenting a musical program July 30 and will show pictures of Jamaica Aug. 2.

Mrs. Clark Pearson is coordinator for the school and will supervise the handcrafts.

All are cordially invited.

Terry Holdridges to Be Honored with Open House

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Holdridge will hold an open house for their son and his bride, Mr. and Mrs. Terry Holdridge, of Rochester, N. Y.

The event will be held at the Holdridge home, 201 S. Demorattie St., from 5 - 7 p.m. Aug. 6.

Terry Holdridge and Cindy Lake were married May 29 in Sayre, Pa.

Mr. and Mrs. Holdridge, Sr., look forward to introducing their new daughter-in-law to friends here.

Heart Fund

Contributions to the Herrick Memorial Hospital Auxiliary Heart Fund were made in memory of Mrs. Ilo Hanna by Mr. and Mrs. Neville Hart and Dr. and Mrs. M. R. Blanden.

Other contributions were made in memory of Mrs. Don Heesen and Edward Mossing.

Consumers Power "Careful Planning" makes electricity and natural gas the biggest bargains in your family budget. They help to cook, clean, wash, dry, iron; they cool and heat today's modern homes—all for pennies a day. The total cost of living nearly doubled in the past 20 years; but Consumers Power reduced the unit price of residential electric service by 16%, while the cost of gas remained nearly the same. Are there any other services that cost so little, yet do so much to make life pleasant and convenient? "Careful Planning!" One of the many hats of Consumers Power Company.

Maybe it's because they discovered Jane Parker Pies...thousands have.

But...you say, "No thanks, there is nothing like a good home-baked pie." We agree...they're great."

But would you believe it if we told you our Jane Parker Pies taste home-baked? Probably not...until you've tried one.

Then you'd discover the crust is short and flaky like your own.

You'd discover the fruit is the kind you'd use... the best...juicy, not stiff with starch.

And if you popped a Jane Parker Pie into the oven and warmed it before serving, you'd discover a pie you'd be proud to call your own.

Are Jane Parker Pies a good reason for shopping A&P? They're one of many.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Should Be Big Asset

It's amazing that Michigan has waited so long to get into big-time auto racing.

Here we are, with the biggest manufacturing facilities, the greatest collection of engineering genius, the most allied industries of the entire world and not a major track in sight.

Until last week.

Michigan International Speedway is pledged to fill the gap, to erect a first-rate, $4½ million super speedway in Cambridge Township.

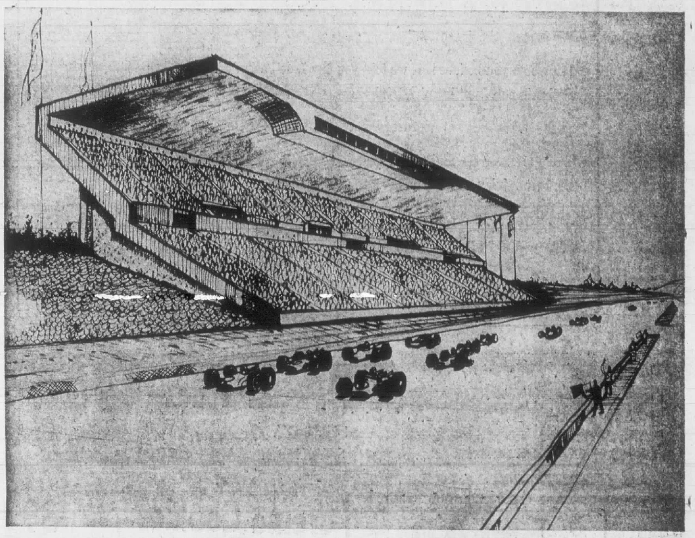
First events for the new track are slated for 1968, which is calling for a fast construction schedule, but it apparently can be done.

Larry LoPatin, the Detroit real estate developer who spearheads the group, has said again and again that his organization is putting up a track which will rival Florida's Daytona International Speedway and the famous Indy oval. The artist sketches above and below this editorial, show what the group has planned.

Naturally, the presence of an attraction which can pull 100,000 persons for a one-day event is going to have its impact on the entire Irish Hills area, not to mention most communities throughout Lenawee County and portions of Jackson County.

City and county planners must stay alert and on top of all construction as it develops, not just at the track but from inevitable promoters who will be drawn to the area. But this needn't be a major problem.

Michigan International Speedway's layout should be a tremendous asset to this part of Michigan.



Marda Gene Duncan's

Through My Window

WREN SURVEILLANCE REPORT NO. 3

June 29: Bergamot in full bloom, bright red flowers prettier than ever. Flowers so tall they are extending much higher than the fence.

Mr. Wren had to change a favorite lookout spot. Now he cannot see anything from the top railing.

New point of observation is top of an empty corn cob which is fastened to the fence post. (Squirrels ate the last of the corn weeks ago.)

Wren looks cute sitting up there in the midst of the bergamot.

June 30: Mrs. Wren spending much time in house looking out doorway. What a tiresome and tedious job incubating eggs must be.

July 2: Think 'something is up' in the wren house. Marda neglecting her wren watching though — weather too nice to stay inside.

She spent day outside soaking up sunshine and acquiring a good sunburn. Her color closely resembles that of a boiled lobster.

July 3: Wren eggs have definitely hatched. All day the old birds were carrying little bugs up to the house.

Often bugs so tiny we could hardly see them but when we did, they were just little bits of white.

★

JULY 4: Feeding pace still not terribly fast. Several times we saw slightly larger 'bites' being taken in and the small white sacs now being carried out quite regularly.

Birds are neater than we often give them credit for being, and most of them keep very sanitary homes.

The food that the babies' bodies cannot digest and use is eliminated neatly encased in a small sac. (Wrapped and ready to go.)

The parents carry out and deposit the pellets far from the nest.

July 6: Nothing much different in the wren world. Practically no singing now, though — we miss it, too.

July 10: Wonder how wrens placed all of the nesting material we watched them haul up to the house? Could it be all pushed towards the front with the cup of the nest being to the back?

Whatever their floor arrangement, it must be designed to keep the kids away from the door, but in past years we have enjoyed watching those little heads with their incredibly large mouths bobbing in the entrance way.

We are sure that the youngsters are growing fast. Their shrill little voices are becoming louder all the time. They squeak almost all day, typical baby bird impatience.

July 11: Feeding pace definitely picking up and my, what large insects they are taking in to the kids. Four or five times today, an adult bird, bill bulging with a white winged bug, lit on the feeder before going home.

Guess he wanted us to see what tasty morsels he was taking to the family.

Wish we knew bugs better — no idea at all what variety he had but apparently it was always the same.

The wren brought his prize so close that several times we could even see the bug's antenna wiggle.

JULY 13: Wrens continuing to stuff their youngsters with white bugs. We hear no pretty trilling songs anymore but birds are making a peculiar chattering-clucking type of scolding.

Highly excited, we cannot see why.

July 14: The bill of fare is different today — big, fat, white, juicy looking worms. Baby wrens must like a change of diet.

July 17: At last, two tiny little heads keep bobbing up in doorway. Much movement inside and a great deal going on outside, parent birds just more than busy bringing food.

Often they do not go through doorway but merely perch on doorsill and poke the food inside.

July 19, 9:45 a.m.: Wow, we just watched the three baby wrens leave home.

In all of our years of wren-watching, this is a first. Perhaps our early morning rain kept them in and delayed their departure till the later hour.

It was quite a sight — they left, one at a time, at intervals of less than a minute.

The little birds poked themselves further and further out of the doorway, we were afraid they would fall but instead, they clung to the front of the house. With nothing to grasp hold of, they just slowly slipped down and, when there was no more house front, they were forced to flutter-fly.

All three made it safely to the ground — deep sighs of relief from Liz and me!

So it is that we end our wren adventure with this Wren Surveillance Report No. 3.

Country Club Lady Golfers Join Tourney

Eight ladies from the Tecumseh Country Club participated in the Western District Tournament at Spring Lake Country Club near Grand Haven last Thursday.

Those attending were Mrs. R. H. Moore, Mrs. Ralph Dabe, Mrs. Joe Rohweder, Mrs. Jim Wilson, Mrs. Clifford Collins, Mrs. Clarence Champanois, Mrs. Bill Hanna and Mrs. Frank Owen.

The ladies went Wednesday and played Thursday, coming home in the evening.

Mrs. Dabe, ladies' golf chairman for the local Club, said that registrations for the Club matches beginning Aug. 1 must be made at the Club by July 31.

Jackson CC Expansion Continues

There's still room.

That's the word on the fall enrollment situation at Jackson Community College, where enrollment has been restricted during some recent years because of large high school graduating classes of the time and a shortage of space at JCC.

The size of high school graduating classes has since leveled off and the college is building a new campus, the first portion of which will be opened this fall.

Preliminary registration for the fall semester is being conducted throughout the summer. Formal registration begins Sept. 6 and 7 with the enrollment of Related Trade Instruction students. It will be followed by students in the daytime arts and science and vocational-technical programs Sept. 7 and 8 and evening class students Sept. 11-12.

Tuition rates remain unchanged since 1964. For residents of the Jackson Community College District, tuition ranged from $126 for 12 semester credit hours to $146 for 17 semester credit hours, or $10.50 a credit hour for part time students.

Comparable rates for Michigan residents whose legal residence is outside of Jackson County are $204 to $224 for full time students, or $17 a credit hour for part time students. Out-of-state residents pay $294 to $314 a semester or $24.50 a credit hour if they are part time students.

George and Mike Make Dean's List for WMU Session

Michael D. Rice, a 1963 Tecumseh High School graduate and George Moricz, a 1964 THS graduate, were named to the Dean's List at Western Michigan University for the spring session.

Because of the shorter term, intensified classroom work load was required of the students.

Tri-Town Group Relax and Visit at Kampmuellers

Seventeen members and six guests of the Tri-Town Study Group relaxed at the annual summer meeting July 17 at the Thomas Kampmueller cottage on Marr Lake.

An afternoon of games, swimming, canoeing, sunning and "peace from the family" was followed by a potluck supper.

The committee in charge was Mrs. Larry Kanous and Mrs. Joan Robison.

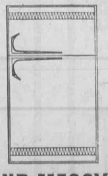
The group will meet in September when Mrs. David Oosterhout will assume the chairmanship.

Drive-In

"Man of Steel," will be on the screen this weekend at the Devils Lake Drive-In.

This Saturday and Sunday programs begin at dark, with no admission charge. Location is three miles east of US-127 and three miles south of US-223.

*CALL HOME. WORKING LATE. ASK GEORGE TO DEFROST THE REFRIGERATOR.



Smart girl! She knows the average man wouldn't defrost a refrigerator more than once. Just one session of the chop, slop and mop of defrosting and he'd find an easier way... such as seeing the electric appliance dealer for a new, frost-free refrigerator-freezer! And once he learned how great this new electric appliance really is...how no frost EVER forms in either refrigerator or freezer—its wonderful supermarket capacity—the storage bin that's automatically kept filled with ice cubes, odds are in her favor that he'd buy one...quick!

END MESSY DEFROSTING, FOREVER!

Storm Lashes Tecumseh-Clinton Area

Wind, rain and hail raked the Tecumseh, Clinton and Macon areas Sunday afternoon in what was the most damaging storm here since the 1965 Palm Sunday tornado.

Wind toppled trees, knocked out a large window at Wolf's Appliances and caused a general interruption of telephone service, just north of Tecumseh.

General Telephone Manager Ken Conway reports that hundreds of rural residents were without phone service from shortly before 1 p.m. Sunday to Monday evening.

Trees and branches snapped many telephone lines, and some damage and disruption was caused by lightning. Consumers Power reports little damage.

Bob Wolf says the large window blew in and damaged nearly a dozen TV sets, and the heavy rain flooded the inside of the store and was running out the front door when he arrived to inspect the glass breakage.

Tecumseh's wastewater plant recorded rainfall of 2.85 inches for the storm, which swamped the community in less than an hour.

Many residents report that wind simply blew the rain into their homes and basements.

Local streets were flooded and Tecumseh police directed traffic for a while at the intersection of W. Chicago and Adrian St., before detouring it around the area.

Two youngsters found the water deep enough at the intersection for a swim.

The signal touched off an alarm at the police department, which notified Ernst. When he reached the plant, water was over one foot and rising in the basement.

Water and sewage was arriving at the plant at the rate of 2,000 gallons per minute, well over a normal peak of 300 gallons per minute. Some of the water was bypassed around the plant, with a minimum of treatment, into River Raisin.

Water ran from curb to curb in the downtown area, and in sections on N. Maumee and Brown St., it overflowed the curbs and well upon residents' lawns and to the footings of their houses.

North of town, bulk tanks were toppled at Lenawee Fuels on Allen Rd., and a large barn on the Kuehman Farm, recently purchased by George Underwood, was practically destroyed.

The barn's roof blocked Staib Rd. for a while and littered the area as far southwest as the Anderson Fertilizer building.

A barn on Mrs. Lewis Krueger's farm collapsed.

Many farmers like Jim Brown, Dick Sherman, Harry Comstock, Raymond Service, Harold Calhoun, Archie Scheffler, Joseph Shafer, Merle Mellott and others suffered extensive damage to oats, corn and beans from the hail and wind.

Some of the crops are probably a total loss.

Pictures related to the storm are on inside pages.

Phone Cables Are Severed

A contractor at Birdsall, digging for top soil, severed two underground telephone cables Monday afternoon, disrupting service in the area for approximately five hours.

Ken Conway, Tecumseh telephone manager, says one cable was completely cut in two, and another one partially.

Service to Adrian, long distance, and to the operator were restored between 4 and 5 o'clock. The accident occurred about 10:30 Monday morning.

Sidewalk Sale Is Rated 'Tremendous' by Merchants

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

Sidewalk Sales day has come and gone for another year in Tecumseh and judging from all appearances the event was as successful this year as any previous one.

And what a hey-day for the people watchers! The sun rose bright and early in a clear blue sky, promising a good day for merchants and customers alike. The shopkeepers were out early, setting up the tables and piling them high with bargains.

Then the early bird shoppers arrived on the scene, anxious to look over the laden bargain tables and make first grabs. By 10 or 11 a.m., the sidewalks were jammed as shoppers and lookers of all ages thronged up and down.

The streets had a part carnival, part bazaar atmosphere.

Friends greeted each other on the street and compared "finds."

Little children were pulled along by their mothers, who paid little attention to the tots, but instead were intent on the specials offered for inspection.

Older children roamed at will up and down, most with some pin money clutched in their hands. Old men ambled slowly up and down, seemingly enjoying mingling with the crowd in the warm sunshine.

Some serious shoppers complained about the difficulty in getting from one store to another.

Teen-aged boys watched the mini-skirted girls amble by and, of course, the girls eyed the guys as well.

A sidewalk hot dog stand was set up in front of one business where the sizzling red hots were grilled on the spot and served to the crowd.

Cole slaw, iced tea and lemonade completed the menu and did they ever taste good to hungry shoppers.

Daughter and I thought the first roasted wieners were so good we had to have another.

Through it all, pulsating up and down the main street, was the "beat" of the Battle of the Bands.

I'm sure the crowds of teens who crowded the sidewalks and spilled over onto the highway around the bandstands thought this was the whole idea for the day.

The steady, insistent beat of the amplified bands set the pace for the shoppers. This modern music (and I use the term music loosely), so baffling to anyone over 25, is magnetic in its appeal to the young.

To a generation brought up on the big bands of Glenn Miller and Tommy Dorsey, this demanding, loud, swinging "Beat" is jarring to our sensitive nerve ends and hard to understand.

A few other out-of-place characters like myself stood on the fringe of the crowd around the bandstands, trying to fathom the hows and whys of these harsh, alien sounds.

But if we found it hard to "dig," the kids loved it. They seem to thrive on it. It nourishes their very beings somehow.

It is music to eat by, to dance to, to study by, to live by, for them.

Radios and record players blare forth this constant, nagging rhythm wherever teens of today go.

By evening, the shopping spree was still going strong. And then the Battle of the Bands began in earnest, as the young people crowded around for the finals.

Weary, but happy, shoppers started for home. Merchants picked up what was left of their goods and, like the Arabs, folded their tents and silently stole away with only the memories of the jingling cash registers, combined with the overall rock and roll beat, still ringing in their ears, as another successful "Sidewalk Sales Day" came to a close.

Jackpot's $150

Who's going to win $150?

The biggest jackpot since Newspaper Bingo started here now awaits a lucky winner — or winners — this week with $150 in the offering.

Pick up your Bingo cards at the participating stores and check off the numbers you find in this issue of The Herald. There are 55 Bingo Bugs and plenty of winning cards.

If you get a winner, bring it to The Herald office before 5 p.m. Monday — and win the Jackpot!

Youngsters Like Camping

By DENICE ANDERSON

Hickory Hill Christian Camp provides an opportunity for every child to have summer fun.

The camp, directed by the Rev. Edgar Pistole of the Church of Christ, along with his wife, Frances, is located in the beautifully wooded area of the Robert Rupert Sr., farm on Newburg Rd.

In its second year of service, the camp had three sessions this summer.

Teens enjoyed the outdoor sports offered at the secluded spot July 17-19. The Junior session, with children in fourth, fifth and sixth grades attending, met July 24-26.

Day camp was held for kindergarten through third graders July 27-28.

"Run experimentally last year, the camp proved to be a successful outing and will be continued even though I am leaving for Defiance, O., Sept. 1," said the Rev. Pistole.

"The non-denominational camp charged $1 per day which included three meals a day and all the fun they could have," said the director.

The day campers paid a total of 50c to the project which included such activities as hiking, volley ball, croquet, horseshoes and campfire ceremonies.

"Possible plans for swimming facilities are being made," said the Rev. Pistole.

"Chapel was held several times daily at the request of the children," he noted, "and the services were held in the out-of-doors as the campers participated with spiritual readings and singing."

"The campers did all their own work which included washing, cleaning and cooking," commented the Rev. Pistole, "and Mr. and Mrs. John Harkness of 109 E. Kilbuck supervised the activities, donating their time and services."

The fun-seekers camped out in tents provided by the Church of Christ members and a houseboat, serving as headquarters, housed the director and his wife.

"No child was turned down for lack of money," said the Rev. Pistole.

Desserts were furnished by members of the Church of Christ.

"A campfire ended the day, even when it was raining," he noted.

"We hope to continue with a similar camp in Defiance."

"We will be working in conjunction with another camp already established in that city," he said, "and we then hope to create another camp to help the less fortunate youths."

OUTDOOR CHAPEL — Youths enjoyed the outdoor chapel at Hickory Hill Christian Camp. Singing was enjoyed by all and the campers took turns reading scripture. A campfire was enjoyed at the end of each day. The camp has been in operation for two years.

Contempts Win Battle, Fair Trip

For a second straight time, The Contempts captured Tecumseh's Sidewalk Day Battle of the Bands.

More than 3,000 witnessed the evening finals from 7 - 10.

By topping 13 entries, the local group earned a $50 prize and two performances at the Michigan State Fair.

The Contempts — Dick Fielder, Steve Maples, Mark Hinkleman and Jamie McWilliams — will perform before an estimated 5,000 in a 45-minute concert opening night of the Fair, Aug. 25, at the Teen Scene.

The group automatically earned a place in the State Fair's Battle of the Bands finals by winning in Tecumseh Friday.

This means The Contempts will be among 36 of the top groups — more than 200 are expected to enter — in Fair competition.

Ranking second and winning $30 in Friday's fun were The Exits of Ann Arbor — Paul Valentine, Steve Phillips and Ron Westlake.

Capturing third were the Midnight Criers — Tom Anderson, Dale Wotring, Dave Knapp, Mike Bassett and Jerry Doremus. Their prize was $20.

The $100 in awards was furnished by sponsoring merchants, who also provided $40 to pay the four-man security and traffic crew made up of auxiliary policemen Steve Illeck, Ken Lathrup, Stan Rentschler and George Halberstadt.

Special thanks from the storemen go to four business places which provided electrical power, Ken-Ray Drugs, Elmer Eberhardt Insurance, Tecumseh Office Supply and Marilyn's Beauty Shop.

Tecumseh Equipment and R. S. Moore & Son Lumber Co., are thanked for use of their trucks, from which the bands performed.

Donating their time as judges were the Rev. Fr. Leon Begue, assistant pastor of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church; Carol Sztaba of Lake Columbia and Bill Whiting, Herald photographer.

5 Teachers are Needed

Supt. James McDowell reports that there are still five teaching vacancies to be filled before the opening of the 1967-68 term on Sept. 5.

Teachers are needed for the fourth and fifth grades, one as a helping teacher in the Federal program at the Junior High, and English teachers at both the Senior and Junior High Schools.

Motorist Cited After Accident

Police investigated two accidents during the past week, including one at the Community Center where a tree limb fell onto a car owned by Thomas F. Smith, 5542 Milwaukee Rd.

The other mishap occurred last Wednesday when Robert E. Laraway, 20, Jackson, ran into the rear of an auto driven by Lois Ann Henricks, 32, of 602 Orchard Lane.

Laraway was cited for failure to pay uninsured motor vehicle fee.

Patrons of Greenwald Cleaners, not knowing the plant was shut down from July 31 to Aug. 14, for employee vacations, should not complain to Clay and Chris Greenwald. The Herald inadvertantly omitted their ad last week. Greenwald's office, however, will be open daily from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m.

The Jaycee Auviliary would like to clarify a misinterpretation concerning the Servicemen's Bulletin Board, soon to be displayed. This is not restricted to Vietnam soldiers but any local boy in the service. Mrs. Gordon Gutowski, 423-7365 and Mrs. Charles Robinson, 423-2246 are still accepting information about local servicemen.

Mrs. Sue Brown of Sue's Bride & Groom Shop says she is getting considerable action on her free wedding offer, with brides-to-be coming from every direction to join the fun.

Small World Dept. — While sightseeing about the coast guard lighthouse station near Grand Marais, Minn., July 21, the Harold Calhouns noticed another visitor to the landmark, Mrs. Donald Sutton and daughter of Rantoul, Ill. Mrs. Sutton, nee Janet Holm, is the daughter of Mrs. Raymond Frolich of Evans Lake, and is a former Clinton resident. The Suttons have been staying in Duluth, Minn., for a few weeks while Mr. Sutton is employed in construction work there.

Sort of a local Splash-In happened Sunday when three carloads of would-be-picnickers tried to wait out the storm off M-50 in front of Harvey's.

With visibility zero and fast-rising water covering the parking lot, one car didn't make it, missed the driveway and landed instead across the ditch. Two families, including three terrified children, escaped before they were swept off by the raging tide. All of the group — eight adults and seven children — were welcome, dripping, into the Grill by the Harvey Carpenter family, who provided plenty of towels, hot coffee and pop.

Grateful refugees offered to pay, were refused by Harvey: "We're not open on Sunday."

Sunday's hail storm repeats a similar bad storm which occurred on the same day — July 30, 1857. Not hail, but frozen pieces of ice the size of hen's eggs to those considerably larger than goose eggs. Stones three to four inches in diameter were common and several were found as large as 15 inches around. Cattle were killed and many house and barn roofs were broken through by the stones.

Swimmers Win

By KATHY HALL

Members of Tecumseh's newest club seem Olympic-bound after they swam to their second win over Adrian YMCA last Saturday.

It was the Swim Club's second victory in as many outings and the young aquatics were eager to challenge Ypsilanti Lakeview.

However, that meet was cancelled late Tuesday and will probably be replaced by an inter-squad scrimmage.

The final score of last Saturday's meet was Tecumseh 174, Adrian YMCA 116, with the local swimmers taking 17 firsts, 25 seconds and 23 thirds.

The Swim Club recorded some excellent times, according to Larry Merx, coach. He gave the following list:

Although disappointed that the Ypsi meet was called off, Merx plans to send eight swimmers to the State meet in Grand Rapids Saturday.

They have been working out from 7-8 a.m., each day this week and should make a good showing for Tecumseh.

They are: Frank Bock, Doug Eggelston, Dennis Kaechele, Steve Cook, Jack Allen, Elizabeth Lowe, Pat Weigle and Dave

TO THE EDITOR:

Enclosed is our renewal for another year of The Herald. Even though our stay in Tecumseh was only for two short years, they were happy ones for us.

We will never forget the many friends we made there. The Herald is a weekly reminder of past, good times and "keeps us posted" on the people we know.

Please convey our best wishes for success to Tom Riordan and tell him to enter the first order for an autographed copy of his book.

OBITUARIES

● MRS. MARY BRABLEC

BRITTON — Funeral services were held Tuesday at the Niblack Funeral Home for Mrs. George Brablec, Sr., 77, who was found dead in her home at 11442 Monroe Road Saturday morning, after an accidental fire.

She was alone in the house and apparently reached across the stove to turn a burner control, when her robe caught fire. She apparently then moved to the sink to turn the water on, but suffered a heart attack and collapsed.

The running water, which overflowed the sink, prevented the house from going up in flames.

The body was discovered by her daughter-in-law, Mrs. George Brablec, Jr., who lives next door.

Mrs. Brablec was born in Czechoslovakia. At the age of 18, she moved to the United States, and lived in this vicinity the rest of her life.

She is survived by two sons, Carl of Roseville and George, Jr., of Britton, and one daughter, Mrs. Charles Mecca of Monroe. Her husband and one son, Frank, preceded her in death. She had 8 grandchildren. Also 3 brothers and two sisters survive.

The Rev. G. O. Hannevik officiated at the services. Burial was in Marble Park Cemetery, Milan.

● MRS. PEARL GOVE MARTIN

Funeral services were held Thursday at 3 p.m., in Proctor Funeral Home, Tecumseh, for Mrs. Pearl Gove Martin, who died at 4:25 a.m., Tuesday in Herrick Memorial Hospital.

She was admitted to the hospital July 1 and has been in failing health since Feb. 1, when she was admitted to Baker Nursing Home.

She made her residence at 315 N. Pearl St. since 1961.

Mrs. Martin was born Oct. 20, 1884, the daughter of Arthur and Viola Shurtz Gove.

She was a member of the Methodist Church in Tecumseh, the Women's Society of Christian Service, Irene Circle and Reliable Class.

She is survived by one son, Edward Lawrence Martin of Adrian and several cousins. Two brothers preceded her in death.

The Rev. Paul J. Brantingham officiated in the absence of the Rev. Donald Porteous. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Women's Editor

'Twas on this day in 1492 that Columbus set sail on his first voyage to seek the new land. With three ships, the Santa Maria, the Pinta and Nina, and 88 men he set out.

After great agitation in Spain, he had finally gained support of Queen Isabella. What an opportunity. Wonder if there could possibly be any other bit of land above water and below the skies uninhabited.

Seems like this country named after Americus Vespucci is getting a bit crowded.

Mr. and Mrs. Rolland Reister have sold the Ron-Donna Motel on Evans Lake to Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Riley, managers of Earl's Trailer Court on Black Hwy. The Reisters moved Tuesday to Adrian Maple Apartments until they can build a home on Evans Lake. Mrs. Reister is the assistant manager at Lenawee Country Club and her husband is employed in the offices of The Tecumseh Products Co.

√

Mrs. Art Bowser and Jeanie flew to Los Angeles recently to tour southern California with Mrs. Bowser's sister who lives in San Bernardino. They arrived home again July 24.

√

Mrs. S. W. Boyce and Marjorie Boyce moved last Friday from S. Maiden Lane to 214 E. Kilbuck St.

√

Daugherty Delights Golfers

Over 175 attended the Lenawee County MSU Stag Day held at the Tecumseh Country and Golf Club Aug. 1.

They heard a delightful, humorous talk by Coach Duffy Daugherty of the Michigan State University Spartan football team. He expects to have another great team this fall.

Duffy is looking for another Big 10 championship this year. If the Spartans win again, it will be for the third year in a row, never before done in the history of the league.

Also heard was John Bennington, Spartan basketball coach, who talked about prospects. He figures it will be a tight year for the basketball squad.

Jack Kinney, director of Alumni Relations, congratulated the Lenawee County Alumni Assn., for the fine program presented.

Many prizes were won. Tickets to the Michigan - Michigan State football game went to Bill Brown. Woody Marsh of Fisher Body, won four tickets to the MSU-Ohio game.

Father, 23, Is Drowned in Iron Lake

Services will be held this Thursday afternoon in Adrian for a young rural Tecumseh father who drowned Monday afternoon while fishing in Iron Lake.

Larry W. Bemis, 23, of 9750 Tecumseh - Clinton Rd., apparently suffered a seizure while fishing with his father-in-law, Cecil Cremeans, 716 Division St., Adrian.

His struggle capsized the boat and he drowned in about 12 feet of water. Mr. Cremeans stayed with the over-turned boat and was pulled from the water.

Mr. Bemis was born on March 15, 1945, at Staunton, Ind., and graduated from Adrian High School in 1964. On Dec. 5, 1964, he was married to Lori Lee Cremeans.

Survivors besides the widow, include: son, Gregory; his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Monte Bemis, Manitou Beach; two brothers and three sisters.

Derby Day Date Reset to Aug. 6.

The date of Derby Day for Tecumseh Country Club golfers has been changed from Aug. 13 to Aug. 6.

The event will include a picnic for the entire family beginning at 3 p.m., at the CC picnic grove.

The best ball threesome will be held with a lady teamed with two men. Interested golfers are to sign up as soon as possible at the back bar of the Country Club.

FREE SURPRISE — This ingenius young Tecumseh businessman had a surprise for anyone looking in the baby carriage on the corner during Friday's Sidewalk Sales. Inside were puppies, free for the asking to be taken and given a good home.

Judith Ann Rachow and Frederick Arthur Nash Are Married

Bouquets of white gladioli and yellow chrysanthemums were the decorations as Judith Ann Rachow, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Rachow of Stockbridge, became the bride of Frederick Arthur Nash, son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nash, 720 Oakwood Dr., Adrian.

The wedding took place at 3 p.m., Saturday at the Millville Methodist Church.

The Rev. Daniel Harris, Millville, and the Rev. William Prayer, Stockbridge, officiated at the double ring ceremony before the members of the immediate families.

The bride, escorted to the altar by her father, spoke her vows wearing a floor-length empire sheath with an A-line overdress of Chantilly lace. The long fitted sleeves came to a point over her hands.

Her bouffant elbow-length veil was held by a forward head piece of petals and a teardrop jewel. She carried a nosegay arrangement of ivory tea roses.

Susan Rachow was her sister's only attendant. She wore a floor-length empire sheath of yellow with a coral chiffon train attached at the waistline with coral chiffon roses.

Her yellow shoulder-length veil was secured by yellow chiffon roses. She wore yellow gloves and slippers and carried a nosegay of yellow and coral chrysanthemums.

The best man was James Nash of Kalamazoo, brother of the bridegroom. Gordon Bernstein, of Clark Lake, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, seated the guests.

About 50 friends and relatives attended a reception held at the home of the bride's parents.

The bride is a graduate of Stockbridge High School and will complete her nurses' training at Foote Hospital and Jackson Junior College, Jackson.

Mr. Nash graduated from Litchfield High School and Hillsdale College. He is a mathematics instructor at Stockbridge High School.

Following a northern Michigan honeymoon, the couple will reside at Miner's Trailer Court, 11711 Bunkerhill Rd., Pleasant Lake.

Conklin-Carr Reunion Has New Prexy

TIPTON — The 20th annual Conklin-Carr family reunion was held Sunday afternoon at the Tipton Grange Hall with Mr. and Mrs. Don Carr and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith as officers of the day.

The 16 members attending, included three sons and their families and one daughter of the late Mrs. Ada (Wiley) Conklin-Carr, including Mrs. Mae Wright, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Conklin, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carrand and Mr. and Mrs. Don Carr.

Twenty-three members of the second generation, 28 of the third generation and two of the fourth generation and three guests were also present.

After a co-operative dinner, the business meeting was conducted and next year's officers elected were Dr. and Mrs. Doyle Hendricks and Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Carr.

Entertainment chairman was Mrs. George L. Wilson.

Due to the weather, the remainder of the afternoon was spent indoors with Mr. and Mrs. Harold Conklin in charge of the program which included piano selections, sing-a-longs, poems, contests and a hilarious skit led by Mrs. Norman Reis.

The 21st reunion will be held July 28, 1968. The meeting place will be decided by the new officers.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Talented with Camera

For 10 years, readers and viewers of The Herald have enjoyed a talent and luxury most newspapers — including many dailies — do not have.

It's photography. Excellent pictures showing quality and imagination by the man behind the camera, from landscape scenes to downtown parades and to action on the Tecumseh gridiron.

Hundreds of such pictures have occupied the columns of The Herald during the past decade. Photos by Paul Surratt, Kim Dabe, Ricky Duffin, Jim Wilbar, Bill Whiting and others have shown talent, learned from a master — Tom Riordan.

He has few peers with the camera, and though the above learned and developed into topnotch photographers, they were still quite a few steps behind Tom.

He will not only be missed by our readers, but by the staff who knew him as a person, a photographer and as a newspaperman.

We can only wish him the best of luck with his book, a college photography class or wherever his endeavors may take him.

Job Well Done

Thousands had fun in Tecumseh last Friday when local merchants held their 10th annual Sidewalk Sale.

Shoppers came to splurge on sale merchandise, most of which was displayed on the sidewalks in front of shops.

The fact that merchants toted items from store to sidewalk and youngsters clamored atop trucks to toot or thumb their instruments was only part of the Sidewalk Sale.

One simply doesn't plan such a day on short time notice.

First, merchants have to agree on a day for the event; and, then there's participation and cooperation among the merchants. There's the Battle of the Bands, cooperation from city officials to block off a street, traffic control officers, and other seemingly small incidentals.

They're all headaches, and it's a thankless job.

However, here's a tip-of-the-hat to John Day, Woolworth manager, who spent considerable time to see that Tecumseh's Sidewalk Sale is better than those at other cities.

He did the job well.

Clark Lake To Present Comedy Fun

"Never Too Late," a hilarious comedy by Sumner Arthur Long about a married couple in their fifties who find they are to become parents again, is opening at The Clark Lake Playhouse Aug. 10.

Lou Landman is playing the role of the scandalized father-to-be Harry Lambert, and Aline Hetherwick is his flighty wife, Edith.

Kate and Charlie, the daughter and son-in-law who live with the Lamberts, are being played by Gonette Wandel and George Verduin. Bill Insley is portraying Mayor Crane and Rosemary Sutton is Grace Kimbrough.

Tickets are $2.25 for adults and $1 for children under 12

Wit, Wisdom Club Postpone Picnic

The date of the annual picnic of the Wit and Wisdom Club has been changed from Aug. 7 to Aug. 14.

It will be held in the high school cafeteria with Mr. and Mrs. James McDowell and Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Waldron as the host committee.

Amy J. Kring Now Attending Pre-Registration

Amy J. Kring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Silas Kring, Jr., of 4954 Milwaukee, is participating in the pre-registration and orientation session at Central Michigan University.

In addition to registering for all classes, the students are becoming acquainted with the campus, meeting many of their instructors and classmates, as well as having their first experience with dorm living.

PLAYGROUNDS

Last week was one of the busiest of the summer at the four Tecumseh playgrounds. Activities ranged from a pet show to a doll show, with lots of games thrown in between.

TECUMSEH ACRES

Monday, the children at Tecumseh Acres played animal games with prizes going to the winners.

Ken Biscupski, Cindy Litteral and Pat Shorkey were tops in the Jungle Relay; Paul Lapham and Gary Winderly took over all others in Wild Horses; in Bird, Beast and Fish, Sue Gould was victorious; and Lawrence Johnson won the Bunny Hop Race, while Bill Steele and Christy Brown won the Kangaroo Race.

Matt Barrett was the grand prize winner in the boys' division for the animal games, while Christy Brown took top honors for the girls.

Largest—Robert Litteral, dog
Shaggiest—Sue Gould, monkey
Cutest—Gracie Gould, dog
Most Unusual—Bill Steele, dog
Smallest—D. J. Biscupski, squirrel
Cuddliest—Dawn Johnson, teddy bear.

The week's highlight came Wednesday when the children brought their live pets.

Those winning were:

Cutest—Robert Litteral, Beagle
Smallest—Lawrence Johnson, goldfish
Most Lovable—Christie Brown, cat
Largest—Mary Jo Barrett, German Shepherd
Best Trick—Mary Jo Barrett, German Shepherd shaking hands
Most Unusual—Lonnie Barrison, Dashund
Shaggiest—Karen Humphries, Terrier.

Christie Brown was the grand prize winner.

A scavenger hunt was featured Thursday. Children were divided into age groups and then sent to search for candy hidden on the playground.

In the older age group, Robert Litteral found the most pieces, while his brother R. J. found the prize piece.

In the younger group, Brenda Brown found the winning piece, while Cindy Litteral picked up the most pieces.

In addition to the regular picnic Friday, a doll contest was held in which the winners were:

Largest—Darlene Knight
Smallest—Cindy Litteral
Most Lovable—Dawn Johnson
Best Boy Doll—Todd Johnson
Best Baby Doll—Debby Haeusler
Best Dressed—Kim Jedele
Most Unusual and Most Beautiful—Sue Gould.

Tecumseh Acres playground leaders JoAnn Biscupski and Nancy Kennel are to be recognized for their excellent work with the playground, using their imaginations to bring many hours of creative enjoyment to the children.

HERRICK PARK

The activities of Herrick Park follows for the most part those of Tecumseh Acres.

In the Stuffed Animal show, the winners were:

Largest—Mark Graff
Most Unusual—Diane, Paul Lemanski
Shaggiest—Ike Smith
Cutest—Bobby Cheers
Smallest—Mark Booze
Cuddliest—Jean Lemanski.

Poor weather on Thursday prevented the Pet Show from being successful. The winners were:

Most Unusual—Paul Lemanski, Mike Kromberg
Cutest, Smallest—Jean Lemanski
Shaggiest, Most Lovable—Tim Smith
Largest, Best Trick—Bobby Cheers.

In Friday's Doll Show, ribbons went to:

Most Lovable—Karen Milliman
Best Baby Doll—Dawn Milliman
Best Dressed—Jean Lemanski
Best Boy Doll—Diane Lemanski
Most Unusual — Barbara Lemanski
Most Beautiful—Diane Lemanski
Largest—Dawn Milliman
Smallest—Cindy Adams.

Highlight of the week at Herrick Park was Tuesday's pool party held at the home of playground leader Virginia Dollison. Children enjoyed squirting each other with the hose and wading and splashing in small pools.

PATTERSON

This is Physical Fitness and Olympics Week at the playgrounds. Children will test how physically fit they are, while competing against one another in several contests.

Friday will feature a Hobo Picnic.

Next week is the last for the playgrounds. Due to local factory vacations, no theme has been chosen.

MOMS SOFTBALL

Only seven Moms showed up Wednesday evening because of bad weather and wet fields. Joined by their daughters, they played four innings of softball.

Aug. 2 they were scheduled to take on the Junior Girls All Stars, and next week they are slated to challenge the city's Senior Girls Team.

GIRL'S PEE WEE SOFTBALL

Girl's Pee Wee play ended last Thursday with the girls graduating from batting off the tee to batting with a pitcher.

Most of the girls struck out, but there were a few hits. Nena Murphy belted out a home run, to lead her team to victory over the Red Sox.

The final score was Indians, 9, Red Sox, 7.

GIRL'S JUNIOR SOFTBALL

The Girl's Junior League wound up play last week by seeing the previously undefeated Lake's Frogs drop their last game to the Female Sluggers. Peggy Aebersold took the win.

Her teammates Beverly Miller and Mary Lemanski were the games top hitters. Mary Banda hit a home run for the losers.

In a 6-4 victory over Gayle's Goofs, Nancy's Nicies showed great hitting ability. Julie Murphy pounded out two homers, while teammate Cris Koeplin had one.

The final standings in the Girls Junior League are:

	Won	Lost
Lake's Frogs	7	1
Female Sluggers	5	3
Nancy's Nicies	2	6
Gayle's Goofs	2	6

Tuesday a watermelon picnic was held to hand out ribbons. Monday at 2 p.m., the Junior Girl All Stars took on Britton. Those on the team are Elaine Aebersold, Peggy Aebersold, Pam Creger, Jan Felton, Cris Koeplin, Jean and Mary Lemanski, Julie Murphy, Kathy Fuhrman, Darlene Osburn, Denise Osburn and Nancy Hamilton.

Jill and Melissa Barton from the Pee Wee Girls were also selected to be on the All-Star team.

POOLS

Pony Loop's VFW Team Tops Indians

► VFW 8, INDIANS 1

"Both teams played well in the field, but four walks and six hits for VFW, along with alert base running was too much for the Indians' defense as VFW scalped the Indians, 8-1," reported VFW manager, Jack Schuyler.

Rich Schuyler was the winning pitcher, fanning four. His catcher was Mike Tilton.

Jim Kane and Steve Camfield were the losing battery. Kane struck out seven.

The first two runs scored by VFW in the second inning were enough to win the game.

Tilton walked, then stole second. Steve Hallenbeck singled and also stole second. Both scored on Steve DaHon's single.

Tigers Edge Cubs, 9 to 6

► TIGERS 9, CUBS 6

David Willis was the victory Tiger pitcher as his team defeated the Cubs, 9-6.

Craig Slocum and Mike Ocamb were his catchers.

"Gary Agnew did fine hitting for his team," reported Tiger manager, Don Withrow. "The Tigers used six walks and hits by Mike Ocamb, Gary Agnew, Frank Stanley and Ricky Saylor to score seven runs in the fourth inning."

Slo Pitch

► RUHL'S CITGO 17, TEC. MERCHANTS 9

Ruhl's Citgo stayed on top of the league as the team defeated the Tecumseh Merchants, 17-9.

C. E. Locker was on the mound for the victory team. His catcher was Brad Hatch.

Don Sweet and Don Withrow were the losing battery.

In only four innings of play, Kemp Murphy killed the Tecumseh Jaycees, 37-13.

Jaycees conceded the game.

Doug Ives was the victory pitcher. Marion Chatfield was behind the plate for Kemp Murphy.

Frank Sandhoff and Ronald Albert were the losing battery.

► 3 LAKES SUPPLY 22, WAGON WHEEL TAV. 18

Delbert Marsh was his catcher.

Euchre Party

The Tecumseh Grange euchre party will be held Saturday at 8 p.m. The committee will furnish melons for refreshments.

Young Swimmers Set To Perform for Family, Pals

Second session swimmers will perform for parents and friends Aug. 4 at the Joyce Andrews Memorial Pool near the Tecumseh High School.

The demonstration will begin at 7 p.m., and will be free of charge to the public.

Swimmers range in age from 5-16.

ATTENTION, SENIOR CITIZENS

A new residential facility will be opened on September 1, 1967, in downtown Adrian. Delicious food served in our attractive dining room. Cheerful rooms. Planned recreational program.

Through My Window

FAR FROM BEING TRULY CONVINCED

It is just heartbreaking to see how many of our lovely elm trees are losing their fight with the insidious Dutch Elm disease. Actually, of course, it is a lop-sided battle, the trees are doomed from the beginning. Wood-boring beetles attack the trees, the fungus they carry grows and clogs the "circulation system," the tree dies.

With all of our vast knowledge we have not yet come up with a truly effective way of controlling the disease. Hopes were high a few years ago that a chemical had been found which would either immunize the elm or inhibit the growth of the fungus.

Controlled experiments, however, have proved disappointing, the formula is apparently worthless.

Well, there is a law of compensation to which many of us subscribe. At least, in most instances there is a gain to counterbalance each loss. I try to believe this but, when I look out both my west and north-facing windows, it is hard.

The sight of so many dead or dying elms is depressing — there is a certain frustration, too, in feeling so absolutely helpless — there is just nothing we can do to help our trees.

★

THE ONE tiny ray of silver in this otherwise black cloud of dying elms brightened our window picture the other day. There are many birds to whom dead trees are vitally important. Woodpeckers chisel out their homes in dead wood and, of course, they thrive on the bugs found in these trees.

Now I am not saying that the appearance of a bird is in any way worth the loss of our elms but as long as they are going, it did help a little when we saw the red-headed woodpecker.

These are such marvelous looking characters that they are truly exciting additions to any neighborhood. Mom and Dad saw this one first and they could hardly believe their eyes. The bird was flying back and forth across the creek and the drawing card on the other side was a dead elm.

We have seldom seen red-headed woodpeckers in the yard but the folks had a good look and really, the birds are quite unmistakable.

What they saw was a big bird, with a bright red head and much white and navy blue on his body, wings and tail — no doubt at all about who our visitor was.

The next day he was most obliging, he flew half a yard south and put on a wonderful show for Liz and I. From the porch where the squirrels used to check the immediate neighborhood for the ferocious blue-jays, the woodpecker launched his fruit-picking trips.

He was surprisingly graceful in flight — a mulberry tree grows within just a few feet of "his" limb and we were amazed at how effortlessly he flew to the berry-laden branches, nipped off a juicy mulberry and returned to his perch to eat it. What do they say about grabbing lunch on the fly?

After a few days of berry eating, our newcomer apparently wanted a change of diet. We were thrilled almost speechless when he decided to sample some of our scratch feed.

It must have tasted good because he has been a frequent customer at both feeders. During the summer months the red-heads often become part-time vegetarians. How fortunate for us!

★

PERHAPS THIS not sticking strictly to an insect diet is not restricted to just the summer months. I seem to recall pictures and stories about red-headed woodpeckers eagerly gobbling scratch feed and stale bread crumbs on a snow-covered feeder.

Wouldn't it be fine if this fellow would decide he likes our type of feeding program and stick around as a permanent addition to our neighborhood birds?

So it is that if the red-head stays around and if I talk long enough, perhaps I shall convince myself that he is happy with our neighborhood because of the dead elms across the creek — and perhaps I can believe this, but right now I am far from being truly convinced.

TO THE EDITOR

TO THE EDITOR:

Concerning your editorial of the week of July 27 — it is Sir, a little less quality than I have learned to accept from the Tecumseh Herald; so you may have your paper!

"LBJ Plays Politics in Tragedy," there is much to say about snipers, but why such political sniping? These are dark days in Michigan's history, and it would seem to me you could have devoted a little more space to the Tecumseh-Adrian food collection project, but you seem to get your kicks from blasting the President, a member of the opposite party.

Freedom of speech is our heritage — I became more aware of this while at Boys' State. I do not blame Gov. Romney, Mayor Cavanaugh, or President Johnson. This has been building up for so long it just had to explode, and once it got started, it just kept rolling.

Do you realize what it is to have Federal troops on the public streets? Sure, for us armchair quarterbacks, it's an easy decision. Why not — send tanks, send planes, send rockets, send mortars — why not? But when this happened — much thought went into sending troops to Detroit.

It is indeed unfortunate that the worst riot in the history of the United States should happen here in Michigan, and equally unfortunate that it is to become a hot political football. Sir, were YOU there—and what would YOU have done?

Gary L. Flanders.

Melissa Mattis left Thursday to fly to Irvington, N. Y., to spend a week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Pastucha. Melissa's sister, Merleen, has been visiting for two weeks with the Pastucha family at their summer home on Long Island. Merleen and Melissa spent Saturday together in New York City while their hosts were attending a wedding in Washington, D. C. The girls expect to return home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. George Wolf and five children are vacationing in Cornwall, N. Y., and Vermont for two weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Calhoun and son, Terry, have returned home after vacationing for a week. They attended the National Landrace Conference at Springfield, Ill., where Mr. Calhoun earned a handsome trophy as grand champion judge in the men's division. Harlan Ritchie of Michigan State University was the official judge.

The Calhouns followed the Mississippi River northward and for the last several days of their trip, followed the Ontario lake shore route above Lake Superior.

Returning home Monday from Sault Ste. Marie, they called at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Copeland, former Clinton residents, who now live near Kewadin. The Copeland's have recently sold their orchard farm and plan to move soon to the tip of Torch Lake where they have purchased a home.

Mrs. Anna Anglemyre and daughter, Mrs. Arthur Hill of Milford, were in Morenci Monday to visit Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Clark.

Mr. and Mrs. Victor Litke of Southfield were overnight guests of Mr. and Mrs. John Fox. Sunday they visited Minota Fox where she is employed at Beulah.

Mrs. Glen Wilson is a patient in University Medical Center, Ann Arbor. Mr. and Mrs. Marion Alderdyce of Kalkaska are staying with Mr. Wilson while his wife is in the hospital.

John Truesdale has returned home after being hospitalized for a few weeks.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fitzpatrick were in Newberry last week, called there by the death of Mrs. Fitzpatrick's brother, Lloyd Hale.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Steffens and Don John are vacationing in the Eastern States for a week.

Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Brugger are vacationing for two weeks in Arizona and several Western States.

Mr. and Mrs. George Heimerdinger and sons have returned home after vacationing for a week near Big Rapids.

Mr. and Mrs. Merval Mattis and son, Jimmy, spent three days on Lake Erie last week, visiting Cedar Point and Put-in-Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Bingham and daughter, Gail, came from Tucson, Ariz., last Friday to pick up their daughters, Beth and Nan, who had been visiting for several weeks at the home of Mrs. Bingham's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Rathke.

Mrs. Bingham's aunt, Mrs. Anna Anglemyre, entertained at a family gathering Sunday. Besides the Binghams and Rathkes, other guests were Mr. and Mrs. Loren Brown, Mr. and Mrs. James Kress and family of Manchester, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Hill of Milford. The Binghams left for home last Monday.

Pam Calhoun completed her senior class work at Michigan State University summer school last Wednesday. She was a bridesmaid Saturday afternoon, at the marriage of her roommate, Karen Neighbor, of Livonia, to Eugene Michael O'Malley, in St. John's Catholic Church, E. Lansing.

Pam plans to spend the remainder of the summer at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Calhoun. In September she will begin her practice teaching in speech correction at Livonia Public Schools.

Paul Burns, teacher of Vocational Agriculture at Tecumseh High School, participated in the program of the 48th annual conference for Teachers of Vocational Agriculture at Michigan State University, July 24-28. More than 200 teachers, principals, superintendents, directors of vocational education and counselors attended the conference at MSU's Kellogg Center for Continuing Education. The theme of this year's event was "Growing with our Changing Agriculture." The conference also marked the 50th anniversary of the signing of the Smith-Hughes Act, which provided for administration and finances for local vocational education programs.

New Church Construction Underway

Work has begun on the new Church of the Nazarene to be located next to the site of the present church building at 807 Sunset at Chicago Blvd.

William Gilroy of Wayne is the general contractor for the building which will be of brick and block construction, 40 x 66 feet, with a seating capacity of 200.

Church services have been conducted in the house which will now become a parsonage, and the pastor, the Rev. Herbert Nation, of Ann Arbor, plans to move into it as soon as it is available.

Future plans call for an education building to be built as an addition to the new church building, which is expected to be completed in six months.

Barbara Gillespie Weds William Veeser

Barbara Kay Gillespie and William R. Veeser were united in marriage July 29 by Father Roger O'Brien a friend of the groom, at St. Joseph's Shrine in the Irish Hills.

Pink and white blooms were used in the altar vases.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Roger Gillespie, 9687 Welch Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Veeser of Brookfield, Ill.

William Hetrick of Britton was the soloist.

The bride selected a gown of English net with bobbin lace in cage style with jeweled neckline and chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was attached to appliques matching those on her dress. She also wore a veil matching the length of her train.

Sue A. Austin, school friend of the bride, served as maid of honor in a floor-length princess styled gown of jubilee pink linen shantung with attached train.

She wore a headpiece of pink organza in loops on a comb with brief veil attached matching her dress and carried a cascade of Rubrum lilies and roses.

Deanna Emhoff of Coloma, Becky Austin of Oak Park, Ill., with Karen Busch of Clinton, as junior bridesmaid, completed the bride's attendants.

All were attired as the maid of honor.

Wayne Rankin of Brookfield, Ill., served as his friend's best man and the guests were seated by Tom Schneider and Dick Firestone, both of Milwaukee, Wis.

Bruce Gillespie, brother of the bride, and Greg Varanese, roommate of the groom, of Milwaukee, Wis., were the groomsmen.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ash and Mr. and Mrs. Elwyn Green were hosts for the reception at the Tecumseh Products Workers' Union Hall.

Guests were registered by Mrs. Clifford Haas of Lambertville. Mrs. Charles Brown, Mrs. William Bailey, Britton and Mrs. Fred McCrate of Ypsilanti, served beverages.

A buffet dinner was served to 300 guests with place markers decorated with lilies of the valley.

A pink and white theme was carried out in the decor including floral pieces.

Mrs. Larry Green of Grand Rapids and Mrs. Russell Cadmus served the cake.

The bride was graduated from Britton High School and Western Michigan University and is a primary teacher of mentally-handicapped in Wauwatosa, Wis.

Her husband was graduated from Fenwick High School and Marquette University, Milwaukee, Wis., and is presently doing graduate work for a MS in psychology at Marquette University.

They will live at 2850 W. Highland, Apt. 104, Milwaukee, Wis., after a two-week trip through the mid-western states.

The rehearsal dinner was held at Bauer Manor, given by the groom's parents.

MRS. WILLIAM R. VEESER

Lois Neidlinger Is Honored Guest at Bridal Shower

BRITTON — Lois Neidlinger, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vern Neidlinger of Brooklyn, was the guest of honor at a bridal shower given by Mrs. Elmer Eberhardt Sunday afternoon in her home. Co-hostesses were Mrs. Allen Bower, Mrs. William Eddinger and Mrs. Gale Smith.

Games were played and prizes won by Mrs. Don Dickerson and Mrs. Keith Bottorff. Mrs. Cal Rohrback won the door prize.

Decorations and flowers were in pink and white. Light refreshments were served from a table covered with pink linen and graced with flower arrangements and pink tapers.

Miss Neidlinger, a 1960 graduate of Britton-Macon High School, is currently employed as a nurse in St. Louis, Mo. She will become the bride of Thomas Hoerr of St. Louis Sept. 16. She opened many lovely gifts.

Out-of-town guests included the mother of the bride-to-be, Mrs. Vern Neidlinger of Brooklyn, the bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ed Hoerr of St. Louis, Mo., and Mrs. Patrick Bolen of Belleville.

Britton Briefs

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

Mr. and Mrs. George Settles of Saline and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Cook of Britton spent last weekend at Wamplers Lake.

√

George Hawkins was on riot duty with his National Guard unit in Detroit and Flint the past week.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Brown and sons returned home Saturday after a two-week camping trip to East Jordan.

√

Mrs. William Gibson fell down some steps in her home on Ridge Highway Saturday, suffering several broken ribs and severe bruises. It was first thought she had broken her hip, but this proved to be untrue. She spent several days in Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Mrs. Clarence Schroeder received her master's degree in elementary education from Eastern Michigan University this summer. Mrs. Schroeder will return as first grade teacher at Britton-Macon Area School this fall.

√

Seven members of the G-8 Card Club enjoyed an evening out for dinner last Thursday. Mrs. Martin Ivan, Mrs. George Brablec, Mrs. Paul Rowlands, Mrs. Lee Taylor, Mrs. Joe Hall, Mrs. Elden Reeck and Mrs. Walter Prill made the trek to Schuler's in Jackson for the outing.

√

Arthur VanWormer and Mrs. Virginia Setchell were united in marriage by the Rev. Gustav Hanneyik at the Congregational Christian Church Thursday afternoon.

Brenda Hall and Michael Jordan Say Vows

BRITTON — Brenda Hall and Michael Jordan were united in marriage in a double-ring ceremony performed by the Rev. Kermit Boyce, Saturday evening in the Ridgeway Nazarene Church.

The bride's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Homer Hall and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Leach, all of Britton.

As she approached the altar with her father, the bride wore a long white empire styled A-line gown of Alencon lace and organza. The lace bodice was accented by a Sabrina neckline and long fitted lace sleeves.

Her detachable coat-style train featured large bows at the shoulders. A shoulder length veil of French illusion was attached to a petaled organza headpiece trimmed with a crystal cluster and sequins.

The bride's bouquet was fashioned of white gladioli and stephanotis centered with an orchid.

Maid of honor Nancy Hawkins of Tecumseh wore a long empire gown of pink mist. She carried a bouquet of pink and blue asters.

The bridesmaids were Pamela Judkins and Diane Dospoy. Their gowns were identical to the maid of honor's.

Larry Graham of Britton was the best man. Guests were seated by Keith Auten and Clark Griffin.

Immediately following the ceremony, 150 guests attended a reception in the Tecumseh IOOF Hall on Green Hwy.

The bride is a 1967 graduate of Britton High School and is employed at Herrick Nursing Home, Tecumseh.

Mr. Jordan is a 1966 graduate of Britton High School and is employed at J. J. Walper and Son in Britton.

Mr. and Mrs. Jordan will be at home at 5200 Rexom Rd., Britton, upon their return from a short wedding trip in Northern Michigan.

MRS. MICHAEL JORDAN

207 Play Ball

BRITTON — The summer baseball program in Britton drew to a close last week after two months of competition that involved 207 area youngsters in the summer sport.

George Hawkins was the director for the program. He has served in this capacity for several years.

The Little League teams, which includes boys in the 9-12 age range, involved the greatest numbers of participants, as 104 boys on seven teams battled it out on the diamond.

The winning team was the Hawks, coached by August Maska and Jim Shiels. The boys ended the season with a 10-2 record.

The standings are:

Team Standings

Hawks	10-2
Lions	9-3
Wildcats	8-4
Falcons	7-5
Bears	7-5
Colts	1-11
Eagles	1-11

Coaches included:

Lions — Dave Squires, Harley Slick.

Wildcats — Bill Bearinger, Chet Smetka

Falcons — Ivan Olds, Al Wagenschutz

Bears — Wes Gilmore, Tom Judkins

Colts — Joe Cabla, Ray Campbell

Eagles — Gladwin Spohr, Frank Vallie.

Twenty-nine boys in the 13-15 age group played on the Babe Ruth League. Britton fielded two teams and Summerfield and Deerfield completed the league. Britton took the two top ratings.

Team Standins

Britton J.J. Walper	8-4
Britton Merchants	7-5
Summerfield	7-5
Deerfield	2-10

Herman Bates and Ned Brown were the coaches for the Britton J. J. Walper team and William Hetrick and Henry Brown were the coaches for the Britton Merchants.

Members of the top ranked team were Charles Loomis, Steve Hale, Sam Bates, David Hawkins, Dick Schroeder, Rick Furgason, Danny Warren, Robert Loomis, Mark Vallie, Bill Tuberville, Eddie Hamilton, Rick Brown and Rick Maska.

The Pee-Wee team, for boys 7-9, had 25 boys who played in a league with Deerfield and Petersburg. Again, Britton came out on top. The young boys were coached by Archie Miller.

Team Standings

Britton Panthers	6-5
Deerfield	5-6
Petersburg	3-8

Fifteen girls in the 13-year and up age group played on a Senior Girls team, coached by Mrs. LaVaunn Mann and Mrs. Clare Griffin.

These gals ran into some tough luck and finished next to last in their league, with a 2-13 final mark. Deerfield ended up with a 1-14.

The Junior Girls team, which included 34 girls in the 9-12 age bracket, battled it out with Deerfield and ended up with a 2-4 season. Deerfield led with a 4-2 mark. The Britton Junior Girls were coached by Mrs. Curtis Banks and Mrs. Wesley Tiede.

(Britton Editor's Note — George Hawkins, director of the summer baseball program, was serving in the National Guard last week and his son, David, volunteered to collect all the game statistics. Dave wrote, "I wish you would put this by my Dad instead of me because I feel he worked the hardest in the summer recreation program and should get his name in the paper.")

Bob Arwood Hurt in Auto Collision Sunday Afternoon

Robert R. Arwood, 33, of 217 Burt St., was treated for back and neck injuries at Herrick Memorial Hospital, following an auto accident Sunday afternoon.

Arwood was signaling for a left turn into a private drive near the intersection of Tecumseh and Allen Roads.

Helen R. Hughes, 38, of 9783 Clinton Rd., Manchester, was given a summons for following too close when her car struck the rear of the Arwood vehicle.

She told Clinton State Police that she didn't see the Arwood turn signal.

Mrs. Hughes' husband, Wallace, 38, was treated for injury to his right shoulder.

Clarence Kellers Entertain Former School Friends

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Keller entertained for Mrs. Leander Beach of Fort Worth, Tex., who is remaining for a few weeks with her sister, Mrs. Paul Burkhardt, since the death of Mr. Burkhardt.

Guests included several former classmates who attended Clinton High School in 1915, '16 and '17.

They included Mr. and Mrs. Harold Every of Tecumseh, Mrs. Marie Reibe of Adrian, Mrs. Adele Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Heimerdinger, Mrs. Viva Riker, Mrs. Rosemond Jenkins and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Allen.

A cook-out supper was served and the visitors, who had met for frequent reunions over the years, had a good visit together.

Manchester Track Hosts 50 Racers

There were 50 cars competing in the Sportsman Division Friday with Jim Stemen of Hillsdale being the fastest qualifier. Duane Valentine of Whitmore Lake was the second fastest.

Ed Hage of Ypsilanti captured the first heat with Larry Gray, second and Dan Taylor, third.

The second heat went to Bill Heeney of Howell with Butch Moull, second and Bill Cattell, third.

The Super Stocks were out in the third heat with Ed Todd claiming the victory. Glen Stevens finished second and Chuck Hines came in third.

The fifth heat went to Neil Grady of Britton with Jon Johnson, second and Tom Falk, third.

The sixth heat was for the Super Stocks with Wayne Pruden finishing first, Russ Wyman, second and Larry Pingston, third.

The Pursuit for the Sportsman Class went to Louie J. Stemen with Duane Valentine second and Jim Stemen third.

The 10-lap Consey went to Mike Worden who took the lead on the second lap. Don Johnson finished a close second and Calvin Byrd pulled in third.

The Semi-Feature started with 13 cars and stopped once on the fourth lap, restarting with ten cars.

Bob Connin placed third and Dick Crank fourth.

The 25-lap Feature, which started 18 cars, was stopped twice due to spin-outs.

Dick Slade of Hillsdale took the early lead holding off Duane Valentine for the win. Duane finished second, Ed Hage, third, Louie Stemen, fourth, and Don Taylor, fifth.

Ed Todd made it a clean sweep in the Super Stock Division by winning the 15-lap Feature. Ed took the early lead over the other 16 cars, Glen Stevens finished second and Lem Svajian, third.

The latest word on Harold Schill is that he has been transferred to MacPherson Health Center in Howell for his continuing recovery.

Bruce Home Is Being Restored

A Tecumseh showpiece, the Bill Bruce home on N. Evans St., is gradually being restored after being ravished by fire during the early hours of July 9.

Mr. Bruce says a fire restoration firm from Toledo, which specializes in this kind of work, expects to complete the job by mid-September. Another Toledo company is refinishing 40 antiques damaged in the blaze.

The 130-year-old house will be restored exactly, says Mr. Bruce, who, along with his wife, have expressed considerable gratitude to the Tecumseh Fire Department for preventing total destruction of their home.

The Bruces are presently living at Hewes House Motel. They've lived in Tecumseh for the past 31 years.

One of Year's Best Shows

By DENICE ANDERSON

Opening night at Clark Lake Playhouse for the third in a series of five summer performances proved to be one of the best productions staged at the arena theatre in a lake-side setting.

"Catch Me If You Can," a mystery of the comedy concerned with identities, will continue at Clark Lake Aug. 3, 4 and 5.

Tickets sell for $2.25 and may be reserved by calling 529-9141 or 529-9512. Curtain time is 8:30 p.m.

Directed by G. L. Blanchard, the mystery won a special citation from The Mystery Writers of America Assn. for the originality of its plot-twists.

John Raymond of Tecumseh was Daniel Corban, a young man who lost his bride on the honeymoon.

She disappeared from their cottage in the Catskill Mountains and he was the perfect picture of a distraught husband, anxiously awaiting her return with a "Welcome back, Honey," sign over the door.

Raymond was amazing as he rambled across the stage, constantly pushing back his hair and smoking his cigarettes in hurried puffs.

As the play progressed and identities became more confused, his eyes took on the glassy look of the insane. But who wouldn't be insane with a beautiful woman claiming to be your wife when you know darn well she isn't but no one will believe you?

Elizabeth Farrell was Elizabeth Corban who claimed to be the missing newlywed.

Miss Farrell appeared perfectly composed and comfortable on the stage.

When the inspector was around, she was the concerned wife, but the minute she and Corban were alone, her vixen claws came out as she laughingly exposed her plot to rook Corban out of his insurance and "do him in."

Corban, who had earlier spent several weeks in a "rest home," would laugh hysterically as Miss Farrell, arms crossed, calmly defied him, knowing that she had the upper hand because no one would believe the distraught honeymooner.

The true comedy of the evening appeared in the form of Inspector Levine, played by Peter Blake.

The seemingly sex-starved older man showed only tired patience for Corban. "Perry Mason, you're not," he muttered as Corban desperately interrogated the imposter, asking questions to which he, himself, didn't know the answers.

Blake, his footsteps resounding across the stage, was the picture of a harried inspector.

Duane Steele of Tecumseh was Father Kelleher, the "pious" preacher with a sadistic glint in his eye.

Anxiously only to do what was right, the Father beamed as the Inspector exclaimed, "Father, you're Kosher."

The set and costumes were magnificent.

Miss Farrell was dressed in the latest of fashion, her outfits ranging from slacks to beautiful dresses.

The summer home was a real honeymoon cottage. Complete with a bar, a plush white carpet and a deer rack over the door, the cottage was lighted to perfection.

Completing the cast were David Howard, Fred Halliwill and Shirley Jenks.

Blue Dot Is Closed by Hunts

CLINTON — One Clinton business has closed in the past week.

The Blue Dot, teen recreation center operated by Mr. and Mrs. Merle Hunt, has ceased operation after six months.

The business catered to the youth of the community for recreation, pool, slot car racing, dancing and snacks. It was a favorite hang-out for the months it was open.

Mr. Hunt continues to operate Hunt's Gulf Service and Mrs. Hunt has no particular plans for the immediate future.

The Rick Knights Are New Parents of Baby Boy, Doug

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Knight are the parents of a boy, Douglas Martin, born July 22 at St. Joseph Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mrs. Knight and son returned home Thursday. The grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Robert Roe and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Knight, Sr.

Main Street Appearance Is Changing Every Day

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Even if one is away for just a week, it is noticeable that Clinton's main street appearance is changing every day.

There are some new businesss on Michigan Ave., and some noteworthy refurbishing of present business buildings.

Mr. and Mrs. James Armstrong of Clarkston have opened The Clinton Upholstering and Furniture Company at 124 W. Michigan Ave.

Just after the new enterprise was started several weeks ago, Mr. Armstrong was in an auto accident while commuting to his home in Clarkston.

His nose was almost severed and he sustained other injuries which kept him hospitalized for five weeks.

Now, he is starting again. Mr. Armstrong has been in the upholstering business for 25 years and with two experienced workmen, he completely builds and upholsters all styles of furniture.

The store will offer an assortment of new furniture, including living room suites, dinette sets, occasional tables and accessories, as well as mattresses at modest prices.

Mr. Armstrong, his wife, Mildred, and three school-age children now reside in the Campbell house on Van Tuyle Rd.

They are looking for a large building in the vicinity which will permit expansion into more new furniture lines in the near future.

"We really love Clinton and want to stay in this area," Mr. Armstrong said.

★

ROSCOE PARKER, who for 40 years was a familiar fellow on Clinton's main street while he operated the Lancaster Standard Station, decided after a few weeks of leisure that he wanted to "be where things are going on."

Mr. Parker has leased the Texaco Service Station from Tri-County Oil Company, right across the street from his former location, at the intersection of Michigan Ave. and Tecumseh St.

The service station building which had stood empty for many years, has been redecorated and will be open daytimes.

"Most of my old customers and friends are already coming back and business is surprisingly good," he reports.

★

A COMPLETELY new polka dot tile and window glass front has been installed in the Midway side of Roumell's Restaurant.

The building was damaged considerably last spring when an errant motorist drove through the window.

★

RICHARD PETRESON opened his barber shop in his new building on the southside of W. Michigan Ave.

Built on the lot which had stood vacant for many years since the demolition of Clinton's old theater building, the new one-story structure was erected in a matter of just a few weeks this spring, when the lease ran out in the building next door, where Mr. Peterson had operated his barber shop for 2 years.

Two barber chairs and all new equipment have been installed and the wide glass window and deep red carpet add to the decor of Clinton's most modern barber shop.

Plans call for the addition of a second barber in the establishment in the near future.

Mr. Peterson resides with his wife and family at 3905 Kaiser Rd. He's the president of the recently reorganized and chartered Clinton Junior Chamber of Commerce.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Gail Austin, Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Miller, Mrs. Haddie Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ash, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Rorback, Mr. and Mrs. Loren Dicks, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Mueller and daughters and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore.

New School Bond Rejected by State

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — The State Board of Education has rejected the proposal for preliminary qualification of bonds for a new high school building for Clinton Community Schools.

Superintendent Richard Wegner received communication advising him of the decision last week:

The School Bond loan committee at a meeting on July 20 gave careful consideration to your application number 46-060-4-K12-03 for preliminary qualification of bonds. It was the decision of this committee that qualifications of these bonds be denied.

The reason for this denial is that this construction in your School District would be a deterrent to future reorganization in your area.

It is also the opinion of this Committee that the total amount of your bond issue and your present debt is too great a debt for your community.

If you have any questions regarding the action of this Committee, we will be very glad to discuss them with you.

Sincerely,
Roger Boline, Director
School Management Services.

Several weeks ago, Ralph Frostic, chairman of the School Bond Qualification Department and two members of that board, spent a few hours with Mr. Wegner in a tour of the community and the present school facilities.

Just prior to that visit, Mr. Wegner wrote a complete projection of the community's industrial and population growth potential, with the local Board of Education's assessment of the school district which led to the formulation of the school building proposal.

It was sent to the State Board of Education for their consideration when making the decision on the bond proposal.

According to Mr. Wegner, the rejection puts a "road block in the way" of the school building plan.

However, the approval of the State Board of Education is not necessary in order to sell bonds and build a school, he said.

Morenci School District and others have gone ahead despite such a rejection, and Morenci is now selling bonds which have been approved by the voters.

It does have a tendency to create a more limited market for the bonds and could result in a lower interest rate being obtained, which could cost the district more money, Mr. Wegner explained.

He further stated that this denial of the bond proposal does not have any relationship to future accreditation. At the present time, this is as far as the State can go in furthering the cause of reorganization in the school district.

It is expected that the Clinton Board of Education will meet in the near future to consider this matter.

Mr. Wegner reports that all faculty positions have been filled for some time and he expects the master contracts for the faculty will be signed in the near future.

Hail Flattens Many Crops

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Not all the disasters were man-made this week.

Havoc rained down from the sky in the form of wind-swept hail destroying almost all the growing crops in the area between Tecumseh and Clinton. Damage is estimated in the thousands of dollars.

For a 20 square mile area extending from Billmyer Hwy., on the east to Matthews Hwy., on the west, there's hardly a field that escaped without near total damage to crops.

Marble-sized hailstones bounced like golf balls on lawns. Along Clinton-Macon Rd., the icy slush piled up in 12-inch drifts and was still there hours later.

In Clinton, power lines were knocked down and service was disrupted for two hours. Storm sewers overflowed and many basements were flooded.

A large tree fell and grazed the roof of the Joseph Busch house on the corner of E. Church St. and Currier St. Another large tree was uprooted in the front yard.

A tall pine tree was struck by lightning and badly burned in the Catholic section of Riverside Cemetery, Clinton. Many tree limbs littered the streets.

Corn fields which were at their most vulnerable stage, just putting forth pollen-filled tassels and filling ears, are now shredded hulks of useless fodder. Much of it is in twisted disarray caused by the wind.

Lashed by nearly three inches of rain and near hurricane force winds, the storm only lasted about half an hour, just after noon, Sunday.

That was long enough to strip off the green leaves of many acres of soybeans, leaving only skeleton stalks.

Many acres of oats, which weren't quite ready for the combines last week—won't need to be harvested now. The full golden heads of grain were scooped off and the straw stems are now a flattened mass.

The wind was of such intensity it tore asunder the 100-foot long potato storage barn, on the Kuehman Farms, now owned by George Underwood, located on the west side of Tecumseh-Clinton Rd.

The new frame portions of the barn, constructed since the previous barn was damaged in the Palm Sunday tornado, are strewn for hundreds of yards southward across Staib Rd.

There's a barn blown down along Billmeyer Hwy.

Many fields which were being early-plowed for fall wheat planting, became deeply gullied as the torrents of rain washed streams across them, flooding many roads and leaving deep ponds standing in many fields.

Some of the damage may be covered by hail insurance. Hardly enough, though, in one case the insurance may cover only about $30 per acre on cropland which has had an investment three times that large in seed, insecticide, fertilizer, weed spray and cultivation costs.

The tearful despair felt by our young son as he viewed his own toiled-over garden patch with its pock-marked pink tomatoes on twisted vines, will be echoed by many area farmers.

James Pratt, hail adjuster from Manchester, reports he'll be delayed getting into the area since he's still servicing farmers near Milan, which experienced a similar hail storm July 19.

It will be a long, cold winter for local farmers.

A&P

It isn't easy to buy bean coffee!

Nowadays, very few stores offer you bean coffee.

Why does A&P still offer coffees in the bean?

Basically, because "We Care."

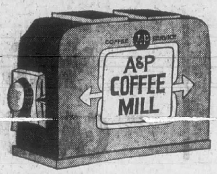
Specifically, because we know these facts:

The coffee bean is nature's seal that holds the flavor.

Once that seal is broken by grinding, flavor fades...

NO MATTER HOW IT'S PACKAGED.

The shorter the time between grinding the beans and brewing your coffee, the greater the flavor.



So if you want the finest cup of "The Think Drink" you've ever tasted, buy and brew one of A&P's three Bean Coffee blends... Eight O'Clock, Red Circle or Bokar.

Not every store can offer you custom-ground bean coffee. A&P can and does.

Shouldn't A&P be your store?

NEWSPAPER BINGO

WE'RE GIVING AWAY $650 IN BINGO BUCKS

'Bingo Bucks' Spend Like Cash at Participating Merchants Listed Below

Winners Last Week

EIGHTH GAME

RED CARDS

AUG. 7 to AUG. 13

Here How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of The Tecumseh Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Check the classified ads for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS — YOU HAVE A "BINGO" — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spends like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE TECUMSEH HERLAD: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Wednesday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards each week will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE HERALD, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The Herald. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

PLAY BINGO NUMBERS APPEARING IN THIS ISSUE ON RED CARDS

WIN as much as $150 THIS WEEK

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be some place in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

OFF the TOP

JUST RANDOM THOUGHTS . . .

One of the most pleasurable moments of summer is a picnic supper at the lake with friends. We enjoyed such an afternoon and evening last week.

After a sumptuous supper, the mamas and papas sat on the shore reminiscing, and watching the two youngest in our families enjoying the placid water to the limit. The sun was almost down before we could coax them out of the water.

The summer is only half over and already the kids are tired of potato salad.

On every warm summer evening at least one or two proud mamas are seen on our street, walking their new babies in strollers, trying to lull them to sleep. By next summer, they won't be able to keep the toddling tots in the yard.

I miss the summer days of the past when I could send one of the boys downtown on his bike on a spur-of-the-moment errand. Now that they can drive, they are never around when I need a last-minute loaf of bread.

It was bad enough when our orange cat Rusty started tipping over the wastebaskets in the house, but I have to draw the line at the new split-leaf philodendron.

Have caught him a couple of times scampering up the bark slab plant support, and then peeking out at us through the giant shiny leaves like a big orange flower.

Living on a corner lot has its disadvantages, especially when the streets are resurfaced, as they were last week. Now the chalky limestone dust blows onto the house, yard and plants from two directions, and I have two doorways to check so that the kids don't carry in tar on their shoes. Ah, summer!

Attention, all mothers: Six more weeks until school starts! Would you believe 40 days?

Our little daughter Darlene is sporting a new item in sleepwear these nights. Discarding her pajamas as too hot, she has taken to wearing a cotton slip at least three years old, and two sizes too small, to sleep in. We call it her "Mini-nightie."

One minor side-effect of the racial violence in Detroit was for our family to cancel proposed plans to go to Bob-Lo or a Tiger ball game. Hubby and I would still like to attend a summer stock showing in our area, however.

Giants Devour Bean Crop

BRITTON — The Britton farming community was invaded last week, not by visitors from another planet, but by 11 custom green bean harvesters, with a 14-man crew.

Green beans are a relatively new crop for this area. About a dozen local farmers planted a total of 600 acres to beans this year. The yield has been about land ¾ ton per acre, which is below the best years.

The 14-man crew are employees of the Stokely-Van Camp Co., long-time processors of quality vegetables. They work out of Scottville, with an additional plant in Croswell.

Jerry Quinn of Scottville is the group leader for the harvesting job in this area.

He stated that the company hires college youth with farm background as summer help, and also some migrant workers.

The big harvesting units, consisting of picker and trailer, cost approximately $18,000. The company owns a total of 20 machines, of which 11 are working in this area.

The picked beans are loaded onto huge semis and shipped to Scottville. The huge 22-ton load can be processed at the cannery in only one and one-half hours.

Ken-Ray Has Entry Blanks

Entry blanks for the third annual "Camera Day" picture-taking contest, scheduled for Aug. 12, are now available at Ken-Ray Tecumseh Drug, 102 W. Chicago Blvd.

Sponsored jointly by The Detroit Baseball Club and Gold Seal Photo Service, "Camera Day" provides a once-a-year opportunity for fans to go right out on the playing field at Tiger Stadium to photograph favorite Detroit baseball players.

All snapshots taken on "Camera Day" will be eligible for over 50 prizes in the Tigers-Gold Seal photo contest. Separate contests will be held for adults and for youngsters under age 16.

First prize in the adult contest is a portable television set, while the grand prize for children is a 3-speed racing bicycle.

Other prizes include cameras, transistor radios, movie lights, autographed baseballs and tickets to Tiger games.

An unlimited number of pictures can be taken during the half-hour photo session which begins at 1:30 p.m. Participation in "Camera Day" is limited to those purchasing box, reserved or grandstand seats for the Aug. 12 game between Detroit and Baltimore which starts at 2:15 p.m.

All persons with cameras, including adults accompanying children with cameras, will be permitted on the field.

According to "Camera Day" contest rules, all photographs must be submitted with an official entry blank and deposited at a Gold Seal dealer.

County Fair To Be Held Aug. 13-19

Lenawee 4-H youth are currently racing towards the finish lines for project work as the 1967 Lenawee County Fair looms nearer, 4-H youth agent Bill Walter announced.

Many of Lenawee's 4-H'ers will be entering their projects for exhibit and evaluation in the County Show Aug. 13-19.

Popular entries in the 4-H program include livestock, dairy, horticulture, photography, clothing, knitting and foods and nutrition. Many other projects will be entered in the Fair, Walter indicated.

During Fair Week the youth will present their projects for judging in the hopes of receiving the highest award — an "A" grade blue ribbon and any premiums that may be offered.

Some of the youth will be designated as "State Show participants". If awarded this honor, the youth will travel to Michigan State University the week of Aug. 22-25 to participate in educational opportunities.

Minga A. Shope, Pvt. Al C. Boyce Exchange Vows

Minga Ann Shope, daughter of Mrs. Raymond White, Newburg Rd., and Pvt. Albert C. Boyce, were married July 1 by Justice Ernest Oliver at the city hall.

Mr. and Mrs. White were the attendants for the couple.

Pvt. Boyce is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Boyce, Elton Hwy., Tipton.

Pvt. Boyce left July 21 for Fort Eustis, Va., near Norfolk where he is stationed with the army.

She hopes to join her husband soon.

Questionnaires Are Being Mailed To Area Residents

Congressman Marvin L. Esch announced the mailing of some 130,000 "Your Opinion, Please" questionnaires to residents of Michigan's Second Congressional District.

"This is an opportunity for people to make their voices heard in Washington," Esch said.

Issues covered on the questionnaire include the war in Vietnam, the draft law, civil rights, income tax amendments, federal spending and social security benefits.

Persons failing to receive a questionnaire should send for a copy of the House Office Building, Washington, D. C.

See 4-H Projects

Members of the Onsted Sweet Clovers 4-H Club toured members' homes July 23 to see crops, vegetable and flower gardens, beef, sheep and swine projects.

Homes toured with each resident showing and explaining their project were those of Roger, Raymond and Royal Gentz, John, David and Vicki Moravik, Glen Weaver, Loralee and Tom Thompson, Tony Spadafora, Deborah Rieve, Curtis Piana, Linda Parsons, Charley Richards and Kevin and David Roberts.

Photography members participated by taking pictures of the various homes.

At the last stop, the home of David and Kevin Roberts, 50 parents, friends and members enjoyed softball games and were served refreshments by Mrs. Roy Roberts.

The Onsted Sweet Clovers received the first prize blue ribbon and will represent Lenawee County in the green classification at the State Show.

Those representing the club at the meeting were John Moravik, president; Curtis Parsons, vice-president; Deborah Rieve, secretary; Vicki Moravik, treasurer; Janet Luck, reporter; and Royal Gentz, Diana Parsons, Sally Mason, David Moravik and Sue Neeb.

Mrs. Richard Gentz was the leader.

The next meeting will be held July 31 in the Multi-Purpose room of the Onsted High School at 7:30 p.m.

YOUTHFUL VISITORS TAKE BEAD ON GIANT

Neanderthal M

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"Take careful aim and fire at will," called the guide as the safari train left with passengers, adults and youngsters, for the Prehistoric Forest.

Automatic weapons are distributed among the younger passengers for the "protection" of the train as it passes through the time tunnel into the jungle to an era millions of years ago. Huge dinosaurs rear their heads and emit guttural sounds.

An immense serpent moves his ponderous head from side to side flicking his tongue and another beast clumsily protects a nest of 11 to 14 eggs as the train passes close by.

Grunts and growls of the animal life come from the forest before the train reaches the shelter from whence a guide conducts a tour of the exhibits of huge dinosaurs.

A Neanderthal man from the ice age, 600,000 years ago, the first to show signs of intelligence, starts the demonstrations. A recorded voice tells about the discovery of the Neanderthal man in Germany.

James Sidewell, artist sculptor, in cooperation with the Smithsonian Institute and five talented people fashioned the huge figures displayed in the thrilling Forest.

Their durable plastic hides are as close to the original texture as man is capable of imagining.

The setting, too, is so natural that the visitor finds it difficult to believe that the animals are only reproductions of the ones that roamed the earth millions of amazement are he Mystery Hill e guide places a e wall not touch- ing the floor and then proceeds to sit there with the front legs of the chair in mid-air.

The strange lopsided feeling is a reality as demonstration after demonstration is presented to the visitors of the powerful gravitation pull.

"It is like leaning backwards into a cloud," said one young couple after they got the hang of things at the Mystery Hill. Others have called unusual feeling they received a "cheap drunk".

The principles demonstrated here are studied and applied to the psychology departments of many leading universities. Many theories have been offered such as earthquakes, magnetized mineral deposits, fallen meteorites and many others.

You are invited to the Mystery Hill to experience these natural sensations and offer your own theories. Tours are conducted by courteous guides and last about 15 minutes.

Bill Pettit and Bud Rogers, owners, urge visitors to bring their cameras because there are many interesting pictures

The guides at Mystery Hill this season, under the leadership of Marvin Grigg, are Roger Hoag, Jack Pence, Mike Simpson and Bruce Costigan of Tecumseh; Mike and Al Wallace of Springville; Bill Fowle, Onsted; Sam Cunninham, Adrian; Rich Rodebaugh and Bill Ehnis, Clinton.

Further entertainment is found in the Moonshine Valley located next to the Mystery Hill with its admission free after the exciting tour of the Hill.

It isn't so easy to buy a newspaper in Springfield, Ill.

We dashed off on our vacation too early in the morning to pick up our Sunday paper.

All day Monday we were so busy sight-seeing in Springfield that we didn't miss the lack of news.

We took Aunt Hazel out to dinner that night and as we neared her home in the heart of the city, I asked her to direct us to someplace where we could pick up a newspaper.

I'm sorry I mentioned it!

Although Aunt Hazel lives just a few blocks from the main downtown section, she doesn't drive and the intricacies of one-way streets completely escaped her.

We peered about seeking the usual news racks on the sidewalks we passed. There were none.

Drug stores seemed a bit scarce, too, since we didn't spy one until we'd gone around several blocks. Then, as we finally saw one, we discovered there were no parking places!

"There's a big news stand down on the next corner. They'll surely have a paper," Aunt Hazel proclaimed.

Closed up tight . . . and it's still daylight.

Oh well, there must be another drug store . . .

Around we go. We're getting a good look at the state capitol building as we go past it again—and again—but, still no newstand.

"Well—let's go around the block again and maybe we'll find a parking place," I offered as Harold began to mutter to himself.

As we slowed for a red light, I glanced up and saw the towering building of the Illinois State Journal-Register.

There has to be a paper stand there, I said, as I offered to hop out and run to get a paper while Harold drove around the block again.

I waited for the light, then dashed across the street, reaching the front of the newspaper building as I began pawing in my change purse.

I noticed the paper dispenser had a coin meter. At the same time, I realized I only had a quarter and eight pennies in change.

What to do? A fellow in work clothes stood looking in the window so I approached him.

"Can you change a quarter for me, please?"

He scrounged into the depths of his pocket and withdrew—a lone nickel.

"Oh-h—what'll I do?"

Being helpful, he stopped a passing pedestrian by asking if he could change my quarter.

The second man said, "I'll see," as he dumped a pocket full of change on top of the paper box. He sorted out two dimes and a nickel and extended them to me.

I was so delighted to get the dimes that I plopped one into the coin box so fast—and yanked open the glass front door—before I noticed—the box was empty.

"Push the button to get your dime back," he told me.

I punched it frantically but it didn't work.

As I swung around and dropped my other dime into a second paper dispenser—he shook his head and muttered, "That paper is going to cost you a quarter, lady," and he walked off laughing.

There's just one paper in the dispenser—the display copy—and I stood there impatiently tugging and pulling to get the paper out from the crisscrossed wires which held it fast in the window.

Just then, Harold pulled up in traffic and tooted the horn impatiently for me.

I grabbed the paper and ran. For a minute there, I thought I might have to go inside and have the Journal-Register run me off another copy!

It's much easier to buy The Herald!

News about Macon

August 5, at 6:30 p.m., the Macon Softball team will play against Iron Creek United team on the Macon Diamond.

August 6, immediately following the church service, there will be an open house at the parsonage in honor of the Rev. and Mrs. Thomas G. Badley and infant daughter. The parsonage has recently been redecorated.

Ladies Enjoy Gathering

MACON — Mrs. Dean Moore opened the general meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service by reading "Joy Is Like The Rain."

Mrs. Carl Thomas was pianist as the group sang "I Love To Tell The Story": Mrs. James Thomas narrated the program, "We're Up To Deuteronomy". Mrs. Ray Williams, Mrs. Paul Hover and Roxie Hover assisted.

Mrs. Terry Ross is the new Spiritual Life Secretary. A gift of money will be sent for Mrs. Dwight Loder's love gift.

The group decided to purchase two more tables and a dozen metal chairs for the church. The money to be used is from the sale of greeting cards.

Mrs. Guy Zellufff is chairman for the project. She will soon be showing her Christmas items. If you are interested please phone her.

New WSCS note books will be purchased for all officers and the chairmans of the Circles.

The group voted to assist with the serving of a barb-e-que chicken picnic for a factory in Ann Arbor Aug. 26. The proceeds from this project will go into the Parsonage Fund.

All wishing to help contact Mrs. Ray Williams or Mrs. Dean Moore.

Refreshments of fancy sandwiches, mints, nuts, lemonade and ice tea were served in the dining room. The tables were centered with candles circled by flower arrangements.

Mrs. Dil Burlesan has returned to her country home on Pennington Rd., to spend the summer.

Mrs. William Gibson had the misfortune to fall down some steps in her home Saturday. She broke a rib and was bruised. She has returned home from Herrick Memorial Hospital.

Mr. and Mrs. Dean Moore and family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Moore and son, Rodney, of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton F. Moore were in Ypsilanti Sunday, attending a bridal shower at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Carey, Jr. It was in honor of Yulanda Brudder of Lansing, who will be married September 16.

William Service has been spending some time at his home and returns to Ann Arbor for treatments.

Mr. and Mrs. Edmond Mueller and family and Mr. and Mrs. Paul Kollar and family. The birthdays of Mr. Mueller and his five-year-old grandson, Eddie, were celebrated with home-made ice cream and cake.

Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Rathbun and family of East Lansing spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Truman Jordan, and grandmother, Mrs. Ollie Jordan.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Ross and family have returned home from a 10-day trip through the Smoky Mountains.

$100 Check

By LYNN COOK

The "Showcase of Beauty" Award was presented to the Little Garden Club of Tecumseh at the National Convention of the State Garden Clubs, Inc., held in Milwaukee, Wis.

The award was for the Club's presentation of the Herrick Memorial Hospital Landscaping project.

The $100 check was presented by Mrs. Donald Moffatt, Garden Club president, to Mrs. W. W. Higham, president of the Hospital Auxiliary to help complete the landscaping of the hospital.

Funds donated to the hospital landscaping fund now are being used for the out-patient, emergency and employee entrances which also make up the only view of many patients.

Backs are being put on existing benches for the comfort of patients using them to enjoy the various courts and gardens the landscaping has provided.

The "Showcase of Beauty" Award given to the National Council of State Garden Clubs, Inc., by the Reader's Digest Foundation is to provide grants-in-aid to the local garden club of groups in developing new beautification programs or in completing unfinished ones.

It is hoped that the Digest Foundations grant will be used by the Council as "Seed money" to encourage beautification projects that will in turn stimulate others in a chain reaction to help beautify America.

The Grant was announced last fall and the Little Garden Club is one of the first to receive this award.

At the State Garden Club Convention in Dearborn, the local Club won $250 provided by a grant from Sears and Roebuck, Inc., for beautification projects.

The Club and the Hospital Auxiliary appreciated the encouragement and financial help these awards have been in developing the Herrick Memorial Hospital Landscaping.

This is the third Sears and Roebuck Award the project has received since its beginning in 1963.

The Award entries will be shown at the Little Garden Club's Christmas Flower Show to be held Dec. 1.

Local Camp Kanesatake Is Praised

Camp Kanesatake, located on Washington Lake in Lenawee County, was inspected July 26 by the National Council of the Boy Scouts of America and received a 99 "A" rating.

The 99 "A" rating is just one point below perfect and exceeds the rating of 98 "A" of last year.

The inspection included 100 questions to be answered "yes" or "no", and these fell under major divisions entitled campsite description and use, operating and program practices, personnel and training, camp records, health, safety and sanitation.

Highway Patching To Be Completed This September

The patching of 15 locations on local highways has been contracted to the Ayling-Cunningham Asphalt Co., of Tecumseh.

Completion of the patching on M-49, US-127, US-12 and M-156 is scheduled for September.

The cost of the $58,670 project is financed entirely with state funds. Loyd H. Leonard of Adrian is the project engineer.

A fellow we know down in Kansas says he finds his wife indispensable when it comes to fishing. Says, in fact, he couldn't go fishing without her!

For instance, he swipes her fingernail sanding boards to use for sharpening his fish hooks; sneaks her clear nail polish to touch up chipped spots on his casting lures and to batten down loose guide windings; "borrows" her silver polish to brighten his spoons and spinners; latches onto a loose tablespoon to use as a fish scaler; and uses her vacuum cleaner with the hose reversed to dry out his soggy boots after he gets home from a fishing trip.

She can't even leave a rubber girdle lie around because he has discovered they can be easily cut into skirts and strips for enhancing the action of his plugs.

Her refrigerator comes in mighty handy for preserving crawfish and nighterawlers between fishing trips. Her Easter bonnet with feathers is fair game for fly tying.

Any kind of fur, from coats to neckpieces, works nicely for tying bucktails on jigs. Her manicure scissors make ideal floss trimmers.

The floss? Oh, he unravels that from her hankies or scarves.

Round earrings form excellent attractors to hang behind spinners. And, all small beads make colorful bearings on spinner lures. Yep, he admits, he even takes along her favorite sweater and slacks once in a while.

With her in them, of course!

*

KIDDING ASIDE, do you know why some anglers seem to have more "fisherman [illegible] than others? There's one very good reason.

Most anglers invest considerable money in rods and reels, then fail to pay the price in lures that is necessary to catch fish.

You must fish where the fish are. Most of the time that is right down on bottom among the rocks and brush that inevitably take a heavy toll in plugs and jigs and other hardware.

Loss of tackle is part of the price of fishing. And the willingness to pay this price often separates the amateur from the pro.

The latter has learned from long experience that worrying about the well-being of a lure is false economy.

Fortunately, not all lures that get hung up are lost. A careful fisherman can shake most of them free and all that is lost is a few minutes of casting time.

If you must worry about underwater obstacles, be concerned more about finding such spots than avoiding them. When you start snagging lures you will probably start catching fish.

Macon Church Board Meets To Discuss Rally

MACON—The Official Church Board met Monday to announce Sept. 3 as Rally Day.

A report was given by William Rhoades on the redecorating of the parsonage and several repairs that had been made. It is planned to either paint the outside or possibly have new siding put on.

Mrs. Truman Jordan has a wheel chair stored at her home that is available for anyone in the Macon area.

It was decided to continue having the newsletters mailed out. The meetings have been changed to meet on the second Monday of each month, starting Sept. 11. There will be no August meeting.

Rev. Thomas G. Badley will be on vacation Aug. 20.

Dennis Drazic Is USN Trainee for Phantom II

Airman Apprentice Dennis L. Drazic, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Drazic of 303 Franklin St., Clinton, and husband of the former Susan L. Truesdale of 115 Tyrrell St., Clinton, is studying the maintenance of the Navy's "Phantom II" jet aircraft, as a trainee with Fighter Squadron 121 at San Diego, Calif.

At the completion of the course, he will report to a Pacific Fleet Navy air squadron utilizing the Phantom.

These squadrons, based aboard aircraft carriers, are charged with the defense of the fleet from air attack, and are presently active in Southeast Asia combat operations.

Drive-In

"Face the Music" will be shown at the Devils Lake Drive-In Saturday and Sunday.

Programs begin at dark and no admission is charged.

Edgar Pistole, minister of the Church of Christ, and his family will be leaving Sept. 1 for Defiance, O., where he will serve the Defiance Church of Christ. His wife, Frances, and children, Sharon, 10, and Leon, 8, of 412 E. Shawnee, will accompany him to Defiance where he will teach a class in religious education at the high school. The Rev. Pistole has been in the ministery eight years, spending the last four years in Tecumseh. He received his education at Freed-Hardeman College in Henderson, Tenn. No one has yet been appointed to take his place. While in Tecumseh, Rev. Pistole established the Hickory Hill Christian Camp. This year's camp had 42 in attendance and operated for three sessions.

Sleepy, Anxious

By CONNIE IRWIN

At 9:15 a.m., July 16, seven anxious, sleepy members of the MYF met at the Grace Methodist Church to go to camp. After having our pictures taken and hearing a prayer from our minister, we were on our way.

We stopped in a park en route and ate our sack lunches.

Finally after hours of riding, we saw a sign that read, "Hubbard Woods Methodist Camp." We turned onto this cowpath, so we called it, to get to the camp.

When we arrived all we saw were three white buildings and one long green one. We registered and met our counselors.

After we were together, we started up the cowpath to go to a church service. When we returned, we started out for our shedeans.

The first bridge we crossed was just a beam. The second was two logs rolled together.

The shedeans were like tents only with a wooden floor. After unrolling our sleeping bags, we started hiking again, this time for the mess hall.

That night we had a pow wow to make plans for the rest of the week.

Monday was a bright new day. After breakfast, we found our home in the woods.

It wasn't too far from our shedeans, so we didn't have to carry water very far. We had to have it for two reasons: one was for our progressive dinner on Tuesday night, and a place to have our pow-wows.

Monday night we had a Town Meeting up near the mess hall. Each group had to tell their plans for the week and their name.

Our group was called "Clyde's Clean Clods." Clyde was our counselor.

Tuesday we went to Huron City. We hiked the quarter of a mile up to see the Coast Guard House, the inn, a museum and a cabin that was 135 years old.

That afternoon we started on part of our progressive dinner. It had been said at the Town Meeting that you carry on your plans, rain or shine.

Well! Have you ever cooked spaghetti in the rain?

The dinner went real well with everyone going to each others home in the woods for their part of the meal.

Wednesday was just loafing around day. That night we cooked out and had hobo dinners. We invited the camp nurse and her two children.

Thursday we went to Grindstone City, five miles away. We rode down, but hiked back. That night we went to the lighthouse and slept out.

Friday was an all-day picnic at the lighthouse for everyone in camp. After swimming, eating, more swimming and cleaning up, we hiked back.

Saturday we cleaned up the shedeans. We took down our home in the woods.

We carried most of our luggage down at breakfast and the rest after breakfast. Everyone gathered around, waiting for their parents.

Finally they arrived and we said goodbye to a wonderful week at wilderness camp.

Chief, Braves Conduct Ceremony

By NORMA JAMES

The weather was perfect for the "Camp Kanesatake Day" held July 29 for the winners of the Cub Scout ticket contest held earlier this spring at the Scout Show, Expo '67, which was held at the Adrian fairgrounds in conjunction with the Kiwanis Festival.

Pack 32 of Birdsall, winner in the Lenape District and Pack 90 of Flat Rock were guests of Len Gamber, camp director and members of his staff at the BSA camp in Brooklyn.

The day began at 10:30 a.m., with a Water Carnival put on by the Scouts.

The Cubs, parents and leaders attending the camp retreat were served lunch and embarked on an afternoon of fun.

Each Cub had a chance to shoot at the archery range and were then taken to the waterfront. Due to the large attendance and the warm weather, swimming was prolonged and the rifle range and boating eliminated.

After these activities, Pack 32 held their awards in lieu of a July pack night at an impressive ceremony at the top of the CK hill.

Cubmaster Chuck Skinner introduced Warren Frank as new assistant and together they awarded:

Bob James — Bear Rank
Jody Bowerman—Bear Badge, one gold, one silver arrow point
Kerry Skinner — Bear Badge, one gold arrow point
Craig Skinner — Wolf Badge, one gold arrow point
Gary Halland — gold arrow point
George Gartee — Lion Badge
Tom Gordon — Wolf Badge, one gold, two silver arrow points
Scott Griewahn — Bear Badge
John Kruse — Lion Badge
Larry Calvin — Bear Badge

Assistant Cubmaster Jerry McDonald, in his authentic Indian costume, with the help of two braves, conducted the ceremony of induction into the Webelo Den for Doug Armstrong, George Gartee, Kevin Skinner and John Kruse.

Dennis James, Den Chief for the Webelos, awarded each a Scout Handbook.

Steve Richardson was officially graduated into Troop 32 and was presented with a Troop 32 special neckerchief by Scoutmaster Richard James.

Passing Car Hits Girl, 6

Six-year-old Robin Schroeder daughter of Mrs. Jean Schroeder, 110 Cairns St., escaped serious injury last Thursday when she was struck by a car while crossing W. Chicago Blvd., near Frosty Freeze.

The young girl, crossing with her sister, Melissa, 8, walked from behind a parked semi-trailer truck into the path of an auto driven by Dorothy Mae Sterling, 36, Occidental Rd.

She was taken to Herrick Hospital, treated for bruises and abrasions, and held overnight for observation, according to Mrs. Schroeder.

Mrs. Sterling was not held responsible.

In other accidents investigated by Tecumseh police during the past week, one involved a non-licensed driver and another who failed to have his car under control.

Last Wednesday, Gary Gaydosh, 16, of 8880 Elton Hwy. attempted to back up a small truck in the hospital parking lot and struck a car owned by Herbert A. Young, 1304 Raisin Center Hwy.

Since the mishap occurred on private property, he was not cited for operating a vehicle without a license. The pickup truck is owned by Junior L. Guilford of Britton.

Larry E. Chase, 20, of 500 S. Occidental Rd., was cited by the police Tuesday after he turned off W. Chicago Blvd. into S. Union St., and struck a parked car owned by Richard L. Birdwell, of 107 S. Union.

MATTHEW JONES IS A HAPPY, HEALTHY BABY AFTER HEART SURGERY

Council OK's 1-Way Street

New traffic designs, including another one-way street, were discussed and approved by Council Monday night.

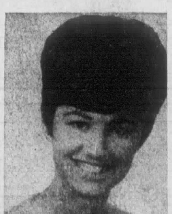
The city's third one-way street will be East Shawnee St., between N. Ottawa and N. Maumee Sts. AAA has recommended traffic going east only in the one block school area.

Effective date for the change is Aug. 20.

Cal Zorn, city manager, told Council that he has purchased 300 feet of guard rail and will erect a portion of the barrier on the N. Ottawa St. curve before school starts.

Rest of the 300 feet will be installed on Water St.

School flasher signs have also been sought by the city, but Zorn informed officials that he has been unable yet to obtain cost figures.



Ona Lee Cote, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Cote of 4393 Comfort Rd., will get to crown the new Miss Lenawee County at the fair next week. Miss Cote was runner-up in last year's Queen contest and since then the winner, Brenda Kay Lowery of Adrian, has married, which disqualifies her from presiding at the fair functions. The crowning ceremony will be Aug. 24 at 7:30 p.m., in front of the grandstand, and will be preceded by the parade of the Queen contestants.

Heart Surgery Saves Tot's Life

By MAXINE CALHOUN

Matthew Dean Jones has already made medical history — and he's only 27 months old!

He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Dean W. Jones, 6643 Pennington Rd., Clinton, and is one of only four or five persons who have undergone intricate heart surgery which involves redesigning of the heart, in this area.

"When Matthew was born in April 1965, he was a bit bluish," his mother said, "but otherwise he appeared normal."

Eleven days later the baby went into heart failure, and his parents rushed him first to Herrick Memorial Hospital, then to the University Medical Center, Ann Arbor.

Nature had botched up the building of Matthew's heart.

The two "great vessels" were hooked up in reverse: the aorta, which is supposed to send oxygenated blood from the lower chamber out to the body, emerged instead from the right lower chamber. The pulmonary artery, which is supposed to send used venous blood from the right lower chamber to the lungs for oxygenation, was connected where the aorta should have been.

There was a natural opening between the two top chambers of the heart when he was born, permitting some blood to reach the lungs. This opening gradually grew closed and when he was three weeks old, he underwent surgery which reopened that small duct.

He was hospitalized for six weeks that time, but he came home and was quite well throughout last winter, having pneumonia just once.

Babies born with their great vessels transposed used to be doomed to death in early childhood.

Attempts at correction became possible with the advent of the heart pump, but not until 1963 did Toronto's Dr. William T. Mustard devise the baffle technique which was employed in Matthew's recent heart surgery.

Dr. Herbert E. Sloan and his assistant, Dr. Kenneth Oberhue, performed the surgery at the University Medical Center July 17.

They took a three-inch circle of pericadium and sewed that into the upper heart as a kind of baffle so that oxygenated blood from the lungs would flow into the right auricle, drop into

Council Turns Thumbs Down

Tecumseh's Chamber of Commerce and downtown merchants may have to look elsewhere next year for a site for the "Battle of Bands" and street dancing.

Council Monday night took a dim view of blocking off any section of Chicago Blvd. — as the city did this year for the Sidewalk Sale — and failed to pass a resolution requested by the Michigan State Highway Department.

City officials were critical in the manner in which the downtown street was blocked off on the evening of July 28, date of the merchants' sale.

Mayor Harold Easton said that Lt. Gov. Milliken's office had no business in interfering with local affairs by asking the highway department to allow blocking off the east block of Chicago Blvd. in the downtown section.

After Milliken's request, the highway department approved detouring traffic around the area, but asked the city to pass a resolution for such action.

Of the five councilmen present — Easton, Gene Tuckey, Don Sunderland, Bill Holmes and Dr. Carlton Cook — only Tuckey voted for the resolution.

Council discussed possibilities that the merchants hold their special festivities in a parking lot and off congested streets.

At the Sidewalk Sale, crowds around the bandstands often blocked one lane of traffic, and according to Cal Zorn, city manager, a young girl was reportedly hit by a car but not injured.

Clinton Teachers-Board in Contract Dispute

By JIM LINCOLN

Unless a representative of the Michigan Labor Mediation Board is successful in attaining harmony between the Clinton School Board and administration, and the Clinton Education Association, schools there may not open as scheduled on Sept. 5.

Much depends on developments this week. The CEA plans a staff meeting in the school cafeteria this Thursday evening and the School Board met Wednesday night.

John Jansen, chairman of the CEA's negotiating team, reports an impasse has been reached in contract negotiations and has asked the state mediation board for assistance.

"There are a number of economic issues involved," Mr. Jansen says.

Although school contract negotiations are usually private and withheld from the public until agreements are reached, Clinton's stalemate was aired last week, much to the chagrin of the teachers' negotiating team and Dr. Edwin Wight, president of the CEA.

Other Clinton teachers also have protested a news article, implying that it was misleading and failed to present the side.

Since negotiations started on March 22, only five articles of the 29-article contract have been approved. Three of the five articles are carried over from past agreements.

Last Wednesday evening, the CEA negotiating team met with the School Board's team for two hours without any progress. The teachers ended the session, saying they were writing mediation board for a mediator.

An oddity in the negotiations is that the teachers have settled for a base pay of $5,800, while the Board is offering $5,900.

However, the teachers' plan would mean an increase of less than $1,000 over the Board's plan, since the maximum would be slightly higher and more monies would be spent for extra-curricular activities.

One of the main problems is the classroom load for elementary teachers. The CEA wants a limit of 32 pupils, while the Board is holding out for 34.

According to the teachers, with the exception of one pupil and based on the projected enrollment for 1967-68, the administration could hold elementary classrooms to 32.

Other differences between the CEA and Board were not discussed, but several teachers said, "no contract, no school."

The Clinton schools employ 44 teachers and recently passed four mills for operation. There are approximately 1,100 students enrolled.

Members of the CEA negotiating team, besides Mr. Jansen, are Richard Content, Michael Synder, Mrs. Herbert Dillon and Mrs. Earl Greene.

'Pit' Building Under Way

By DENICE ANDERSON

The new Tecumseh Park (The Pit) is beginning to develop since construction has begun at the popular swimming hole.

Plans have been in progress for the past year to completely remodel the area and the construction marks the first in a series of moves to provide Tecumseh with a complete recreational area.

"The new building will house restrooms, a bath house and a lounge where c[illegible] will be sold," said Ted Todd, water front director.

The one-story limestone building will be 66' x 41'. Completion isn't expected until October.

"We're a little behind schedule," noted Todd, "but the building wouldn't be ready for use until next spring anyway."

Krieghoff Lenawee Co., construction engineers out of Adrian, have been working for the past two weeks at the site which is located on a slope.

"In addition to the new building, the Park will also feature tennis courts, miniature golf, a band shell, picnic tables and many more attractions," said Todd.

"Ice skating will predominate during the winter months and the new building will serve as a warm-up shelter," he continued.

The Park employs local youths to guard the more than 16,000 swimmers who have invaded the swimming hole during June and July.

Larry Merx is the head lifeguard. Lana Callihan is also a lifeguard and serves as swimming instructor.

Dean Hebb is a lifeguard along with Buddy Work and Gus Bishop who double as maintenance men.

"We have sold 54 family passes which go for $25," noted Todd.

The entire project is under the direction of Don Moffatt, superintendent of the Parks and Recreation Dept.

Whelan Boy Pinned, Hurt

Gordon Whelan, 10-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Whelan, 3470 Whelan Rd., suffered bruises and burns, but apparently no broken bones, in a farm accident Tuesday morning.

The young boy, still held in Herrick Hospital, was feeding his calves with a self-propelled feeder when he was caught between the feeder and a stop-bar.

Neither the father, working at a nearby milk barn, nor his brother, David, 13, who discovered him pinned by the feeder, know how long he was there.

Mr. Whelan shoved the feeder, a farm-type elevator, away from the stop-bar and released his son, who was then unconscious.

In the meantime, the motor to the feeder had over-heated and kicked out, stopping its operation.

Tecumseh police met the father bringing his son to the hospital and escorted him to the hospital. Burns from the motor are on his chest and right arm.

As of Wednesday morning, according to Mr. Whelan, X-rays had shown no broken bones.

ASCS Townships Merger Settled

Roland Russell, chairman of the Lenawee County ASCS Committee, has announced the merger of the Clinton-Tecumseh townships, now to be known as the joint Clinton-Tecumseh Community for ASCS purposes.

All other Lenawe county townships will remain the same with the exception of the Blissfield-Deerfield townships, which will also merger.

This year, committeemen will be selected by holding election meetings in each community Sept. 19. The locations for these meetings will be announced at a later date when all arrangements have been completed.

The annual county convention to select a County Committee will be held Sept. 28 at 9 a.m., at the Lenawee County Court House.

Delegates elected from each community will attend the convention to make the selection and elect the officers of the committee.

RR Crossings Scheduled for Repair

Railroad crossings in Tecumseh are finally scheduled for improvement.

City Manager Cal Zorn told Council Monday night that crossings on Pearl and Adrian Sts. will probably be paved with asphalt, and the main downtown crossing will be rebuilt.

Tecumseh has pleaded with railroads for several months to improve their crossings without any luck.

Attorney James Beardsley informed officials that his last correspondence to the railroads was not even answered. After the railroads failed to reply, Tecumseh sought and gained assistance from the Public Utility Commission in Lansing.

On July 20, representatives of the State Highway Department, railroads and the city inspectd the crossings and agreed to improvements which will probably be made yet this month.

It's big. It's magnifique. It's tremendous. But the most interesting aspect I found at Expo '67 was the people, 300,000 a day.

The children's nursery was better than any exhibit. They were having the best time with sand, water and the finest toys while their parents took in the Pavilions, extraordinary.

Expo express provided a view of all of the huge structures and gives one's poor tired feet a chance to recuperate

Mrs. Clarence Keller of Clinton entered Herrick Memorial Hospital Tuesday for medical treatment. She suffered a heart attack while vacationing in New York recently.

Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Puffer, 513 E. Logan, flew to Albuquerque, N.M., last week to spend several days with their son and wife, Navy Lt. and Mrs. Raymond L. Puffer at Sandia Base.

Mr. and Mrs. Melbourne "Red" Wilson, former Tecumseh residents, now of Sun City, Ariz., are reminiscing at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Moore this week while spending a month in Michigan.

10-Acre Lease Is Sought by Bow, Arrow Club

A request to lease 10 of the 80 acres recently purchased by the city at the northwest corner of Carson and Taylor Rds., was referred to the city's recreation board by Council Monday night.

The request was made by the Lenawee County Bow and Arrow Club.

The area was formerly owned by the old conservation club, which offered it to Tecumseh on the basis that it be retained for recreation and conservation purposes.

Gil Bursley Is Renamed as Top Man

Senator Gilbert E. Bursley has been renamed chairman of the Michigan Senate Committee on International Commerce for the third consecutive year.

"This year the committee intends," Sen. Bursley said, "to see fully implemented the recommendations embodied in its 1966 publication 'Michigan in the International Market Place,' and its 1867 report, 'Michigan in World Trade.'"

"We are particularly pleased that the State Department of Commerce will be acquiring this week one of the outstanding foreign trade promotional men in the country. He will be coming to Lansing from the Bureau of International Commerce in Washington."

2 Guests To Speak at Church

Guest ministers will supply the pulpit of the First Presbyterian Church of Tecumseh Aug. 13 and 20.

The Rev. David Van Winkle, scheduled for Aug. 13, the son of Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Van Winkle, graduated from Tecumseh High School in 1951 and attended EMU in Ypsilanti and McCormick Seminary in Chicago.

He served as assistant minister at the First Presbyterian Church in Ann Arbor, and as pastor in Lockport, N.Y.

The Reverend is now minister of St. Mark's Church in Dearborn Heights.

His sermon is entitled, "No Hero Here."

The Rev. Joseph Hedrick of the West Adrian United Church of Christ will supply the pulpit Aug. 20 and will speak on the topic "What Makes a Church Great?"

The Rev. Hedrick, who was a participant in one of a series of ecumenical dialogue services held at the Presbyterian Church earlier this year, has served the West Adrian Church for two years, coming to Michigan from New England where he graduated from Bangor Seminary in Maine and served as minister of the Congregational Church in Dover-Foxcroft, Me.

Police Report 28 Guns Registered Here During July

Gun registrations with the Tecumseh Police Department rose to 28 during July, according to a report turned in by Chief Murell Clark to Council Monday night.

Normally, the police register about five or six, but probably due to recent riots and disturbances, many people have armed themselves in case such trouble hits Tecumseh.

Clark says part of the 28-gun registration for July was due to a couple of gun collectors, but overall, the registrations was far above average.

● FREDERICK D. CHASE

Funeral services were held Monday at the Dunn Funeral Home for Frederick D. Chase, 80, of 9321 Tecumseh-Macon Rd. He died Thursday, Aug. 3, at Herrick Memorial Hospital, where he had been a patient four days.

Mr. Chase retired in 1957 after 17 years at the Tecumseh Products Company. Before that he was a bridge builder for many years.

Born in Tecumseh, Sept. 28, 1886, he married Edna Mallett Krebs July 19, 1920. He was a veteran of World War I and a member of the Underwood-Orr Post of the American Legion.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a daughter, Mrs. William Tynan of South Lyon; a half-brother, Charles Manley, 611 Murray Dr. and a step-son, Ralph Krebs, of 6903 Rogers Hwy. Four brothers and a sister preceded Mr. Chase in death.

The Rev. Blair Bashore officiated. Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

● VIOLA DRAHEIM

Funeral services were held Monday at the Reeb Funeral Home, Sylvania, O., for Viola Draheim, 55, of Lincoln Park, who died Aug. 2 at St. Vincent Hospital, Toledo.

She was born in Toledo April 1, 1914, and had been the housekeeper in St. Henry's parish for the last 30 years.

She was a former member of St. Henry's Church in Lincoln Park and had become a member of St. Peter's Church in Blissfield before her death.

She is survived by three sisters, Mrs. John Hoot, of 8443 Matthews Hwy., Mrs. Pauline Dressel of Blissfield and Mrs. Bessie Klump of Holland, O.

A second service was held at St. Peter's, Blissfield, with the Rev. Fr. Alvin V. Vesselovsky officiating. Burial was in St. Anthony's Cemetery. Temperance. The Rosary was recited at the funeral home Sunday.

● EDWIN V. FLORY

Funeral services were held Saturday at Sacred Heart Church, Hudson, for Edwin Valentine Flory, of 212 N. Maple Grove Ave., Hudson, who died Wednesday at the Tuttle Nursing Home, Adrian.

Mr. Flory was born in Wauseon, O., Sept. 28, 1890.

He is survived by a daughter, Mrs. Darwin Creger, 404 W. Brown; two brothers, and a sister. His wife died in May 1966.

The Rev. Fr. G. R. Loewen officiated. Burial was in Calvary Cemetery. The Rosary was recited Friday evening at the Eagle Funeral Home, Hudson.

● GEORGE H. BUSS

Funeral services were held Aug. 4 at Jenter Funeral Home, Manchester, for George H. Sr. of 305 Division St., Manchester. He died Aug. 1 at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

He was born Sept. 5, 1909 and lived all his life in Manchester. He married Mary Collins Hatch July 6, 1948, in Bowling Green, O. He was a member of the Emanuel Church of Christ.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a stepson, Raymond Hatch of Tecumseh; two step-daughters, Mrs. Donald Blatchford and Mignon Goches of Ann Arbor; eight step-children; three step-great grandchildren, three brothers and five sisters.

The Rev. Paul Brantingham of Tecumseh officiated. Burial was in Oak Grove Cemetery, Manchester.

● MRS. MARY IDA MURDOCK

Funeral services will be held in Proctor Funeral Home at 1:30 p.m., Friday for Mrs. Mary Ida Murdock, 72, who died Aug. 8, at 9:45 p.m., in Herrick Memorial Hospital.

She had been in failing health for one month.

She was a housewife and resided for the past two years with her daughter, Mrs. Curtis Parsons [illegible]. She had once resided at 210 E. Chicago Blvd.

Born June 14, 1895 in Tennessee, she was the daughter of Spencer and Polly Brown Ball.

She married William Murdock Oct. 31, 1914 in Greenville, Tenn. He preceded her in death Jan. 30, 1966.

She formerly attended the Church of God in Kentucky.

Survivors include two sons, Sherry Murdock of Britton and Royal Murdock of Beacon Falls, Conn.; three daughters, Mrs. Ray Kirk, 603 N. Union St., Mrs. Jack Stapleton of Seymour, Conn., and Mrs. Curtis Parsons of Onsted; 17 grandchildren and three great grandchildren. Three sons, two daughters, two brothers and one sister preceded her in death.

The Rev. Alfred Sheley will officiate and burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

Mrs. Bernice Williams is having an open house for her son, Richard Williams, and his new wife at the home of his brother, Roger Williams, 2505 Russell Rd., Aug. 13 from 2-4 p.m. Mr. Williams married Joyce Kalmer July 15 at the Union Reformed Church of Highbridge in Bronx, N. Y.

Mrs. Bob Allen Attends Annual Camp Meeting

Mrs. Robert Allen of Clinton and her daughter, Mrs. Karl Piekarek, and children Danny and Debbie, were among the nearly 10,000 Michigan Seventh Day Adventists who attended the 99th annual camp meeting at Grand Ledge last week.

Responding to President Johnson's plea for prayers for peace in the nation's riot-torn cities, the Adventists donated 250 pints of blood to the Lansing Regional Blood center and made a gift of $2,000 to answer the cities' needs.

Mrs. Allen was among the blood donors.

PLAYGROUNDS

Vacations slowed playground activities last week, with participation lower than any other week throughout the summer. Activities included a croquet tournament and the junior Olympics.

PATTERSON

The Croquet Tournament involving Patterson, Tecumseh Acres and Herrick Park was the week's highlight at Patterson.

Those participating were:

Patterson — Debbie Creger, Dave Creger and Chris Stanifer.

Herrick Park — Paul Lemanski, Neil Booze and Sam Smith.

Tecumseh Acres — Frank Stanley and Ken Biscupski.

Patterson won both of their matches to take the tourney. Participants were awarded prizes.

Thursday and Friday a track meet was held in which the following were winners:

50 yd. dash — Steve Wright, Mike Bolden

100 yd. dash — Steve Wright, John Getz

Whiffle ball throw — Steve Wright, Randy Macham

Javelin throw—Steve Wright, Chris Stanifer

Disc throw — Steve Wright, Randy Macham

Inverted hurdle — Steve Wright, Mike Bolden

Wheelbarrow race — Steve Wright, Scott Gilpin and John Getz, Mike Bolden

Shuttle race — John Rodifer, Mike Bolden, Tim Prettyman, John Getz

Jumping rope — Steve Wright

Standing broad jump — Steve Wright, Mike Bolden

Running broad jump — Steve Wright, Mike Bolden

Marshmallow roll — Steve Wright, Randy Macham

TECUMSEH ACRES

Children continued playing animal games and making handicrafts throughout the week, with about 20 enjoying Friday's picnic.

HERRICK PARK

In order to participate in the Olympics each child had to do a series of exercise including sit-ups, push-ups, jumping jacks, laps and burpies.

Olympics winners were:

50 yd. dash — Marc Graf, Lonny Booze and Mark Booze, Brad Sisson

100 yd. dash — Mark Booze, Brad Sisson, Karen Graf, Marc Graf, Lonny Booze and Paul Lemanski

Whiffle ball throw — Brad Sisson, Mark Booze, Marc Graf, Paul Lemanski and Lonny Booze

Softball throw — Brad Sisson, Marc Booze, Karen Graf, Marc Graf, Paul Lemanski and Lonny Booze

Discus — Brad Sisson, Mark Booze, Karen Graf, Jeff Langham, Paul Lemanski and Marc Graf

Inverted hurdle — Brad Sisson, Karen Graf, Mark Booze, Paul Lemanski and Lonny Booze

Wheelbarrow race — Brad Sisson-Mark Booze, Nancy Kitson-Karen Graf, Bill Rohrer-Sam Smith, Lonny Booze-Marc Graf, and Paul Lemanski-Ike Smith

Shuttle relay — Mark Booze, Brad Sisson, Dawn Milliman, Karen Milliman, Marc Graf, Lonny Booze, Paul Lemanski and Ike Smith

Jumping rope — Nancy Kitson, Dawn Milliman, Marc Graf, Lonny Booze and Ike Smith

Javelin throw — Brad Sisson, Mark Booze, Karen Graf, Marc Graf, Paul Lemanski and Lonny Booze

Standing broad jump — Brad Sisson, Karen Graf, Marc Booze, Marc Graf, Lonny Booze and Paul Lemanski

Running broad jump — Mark Booze, Brad Sisson, Karen Graf, Marc Graf, Lonny Booze and Paul Lemanski

Herrick Parkers also have gone card crazy and especially enjoy playing "Flip."

SHADY LANE

Children practiced Thursday and Friday for the Olympics, which were held Tuesday of this week. Handicrafts were also enjoyed.

Friday marks the end of the playground activities for this summer. Yesterday a hot dog roast was held with some 150 participating.

GIRLS JUNIOR SOFTBALL

Tecumseh hosted two Britton teams last Thursday on Nelson field. League-winning Lake's Frogs defeated one of the teams and the Tecumseh All-Stars were victorious over the other.

In the All-Star game, Jan Felton, Peggy Aebersold, Darlene Osburn and Julie Murphy each hit a homerun, while Chris Koeplin belted two.

Pitchers Peggy Aebersold and Darlene Osburn shared the win.

In the other game, Nancy Hamilton was the leading hitter, pounding out two homers. Nancy also pitched the entire game.

After the games, girls enjoyed watermelon, Kool-Aid and cookies at Tecumseh Acres School. Tecumseh travelled to Britton for a rematch Tuesday.

SENIOR CITIZENS

Vern Eylers Return Home from Florida

BRITTON—Mr. and Mrs. Vern Eyler and daughter Patty returned to their home in Pompano Beach, Fla., Friday after spending ten days with her mother, Mrs. Myrtle Daykin, and other relatives.

While they were here, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barrett entertained at a chicken barbeque for friends of Mr. and Mrs. Eyler.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Ash and son, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Schroeder and family, Mr. and Mrs. Mike Papp, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Barrett and Mrs. Myrtle Daykin.

Last Tuesday Mrs. Daykin, Mr. and Mrs. Eyler and daughter, and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barrett and family went to Montpelier, O., to visit Dr. and Mrs. Roger Ely and family and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Gilman.

Thursday, Mrs. Myrtle Daykin entertained at a family dinner in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Eyler and daughter. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Daykin and children and Mr. and Mrs. Jack Barrett and family.

Kimball Frye Re-Elected Reunion Top

BRITTON — The 19th annual reunion of the Brehmer-Marks-Wegner families was held July 30 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Bud Fergus on N. Britton Hwy.

Fifty-eight members were present, representing 20 families. The group enjoyed a hearty potluck dinner at 2 p.m.

During the business meeting, Kimball Frye was re-elected president; Bud Fergus, vice-president; and Idella Wegner, secretary-treasurer.

There were two deaths, five marriages and two births reported during the past year. The remainder of the afternoon was spent socially.

Guests were present from Clayton, Adrian, Palmyra, Manitou Beach, Milan, Wellsville, Tecumseh, Clinton, Whitmore Lake and Britton.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Wegner invited the group to meet at their home in Tecumseh in 1968.

Christine Fairbanks'

OFF the TOP

Our eldest son, now a seasoned 18½, showed me his savings pass book the other day, commenting that he would soon need a new book as he was on the last lines of his current one.

As I looked it over, I realized that this bank book tells part of the story of a boy's growing [illegible]

When he first came into the world, we did not have the wherewithal or the foresight to open a savings account for him, as parents of some lucky youngsters do.

Instead, by the time he opened his account, it was August of 1958 and he was already nine and a half years old. By then, he had a seven-year old brother and a baby sister.

I don't recall where the initial deposit came from; whether it was a sum he earned, or a gift, or whether we just decided he should begin saving; but at least he got started.

As I turned the pages of the passbook, I could trace the passage of time by certain entries. The first year or so, the deposits were hit-and-miss, with the largest amount following soon after his birthday, so I must have coaxed him to save some of his birthday money.

Over the next few years, the deposits continued, but still irregularly. It was not that it was difficult to persuade him to save his money, it was just that he did not have access to much!

But in the hot summer months he would mow lawns and then, perhaps, deposit a dollar or two; and in the frigid snowy months of winter, there were deposits of several dollars earned when he fared forth in the chilly early morning hours to shovel snow off the neighbor's walks.

Regular deposits began when he got a job as helper to the daily paper boy. Now the deposits, although still not magnificent sums, were steady.

He was learning how to handle money, keep accounts, and also a sense of responsibility, as he knew every afternoon that people were waiting for him to deliver that paper.

Withdrawals were few and far between. One year he needed a sum for Christmas shopping, as he withdrew a sizeable amount on Dec. 8.

Another year, as I noted the amount withdrawn in early January, I remembered how he and his brother bought a large sled together. The boys often bought treasured items on shares, and still do, although I don't know how they're going to divide their joint property this fall when Doug Jr., moves out!

Turning the pages of the book a bit further, I could tell when he worked one summer at the garage with his Dad. Then there was a withdrawal for a really special bike to replace the one we had bought him.

It turned out to be a wise purchase. The bike lasted him for several years and many miles as he delivered papers, rode to school and just "tooled around," before he finally gave it up when he got the use of a car.

He had learned how a number of small sums could build up for a larger, more important purchase.

Throughout the summer of 1966, the passbook shows the regular deposit of most of his weekly paycheck earned as a gas station attendant.

He also worked part-time assisting the cemetery groundsman and he liked the outdoor work, but he came face-to-face with the realities of life and death in a singular way, when he was called on to dig a grave in the hot sand at the cemetery.

Along the way, he discovered how interest accrues on money saved, and this was another encouragement for him to leave his money in the bank.

There were not many transactions over last winter, when he was busy winding up the final year in the school he had attended since kindergarten.

Then the sizeable deposit three days after graduation marked the salting away of his gift money. By now, he knew the accumulation of nine years savings was earmarked for college expenses, although he teasingly remarked once when he was studying his passbook, "Gee, Mom, I've got enough now for a down payment on a Corvette."

"Over my dead body!" I hollered. He just grinned.

Then he was lucky enough to get a steady job at a nearby factory this summer. He doesn't especially care for factory work, but it is a means to an end, and he reports unfailingly to his shift.

Now earning a man's wages, he puts all or most of each week's earnings in the bank and the deposits begin to pile up.

He is now on the last page of the passbook.

Last week came the biggest and most significant withdrawal, as he drew out the money for his tuition, room and board at Eastern Michigan University for this fall.

How proud he was of his accomplishments, and we were of him!

And so he comes to the end of a passbook, but also to an end of one facet of his life, and the beginning of another new and exciting phase.

Has he learned anything about life and money the past nine years? Has he learned that by denying the small pleasure now, you can save for a larger goal? Will he remember the sweat expended for each of the dollars he carefully saved?

Will his college education mean more to him because he remembers the lawn mowing, the walk shoveling, the daily rounds with the papers, the aching toil in a factory, that have been spent to gain the dollars he now spends in big lump sums?

And thus a passbook tells the story of nine years of a boy's life and of his growing up to be a man.

1887

Hot and dry. All fall crops will be "small potatoes." Wells, cisterns and small streams are drying up.

Fishing parties at Sand Lake and other nearby lakes report no change in fishing tackle this year except that the body of the jug is larger and the neck is not quite so long.

Taking the excursion to Devils Lake Sunday were 100 Tecumsehites.

Lenawee County has 616 pensioners who receive aid from Uncle Sam every month.

Two men at Devils Lake caught 46 large bass and 102 smaller fish — the fishing record was broken.

1897

Rentable houses are very scarce.

1907

The Rev. H. K. Fox will leave soon for his new pastorate in Covington, Ky.

John Calhoun's new farm house near Holloway is nearly finished.

1917

Jesse B. Coller will leave Aug. 10 for Battle Creek where he will be boss cook at the Cantonment.

Clinton Woolen Mill has been awarded a contract to make 60,000 yards of wool uniform cloth for the U. S. Navy at $2.70 per yard.

The interior of St. Elizabeth's Church is being redecorated.

1937

The village council ordered rigid enforcement of the ordinance which provides that between June 15 and Sept. 15 dogs shall not be permitted to run at large within the village unless they are securely muzzled.

The Keyless Roller Skate Company, a Tecumseh Corporation, this week filed its articles of incorporation with the county clerk at Adrian.

The Sportsmen of the Lenawee County Conservation League are very well pleased with the results of their first attempt at raising pheasants, both from a financial standpoint and the percentage obtained in raising and caring for the birds.

There is a big shortage in farm labor this year. The supply is 68 percent of the demand. The total acreage of the 14 important Michigan crops is nearly three percent larger than that harvested in 1936.

1947

An American Bald Eagle was spotted flying overhead around 10 o'clock Thursday morning by George Hay and his son as they were engaged in target practice at the foot of Mill Pond.

Lester C. Rogers was named to the Tecumseh Hospital Board by the Village Council.

1957

Property on N. Evans St., on the east side of the road, was rezoned to Business A to permit the erection of a new A & P store. There was considerable discussion before the action was taken at the village council meeting.

Residents in River Acres Subdivision are registering a protest against the running of the drag races every Sunday by the Tecumseh Timing Association at Meyers Airport.

Watkins Shop, ladies' wear store, opened in the building formerly occupied by Palman's at the corner of W. Chicago and S. Evans St.

Earl Kelley Has Prize Milk Cows

A report of milk production levels attained by dairy cows in area herds has been received from Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

The actual food production output, under official testing rules, by these local Registered Holsteins is:

Bessie Cowhaven Mooseheart 5360590, a four-year-old, produced 18,410 lbs. of milk and 636 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days; Nettie Rosafe Star 4926095, a six-year-old, had 15,630 lbs. of milk and 609 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days.

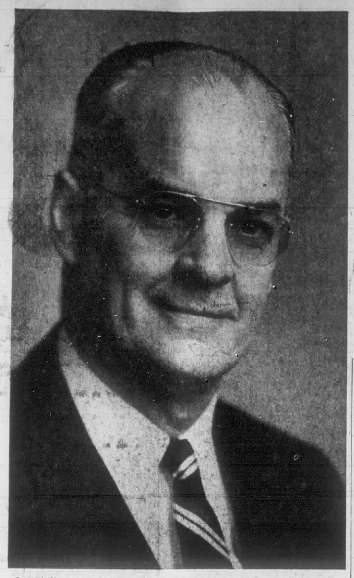
These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 8,513 lbs. of milk and 315 lbs. of butterfat by the average U.S. dairy cow, notes the national Holstein Assn.

Michigan State University supervised the sampling, weighing and testing operations in cooperation with the Holstein organization's herd and breed improvement programs.

Sunday Sermon

"Christ Jesus" is the title of the Lesson Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday.

The responsive reading is from Isaiah and includes this verse: "And the spirit of the Lord shall rest upon him, the spirit of wisdom and understanding, the spirit of counsel and might, the spirit of knowledge and of the fear of the Lord."



Dr. Phillips Moulton, professor of philosophy and religion at Adrian College, will be the guest speaker Sunday morning at the Tecumseh Methodist Church, speaking on "The New Morality." Moulton received his Ph.D from Yale University, where he was named a university scholar. He went to Adrian from the University of North Dakota, where he was chairman of the department of religion. He taught at the Union Theological Seminary. Under Danforth Foundation auspices he has taught groups of college professors in summer sessions at Boston and Northwestern Universities and served as chairman of the Danforth Campus Workshop at Sarah Lawrence College. Moulton has held administrative posts at the Federal Council of Churches and the University of Chicago. He was formerly president of the American Academy of religion, midwest section, and of the midwest Faculty Christian Fellowship. He is co-author of a book, "Experiment In General Education" and of many articles in philosophical and educational journals.

Lost Youth Shows Up in Own Home

When Daniel K. Lucas, 13, didn't show up after touring Frontier City Sunday, his folks, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Lucas of Owosso, became concerned and after searching for two hours, called the Clinton State Police.

Thinking the youngster might have wandered into a woods and become lost, a State Police dog from the Battle Creek post and one from the Flat Rock post was sent for.

Later it was learned that Daniel had thought his parents had gone home without him and he caught a ride home with someone else.

He was safe and sound at home while all the search was going on.

Coming this weekend at the Devils Lake Drive-In is "Carnival of Pretense," a film designed to use with youth around the world.

WE'RE GIVING AWAY $650 IN BINGO BUCKS

'Bingo Bucks' Spend Like Cash at Participating Merchants Listed Below

Winners Last Week

NINTH GAME

GREEN CARDS

AUG. 14 to AUG. 20

WIN as much as $200 THIS WEEK

Here How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of The Tecumseh Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Check the classified ads for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS — YOU HAVE A "BINGO" — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spends like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE TECUMSEH HERLAD: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Wednesday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards each week will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE HERALD, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The Herald. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be some place in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

Frontier City Relives Days of Wild West

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

If you're looking for outstanding family entertainment, with a variety of attractions to suit everyone, be sure to plan a day at Frontier City.

Leave behind the hectic modern-day life and spend a few hours in this authentic setting of a town of the Old West which is open seven days a week and features special Country Music shows on Sundays and holidays.

The City is conveniently located on M-50 just south of US 12.

Frontier City has grown steadily as a family fun center under the ownership of Ivan Hunt. With the appointment of Perry Stauffer as general manager last fall, Frontier City has continued its growth as the Mid-west's leading country music park.

Headliners in the country-western music field appear each Sunday under the new "big-top." The huge tent provides sheltered viewing of the stage shows for hundreds of patrons, rain or shine. Other acts, some of whom have appeared on national television shows, complete the bill each weekend.

There are two shows, from an hour and one-half to two hours in length, each Sunday and holiday at 1:30 and 5:30 p.m.

Roy Clark, who has appeared on the Jimmy Dean TV show and the Swingin' Country Show, appeared last weekend; and Carl Smith, the Homesteaders and the Tennessee Country Boys will be on hand Aug. 13.

For a thrill-packed day for every member of your family, plan to come to Frontier City and attend one of these Grand Ole Opry shows under the big-top.

A big Civil War skirmish, featuring a colorful muzzle loading and cannon shoot, attracts several hundred people to Frontier City on Labor Day.

★

BESIDES THE special Sunday and holiday shows, there are many attractions on the grounds every day at Frontier City for young and old alike.

The old western town is intriguing to everyone,

RISH HILLS

THURSDAY, AUGUST 10, 1967 ☆ DELIVERED FREE TO 1,000 RESORT HOMES

n a corner saloon, General Store, bank, jail and rshall's office. Up the hill, there is old Fort Dodge Boot Hill.

Other high-spots include Old MacDonald's Farm, ere the youngsters can see several variety of baby mals and feed them; a buggy shop, horse-drawn gies and carriages, and a collection of wild and nestic animals.

The tame deer herd now numbers over 200. A cial treat for most youngsters is to enter the deer d and pet the friendly animals. The appealing deer be hand-fed.

Exciting stagecoach and train rides take the isitors around the town and back through the oodlands, and who knows when the riders might e held up by masked desperados?

It seems to happen every day at Frontier City! edless to say, the young passengers are thrilled.

Why not make it a day and take along a picnic ch? There is a spacious, wooded picnic area near a d, where ducks swim to and fro.

Swings and play equipment are nearby, adding to the fun.

Also popular with the young folks are the exciting true-to-life gun-fights which take place on Main Street several times daily, as bandits attempt to hold up the bank.

The relaxing strains of country music are heard in the background as you stroll leisurely around the grounds, adding to the over-all enjoyment.

★

RIDING ENTHUSIASTS will enjoy a visit to Frontier Stables, located just across M-50 from Frontier City.

Here, under the guidance of experienced stable operators, one may take leisurely horseback rides over the picturesque trails. The trail winds over hills, through wooded areas and across grassy meadows.

At one high point of the trail, riders can see the town of Brooklyn as well as several area lakes.

Lucky riders may spot wild deer as they saunter along the ride, which takes almost an hour.

JCC Offers Aid

Lack of finances should not prevent qualified students from attending Jackson Community College this fall.

Several forms of financial assistance are available this fall at Jackson Community College and there are sufficient amounts to assist any student, including Tecumseh prospects, needing financial aid to continue his education.

Aids include scholarships and grants, loans and employment opportunities at the college or business firms in the community.

Scholarships are awarded primarily on the basis of academic achievement and financial need while grants are based solely on financial need.

Help is provided by various associations including the JCC Board of Trustees, private funds, Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority, Educational Opportunity Grants, National Defense Student Loan program and short-term loans.

Students participating in the college work-study program may work up to 15 hours weekly while attending classes full time during the regular academic year, and full time during vacation periods or during the summer.

Typical jobs available include typist, laboratory assistant, receptionist, library assistant and clerk.

In addition, the college assists students in finding employment in the community during the academic year and summer.

Vandals Smash Six Windows at City Well House

For the second time in about a month, vandals hit Tecumseh's No. 8 well house on W. Patterson St.

John Kopke, head of the city's water department, discovered the vandalism Sunday morning.

Six windows were broken by large rocks, which in turn damaged screens attached on the inside. No other equipment was damaged.

The building houses a 1,000-gallon per minute pump and other water department facilities.

Iva Brooks and Douglas Wight Injured in Crash

CLINTON — A car driven by Thomas J. Young, 18, of 112 Currier St., ran off the road on a curve and hit a stump on Collier Hwy., just south of US-12. Two passengers were injured.

Iva Brooks, 17, of 315 Franklin St., received deep cuts to the forehead and elbow. Douglas Wight, 18, of 307 Franklin St., received severe lacerations to face and nose.

Both are hospitalized at Herrick Memorial Hospital.

The mishap occurred at 12:45 a.m. Monday. The driver told Clinton State Police that Miss Brooks had parked a car owned by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Allen Brooks, at Ruhl's service station earlier in the evening. When she went to get the car it had been moved.

The young people were going in search of the missing car when the accident occurred. Later the missing car was found on a nearby side street where it had been moved as a prank.

FFA Group Presented Gold Award

CLINTON — A Gold Award for outstanding achievement has been received by the agriculture department and FFA Chapter of Clinton Community School. The award is one of only 23 awarded this year in Michigan and is a first for the Clinton school since the agriculture department was organized in 1932.

The FFA Chapter has previously earned three Silver Awards and they are all placed on a permanent plaque.

The awards are made on the basis of group activities, farm programs, participation in contests and exhibits.

At present the chapter has 60 acres planted to corn, 16 acres of hay and four acres of soybeans. Already harvested are 25 acres of wheat and 19 acres of oats.

Summer plowing has begun for fall planting of wheat.

There are 43 boys enrolled in the agriculture program for this fall, a steady increase over the years.

The chapter plans to arrange a fruit display and grain exhibit for the Michigan State Fair, Aug. 25 - Sept. 4.

John Jansen is the ag instructor and FFA Chapter advisor.

He is a patient at Herrick Memorial Hospital where his condition is reported improving. He is unable to have visitors.

Mr. Russ is employed at Ford Motor Company, Saline.

OUTDOORS with GORDIE

by GORDON CHARLES

The tragic situation in Detroit, where hoodlums ran wild, pillaging, burning and sniping, has had almost instant repercussions against sportsmen.

Like giant vultures, certain politicians have immediately jumped onto the situation by demanding enactment of the most vicious type of anti-gun legislation.

Here, they say, is proof that the American people have no business owning any kind of guns. Look how many innocent people were shot, they say. Many prominent newspaper columnists, who should know better, have been suckered in by this kind of loose reasoning.

Truth of the matter is, many of Detroit's firemen and police thanked their lucky stars that so many sportsmen live in that city and know how to use firearms.

Many of the very worst fires set by arsonists could not have been fought successfully had it not been for sportsmen with deer rifles and shotguns who stood guard and protected firemen from snipers. This was done during the interval before National Guardsmen and Army paratroopers moved into Detroit to fight the hoodlums.

There is no way of knowing how many lives may have been saved or how much property was spared from flames by the action of this "sportsman militia" who came to the aid of hard-pressed police and firemen.

All of the strict gun laws in the world could not have stopped the hoodlums from breaking into stores and stealing guns which were then used in sniping at police, firemen and innocent civilians. Somebody is certainly whistling in the dark if they think gun registration could halt such activities.

History is jammed with documented proof that gun registration always precedes the takeover of civilian governments by dictatorships. Once gun registration lists are available, it is a simple matter to call in all privately-owned firearms or to make outlaws of people who refuse to turn in their guns.

It is utterly frightening to contemplate what might have happened in Detroit or in any other American city where future hoodlum action might take place, if citizens were not allowed to own firearms to protect their lives or those of their overwhelmed police officials.

Far from proving that citizens should not be able to own guns, the Detroit riots proved just the opposite. The sportsman who knows how to use his guns can become a volunteer addition to support the upholding of law and order.

How anyone could argue against that concept is beyond our imagination but certain politicians are doing it right now. Let your Congressman in Washington and your Michigan legislators know how you feel about all of this right now!

Barry Winder Sees Action in South Vietnam

CLINTON — Seaman Apprentice Barry L. Winder, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert A. Winder of 120 W. Church St., Clinton, has taken part in an assault on enemy positions near Hue, South Vietnam, as a crewman aboard the amphibious assault ship USS Ogden.

The Ogden, part of an operation called "Bear Chain," helped land Marines with their equipment by amphibious tractors and landing craft. Hue, inland from the shores of the South China Sea, is about halfway between the Demilitarized Zone which divides North and South Vietnam, and Da Nang.

Through My Window

QUITE A DAY

Good grief! Whoever expected the 30th of July to brew up such a storm. During the cold weather months from December through mid-March we expect all sorts of weather excitement. Then a wickedly-cold wind can whip out of the northwest anytime, a wind which drives the snow before it and lashes at the trees.

But a summer storm should be brief with much long grumbling preceding it. Things were different the last Sunday of July though, and we just weren't ready for it.

The day started out in quite an ordinary fashion. When we woke up there was sunshine and, if the sky wasn't a sharp crystal blue, it was reasonably clear.

Once breakfast was over we made our plans accordingly — Mom had a few things to do inside and Dad had a few plans for outside. Gram was hoping to watch the Tigers win a baseball game and I had visions of soaking up a bit of sunshine and watching Missie play with her ball.

It sounded like a nice Sunday but just as the folks were getting me into my braces and chair — no, that couldn't have been a distant rumble of thunder.

Our plans did not include a storm and besides, all of the weather reports were good. They spoke of warm temperatures, much sunshine and only the slightest chance of maybe — perhaps — possibly just a few tiny very widely scattered showers. Oh boy!

★

JUST AFTER I was tumbled into my wheelchair, Mom happened to look out the porch-door window. Her exclamation drew our attention.

The sky was a wicked looking black, a velvety bluish black. The wind began to howl, thunder and lightning flashed and crashed, a hard pelting rain started beating down.

The rain came in great silvery sheets and we could see branches and twigs flying past the windows.

Quite frankly, we expected to hear the frightening blast of the fire siren, that long continuous wail which means trouble. Fortunately it did not come.

What did come, though, was the ping, ping of large hail stones. They slammed into the windows, bounced on the metal awnings and we were astonished at their size. Huge.

Still not quite believing that there were no severe weather warnings, we turned on the radio — how ironic. Adrian was still giving out that fair weather jazz. Apparently the storm materialized to the northeast of us and just didn't bother to tell the experts what was happening.

The telephone rang and an excited Gertie exclaimed that the boulevard in front of her house was flooded. The street was closed and that explained why there had been so many cars trying to make Logan a through street.

A Dead-End sign at the corner would have saved quite a few people a great deal of trouble. Cars pulling trailers certainly do not appreciate having to back up.

When the storm let up enough for us to really see what was going on, there was water everywhere. M & D's yard was just one big lake and where it spilled over the high creek bank there was a lovely waterfall.

The yards that weren't under water were a mess, leaves and sticks and what have you. The red blossoming bergamot had taken a beating from the hail — seeing how that had fared our hearts went out to farmer friends.

★

THE CREEK was fascinating, as always. It rose so fast and watching the transition from a clear little brook to a wide and muddy river — well, it just has to be seen to be believed.

Sometime during the worst of the storm one of the trees across the creek fell. It crashed down on the west side of the bridge which, needless to say, is now a sorry looking sight.

Finally the unexpected storm seemed to blow itself out or perhaps it merely moved on to Adrian and other points west. Anyway, the rain fell but only as a shower and the sun popped out.

There must have been a rainbow but everything was far too wet for us to go to see.

The birds exploded into a frenzy of activity though.

Blue-jays, cardinals and red-headed woodpeckers sailed through the trees for awhile; the new tenants in the wren house bustled about and as they hurried out of the house, how they sang; the kingfisher, excited by finding his creek had miraculously turned into a big yellow river, flew in wide circles from M & D's yard, Gertie's to Dorothy's to Duncan's; the tiny hummingbird worked at the bergamot even though its beaten down condition tested his ability to maneuver.

So it is that the last Sunday of July did not go quite as we had planned — it was, however, quite a day!

4-H Clubs Picked For State Show

Two 4-H clubs have been selected to represent the county in the state model business demonstration Aug. 23-24, at the annual state show held at Michigan State University.

In the green classification, a regularly organized 4-H Club, is the Onsted Sweet Clovers Club, led by Mrs. Richard Gentz.

The Adrian Livewires Club will compete in the white classification, an older youth club. Leader is Lewis Ruesink.

The clubs were selected on the bases of effective business procedure, educational value, and social-recreational spirit as they conducted the meetings with correct democratic and parlimentary procedure.

Sylvia Steele Is Presented American Flag

The annual Tecumseh Club picnic was held last Thursday at the rural home of Mr. and Mrs. Russ Scott of Britton.

Rev. Karl Keefer of Ann Arbor, president of the American Flag Foundation, gave a program on the history of the American Flag and awarded a flag to Sylvia Steele.

Fifty Kiwanians and friends were present.

THE DODGE BOYS

Judith A. Sullivan Weds Larry D. Harper

The Westhaven Baptist Church, Chesapeake, Va., was the setting for the marriage of Judith Ann Sullivan and Petty Officer 2/C Larry Duane Harper, Saturday at 4 p.m. by the Rev. McNair, pastor of the church.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David Cleo Sullivan, Chesapeake, Va., and the bridegroom is the son of Edward A. Harper, 112 N. Oneida St., and the late Mrs. Harper.

Morris Gardener was the soloist and the organist was Mrs. R. C. Morgan.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza. A portrait neckline and short sleevs appliqued with Alencon lace were a feature of the fitted bodice. Lace paneled the slender skirt and the full chapel train was appliqued with lace medalions and edged in scalloped lace.

Pearls etched the matching lace petals which held the bride's bouffant veil of English illusion. She carried a lace-covered Bible adorned with a white orchid.

Matron of honor, Mrs. William A. Spradlin of Portsmouth, Va., sister of the bride, wore a floor-length gown of flowing apricot chiffon over yellow crepe. The empire bodice was fashioned with a deep oval neckline and short sleeves.

She carried a nosegay of matching carnations.

Charlotte Woodward of Chesapeake, cousin of the bride, was the junior bridesmaid. Jennifer G. Spradlin of Portsmouth, Va., niece of the bride, was the flower girl.

Both wore short dresses of white organdy accented with lace applique.

William A. Spradlin, Portsmouth, Va., brother-in-law of the bride, was the best man.

The ushers were John Rudolph Woodard and John Lewis Woodard III, both of Chesapeake.

A reception for 400 guests was held in the social hall of the church.

The bride is a nurse with the US Army. The groom is a 1963 graduate of Tecumseh High School. He is Petty Officer 2/C, serving on the Nuclear Submarine Triton.

The couple will reside in Norwich, Conn. where the groom will be stationed for two years.

An open house is being planned for the newlyweds Sunday afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. C. J. O'Brien. Co-hosts will be Mr. and Mrs. John Deming.

MRS. LARRY D. HARPER

Mr. and Mrs. William Iffland of Blissfield announce the engagement of their daughter, Jane Ann, to Pfc. LaVern C. Stites. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stites of 1954 Russell Rd. A 1968 wedding is planned.

Judith Burnor, Larry Ivan Are Wed

BRITTON — Judith Ann Burnor and Larry E. Ivan exchanged marriage vows in the St. Irene's Catholic Church in Dundee, Friday evening.

The 7 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Fr. Stanley Bowers.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Max Burnor of Deerfield and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ivan of Britton.

The bride was escorted to the altar by her father. She wore a floor-length white gown of silk taffeta with lace accents. The bouffant hooped skirt featured a lace tiered front and a chapel train attached at the back waist.

Jean Gainsley of Deerfield was the maid of honor and wore a long gown of mint green silk organza.

The bridesmaids were Mrs. Bonnie Cannon of Deerfield, Linda Russell of Adrian, Karen Ivan and Cindy Ivan of Britton. They wore A-line sleeveless silk organza gowns in rainbow colors.

Kenneth Ivan of Britton was his cousin's best man. Ushers were David Servoss of Britton, Bruce Becker of Dearborn, David Burnor and Lee Burnor of Deerfield. Chris Burnor was the ring bearer.

Mrs. Anna Mae Van Haerants of Deerfield was the soloist and was accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Theresa LaVoy.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Hickory Park, Ida. A cross-shaped cake formed the base of the four-tiered cake which was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivan are on a wedding trip to Niagara Falls and New York.

The rehearsal dinner was given Wednesday evening at the Britton Hotel by the parents of the groom, Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Ivan.

MRS. LARRY E. IVAN

Boy Scouts Canoe Marquette River

BRITTON — A canoe trip on the Pere Marquette River was recently enjoyed by eight Britton Boy Scouts and four leaders. The boys who went were those who had advanced one rank or more since the first of the year.

The group included scouts Rodney Taylor, Gary Judkins, Greg Dunbar, Rick Furgason, Jerry Jordan, Robert Downing, Gary Check and Terry Hintz.

The leaders were Scoutmaster Neal Judkins; Assistant Scoutmaster Ron Moore; Committeeman John Check and Merit Badge Counselor Robert Auten.

Mrs. Ivan Weasel To Be Employed at Beauty Shop

Mrs. Ivan Weasel graduated from the Elite Academy of Beauty Culture July 31 and is taking her State Board Exams this week.

She will be employed at the Wayside Beauty Shop, replacing Mrs. Marjorie May who has resigned.

Mrs. Weasel is the mother of seven children and resides with her husband and family at 3926 Kaiser Rd.

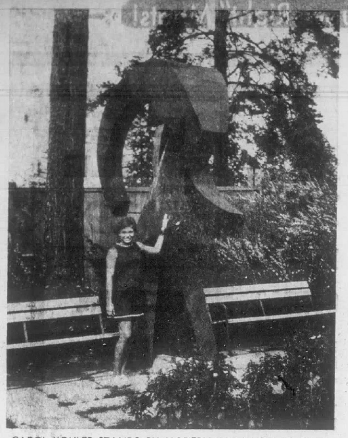
Swedish Tour Is Fun for Carol



CAROL KOHLER STANDS BY MODERN ART WORK IN PARK AT BALLNAS, SWEDEN

(Editor's Note: Carol Kohler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kohler of 203 Iroquois, has spent the past month touring Sweden. She left June 19 from Metro Airport and will return Aug. 20. Carol has been living with Mr. and Mrs. Bengt Perzon of Ballnas. Their daughter, Helen, 16, will come to the United States Aug. 15 as a foreign exchange student. She will live in Michigan.)

By CAROL KOHLER

I write about Sweden as I see it today. Much of what I have to say concerning it, and its people, will be familiar.

What I have seen has given me pleasure and inspired a lasting affection.

Sweden looks even larger than it is because outside of a few cities it is marvelously uncrowded. Its total population is approximately 77 million, most of which is settled in the Stockholm area.

You can travel for miles enjoying unspoiled nature.

I'm very much impressed by the fact that the Swedes are restoring the old. Sweden holds something of the country that is appreciated. The quaint shops and buildings in Old Stockholm undergo repair keeping the city's past unforgotten.

Great parks have been built where old cottages brought from the remote, rural parts of Sweden have been reassembled — kitchen pots and painted furniture inside and flowering gardens in the open air.

Many holidays and festivals are to be enjoyed here in Sweden. Folk dancers are a popular feature and certain districts proclaim competition dancing which takes place all day.

Many dances have a legend such as "Hambo," telling of how the devil played his fiddle and drove the dancers into the ground. Usually dancers in every district take part and each district has its own traditional costume.

Although the Swedes take great pride in their past, they strive for a progressive future.

Sweden has become a modern country of industry and expansion. Swedish ball bearings dominate the world market. Iron ore, water power and the forests are the most important source of raw materials.

In large cities such as Stockholm, it is not necessary for everyone to own a car. Underground subways have been expanded to make communications much faster and easier.

The Swedish arts are greatly valued. Much of the new architecture is marvelous. Also Sweden is known for shipbuilding and many famous restored ships can be found on display.

Swedish education has introduced a basic school system. This consists of lower, middle and upper stages each lasting three years.

When pupils arrive at the third stage, they choose which line they wish to follow. According to whether they will go on to a higher school, to a trade school or end their school days with the ninth year.

The Swedish people of today are happy and wealthy in the way that they live. They seem to enjoy life and consider time a precious thing. They want to do things and go places.

The older people in Sweden are always up and about. The bicycle plays an important part in their lives. To some it's their only means of transportation.

Many of the Swedish youth are up to date on world problems while others prefer to discuss cultures and sex.

The Swedish youth are more open than most and do believe that anything that is taken for granted can openly be discussed. Also they have surprisingly more freedom than I had expected, which account for some of the reasons why they act more mature.

Dancing is just as popular for the youth here as it is everywhere, but they dance in a more formal manner. The fox trot is the most popular dance and everyone of all ages does.

It's common to see adults at a dance we would consider for teen-agers only.

The food in Sweden is as unusual as the country itself. Kaviar, which is a popular food, is eaten on eggs and bread. They season meats and fish with spices we normally don't use.

Sweden is known for its variety of breads, sausages and cheeses.

Many of the breads don't look like breads, but rather have the appearance of crackers. Milk is sold in three different forms and yogurt is a common breakfast food. There are many other various types of beverages, but one you can always be sure of is Coca Cola.

The town which I have been living in is Ballnas. It is a small, typical Swedish town.

It has a population of approximately 17,000 and is located 150 miles north of Stockholm. To the east of the town is a large lake and to the west are mountains.

Ballnas does not have any large industry, but distributes pop to the surrounding areas. Also fine leather purses which make Ballnas well-known can be found in most shops.

Sweden is divided into districts and each district is represented by an animal or symbol. The goat represents the district with which Ballnas is a part. Wooden carvings of the goat are sold throughout Sweden and are bought by tourists.

Rolling hills and valleys make up the Swedish landscape. It has a fresh green appearance, and along with its vast area seems to be the perfect paradise.

The climate is usually cool and temperatures in the summer range from the mid 60's up to the high 70's. Sweden is a country of great wealth and beauty.

It's a satisfying country to visit and stands out with unique qualities.

There's really no way to describe it, but I suggest that if anyone would like to encounter rewarding experiences, Sweden is the place to go.

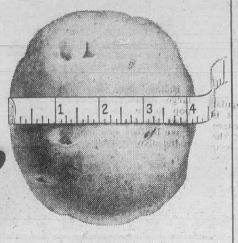
We care

Good potato, but we won't use it



This is a NO. 1 grade potato.
But we won't use it for Jane Parker Potato Chips because it measures more than 4 inches in diameter.
We have minimum and maximum sizes to insure the best chips...the best eating.

But size isn't the only thing we're fussy about.
We'll use only certain varieties of potatoes.
There are 20 or more varieties we wouldn't think of using
...they just don't make good chips.

We're careful about potato sugar content.
It must be low to produce chips of uniform color.
We're fussy too about crispness, thickness and lots of other things.

This may seem like an awful lot of fussing, but that's the way we are about all Jane Parker products... about all the products we make.

When you think about it, shouldn't fussy A&P be your store?

Edgar L. Allred Issued Summons for Failure To Stop

Edgar L. Allred, 48, of Rolla, Mo., was given a summons for failure to stop and for speeding when his car struck the rear of a car driven by Melvia Green, 41, 117 W. Franklin St., Clinton.

The Green car was stopped on US-12 to make a left turn into a private drive.

The accident occurred at 4:15

Don Brazee Appointed

Don Brazee, chairman of the Board of Appeals, was re-appointed to a three-year term by Council Monday night.

He has served on the Board since it was formed by Council several years ago. The Board serves as a court for appeals by residents, who are usually seeking exceptions or changes in zoning.

Sam E. Upton Completes Basic Medical Training

Hospitalman Sam E. Upton, USNR, son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel O. Upton of 118 N. Maiden Lane, has completed the basic Hospital Corps School at the U. S. Naval Hospital in San Diego, Calif.

The four-months course teaches hospital corpsmen and corps WAVES to assist in the applying of bandages and dressings, taking of temperatures and care of ward patients.

With further on-the-job training, he will be able to assist in physical examinations, perform first aid and be trained in operating room, laboratory and X-ray room procedures.

The 1967 National 4-H Week will be observed Sept. 30 through Oct. 7.

District Convention

Richard Krebs Jr., presiding minister of the Tecumseh Michigan Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, announced that the group will attend a four-day district convention in Jackson this week.

The gathering is to be held Aug. 24-27 in the Jackson County Fairgrounds and is sponsored for Jehovah's Witnesses by the Watchtower Bible and Tract Society of Brooklyn, N.Y.

Attendance is expected to reach 7,500 persons from at least 17 states and Canada, Mr. Krebs stated.

"The convention's theme will revolve around 'Disciple-making'," Mr. Krebs said. "The program will feature outstanding Bible discourses and staged, fully costumed, dramatizations of Bible events and accounts that are filled with meaning for persons living in these critical times."

The Jackson convention is one in a series of 64 being held by Jehovah's Witnesses this summer in the United States, Canada and Bermuda.

"These assemblies are the yearly highlight in the lives of the local Witnesses," Mr. Krebs explained. "We feel that inasmuch as they are patterned along the lines of Biblical assemblies, they play a vital role in equipping persons for a service to God in disciple-making even in the difficult days ahead."

Youth Express Imagination

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Parents and friends of High/Scope campers attended the staging of a mixed media performance with some apprehension Saturday evening.

Described by the camp's director, David Weikart, as an "experiment in mixed media," we came expecting something of a physchedelic experience in the form of raucous music and op art forms.

The audience was surprised instead by the sheer poetic imaginative creation staged by the 10-16 year old campers.

The title, "The 33rd Sojuen of the Dialectic Spiral," did not enlighten us.

Concerned with Man's search for identity in a world of confusion, the theme was developed through the use of simultaneous media, including movies, still slides, dialog, dance, vocal music, recorded music and sound effects.

Both color and black and white films were projected on five separate screens, in front and to the sides of the audience.

The unique recorded sound effects came at one from all sides of the large barn where High/Scope performances are staged.

Most of the film used was made in the summer camp area, while scenes of museum art objects were flashed on another screen.

Bombarded by the repetitious "Being is nothing — being is nothing!" Man — as Underself, David Wender is beset with all the complexities of nature and mankind in his search for identity.

Not knowing what he is or his purpose in life, Man tries to imitate those about him — but he only becomes entangled in the hopelessness of his efforts.

Expressive dancer, Janet Hildebrandt, joins Man in the Adam and Eve sequence.

With the realization that he has a mind, he must then acquire knowledge, and with his voice he must give expression to his thoughts.

Perhaps, the most skillfully presented social commentary was the subtle scene of Man's plight as he comes late to the feast of life — where others are already dining in dignity and elegance — symbolized by the fine china and bountiful food.

The latecomer must find a chair for himself — at the end of the table — and eat from crude paper plates — the leavings as the merrymakers shun him.

While sometimes in danger of being overpowered by its solemnity, the coordinated development of the theme was mature in treatment.

The performance reached a suitably tumultuous climax with the idea that man can achieve his identity if he will utilize the resources within himself for the ultimate good of mankind.

Coordinator for the production was Bill Morgan, a recent graduate of the University of Southern California, a major in cinematography who has directed the photographic studies at High/Scope for four seasons.

All the music themes were composed and recorded by campers with direction by Lynn Ransome of the Oberlin College School of Music.

David Weikart, director of special school services for Ypsilanti Public Schools, and his wife, Phyllis, are directors of High/Scope, camp for capable youth, located on Sheridan Rd. near Clinton.

School Contract Tentatively OK'd

A new contract with 20 custodians and maintenance employees of the Tecumseh schools has tentatively been approved.

Both School Board and employees must ratify the contract, which calls for salary increases and description of jobs.

Motorcyclist Safe in Bike Accident

Emery Cook, 53, of Southgate, escaped injury when his motorcycle ran off a curve on US-12 at the intersection of M-124 Sunday evening.

Cook told Clinton State Police that another vehicle which passed him bumped his motorcycle and continued on.

JC Clues Are Airborne

You won't have to be an astronaut, but it will help if you're well versed in space age jargon when you start to decipher the clues for the annual Jaycee Star Trek Treasure Hunt Aug. 26.

Meeting with Chairman Dr. Walter Elwartowski Monday evening to work out the befuddling clues were Dr. Sydney Adams, Dwight Helms, John Day, Bruce Corley and Roger Butler.

Last year more than 200 persons pondered the Morse Code and disappearing ink, waded in the lake, scrambled through fields and peered at strange road signs to find their way to the Devils Lake Yacht Club.

This year's Star Trek promises to be just as exasperating and rewarding.

There will be prizes for the first three cars to arrive at the surprise destination. $40 first, $20 second and $12 third.

Casual clothes are recommended, since it may be necessary to climb a tree or go in swimming to find a clue.

Anyone over 21 may attend. Reservations at $10 per couple may be made until Aug. 25 with Dr. Elwartowski, 423-7960, or with any committee member or Jaycee member.

Couples are to meet at the Tecumseh Community Center at 5 p.m., and should be prepared for a drive of up to 70 miles.

If they are hopelessly lost at 9 p.m., they will be permitted to open a panic envelope which will direct them to the secret destination where they can hash over the fun they've had while dining and dancing.

Gloria Dei Church Sunday Sermon To Study Prayer

The summer services and sermons of the Gloria Dei Evangelical Lutheran Church focus on the modern interpretation of the Lord's Prayer. Aug. 13, the 4th petition: "Give us this day our daily bread," will be preached and explained.

Mrs. Earl Mason, choir director, will sing the Lord's Prayer at the 10:30 a.m. service. Visitors are welcome.

Land of Lincoln Great for Touring

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Lincoln history buffs will find much to interest them in the "Land of Lincoln" area of Springfield, Ill.

New Salem State Park offers the visitor a journey backward into the era of Abraham Lincoln's young manhood.

Arriving in New Salem in 1831, as a raw-boned youngster, Lincoln spent six years there.

He clerked in a store, chopped wood, enlisted in the Black Hawk War, served as postmaster, deputy surveyor and failed in business. He was elected to the Illinois General Assembly in 1834 and was a man when he left to embark on a career in law and statesmanship.

The town's history almost completely parallels Lincoln's time there. When he came, it was a thriving, growing community.

By 1839, two years after he left for Springfield to practice law, the county seat was moved to Petersburg and New Salem declined rapidly thereafter.

More than 20 of the timber and log houses have been restored and furnished by the New Salem Lincoln League.

The restoration was initiated by William Randolph Hearst, who donated the land to the State of Illinois in 1918.

Early in the morning is the best time to visit New Salem.

Without charge, visitors may walk through the quiet tree-shaded settlement with only the chatter of the birds for company.

One may step inside the authentically furnished homes and stores which were a familiar sight to the young rail-splitter.

In small back yards enclosed by the fabled split-rail fences, old-fashioned guinea hens and bantam fowl, small goats and grazing sheep lend a note of domesticity to the scene.

Plots of buckwheat ripen in the sunlight and beside each log cabin a neatly-tended garden grows.

Sheep must have supplied a good quantity of wool for the town's major industry. Samuel Hill's Carding Mill and Wool House is an unique operation to see with its intricate double carder machine still intact.

Power for the mill was furnished by two oxen treading the circular inclined wheel at the rear of the three-story building.

Just outside the door, a team of massive oxen are led from their stalls — adding to the impression that work will soon begin in the mill.

Guides in costumes of the 1800's describe the uses of the many antique household items on display.

Several of the cabins displayed handsome walnut pie-safes, each featuring nail-hole designed metal, paneled doors, which had served as the only storage for perishable foods.

A family heirloom of identical style graces the home of The Herald's editor, Jim Lincoln.

For the school-age youngster, the visit to New Salem brings alive his history books.

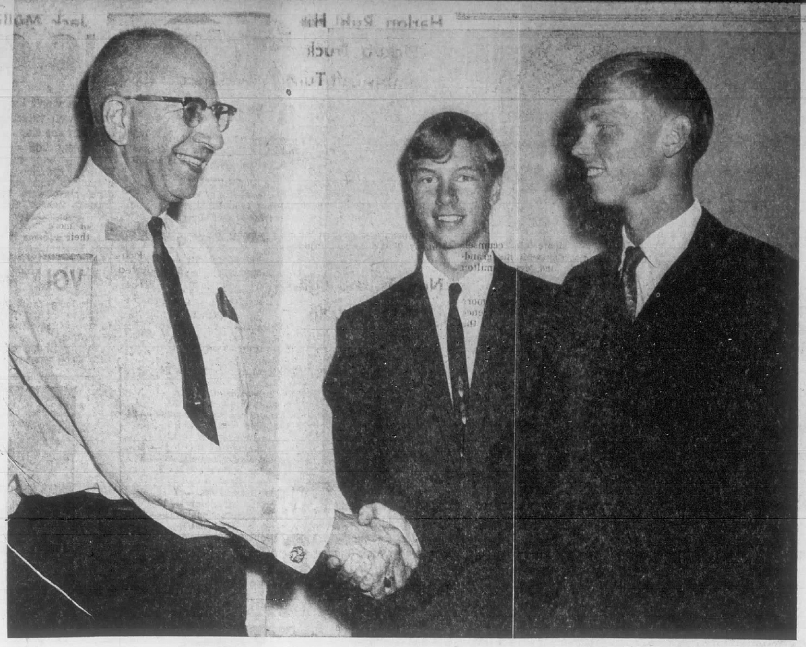
There is a pleasant picnic grove and camping area as well as a lodge nearby. One could spend days there with much to see and do.

It is said Gen. Lincoln had his first glimpse of New Salem when he stranded his flatboat on the mill dam on the nearby Sangamon River.

Near the sight of the old grist mill, a paddle wheel steamboat floats tourists down the picturesque river for hourly trips during the summer months.

Among the sights to be seen in the city of Springfield are Lincoln's home, where he lived with his family when he became President, the Sangamon County Courthouse, where he served as a lawyer, and the tomb where he is buried.

All these historic places make Springfield a worthwhile place for an extended visit.



Franz vanWestrenen, Fisher Body plant manager, is shown with two recently-appointed co-operative students. Right, Scott Edwards of Tecumseh and David Reeck of Britton, along with their families, were hosted by the Fisher Body Tecumseh Staff Group at a special luncheon held in the plant executive dining room July 26. Following the luncheon, the two families toured the plant. Scott and David, who will be pursuing engineering degrees, will be spending alternate six-week work periods in the plant working in various departments while attending General Motors Institute in Flint. Both are in their work period, having started July 31. They will start their first school period at GMI in early October. General Motors Institute has been engaged in educational services to individuals and industry for over 45 years. It had its beginning as a training agency for the skilled workers and supervisory personnel in the burgeoning automotive plants of Flint in 1919 under the sponsorship of a local industrial association. The college program was started in 1924 and became a subsidiary of General Motors Corporation in 1926. Today GMI is the largest industry-related educational institution in the world, which had more than 2,900 students enrolled in the 1965-66 Engineering Program. Students come from 42 states, Canada and 1,200 high schools.

Softball Gals End Season by 41-4 Win

The Tecumseh gals ended the season with a tremendous power attack as they collected 31 hits and 41 runs while batting in only four innings to down Deerfield, 41-4.

The game was called after four and a half innings of play because Tecumseh had a minimum 20-run lead.

Deerfield scored all four runs in the fourth on two hits.

The team enjoyed a league picnic in Britton Sunday.

Friendship Club To Meet Aug. 11

The Friendship Club, sponsored by the Ann Arbor Recreation Dept., will meet at Pattengill School, Crestland Dr., Ann Arbor, Aug. 11, at 8 p.m.

Single persons, 39 and over, are invited.

2 Petitions OK'd by Council for Curb and Gutter

Two petitions from residents were received by Council Monday night for curb and gutter in the southwest section of Tecumseh.

The areas concerned are Occidental Rd., between the railroad right-of-way and W. Chicago Blvd., and Shady Lane, between Cairns and Adrian Sts.

Petitions were referred to Cal Zorn, city manager, for scheduling a public hearing.

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Gilmore and Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Hoagland are vacationing in the Upper Peninsula.

Local Teachers To Attend General Motors Meeting

Twenty-eight high school science and mathematics teachers from Indiana, New York, Ohio and Michigan will participate in a week-long General Motors-sponsored conference, beginning at Warren, Aug. 20.

Among those taking part will be Mr. and Mrs. Peter G. Kalorn, 207 S. Democratic St. Mrs. Kalom is a teacher at St. Mary School, Adrian, and her husband teaches at Tecumseh High School.

During their stay at the GM Technical Center in suburban Detroit, the teachers will meet with GM executives and will visit the Center's research laboratories, engineering, manufacturing development and styling staffs, the GM Proving Ground at Milford, Mich., and the General Motors Institute at Flint.

The teachers also will learn about and discuss the wide variety of programs, such as scholarships, equipment donations and driver and traffic safety, the Corporation sponsors to supplement teacher and student education.

CLINTON — Harlon D. Ruhl, 34, 509 Sunset Dr., had stopped his pickup on US-12 at River St., waiting to make a left turn when the truck was struck in the rear by a car driven by Sister Therese Eugene Fochtman, 22, of Sacred Heart Parish, Bad Axe.

Sister Fochtman was given a summons for being unable to stop in the assured clear distance ahead.

The mishap occurred at 7 a.m. Monday. There were no injuries.

New Traffic Lights To Cost $472.50

City Manager Cal Zorn was authorized Monday night by Council to sign a cost agreement with the Michigan Department of Highways for new, dual traffic signal lights at Maumee and Union St. on Chicago Blvd.

Estimated cost to the city is $472.50 per intersection.

BUD'S A&W BINGO GAL — Mrs. John F. Coffelt, above, of 119 E. Church St., Clinton, is presented $66 Bingo Bucks by Bud Ruettinger, owner of Bud's A&W where she was given a winning Bingo card. The three ladies shared the $200 total that was this week's money prize in the Newspaper Bingo Contest.

SHE WON HER BUCKS — Mrs. Roberto Diaz, above, of 416 W. Logan St., is a happy lady after winning $67 Bingo Bucks. Shown with Mrs. Diaz is Harvey Frankhouse from The Decorating Center where she received the card that turned out to be a winner.

Contract Is Settled at Clinton

A marathon session, ending Tuesday morning at three o'clock, has apparently proved worthwhile for the Clinton School Board and teachers.

Negotiating teams, representing the Board and teachers, worked with a mediator from the state mediation board and agreed on a new contract.

The Board is to meet this Thursday evening for ratification, and a teachers' meeting for the same purpose is scheduled for Aug. 28, reports John Jansen, chairman of the teachers' negotiating team.

If the contract is approved by both parties, Clinton teachers will receive an increase in pay with a new base salary at $5,800. The old base was $5,200.

The negotiating teams and mediator also reached agreement on class loads for elementary teachers.

Under the new contract, a maximum class will have 34 pupils, and for every pupil over 30, the teacher will receive additional help at the rate 15 minutes per extra student.

Car Wash To Open

Tecumseh's newest business, "Sudsy-Duzit" car wash, will open for business this Saturday on W. Chicago Blvd.

The car wash features both automatic and do-it-yourself washes, with the automatic car wash taking less than three minutes.

Owners of the business are Lowell Selders, Merlyn French, and Walter Slusarski.

Thieves Hit 'Bonanza'

Thieves struck the Bonanza Lot, corner of M-52 and US-12, late last Thursday night or early Friday morning, and needed a truck for their loot.

Eight tires and rims were taken from new cars on the lot, plus two brake drums, two sets of hub caps, two carburetors, and one battery.

!mmunization To Be Required by Law for Tots

The law will be enforced this year requiring all children entering school to have received immunization for diptheria, whooping cough, tetanus, poliomyelitis, measles and small pox. A test for tuberculosis is also required.

A 1955 Michigan law established these requirements but until now the responsibility for enforcement was left to the superintendent of schools, said Dr. Thomas Hamilton, Director of Lenawee County Health Department.

Dr. Hamilton said it will be necessary to emphasize this year that a "child should be excluded from school" until he has the necessary protection.

Tecumseh Public Schools are requiring that records of immunization must accompany the child as he enters school.

License Bureau Has New Hours

New hours have been adopted for the Lenawee County Driver Bureau, according to Sheriff Dick Germound.

The Bureau will be open Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 9 to 5, and on Wednesdays, from 9 till 6. New hours are effective immediately.

Ferows To Host Exchange Student

Mr. and Mrs. William Ferow, 7998 E. Monroe Rd. and children, Gary and Audrey, will entertain Else Marie Vestergaard of Farstrup, for the next year under the Youth For Understanding Program, Inc.

She arrives Saturday at Metropolitan Airport where the Ferows will meet for the first time.

The petite Dane five foot two and 100 pounds, is an excellent student. She has many hobbies including stamp collecting, music — she plays piano — likes dancing and has done folk dancing for the past two years.

The young woman likes animals, especially birds. There are two in her home. She reads lots of books.

Having been a girl scout since she was 11 and a leader of an eight-girl patrol for two years, she has an avid interest in that organization.

Gustav Vestergaard, her father, is a dairyman and works with two other men making butter and cheese. He does the office work, too, and her mother, Vera Thomine Vestergaard, is busy in the home.

Else has two brothers, Poul Erik and Hans Chr.

She likes people and belongs to a Youth Club in the winter time.

Two years ago her class was in Norway and she has also accompanied her brother and his wife to Germany for a summer holiday.

Interest in learning the English language better and seeing people here were listed as her main reasons for wanting the exchange.

Gary Ferow, a senior, and Audrey, a junior, will soon be introducing their new "sister" to fellow students at Tecumseh High School where she will attend.

After returning to her native land, Else plans to continue her education at Copenhagen.

Debbie Named To Court

By DENICE ANDERSON

Debbie Blanchard, 17, Tecumseh Kiwanis Club candidate to the 1967 Miss Lenawee County queen contest, was named second runner-up before a cheering crowd of over 2,000 Monday evening in front of the Grandstand at the Lenawee County Fair Grounds.

Debbie and Patti Abbett of Adrian composed the court of Queen Barbara Arno from Morenci. She was crowned by Ona Lee Cote of Tecumseh, the 1966 queen runner-up.

Also among the 10 finalists were Cindy Calhoun and Debbi Purkey, both of Tecumseh. The girls were escorted to the stage by members of the Pi Kapoa Alpha fraternity of Adrian College.

Debbie, the youngest candidate entered, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Blanchard of 7605 Smith Rd. She will be a senior at Tecumseh High School in the fall and is now employed at the Colonial House of Beauty in Tecumseh.

"I hope to earn a teaching degree in special education," said the soft-spoken beauty who loves to work with children.

She has participated in the Future Teachers Club and the Spanish Club while in school and was the Indian mascot for the THS cheerleaders. Debbie has also served two years on the Student Council.

This was a first for Debbie, never having appeared in such competition before.

"I was told that the competition was the stiffest it has been in years, but everyone seemed quite pleased with the results."

Debbie, who is interested in the organ, piano and dancing, was offered a modeling job at the Bach Conservatory School in Toledo, O., as a result of the contest.

"It seems as if everything went wrong the night of the contest," laughed Debbie. "They not only announced my age wrong, but I tripped over a cord when approaching the stage."

Dr. William Adams, Tecumseh dentist who drove Debbie's car, was the same dentist who removed Debbie's wisdom teeth last week.

"I told him the contest was worse than his pulling my teeth."

"It was the best experience I've ever shared with others and I felt quite at ease sitting by two other Tecumseh girls. The contest was more fun than competition."

The beauties were judged on face, figure, posture, charm, personality and stage performance.

Cindy Calhoun, 18, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Calhoun of 5403 Rogers Hwy., is experienced when it comes to beauty contests.

The Michigan State University freshman was the THS Homecoming Queen last fall and was the Safety Check Queen in May. She was also in the Junior Miss Pageant.

Cindy plans to major in Spanish at MSU and hopes to become a translator. She was represented by Tecumseh Grange No. 166.

The co-ed is interested in music and plays the piano and guitar. She was recently with The Inverted Order, an all-girl's band when they played in Tecumseh's Battle of the Bands.

Debbi Purkey, 18, will enter MSU this fall as a freshman majoring in English. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Don Purkey of N. Occidental Hwy.

Debbi was in the Junior Miss Pageant for Lenawee County and has also served several times on the THS Homecoming Court. She was the Tecumseh Rotary Club candidate.

This young lady has been active in Future Nurses, Honor Society, the Latin Club and band. "I love to swim and ski, both water and snow," she said.

Also representing the local area in the contest were Pam Judkins, 18, of Britton and Wendy Sellers, 17, of Tecumseh.

Pam, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Neal Judkins, 10649 Welch Rd., will be attending MSU in the fall. She was sponsored by the Fertile Acres Farm Bureau.

Wendy, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Milford Sellers of 1652 Robbins Rd., was the candidate from the Lenawee County Pomona Grange. She had been active in 4-H work, showing projects at the fair for the last four years.

Wendy will leave for Columbus, O., in the fall where she will study dental technology.

Entertainment during the contest was provided by the Adrian City Band. Charles Wise was the guest soloist.

Jamie Danforth of Tecumseh and Linda Yoder of Clinton also entertained the audience and Gene Baril was master of ceremonies.

Judges for the beauty contest included Mrs. Nancy Becker of Nancy's Wig and Hair Fashions; Mrs. Madeline Rossinger of the Bach Conservatory of Fine Arts in Toledo, O.; Mary LaRue of the Career College and Finishing School in Toledo; C. T. Hoagland of Richland Furs, Blissfield; and Michael Cassino of Adrian College.

6 Local Firemen Volunteer for Duty At the County Fair

Six members of the Tecumseh Fire Department were on volunteer duty Tuesday night at the Lenawee County Fair, stationed just outside the grandstand.

A Madison Fire Department truck is brought each day for the protection of the throngs on the grounds.

Lonal Bishop, Chief Wallace MacGeorge, Harold Easton, Buck Maynard, Bill Brown and Herbert Barnes were there.

Thursday evening, the local department is holding a steak fry behind the Fire Barn and Saturday they will participate in the county water ball contest at the fairgrounds between 4 and 6 p.m.

Pickup Pins Boy To House

John Tardiff, eight-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. David Segerstrom, newcomers to Tecumseh, escaped serious injury Monday when he was pinned between a pickup truck and a house.

The young lad hopped off the truck as his aunt, Mrs. Melvin Leveille, 745 S. Union St., was backing it up to an empty sandbox. In the process, he got pinned between the house and the truck.

He complained of leg and back injuries and was rushed by ambulance to Bixby Hospital in Adrian. He has since been released.

In four other mishaps checked by Tecumseh police during the past week, one driver was cited for a violation.

A resume is:

Aug. 8 — Hugh N. Wright, 19, of 6535 N. Adrian Hwy., was charged with failure to stop within an assured clear distance after striking the rear of a car driven by Linda Kay Hollar, 17, of 307 Chippewa. Accident occured on W. Chicago Blvd. at Van Buren.

Aug. 9 — Frank Ingle, 57, Ives Rd., struck a parked car while driving in an alley off S. Maumee St. The other car is owned by Emily D. Naugle, 36, of 4631 Macon Rd.

Aug. 13 — A minor accident at E. Chicago and Maumee involved Edward B. Rapin, 37, of 116 Maple St., and Carl J. Semelka, 50, Toledo. Neither driver was cited.

Aug. 14 — Valinda Ladd, 23, of 3971 Loveless Dr. and Marilyn L. Swanston, 25, of 8415 Clinton-Macon Rd., collided in the A&P parking lot.

$200 Goal for Indians

The annual Tecumseh Indians football car wash will be held this Thursday, Friday and Saturday at Easton's Friendly Service.

Purpose of the car wash is to raise money — goal this year is $200 — to help defray costs at the Indians conditioning camp.

Last year, the car wash netted $160, cutting expenses at the camp to $13 per boy.

Harold Easton, owner of the service station is donating his facilities. Residents wanting an appointment for the car wash—the boys are offering free pick up and delivery service—should call 423-4000.

BEHIND PAGE ONE

Mrs. Ralph Dabe took appreciative note of three unidentified youths who pitched in to give a helping hand to the policeman who was directing traffic away from the flooded area on Chicago Blvd., between Pottawatamie and Adrian St., the afternoon of the recent hail storm. "Those boys were very polite and helpful and they should have a boost," Mrs. Dabe said.

Newcomers Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Brooks, 206 Park St., report we missed a daughter, Patty 11, who is in sixth grade in Tecumseh Acres School, in our recent column. Son, Danny 13, is really in eighth grade, instead of sixth.

The Brooks family moved here from Monroe, and Mr. Brooks is employed at Tecumseh Corrugated Box Company. Other children include Terry 8, and Joey 6.

Ensign Richard Carver, former assistant editor at The Herald, writes, "Is there any demand for chopper pilots in Tecumseh?" He plans to receive his wings in Jan. or Feb. of '68 at the U. S. Naval Base at Pensacola, Fla. The perky Ensign also has matrimonial plans. His engagement to Georgia Ann Schmitt of Cleveland, O., was recently announced and plans are being made for a spring wedding. The entire staff of the paper extends congratulations and best wishes to our biggest "Peanuts" fan.

The Herald gets around. Mr. and Mrs. Claron Rex of Maumee, O., noted a reception, was to be held Sunday for Richard Williams and his bride in last week's issue. Their presence with one son surprised and pleased the newly married couple. Also Warren Jahn with State Farm Ins. Co., Ann Arbor, was able to hire two secretaries through the classified section. It satiates the newspaper staff to know our product is helpful.

Credit should go to Bill Whiting for the fine picture he took of Veryl Schill for the resort page this week but space did not permit a credit line. Incidentally, recognition should go each week to the bearded giant, Lonal Bishop, in The Herald's back shop. He makes up the pages.

Famous events and people in Michigan history are depicted in color prints, sets of four, available from the Michigan Historical Commission at Lansing for $1. Robert Thom is the artist with the text on the back written by F. Clever Bald, director of Michigan Historical Collections, University of Michigan. More information and a sample print is available to see at The Herald office.

A Landrace hog entered by Harold Calhoun, 3450 Clinton-Macon Rd., Clinton, placed second in the Carcass Hog Class at the Lenawee County Fair, in competition with nine entries. The market hogs were slaughtered Friday at Carleton's Freezer, Blissfield, and were judged by a member of the staff of the MSU Swine Department. The Lenawee Swine Producers Council has arranged for a display of the prize-winning pork in the Merchants Building on the fairgrounds.

Elmer Houses Return from Trip To Penns Creek

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer House have returned from an interesting five day trip to Walnut Acres Natural Foods Farm at Penns Creek, Pa. They were in the Sunday congregation of the Cathedral of Tomorrow at Akron, O., served by the Rev. Rex Humbard.

Mrs. House said that it is reported to have the largest church auditorium in this generation of the world.

The building, large enough to encompass a full-sized football stadium without touching, is topped by a dome with a 100 foot cross suspended from the top. The illuminated cross requires 4,700 light bulbs. It produces 60 varying color effects.

The curtain on the 168 foot stage and the 5,400 theatre seats were crimson while other furnishings were in black and silver.

The 25 foot wide podium raised with a hydraulic lift. There are 154 class rooms and a prayer room that will seat 750, all air conditioned with 613 tons of equipment.

Weekly Sunday broadcasts are over Toledo Channel 9 at 9 a.m. Sundays.

Mr. and Mrs. House were overnight guests of the Rev. and Mrs. Edgar Owen in Wauseon, O., and visited an aunt of Mrs. House in Bowling Green, O.

The engagement of Mrs. Barbara Ann Billow to Chief Petty Officer Russell Paul McKenzie is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Marsh, 601 Herrick Park Dr. The bride-elect is employed at Fisher Body. Mr. McKenzie is stationed on Midway Island with the Sea Bees. The wedding will take place Aug. 26 at the First Baptist Church.

Caryl Riordan Leaves To Attend Theatre Workshop

Caryl Riordan along with two Adrian girls, Mary Mudgett and Cathy Bell, will attend the National Catholic Theatre Convention in New York City with a group from the Benedictine High School in Detroit.

The three Siena Heights students were selected and "adopted" by Sister Francis Irene, O.P., the chaperone for the trip which will include plays both on and off Broadway.

Sister Francis taught at Siena this summer.

The group will leave Detroit Friday, returning Aug. 24. They will stay at the New York Hotel where workshops in choreography, lighting, stage makeup, etc. will be held.

MRS. GORDON C. GREIMAN

Judy Sakala Speaks Vows with Gordon C. Greiman

Judy Sakala of Dundee became the bride of Gordon C. Greiman Jr., in a ceremony performed Saturday evening at St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Church, Dundee, by the Rev. Robert J. Miller.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Michael Sakala of Dundee and Mr. and Mrs. Gordon G. Greiman, 9103 N. Union St.

Lighted tapers and greenery enhanced the altar. Arrangements of daisies marked the pews.

Mrs. Sandy Spencer accompanied the soloist, Betty Chormann.

The bride selected a floor length gown of silk linen designed with scooped neckline and elbow length sleeves accented with Venice lace and bow.

The lace also trimmed the redingote front of the A-line over skirt of the sheath gown and bordered the watteau train which flowed to chapel length.

Her three-tiered veil was secured to a pillbox hat of matching silk linen and she carried a cascade arrangement of Albo lilies, stephanotis and babies breath.

Mrs. Saundra L. Brown, of Dundee, sister of the bride, was matron of honor and the bridesmaids were Mrs. Thomas N. Walter, sister of the groom, Mrs. Patricia Waterstradt of Ypsilanti, Mrs. James Diedrich of Monroe and Mrs. Bonnie Peters of Ann Arbor.

All wore floor length gowns of Nile green chiffon designed with mandarin collars and long sheer sleeves accented with floral appliques.

They wore matching green chiffon pill-box hats with floral applique and carried white daisies and fern.

Thomas N. Walter served as best man and the guests were seated by Larry L. Sakala, brother of the bride, Gary G. Elliott, Taylor Harvey and Michael Kindinger.

A reception for 500 guests was held at the Tecumseh Products Workers Union Hall where Mr. and Mrs. David Hunt of Clinton, sister and brother-in-law of the groom were hosts.

The bride was graduated from Dundee High School in 1963 and from Cleary College in 1964. She is employed in the Personnel Department at the Fisher Body plant, Tecumseh.

The groom, a 1959 graduate of Tecumseh High School, is employed as a supervisor at the same General Motors plant.

Following a weeks' wedding trip to New Jersey, the couple will live at 315 N. Union St.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the home of his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Filter.

Waldo Papsdorf Gives Resignation To School Board

CLINTON — The Board of Education has accepted the resignation of Waldo Papsdorf, who is moving from the state, effective Aug. 20.

Thomas Carlton, 16429 Van Tuyle Rd., was named to fill the unexpired term of Mr. Papsdorf on the board. Mr. Carlton is a dairy farmer.

Brenda Leismer and Dennis Knight Are Wed

Nuptial vows were spoken by Brenda Leismer and Dennis Knight in the Grace Lutheran Church Aug. 5.

Te 7 p.m. ceremony was performed by the Rev. Kurt Koepplin before an altar adorned with bouquets of white gladioli.

Te bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Leismer, 505 W. Russell Rd., and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Knight, 501 W. Russell Rd.

Escorted to the altar by her father, the bride wore a white lace gown styled with an empire waistline accented by a satin ribbon. A gold heart necklace accented the jewelry neckline of the fitted bodice.

Her elbow length veil was held by a crown headpiece. She carried a bridal bouquet of miniature white carnations and pink roses, centered with a white rose.

Rhonda Leismer was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a deep blue silk empire gown with a slender skirt and a matching blue bow held her blue veil.

Miniature carnations and roses formed her bouquet.

Bridesmaid Wanda Krohn of Adrian wore an empire styled gown in rose colored silk with a matching veil and carried a bouquet of carnations and roses.

Dallas Knight was his brother's best man.

The ushers wre Roger Cox, cousin of the groom, and Bruce Osburn.

A reception attended by 75 guests was held in the church social room. The wedding cake was served by Mrs. Earl Leismer and Mrs. Stewart Solmonson. Others assisting were Mrs. M. R. McClain and Mrs. Thomas Knight.

The bride attended Tecumseh High School and the bridegroom is a graduate of Tecumseh High School. Mr. Knight is employed at Tecumseh Products.

Mr. and Mrs. Knight will live at 415 W. Kilbuck St.

MR. AND MRS. ROBERT FRICK

JoAnn Ayres and Robert Frick Speak Vows in Denver, Colo.

CLINTON — Jo Ann Ayres and Robert M. Frick, both of Denver, Colo., spoke their marriage vows in Barrett Chapel of the Montview Presbyterian Church in Denver, Aug. 7, before the Rev. Ammons.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Ayres of 6070 Clinton-Macon Rd., Clinton, and the bridegroom is the son of Mrs. Emily Frick and the late Robert Frick.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a daytime dress of white brocade fashioned with fitted bodice, with a high neckline in front and dipped to a bow in the back. A matching pillbox held her brief veil.

She carried a bouquet of white daisies.

Beth Ayres of Ann Arbor was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a light blue sleeveless dress with matching headdress of bow and circlet veil. Her bouquet was pink carnations.

Dale Yocum of Denver was the best man and the usher was Herb Ayres.

A reception for 50 guests was held in the church reception room.

The bride is a graduate of Clinton High School and Western Michigan University. She has been teaching in the elementary grades in Denver Public Schools for four years.

Mr. Frick was a Navy pilot for 10 years and since last October has operated a drapery business in Denver.

The newlyweds are residing at 2078 Pearl St., Denver.

Mr. and Mrs. Ayres, son Herbert and daughter Beth returned home Thursday after spending a week in Denver.

Roy Dahlke Saves Badly Hurt Pilot from Watery Plight

While Roy was fishing near their summer cottage on Drummond Island, a tandem airplane crashed directly in front of him in the water.

Quickly rescuing the badly injured pilot and his passenger, Roy got them to the settlement on the island and they were flown to a hospital.

Wind drafts off from the Island surprise flyers there frequently and the two men were flying much too low when an up draft caught them. The pilot was unable to control his craft. He is Eugene Wood of Troy and Richard Shute, Livonia, was his passenger.

A similar accident occured in the same spot about 10 years ago, Mrs. Dahlke said, in which a Detroit Free Press newsman went down with others in a plane that sank.

Mr. and Mrs. W. G. Chandler spent last week at the cottage on Potagannissing Bay with their daughter and husband.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Women's Editor

"Well, I spit in the Arctic Ocean," was Dunc Oliphant's greeting Tuesday after he and Lela arrived home the night before from an extensive tour of Ontario, Canada.

After two weeks at their Gaylord cabin and then two with Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Alman of St. Petersburg, Fla., they left the Olmans with Lela's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Otis Drake, in Gaylord and started looking for good fishing territory.

They found it and stayed another two-week period near Chapleau before going on to Timmins and Cochrane.

"Twas a day long trip by train (only means of transportation) to James Bay on the Aretic and Moose Factory Island in Moose River where a Hudson Bay Post was located at one time.

The couple are looking forward to sorting out the 200 lbs of Hudson Bay agates that he dug out of a gravel pit near Klotz Lake.

Before going back to Gaylord, the couple are entertaining at a farewell party Wednesday evening in their home for Mr. and Mrs. Charles Matthews who have sold their property in Adrian and will move to N. Carolina.

Guests will be Mr. and Mrs. Jack Comar, Mr. and Mrs. Don Mattis of Adrian, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Trowbridge of Manitou Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Harold Brion.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Butler attended the wedding Saturday afternoon of James Haley, son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Haley of East Lansing. Mr. Haley is executive secretary of the Michigan Auto Dealers Assn. Charles is active in the organization and a past president.

√

Mary Kay Ries and Penny Wright arrived Wednesday evening from San Diego, Calif., to spend a week with Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ries. The girls are both teachers in the San Diego, Calif. elementary school system.

√

Dr. and Mrs. Walter Elwartowski are leaving Thursday for Davenport, Ia., where he will attend a seminar. While they are away, Sandy Poley will stay with the children in the Elwartowski home.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Hoag and son Roger have returned from a 900-mile trip to Bloomfield, Va., where they visited Kathy Vance and her parents.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Poley accompanied Mrs. Poley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Conklin of Adrian, and have returned from a trip to Canada. They also visited Mackinaw Island on the way.

√

Medford Palmer, 307 S. Maiden Lane, was able to be home over the weekend but returned Sunday evening to the University of Michigan Medical Center. He suffered a form of stroke caused by massive hemorrhage of the brain on the right side causing paralysis on the left side. His condition is improving gradually but physicians tell him he will be a patient for a long time. His address is 10th floor West.

Mr. and Mrs. Gaza Kish and two children, Jim and Betty, returned Thursday from a trip to Kentucky touring Cumberland Gap and Falls, Mammoth Cave and other interesting spots. Mrs. Kish stated that while there they experienced a rainfall to surpass the one here July 30. A radio announcer said that there was 3.2 inches of rain that had fallen from 5:30-10:30 in the morning and it continued a steady downpour. Needless to say, the Kish family were denied the expected tour of the famous Calumet Farms, home of Man-o'-War and Blue Boy, renowned race horses. En route they visited Mr. and Mrs. Harry Hans, former Tecumseh residents, now of Marion, O.

√

Mr. and Mrs. William J. LaPrad have returned to their home in Staten Island, N. Y., after a week's vacation with his aunt, Mrs. Margaretta Brisbin.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Arlyn Nichols have returned from a fishing trip to Manitoulin Island near Canada and parts of Upper Michigan, Brinley State Park and Tahquamenon Falls. They were accompanied by two granddaughters, Anita and Amy Nichols. Fishing was good Mrs. Nichols said. "We had all we wanted to eat and plenty to give away." The group was joined at the Falls by the girls' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Nichols, who planned to tour the Keweenaw Peninsula the next two weeks with their daughters. Mrs. Nichols received a card from Mr. and Mrs. Leon Gurtzweiler stating that they arrived in Alaska Aug. 6 and found everything fine there, dry and dusty.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Cadmus are entertaining Mr. and Mrs. Dick Giffen and sons, Robert, Allen and Frank of Camarillo, Calif., who will be leaving Thursday.

√

● LELAND W. ROHN

Services were held Saturday at the Niblack Home For Funerals for Leland W. Rohn, 72, 10620 Pennington Rd. who was dead on arrival at Herrick Memorial Hospital Aug. 9 after suffering a heart attack at his home.

Born at Petersburg Feb. 14, 1895, he was the son of George and Lena Kaiser Rohn.

Mr. Rohn moved to Erie and then to Adrian, settling at his Pennington Road farm 17 years ago.

He retired from active farming because of his health three and a half years ago.

Mr. Rohn was a member of Emmanuel Lutheran Church of Britton.

Mr. Rohn married Charlotte Kneebush in Petersburg Oct. 31, 1916. In addition to his wife, he is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Shonkry Khalil of Cairo, Egypt, and Mrs. Charles Aebersold, 2203 Russell Rd.; a son, Donald, Pennington Rd.; 11 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

A daughter, Arlene, a grandchild, two sisters and two brothers preceded him in death.

Pastor Kurt Borman of Petersburg officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

● CASPER J. HORN

Services were held Aug. 14 in Brooklyn for Casper J. Horn, 81, long time owner and operator of Horn's Restaurant in the Irish Hills, who died at his home there.

He had been in poor health for the last two years. He was born Feb. 15, 1886, in Perrysburg, and moved into this area 50 years ago.

He was married to Naoma Spitler Jan. 11, 1910. He was a member of St. Joseph's Church in the Irish Hills.

He is survived by his wife; three sons, Robert of Sand Lake and Richard and Glenn of Jackson; two daughters, Mrs. Fred Westfall Jr. of Birdsall and Mrs. Marjorie Cash of Detroit and 20 grandchildren.

Burial was in St. Joseph Parish Cemetery.

● MRS. EDWARD BOUDRIE

Services were held Saturday at St. Elizabeth Catholic Church for Mrs. Edward Boudrie, 45, of Sheboygan, Wis. who died at 11:15 a.m. Wednesday in St. Nicholas Hospital there where she had been hospitalized for 21 weeks.

Born March 15, 1922, at Detroit, she was graduated from St. Mary's High School in Monroe.

The family lived in Tecumseh until 1962 when it moved to Greenville, S. C.

They were there four years and have been in Sheboygan five months.

She married Mr. Boudrie June 14, 1941, at Monroe. Besides her husband, she is survived by one son, Edward Jr. at home and three daughters, Mrs. Aaron Glenn of Corpus Christi, Texas, and Sharon and Mary Lou Boudrie, both at home.

The Rev. Fr. Thomas Collins officiated and burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home.

● MRS. MABEL WYMAN

Private funeral services were held for the family of Mrs. Mabel Wyman, 91, who died Aug. 7 in the Martin Luther Memorial Home, South Lyon.

She was born Sept. 13, 1875 in Moenci, the daughter of John and Alice Swan Capp.

She married Seeber L. Wyman Feb. 26, 1899 in Morenci. He died in 1954.

Mrs. Wyman had lived in Tecumseh for 20 years and in 1941 moved to Ann Arbor where she was a member of the First Congregational Church, Women's Club of Ann Arbor and was a past president of Lenawee County Federation of Women's Clubs.

She will be remembered here for her efforts in the Tecumseh Methodist Church, as president of the Tecumseh Woman's Club and organizer of the Tecumseh Business and Professional Women's Club.

A son, Dr. John S. Wyman and a daughter, Mrs. C. A. Miller, both of Ann Arbor grew up in this city. Other survivors include four grandchildren and five great grandchildren.

Burial was in Forest Hill Cemetery, Ann Arbor.

● MRS. LILLY MILLYARD

Services were held Tuesday at the Niblack Home For Funerals for Mrs. Lilly Millyard, 83, of Britton who died Aug. 10 at her home.

She was born March 14, 1884, the daughter of James and Rebecca Humphries Lavender.

She was married to William H. Millyard Nov. 6, 1905. He preceded her in death Sept. 29, 1935.

She was a member of the Christian Congregational Church of Britton, the Mary-Martha Circle and the Dorcas Class.

She is survived by one son, Edmund J. of Britton; two granddaughters; and three great grandchildren.

She was preceded in death by her husband, two brothers, and two sisters.

The Rev. G. O. Hannevik officiated and burial was in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

● LEONARD KEHOE

Leonard Kehoe of Ann Arbor died unexpectedly Wednesday morning in Veteran's Hospital, Ann Arbor.

Mr. Kehoe was born in Clinton, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ambrose Kehoe, and lived for a time in Clinton in recent years.

Funeral arrangements are being made at Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Charlyn Kay Gentz to Charles Randolph is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert E. Gentz, 2881 Airport Rd., Adrian. Mr. Randolph is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Randolph, 6918 Close Drive. The bride-elect is a 1967 graduate of Adrian High School and will attend Siena Heights in the fall. Her fiance, a 1966 graduate of Tecumseh High School, is employed at the Ford Motor Co., plant in Saline. A December 30 wedding is planned.

Fun Hunt Tickets Available

What do a teaspoon of table salt, a hammer, deck of playing cards, pencil, compass, bottle of ammonia and a Boy Scout Manuel have in common?

These items are just part of the odd assortment of equipment on the list needed by each carfull of Treasure Seekers for the annual Jaycee Star Trek to be held Aug. 26.

When folks show up at the Tecumseh Community Center at 5 p.m., to start the round-about trek to a mystery destination for dinner and dancing, they will have to bring along a swim suit, flashlight, gloves and be dressed casually enough to hunt for clues — no matter where they are.

It's all explained on check lists handed out when tickets are purchased. Limited to 300 persons, it is suggested that reservations be made soon with Dr. Walter Ewaniowski, 423-7360.

Folks in the know are brushing up on space age talk and the first ones at "splash down" will receive cash prizes, $40 first, $20 second and $12 third.

Robert J. Bailey, Mrs. Sarah Smyka Exchange Vows

Robert J. Bailey of Adrian, and Mrs. Sarah Smyka of Lyons, O., were married Aug. 11 in Wauseon, O.

In attendance were the maid of honor Barbara J. Smith of Adrian, the best man, Phillip Dusenberry of Fairfield, Ia., and Mrs. Audrey Flynn of Blissfild.

After their honeymoon, the couple will reside in Lyons.

About 400,000 men and women throughout the 50 states volunteer as 4-H leaders and serve as project leaders.

The engagement of Georgia Ellen Meads to James Edward Dart is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Meads, 315 Adrian St. Mr. Dart is the son of Mrs. Harry Sipes of Adrian and the late George Dart. Miss Meads, a 1966 graduate of Tecumseh High School and recently of Riggs School of Beauty Culture of Hillsdale, is employed at Janie's Beauty Salon and Electrolysis Shop in Britton. Mr. Dart attended Deerfield High School and is employed at the Tecumseh Products Co. A November wedding is planned.

YOU DON'T HAVE TO LEAVE THE DRIVER'S SEAT!

Just deposit coins and drive into the washing bay. Mountains of rain-soft, bubbling lather and gushers of warm, dirt-absorbing shampoo automatically shower down around and underneath your car, through powerful spray jets..... produce a brilliant "NEW-CAR" look that sparkles brighter with each repeated wash.

Ed Todd Sets Track Record

Duane Valentine was the big winner Friday night at the Manchester Speedway, picking up the First Heat, Pursuit and the Feature events.

Valentine was the fastest qualifier of the night with Pete Valentine second and Dick Slade third.

Larry Gray was second and Don Taylor drove in third in the first heat.

The second heat went to Eddie Green with Butch Moull finishing second and Bill Cattell third.

Ed Todd claimed the third heat victory in the Super Stock class, setting a new track record for qualifying in the Super Stock class at 20:75 seconds.

The fourth heat went to Paul Whitaker. It was restarted once after Jerry Whiteman tried to climb the hill. Bill Davis was the victor in the fifth heat.

The Semi saw quite a battle for first position. Butch Moull took the early lead battling with Whitaker, Porter and Harvey until the 19th lap when John Porter took over the lead crossing the finish line first.

Moull placed second, Whitaker third and Harvey fourth.

The 20-car Feature had a number of spin-outs causing quite an exciting race. Duane Valentine took over the early lead holding for the checkered flag.

Bill Heeney placed second, Ed Hage third and Pete Valentine fourth.

The Super Stock Feature saw 17 cars start with Ed Todd claiming the victory.

The windup of the night's show was a Demolition Derby with Wayne Eady coming out of the crashes, bangs and bumps — the winner.

Next week will be the Tri-State Championship at the Speedway.

Today 45 percent of all 4-H'ers live on farms; 33 percent in rural non-farm areas; 16 percent in towns of 2,500 to 50,000; 6 percent in larger cities.

Hill's 286 3 Shots Off Open Pace

Mike Hill, Tecumseh Country Club pro, finished just three shots off the pace Sunday in the annual Michigan Open Golf Tournament at the Spring Meadows Country Club at Linden.

The local pro fired a four-round total of 286, three strokes over Mike Souchak's winning 283. A balky putter plagued Hill with nine three-putt greens.

Amateur Jim Wilson, who will play Bill Holmes here for th TC Cchampionship on Aug. 25, just failed to make the cut Saturday at the Open.

Wilson shot 81 Friday and followed with a par 72 Saturday. His 153 was two shots over the cut for the final two rounds on Sunday.

Scenic Drive Inspiring

By MAXINE CALHOUN

North Shore Drive along the mighty Lake Superior was completed just five years ago and already a steady stream of camper tourists are pounding its 560-mile length.

Provincial parks in Ontario and State Parks along the Minnesota end of the drive are large, well-kept and located close to the Lake Superior beaches, or on the numerous small lakes.

There are lots of good motels in the larger communities, but none at all between towns. Restaurant facilities are limited to the towns as picnicking is popular.

The highway is a miracle of engineering which winds, within sight of the big lake, almost all of its length — even when it necessitated the carving through steep mountains of the copper-hued rock formations.

Hundreds of crystal clear lakes were spanned and many waterfalls were passed over in the cutting of the swath for the scenic roadway.

The natural beauty of the northland was left intact.

There are frequent lookout spots where tourists may pull off to catch a breathtaking view of the lake.

Between Duluth, Minn., and Port Arthur, Ont., along US-61, there are nearly a dozen waterfalls to be seen from the highway or just a few steps away.

The water rushes over chasms of rock and tumbles in a changing pattern of eddying whirlpools. The pounding water wears smooth the glacial stone where small lots may splash contentedly while their more daring older brothers and sisters swim about in pools formed by the falls.

There's no commercialism of these beauty spots — they're everywhere — unspoiled — for nature lovers to enjoy.

Picnic tables are plentiful beside the coast which is noted for its vast treasure of agates.

All who glimpse the shining, vari-hued rocks are caught up in the search for that keepsake stone to add to the sackful that accumulates in every car.

Superior is a working lake and its vast shipping lanes and harbors give impetus to many great industries of the northland.

The iron mining industry of Minnesota maintains a full-time guide to explain the intricate workings of the giant taconite plant at Taconite Harbor, Minn.

Minnesota taconite and semi-taconite are hard rock formations which contain toy particles of iron ore.

The mining industry has invested hundreds of millions of dollars in research and plants to process the taconite into high-grade iron ore.

Visitors are given small packets of taconite shown in its various stages of processing when they stop to view the piled-up mountains of the gray, crude ore.

After driving for several hours in dense woodland, the teeming industrial complex of Fort William and Port Arthur, Ontario's twin cities at the Lakehead, come as a surprise.

Much of Port Arthur is on a steep hillside and a panoramic view of the busy harbor may be seen from a vantage point in Hillside Gardens. There the colorful Sunken Gardens feature Canada's Centennial star-shaped emblem, in brilliant floral patterns with the dates, 1857-1967.

Stored in 25 gigantic grain elevators along the harbor's edge are 110 million bushels of grain —the greatest concentration in the world.

An average of 445 million bushels is shipped yearly.

Saskatchewan Pool 7, largest single unit elevator in the world, stores enough grain to make two loaves of bread for every person in North America.

A beautification project has begun in the harbor and one elevator complex has recently been painted a pale green at a cost of $17,000. Soon all the silos will be pastel-hued instead of drab gray.

A pleasant boat ride in the harbor takes an hour and a half, and gives one a closer look at the giant industries which employ 3,000 men in the manufacture of wood into paper, lumber, ties and poles.

Great Lakes Paper Mill in Fort William houses the world's largest newsprint machine in the world.

Chain-linked logs, floating in the harbor, form circular holding pens for the vast quantities of pulp wood which feeds the mills on shore.

The boat guide explains how each winter the harbor freezes to a depth of three to six feet and trucks can drive out to dump loads of logs in the holding pens there.

When spring comes, the ice melts and the piles are held there by the chained logs.

Other circular floats of logs are towed to the area by gayly painted little tugs.

Four million tons of iron ore are shipped from the ore dock there.

The tour boat swings around beside a huge German freighter. The big ship settles in the water as her hold fills with wheat.

Railroad cars, being shuttled to the shore beside a grain elevator, have somehow gone too far — and one lies upended, half in the deep water.

There's always something going on in that busy place.

Nine years ago wooden pilings beneath one huge elevator complex collapsed and the toppling silos started a tidal wave which engulfed nearby boat-building and lumber industries.

East of Port Arthur, 41 miles, the reward for a rugged drive six miles over a winding gravel road straight up a steep mountain is a spectacular view of Quimet Canyon. The gorge is carved through rock 450-foot deep.

Don't expect a picnic table there, though. There's just a small clearing for a few cars to park.

Spend a night in the model town of Terrace Bay, which was built by Kimberly Clark, Pulp and Paper Company, Ltd., for its employees.

Somewhere along the way — savor the succulent grilled fresh lake trout — at some good restaurant, or catch your own in one of the tempting streams, and you'll consider the North Lake Shore trip the most delightful trip you've ever taken.

Alley Repair Petitioning Signed by 16

CLINTON — A petition signed by 16 owners adjacent to the alley parallel to and between Michigan Ave. and Church St., was presented to the Village Council by Charles Wilson, Walter Craig and Maurice Hunt at the meeting Aug. 2.

The petition requested that the council consider improving the alley by installing a storm sewer, widening and paving.

The matter was referred to the Street Committee for study and recommendations.

Permission was granted to erect a street banner on Michigan Ave., prior to the Band Boosters Chicken Barbecue, Sept. 3.

Mrs. Robert King was named to fill the unexpired term as trustee on the board of the Smith-Kimball Community Center, caused by the resignation of Mrs. Gene Pribble.

Ken Thompsons Are New Parents of Karie Kendra

CLINTON—A daughter, Karie Kendra Thompson, was born Friday to Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Thompson in St. Mary's Hospital, Livonia.

The baby weighed 7 lbs. 3 oz.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson reside at 1015 Horton St., Northville, and were former Clinton residents.

The maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Milton Johnston of Clinton, and the paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Thompson of Adrian.

Mrs. Tom Judge, Bill Heimerdinger Sing at Churches

CLINTON — Former choir directors, Mrs. Thomas Judge, visiting from Monroe, Conn., and Bill Heimerdinger, were guest soloists for the morning worship service in the United Church of Christ, Sunday.

They also appeared as soloists at the Clinton Methodist Church for the later service.

For the next three Sundays, Aug. 20, 27 and Sept. 3, the Rev. David Liscomb, new pastor of the Clinton Methodist Church, will conduct the services in the United Church of Christ in the absence of the Rev. Paul McKenna, who is vacationing with his family.

Worship services will be held at 9:30 a.m., on those three Sundays.

NEWS of CLINTON

A SECTION OF THE TECUMSEH HERALD

EDITOR — MAXINE CALHOUN

Board of Review To Begin Session

CLINTON — The Clinton Township Board appointed a new board of review at the Aug. 7 meeting.

named to the board of review were: Harold Calhoun, Leslie Pierce, Hubert Van Camp, with Frank Gilman as an alternate.

Fire Chief Arthur Schuler told the board of the need for securing a special truck to combat grass fires. Such a truck would be more effective in fighting such fires and would eliminate using costly equipment for that type of blaze.

The board discussed the matter and voted to make available to the fire department for the purchase of such a truck, not to exceed $500, providing that matching funds were forthcoming from the Village of Clinton.

Mr. Schuler described a plan for a two-way radio system in the area, under the jurisdiction of the fire department. With this equipment, a tornado watch could be instituted and it could be available during fires and for other emergencies.

Board members approved the idea and board representatives on the fire department board will study the matter and consult with village officers.

Corn Roast, Barbecue Is Saturday

CLINTON — Locally grown, choice roasting ears are being readied for the annual Corn Roast and Barbecue supper, Saturday, Aug. 19.

Sponsored by the official board of the Clinton Methodist Church, all members pitch in to give a hand at the big project.

The cafeteria style meal is served on the lawn, and the sweet corn is roasted in charcoal fires. Homemade pies, cupcakes and salads will be served with Sloppy Joes.

Fred C. Snauble Issued Summons for Improper Turn

CLINTON — Fred C. Snauble, 73, of 13830 Able Rd., Clinton, was given a summons for making an improper left turn Sunday afternoon.

The Snauble car was turning from Tecumseh-Clinton Rd., onto Staib Rd., when it struck a car driven by Pamallynn E. Foster, 809 Occidental, Tecumseh, which was waiting at the stop sign.

Snauble told Clinton State Police the bushes at the road edge hampered his vision.

The engagement of Linda Louise Brown and Bart Conrad Calloway is announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Knowlton C. Brown, 9905 Fisk Rd. Miss Brown is a graduate of Clinton High School and Cleary College and is employed at the University of Michigan Union. Mr. Calloway is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Willie Lee Calloway, Manchester. He is a graduate of Clinton High School and served four years in the Air Force. He is employed at the Ford Motor Company, Rawsonville. The wedding will be held in St. James Church, rural Saline, Sept. 2.

OUTDOORS with CORDIE

by GORDON CHARLES

Some years ago, through this same column, we wrote an open letter to the brewing industry, suggesting that it would be a wonderful public relations gesture on their part to do something about the litter problem.

We pointed out that a reminder from the brewers, printed on each six-pack or even on the bottle or can, would help in cutting down the number of discards along the highways or in scenic areas.

We felt then, and still do, that most people toss cans and bottles and other litter through utter thoughtlessness.

Various segments of the brewing industry did not take too kindly to our writings. Their public relations people took pen in hand and wrote some of the most blistering letters we have ever received.

In short, they all contained the same thought to wit: "Why in the blankety-blank don't you mind your own business, Charles?"

Not one who bothered to write felt an outdoor writer should be concerned with keeping outdoor beauty litter-free. How about that?

Well, fortunately, ideas do change, as do public relations people and we are happy to report that some segments of the brewing industry are coming around in fine shape.

In fact, we are going to mention a couple of names because they are obviously concerned with public service motives.

Just prior to the July 4th holiday, the Schlitz Brewing Co. of Milwaukee ran several ads in major magazines. They showed a lovely lakeside scene and posed the question: "How would an empty beer can look here?" Then followed: "Or old soda pop bottles? Or watermelon rinds?"

Their plea was merely a reminder to the thoughtless American who unthinkingly litters our beauty spots.

A couple of years earlier, the Adolph Coors Co. of Denver put on a public relations program that resulted in their redeeming over 12 million aluminum beer cans! And, this despite the fact that the cans had a salvage of only one-half cent apiece.

A similar program, aimed at empty beer bottles, resulted in a return of over 75% of the total bottles distributed!

Efforts of these two public-minded companies have undoubtedly resulted in the elimination of many millions of bottles and cans from our roadsides. And, when you stop to consider that it costs between 35 and 50 cents apiece for each item of litter picked up by a highway clean-up crew, the tax savings are tremendous.

Perhaps there are other segments of the brewing industry who are also taking a new look at this growing problem of litter. If so we would like to give them credit, too.

"And the Trains Will Run" will be the sermon topic of Robert W. Brown, vice-president of development of Adrian College, when he speaks to the congregation of the Tecumseh Methodist Church Sunday at the 10 a.m. service. Mr. Brown holds a PhD in administration of higher education from Michigan State University. He also has served as a lay preacher in numerous county churches. Aug. 27, the Rev. Donald Porteous will return to the pulpit of the local church.

New Postal Kit Set To Aid ZIP

During the latter half of September, each of the nation's 66 million households will receive a unique kit of postal cards which can be used to obtain ZIP Codes for personal mailing needs.

The specially designed kit will consist of nine cards.

This year, the expanded project will find the kit of cards being delivered with only one address to be entered on each card for ZIP Coding. The card will then go through the mails in the same manner as a regular postal card.

It will be separated out of the mail stream at the post office which serves the "zipless" address. There a clerk will stamp in the proper code and "return to sender."

The card will then go back the same route to the mailer, who will enter the code into a personal mailing list. No postage will be needed to send the cards through the mails.

Extra copies of the ZIP-A-LIST kits will be available at post offices. The ultimate result will be an improvement in service.

A survey conducted last year by Elmo Roper and Associates as part of the Advertising Council's ZIP Code efforts, indicated that more people would use ZIP Code if the numbers were more easily available. ZIP-A-LIST was a direct outgrowth of that survey.

Sunday Sermon

"Mind" is the subject of the Lesson Sermon to be read in all Christian Science churches throughout the world this Sunday.

The Golden Text is from Timothy: "God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

Two Boy Scouts Are Awarded Troop's Highest Rank

By NORMA JAMES

Scouting's highest rank was awarded to two members of Birdsall's Troop 32 at a Court of Honor and Eagle Banquet held Saturday evening at the Lenawee County Conservation Clubhouse.

It is estimated that one out of every 100 Scouts becomes an Eagle Scout and the leaders were proud to add the names of Larry Marvin, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Marvin and Dennis James, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard James to the honor roll, bringing the total to eight in the troop.

The hall was beautifully decorated, in the patriotic theme. White banquet tables were trimmed with the same red, white and blue streamers that hung from the ceiling along with a "Welcome Eagles" banner and the symbolic Eagle knot.

A large arrangement of summer flowers with miniature scout heads and Star, Life and Eagle symbols of styrofoam, centered the head of the table, flanked by Scout statures and candles.

The flowers were donated from Ousterhouts in Tecumseh and Ray Potts of Adrian, Dennis' grandfather.

Flowers in red vases and candles were placed in the center of the tables where the group had their Swiss steak dinner served by Mrs. Dorothy Breckel, president and her Scout Moms Group.

Clever nutcups on a red and blue Fleur-de-lis Scout emblem were at each place, the work of Mrs. Cleo Johnson, chairman, and her committee, Mrs. Arlene Griewahn and Mrs. Colleen Sprow.

Invocation was given by Cliff Pifer, Scoutmaster of Troop 16.

Movies were shown of the summer camp and the canoe trip down the Manistee River taken by the group in June.

Scoutmaster Richard James with his assistants, Bob Sager, Jim Marvin and Glen Griewahn, awarded the following boys rank and merit badges earned at camp.

Those receiving awards included:

Second class — Doug Schneider, Steven James and Henry Voss.

First class — Bob Cissney, Steven Schneider, Carter Johnson, Danny Sprow and Carl Conlin.

Merit Badge — Gary Griewahn.

Swimming — Steven Schneider.

Pioneering — Allen Breckel Mike James, John James.

Wild Life Management — Rick Blohm, Carter Johnson, Steve Schneider, Mike James, Dennis James, Bob Cissney, John James, Allen Breckel, Gary Griewahn.

Rowing and Lifesaving were also earned by Gary Griewahn.

Master of Ceremonies, Wayne Griewahn, introduced the guests: Mr. and Mrs. Ken Wise, secretary of the Conservation League which sponsors the Boy Scouts; Mr. and Mrs. Francis Packard; James Lowe, Council Commissioner; Harley Robinette; Leo Swinehart, Council Advancement chairman; Garth Gottschalk; and Dr. and Mrs. Backman.

A hilarious new song was introduced by Mr. Gottschalk.

The new candidates were escorted to the front by Eagle Scouts Joe Sprow, Rick James and Steve and Rick Griewahn.

The difficult path to the Eagle rank was brought out by Mr. Packard who spoke of the leadership qualities needed.

Mr. Lowe told of the 21 different merit badges and knowledge required of each candidate.

Mr. Robinette told of checking the character reference of the boys going before the Board of Review. The Eagle poem was given by Rick James.

The boys were then challenged by Mr. Gottschalk to live up to the ideals of the brotherhood of the Eagles and Len Gamber, district executive, proclaimed Dennis and Larry, Eagle Scouts.

The Eagle medals were pinned on the boys by their fathers. Miniatures of the badges and necklaces will be given to the mothers and an Eagle tie clasp will be given to the fathers at a later date.

HIGHEST RANK — Larry Marvin, left, and Dennis James proudly display their badges as they were awarded scouting's highest honor — the rank of Eagle Scout.

TENTH WEEK

YELLOW CARDS

AUG. 14 to AUG. 20

WIN as much as $50 THIS WEEK

Here How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week., THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of The Tecumseh Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Check the classified ads for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS — YOU HAVE A "BINGO" — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spends like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE TECUMSEH HERALD: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Wednesday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards each week will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE HERALD, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The Herald. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be some place in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

HOME REDONE — Tecumseh MYF youths improved this home by painting, washing and patching it. They bought Miss Dora, the 90-year-old owner, a TV and stove with funds earned by various projects they had staged during the previous year

Youths Help the Needy

By RICK SKINNER

Take 14 young adults, tons of blocks, mortar and cement, gallons of paint, some roofing paper, a little money and four patient counselors — what do you have?

Fourteen members of the Tecumseh Methodist Church Senior Youth Fellowship feel you have a satisfying climax to a year of many activities.

The group includes Denise Criss, Richard Hale, Larry Mauer, Gail and Mike Meads, Judy Packard, Kathy, Dave and Dori Perteous, Helen Schooley, Rick and Reed Skinner, Sonja Sprague, Pam Zorn, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meads and the Reverend and Mrs. Don Porteous.

Their missionary project took them to the Scotts Run Settlement House in Osage, West Virginia, for a 12-day work-travel camp, July 24-Aug. 4. It was financed completely through the MYF treasury.

Planning the project in late 1966, the youth and their sponsors, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Meads, began making money for the trip. Several thousand loaves of 25, 35 and 50c bread, a smorgasbord, candy making and selling, a rummage sale, and a Girl Scout banquet catered by the group, provided funds.

Members became quite efficient at turning out loaves, working from early morning until late evening in three or four-day projects. Most of their winter and spring vacations went into baking bread, while Saturdays' provided time for candy making.

On one occasion, the group scheduled a city-wide smorgasbord that was so successful that they later hosted area Girl Scout leaders at a presentation dinner. A rummage sale was the last project.

In addition the group continued it's regular Sunday meetings and side trips to Chelsea and Ithaca, plus several bowling parties. The group was earning the title "active."

MYF'ers main objective in their project was to go somewhere where they were needed and could be helpful. Only weeks before departure day the final place was decided on, and churches were contacted. The group planned to stay in churches during their trip to and from Osage, six miles west of Morgantown, West Virginia.

Eighteen, leaving in two cars and a station wagon with Reverend and Mrs. Don Porteous, left at 1:30 Sunday. Before passing over the Ambassador Bridge in Detroit into Canada at 3:30, they traveled through areas, which, they learned later, were scenes of rioting and fire.

Across the bridge and through customs they set out on the 200-mile plus drive to Niagara Falls, Ontario, stopping for gas and a picnic lunch before arriving at the falls.

From the United Church, it was only a five-minute walk to the falls. After unpacking, everyone set out for souvenir shops and Niagara.

Unrolling the sleeping bags that evening was a welcome.

Monday morning was rather dismal as they ate, packed, and walked to the falls. Within 15 minutes everyone was soaked — it was raining!

They set out for West Virginia, plunging through New York on the turnpike, stopping in a Pennsylvania city parking lot for lunch and into Osage by 8:30 p.m.

That night, Mrs. Meads and her cooks made dinner in the Settlement House kitchen and everyone unpacked, settling the girls in the building next to the house and the boys in the gymnasium and kindergarten rooms.

After dinner and dishes, the MYF met Mrs. Petso and heard about her program in the community.

Next morning everyone was up by 9:30; the boys to tear up a sidewalk that needed replacing, the girls to rearrange the thrift shop located in the house.

Later the group surveyed the work ahead of them, working from morning till night Tuesday through Tuesday, but taking Sunday off. There were too many projects and too little time.

By Thursday the sidewalk was poured and the footing for the retaining wall completed. Just ask any member of the group about pouring cement.

The wall was lower than the street. They would have had to carry the cement down to the wall. Yankee ingenuity, however, built several troughs down the inclines into the trench.

Within 15 minutes, 18 people had three tons of concrete in the excavation and in various other places — shoes, clothes, hair.

Construction started immediately. Plagued by rain, painting became more popular and the group traded brushes for trowels, while others went to Miss Dora's.

Miss Dora is a 90-year-old Negro woman who lives in one of the four-room miners' shacks on Osage Hill. She had already paid for her home and was trying to improve it.

The MYF helped, cleaning and painting or patching where needed. They bought her a television and brought in a stove. It took a lot of work, but it was repaid with satisfaction and many thanks.

A week was coming to a close too fast.

Sunday the group set sights for Blackwater Falls, traveling through scenic West Virginia with its mountains and famous hairpin and horseshoe curves.

With Monday came increased work as everyone helped to finish the wall. It took most of the day. Denise, Judy, Cathy and Gail had the job of bathing several children — which, they explained, was a whole lot of fun. Miss Dora's house also had to be completed.

Tuesday was a rush, as the entire work crew, including Mr. Porteous and Mr. Meads, took to the roof of a house on Chaplin hill, taking just 5 hours, 15 rolls of tar paper, a few gallons of tar, several thousand nails and a couple sunburns to repair it.

The week was over and it was time to quit. That evening, the MYF was entertained by Mrs. Petso and her staff.

The MYF said goodbye and left for Gettysburg early Wednesday, while the Porteouses visited relatives in Pittsburgh. The MYF toured the battlefields before returning home on Friday.

Reflecting on the trip, Tecumseh's MYF feels it was a "satisfying experience" and [illegible] believe it — they're ready to go again — and so are their sponsors!

Campers Learn of God

(Editor's note — Thirteen young people in the senior group of the Britton Baptist Church spent last week at the General Association of Regular Baptist Churches camp at Lake Ann, Mich., located near Traverse City.)

By LUANN RHORA

BRITTON — Monday morning, Aug. 7, dawned foggy and rainy. Nevertheless, our spirits were high with the prospect of camp before us as we left by 6 a.m.

The first day was a busy one ending with an inspiring message by the Rev. Thurber. His outline for the week was: The Love of God is real; the wrath of God is real; Heaven is real; Hell is real; and Life today is real.

Tuesday — some of the kids got up at 6:30 for polar bear swimming.

The camp schedule was put into action and we soon became accustomed to it. Each day for one hour we had cabin activities.

Wednesday was the day for our canoe trip. It was seven miles of solid paddling, with mass confusion in that river with 76 canoes.

Thursday's spotlight belonged to the missionary, the Rev. Dykesterhouse. His message awoke many a sleepy heart about today's "cool" world.

It seems that the "in" thing is to hide your natural feelings. Too often we hide our feelings for Christ in the sight of others. If we don't confess Christ before men then he won't confess us before his Father.

Friday was the last day of camp. No one wanted to leave and the day's special activities were planned for campers and counselors alike.

One of the most memorable moments was the bonfire after chapel service. It was a testimony service so everyone who wanted to testify could.

Just the Christian fellowship was blessing enough that I'll long remember. There is no greater thrill that that of Christians taking a stand for Christ.

Saturday everyone had to have their cabin cleaned and themselves ready to go by 8 a.m.

We arrived in Britton about 4 p.m., tired but happy. I doubt if anyone of us is sorry we went. This year's camp will long be remembered.

The Ronald Crolls Are Taking a Trip To Abilene, Texas

BRITTON — Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Croll and son Kurt and Mrs. Croll's mother, Mrs. Ruth Durmire of Pittsburgh, Pa., are taking a trip to Abilene, Tex.

They will visit Capt. Richard Pendergast and family at Dyess Air Force Base for a week.

Mrs. Pendergast is Mr. Croll's sister. Capt. Pendergast recently returned from Vietnam to spend 30 days.

LAVERN C. STITES

LaVerne C. Stites Now Assigned to Sukuran, Okinawa

Army Pfc. LaVerne C. Stites, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Stites, 1954 Russell Rd. has just completed a 30-day furlough at home. Pfc. Stites enlisted in the Army on Oct. 17, 1966, and is a 1965 graduate from Tecumseh High School.

Before enlisting he was employed at Peerless Gear, Clinton and was taking a course in Architectural Drafting at Chicago Technical School.

Pfc. Stites received his basic training at Ft. Knox, Ky. and after graduation was sent to Camp Polk, La. for warfare training at Ft. Dix, N.J. He left trucks and larger.

He received more advanced training at Ft. Dix, N.J. He left Metro airport Friday for Oakland, Calif., where he leaves for overseas duty to Sukuran, Okinawa, for two years.

Auxiliary Women Attend Jaycee Board Meeting

Tecumseh Auxiliary women returned home from the Jaycee Summer Board Meetings which were hosted by the St. Joseph-Benton Harbor Jaycees, Aug. 11 and 12.

Mrs. Tom Morgan and Mrs. Walter Elwartowski were among the State Officers who conducted the women's workshops.

Others attending the meetings were Mrs. David Schoonover, Mrs. Ronald Albert, Mrs. Dyke Helms, Mrs. Fred Johnson, Mrs. Gary McCain and guest, Mrs. Frank Sandhoff.

Richard Williams' Guests of Honor at Open House

Sixty friends and relatives of Richard Williams gathered at the home of his brother, Roger Williams, Sunday to meet the former's bride at an open house given by his mother, Mrs. Bernice Williams.

Joyce Kalmer and Mr. Williams were married July 15 in the Bronx, N. Y.

Mrs. Dale Dennison and Mrs. Warren Finkbeiner, sisters of the groom, served ice cream and cake and Patty Finkbeiner, his niece, served punch.

Highlighting the event for the groom was the unexpected attendance of Mr. and Mrs. Claron Rex and one son of Maumee, O., former owners of a Western Auto Store in Tecumseh located where the Watkins Shop is presently in business.

Williams was employed with Mr. and Mrs. Rex for about three years while they were here.

Where "continuing progress" is more than just a slogan

we care

A&P

why should we guarantee other people's products?

If we didn't, we couldn't honestly say WE CARE. Could we?

You see, before any product is allowed on our shelves, we've checked it out pretty carefully.

We've checked the company that makes it. We've checked to be sure the product is all the package says it is.

If you ever buy anything at A&P you're not happy with, you don't have to bother to write a letter to the company that made it. Just tell your A&P store manager. He'll give you your money back. We'll get in touch with that company for you... and for us.

That's A&P's guarantee. No matter who makes it, if A&P sells it, A&P guarantees it.

Not every store can offer you a guarantee like that. A&P can...and does. Shouldn't A&P be your store?

VERYL SCHILL, OWNER, KNEELS ON THE HIGH-BANK CLAY TRACK AT HIS MANCHESTER SPEEDWAY

Speedway Fills to Capacity

By DENICE ANDERSON

Speed! Thrills! Excitement! Fun! All are featured every Friday night at the Manchester Speedway.

Owned and operated by Veryl Schill, the Speedway has entered its sixth year of racing, changing from a place where youths were able to vent their speed energy on Sunday afternoons, to a popular race track where accomplished speedsters from all over come to claim the winning purse.

Schill began the Speedway as a hobby along with three other men, but he gradually bought out his co-partners and set out on an adventure which has since paid off royally.

"We just wanted to get the boys off the roads and someplace where they could speed without endangering others," said Schill.

"One thing led to another and soon a corporation was formed," he noted as he surveyed the bleachers and pit that comprise the Speedway.

"We're gradually increasing our facilities," he mentioned. "Plans are being made for more parking spaces and larger bleachers. Lately we've been having to turn away racing fans because of lack of space."

"Right now we're putting up a new fence. The crowds push right up against it so we're putting it back further for their own protection."

"We've been running full capacity, which ranges approximately 3,000 persons," Schill said. "We have Speedway fans of all ages."

The night begins at 7 p.m., with the time trials. Racing begins at 8:30 p.m. Drivers start arriving by 6 p.m., early enough to check their cars and get ready for the trials.

"Friday is the only night when action is seen at the Speedway. No one is on the track except at race time," said Schill. "Sunday is our 'rain day' for Friday competition that is cancelled due to the weather."

The Speedway felt the fury of the recent storm as the once-smooth parking lot has become full of gullies and one corner of the pit is under water.

"We had approximately 20 cars entering competition when we first began," said Schill, "but we now have up to 80 cars entered in our races.

"Two classes of cars are featured here," explained Schill. "The Sportsman Modified is a coup that has been completely re-made. The Super Stocks are cars just off the road with only the engine fixed.

"Some trick driving is displayed at the Speedway. Demolition derbys are also held where the drivers purposely wreck their autos, usually junk cars.

"Racing is one of our nation's biggest sports, next to football, baseball and such," noted the owner.

"We have a clean sport here. Oh, occasionally someone gets hurt, but there are also injuries in other sports, too.

"The guys race here are mostly really nice kids. Ages range from 21-50 and drivers under 21 can compete as long as they have their parent's consent.

"Although there is much competition, the type of guys that race here are the kind that will help their competitors even at the risk of losing to them," Schill commented.

"The fellows will loan their co-racers auto parts and very few are the bitter, poor-loser type, although we occasionally get one like that.

As far as the new track to be located in the Irish Hills is concerned — "I think it's wonderful," said Schill.

"The new track is going to help racing enthusiasm he area," he noted. "Besides, we feature a com-ely different type of racing and completely differ-types of people doing the racing."

"I am tickled to death to see it coming.

"Here at Manchester, we have a high-bank clay . After each racing evening, we grade the dirt onto the track and work with it until it looks black-top.

"We have, usually, 12 races per night. A heat con- of 10 laps with 10-12 cars running in each heat.

"Cars run in two qualifying laps then run in posi- with the times earned during qualification.

"We have drivers coming from Detroit, Lansing, lwater, Kalamazoo and other areas as well as our boys," said Schill.

"Approximately 38 are employed on race night," oted. "We have four security guards."

Admittance to the Speedway is $1.50 for regu-r nights. Children under 1 are admitted free if ccompanied by their parents.

"Our three judges are from Stater Timing out of sing," Schill said.

"They can time the cars to 100th of a second with r electric clocks.

"The purse is 50% of the gate after taxes and is to the drivers, depending on where they place ng the competition.

"Aug. 18 will be the Tri-State Championship with ers racing in open competition from Ohio, Indiana Michigan.

"We're guaranteeing a purse of $1,200" said Schill.

"The driver's insurance rate is high as we're affiliated with Lloyds of London. As far as the pit is concerned, no one except the drivers and their own mechanics are allowed during the races.

"Our racing season begins May 1. The Season Championship will be held in the middle of September and is the biggest and last race of the season.

"All drivers will be eligible for the three big trophies to be presented. The trophies will average $75 apiece. The Class A trophy is usually worth $100.

"Drivers are on a point system during the season. Points are kept for each race and the top point men will also receive a trophy.

"The Sportsman Trophy, voted by the drivers, went to my son, Harold, this year. It is handed down during the years," said Schill.

Harold was injured seriously in a racing accident June 2.

'He's better, much better, now," said Schill. "The doctors had said he would have been alright if pneumonia hadn't set in."

Harold is now at a nursing home in Howell.

"As far as accidents are concerned," said Schill, "the one my son was in has been by far the worst. We have quite a few roll-overs but no one is usually seriously injured.

"We're quite rigid on the safety rules. All cars must have safety belts and the driver must use them. Also used are shoulder harnesses and crash helmets. Brakes are thoroughly checked before a driver is allowed to race."

Schill works at the Tecumseh Products during the week. He has been there since January 1937.

Senator Bursley's LANSING REPORT

On Oct. 10, Gov. George Romney will call the Legislature back into special session to take up several controversial items. Those not considered in October may well be before us in January at the next regular session.

Your opinion on several of these issues is most important. Public concensus can have a significant bearing on legislative action.

I'm listing several problems in questionnaire form and I would appreciate your filling it in and mailing it to me — Senator Gilbert Bursley, State Capitol, Lansing.

CIGARETTE TAX

Would you favor an increase in the cigarette tax from seven cents to 10 cents per pack? This would net the state general fund about $3 million monthly.

.....YES.....NO

GAS AND WEIGHT TAX (AUTOS)

Would you favor a one cent per gallon increase in the state gasoline tax and an increase in the weight tax (your license plates)? These funds would be constitutionally earmarked for highway purposes. This proposal has been called the "good roads" package.

.....YES.....NO

GAS TAX TO REDUCE MACKINAC BRIDGE TOLLS

Would you favor an additional ¼ cent per gallon to be earmarked for paying off the Mackinac Bridge at an earlier date and reducing tolls?

.....YES.....NO

CIVIL RIGHTS COMMISSION APPROPRIATION

Would you favor a supplementary appropriation for the Civil Rights Commission? (Another $500,000 or $1,000,000)

.....YES.....NO

RIOT LEGISLATION

Should the State pass legislation on riot controls?

.....YES.....NO

RECONSTRUCTION OF DETROIT

Should state general fund revenues be appropriated to help rebuild Detroit?

.....YES.....NO

CIVIL RIGHTS

In pushing civil rights has government gone : too far too fast — not fast enough — at right speed

SCHOOLS

Should school taxes be paid only by persons with children in school? .....YES .....NO.

Should schools be operated all year rather than nine months? .....YES .....NO.

Are teachers' salaries Too High..... About Right..... Not High Enough.....?

LOTTERIES

New York and New Hampshire now run state-administered lotteries to raise funds. Michigan would need a constitutional amendment to make this possible. Do you favor a state lottery? .....YES .....NO.

SUNDAY LIQUOR

Do you favor legislation permitting each county to determine whether to allow the sale of Sunday liquor? .....YES .....NO.

ABORTIONS

Do you favor legalizing abortions in cases of rape, incest or when the mother's life is at stake? .....YES .....NO.

STATE SPENDING

If you were a legislator and had $1 million to add to this year's appropriation, which one of the following areas would you vote it to?

Corrections.....
Primary and secondary education.....
Agriculture.....
Highways.....
Higher education.....
Capital Outlay (buildings).....
Conservation.....
Commerce (industrial promotion).....
State Parks.....
Social Services (Welfare).....
Mental Health.....
Surplus (not spend it).....

If you had to cut $1 million which of the above areas comes first .....;
second .....;
third .....?

Crop Check-Up Now Available

Growers in this area may have their crop plants given an "annual physical check-up" as the ORTHO Crop Health Center, sponsored by J. J. Walper Elevator will be held Aug. 21 at the Elevator Office.

Max Maichele, ORTHO Agronomist, will conduct the clinic from 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., so that growers may have their crop plants given a free tissue test.

Growers are invited to attend the Crop Health Center and bring three freshly cut plants with leaves attached from the same field of any of the following crops: corn and/or soybeans. The ORTHO Agronomist will make on-the-spot tests for nitrogen, phosphorus and potassium.

The ORTHO Agronomist suggests that corn plants should be in the early tasseling stage. Other crop plants should be at the medium mature stage.

There will be no charge for testing these plants.

Tissue tests can indicate how well the fertility program is meeting the needs of the crop. Using these tests, the ORTHO Agronomist can determine which, if any, nutrient is most limiting yields.

By adjusting his fertilization program, based on the results of the tissue tests, a grower can provide a more balanced diet for his crop.

By providing nutrients that may be limiting yields, growers can achieve greater yield and profit potentials.

Through My Window

FROM BAD TO GOOD

What an absolutely perfect way to spoil what started out to be just a nice ordinary summer day. I looked out in time to see the most unwanted of the unwanteds on the feeder.

A cat!

The big gray and white monster had crawled his way up the post and was resting his head on the feeding tray.

It probably wasn't the biggest cat head in the world, the cruel yellow eyes probably weren't glaring nor was he sneering at me — it just seemed that way.

I screamed and he left.

Fortunately he left without breakfast. It doesn't always happen this way though, several mounds of rumpled feathers have told sad tales.

When we invite birds into the yard, when the feeders are piled high with their favorite foods—well, it is more than sad to have them fall prey to one of the neighborhood's prowling cats.

This brings up a question that has long bothered me. Why is cat owning not under the same regulations that dog owning is?

We must try to keep our dog tied or confined in someway so that they do not run wild, they must have licenses and they must be vaccinated against rabies. Why not cats?

They can be great nuisances and quite destructive—licensing would reduce some additional revenue and perhaps eliminate a few of the animals who are unwanted and just allowed to go wild — and yet, cats can carry rabies just as readily as dogs.

As far as rodent control goes, owls do a much better job and they merely hoot at night, they do not congregate beneath bedroom windows and yowl.

I suppose in all fairness I must admit that not every cat is a monster. Some of our good friends are cat fanciers misguided souls. My objection is to the people that get kittens "because they are just so adorable" but then, when they grow up, just turn them loose.

But back to the bird-feeding station. Most of the day that gray and white cat head on the feeding tray haunted me. I kept waiting for something exciting to come along and erase the memory.

It was a quiet day though, nothing much happened until almost four o'clock, and then, as so often happens, all sorts of excitement flew in.

First came two of the young bluejays. As they bolted down big mouthfuls of scratchfeed, we could not help noticing again how soft their feathers looked and what a lovely shade of true blue they wore.

An adult jay is, of course, a selfish arrogant bully who would not dream of sharing the bird-feeder with anybody except perhaps an occasional sparrow. But, before learning all the niceties of grown-up behavior the young bluejays get along fairly well with each other. Their congregating at the feeder is one of the joys of summer-time watching.

We were happy to watch the two when all of a sudden in zoomed two more. Almost before my startled mind registered four bluejays, in zoomed the fifth.

Wow!

Five bluejays freeloading from the same little feeder is quite a trayful of bluejays. They aren't the daintiest eaters in the world — with 10 big black feet and five large black bills digging into the pile of scratch there was probably about as much food knocked to the ground as there was eaten.

But who cared.

In a swoosh our trayful of blue left. All cat thoughts were lightened too. There was still one thrill ahead though — two jays returned, one perched on the north side of the feeder while the other selected the southern exposure.

This left the west side free, the side facing the window and guess who decided that this was his place? Our big gorgeous Papa Cardinal.

Two blues and a red all at the same time — it didn't last long but, for a few minutes they were all there, it was certainly one of the prettiest sights one could wish to see.

So it is that although a miserable cat got the day off to a bad start, the bluejays and a cardinal finally came to the rescue and we can sum up our day by saying that it went from bad to good.

Ken, Barb's Coffee Shop Serves Best

CLINTON — Fresh paint in hues of pastel yellow and blue has recently brightened the appearance of the coffee shop known as Ken and Barb's at 167 W. Michigan Ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Waters and their six children moved to Clinton from Saline a year ago and opened the restaurant, in the building which had been vacant for several years.

"All our meat is bought fresh and we feature good steaks, full-course dinners and sandwich lunches," Mr. Waters said.

The cooking is done by the Waters, and their daughter, Charlene, serves as a waitress. There are four other employees.

The family resides in the apartment above the restaurant.

It's never too late to stop in for a bite to eat at Ken and Barb's. They are open 'round the clock, 24 hours a day.

Widow To Get Security

Mrs. Madonna Groves of 1205 Murray Dr., a recent widow, was surprised to find she could receive over $60,000 from the Social Security Administration under certain conditions over the coming years.

This became possible because her husband had been paying social security taxes during the two and one-half years he worked at Tecumseh Products prior to his death. Mrs. Groves lost her husband when he was fatally injured in an automobile accident May 20.

The former Madonna Strand is a 1963 graduate of Tecumseh High School and was graduated from the Jackson College of Beauty Culture in July of 1964.

She married Mr. Groves in 1965 and they had one child, Gloria, who is still with her mother. Mrs. Groves is a member of St. Elizabeth Catholic Church.

She is presently residing with her mother, Mrs. Henry Strand, who is also receiving social security benefits as a widow for herself and nine children.

The Social Security Administration provides survivors benefits for widows and their minor children up until the age of 18. Benefits would continue for the child until age 22 if going to school full time and unmarried.

Benefits are due every month of the year as long as the entitled persons do not earn more than $1,500 a year.

Mrs. Groves could later also qualify for widows benefits when she's 60 years old if she does not remarry.

According to Paul Hughes District Manager at Jackson, Mrs. Groves and her daughter could receive $222 a month for 16 years and three months for a total of $42,370.

If Gloria continues her schooling after she reaches 18 she could receive an additional $5,328. Mrs. Groves could receive $106.60 monthly when she is 60.

Based upon life expectancy, this would total $18,250.40. There was also a death benefit of $255 sent to Mrs. Groves to help pay for the funeral expenses.

Mr. Hughes said that all social security records are confidential but Mrs. Groves consented to the release of this information in order to better acquaint people in the area of the benefits payable by Social Security.

Letters to the Editor

LETTER TO EDITOR:

At long last I have time to jot down a few of my impressions concerning our July 1st celebrations with our good friends from our sister City — Tecumseh, Michigan.

First of all, we distributed to every household (roughly 3,000) your 8 page supplement which was superb — the photography and the press work were excellent. Our people really appreciated it.

Your "40 and 8" was the "hit" of the day. I think every child in town got a ride in it. Our older people, as well as myself, got a charge out of the French lettering on the side of the vehicle.

The Shawnee Squares put on quite a performance. I would like to thank them for their donation towards our swimming pool.

Of course the highlight of the day was when your good Mayor and my very good friend Harold let (?) himself be thrown into the pool all dressed up.

We mustn't forget your "clowns" who passed out the goodies and those who gave away your small Flags.

I appreciate very much the City of Tecumseh's gift of a new "Stars and Stripes" bearing 50 stars. Your previous one, donated in 1961, with 48 stars, now decorates my den as a souvenir.

All in all, old acquaintances were renewed and lots of fun was had by all. I think we cemented the friendly relations we have had with your Council and citizens down through the years. As the younger generation would put it — "We had a blast!"

May I again express by sincere thanks to the Council of Tecumseh, Michigan, your Police Chief and my friend Merle Clark, your Fire Chief and his "fire eaters", your Shawnee Squares, Miss Betty Flanders, all the staff of the Tecumseh Hearald, etc., etc., but mostly, all the people of Tecumseh, Michigan who came over to help us celebrate Canada's first hundred years. It was a huge success — they're still talking about it and also still talking about "those beautiful 8 pages of pictures".

"Merci, du fond du coeur, Harold!"

Sincerely,
Hector Lacasse,
Mayor,
Town of Tecumseh

Your Car Deserves A Brake

As a matter of fact, it deserves FOUR BRAKES – all in Good Working Order.

When Was The Last Time Your Brakes Were Checked?

If you're driving a car equipped with self-adjusting brakes, you don't even have the benefit of low pedal to warn you if your brakes need servicing.

Why Take Chances?

School Bells Ending Vacation Sept. 5th

Summer vacation is about over for approximately 3,400 Tecumseh school district youngsters.

School starts here Tuesday, Sept. 5, and for junior and senior high students, it will be starting a mite earlier than before.

Students, in grades seven through 12, will start at 7:35 each morning — 15 minutes earlier than last year, and get out at 2:35, five minutes later.

Reason for the change is two noon hour periods, due to increased enrollments, and seven class hours instead of six.

Pupils in grades one through six and kindergarteners will be able to sleep five minutes longer, starting at 9:05 each morning instead of 9:00.

Teachers' vacations end next Thursday, Aug. 31, when they will start their annual pre-school staff conferences. A coffee hour at the high school cafeteria will kick-off the conferences.

Supt. James McDowell and his administrative staff will meet with teachers for two days, Aug. 31 and Sept. 1.

As protection for Tecumseh pupils, the School Board and the County Health Department requires all staff members to have tuberculosis tests each year, and these are done by the Lenawee County Health Department. All staff members must have these tests or necessary X-rays before school opens.

All children — except kindergarteners who will come Wednesday — will start school on Tuesday, September 5, at 10 locations: High School, Junior High, Patterson, Herrick Park, Tecumseh Acres, Tipton, Sutton, Ridgeway, West Branch and Macon.

A hot lunch program will begin opening day in the high school.

Milk will be available in all other buildings, and children will be expected to bring their own lunches.

Eligibility of elementary children to remain at school for lunches will be determined

NATIONAL AD — Sewing machine operator Phyllis Roe of Tecumseh was spotted last week by several area folks in an ad now being published in several leading magazines — including a full page in the National Geographic. Phyllis has been a seamstress at the Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant since Aug. 26, 1965.

First U.S. Auto Driving School Scheduled for M.I.S. by British

Lawrence H. LoPatin, president and developer of Michigan International Speedway, signed an agreement Friday with Motor Racing Stables, Brands Hatch, England, for the first international racing drivers' school in the United States.

The new branch will be included in MIS's auto racing facility, soon to be under construction in Cambridge Township, just west of the US-12 and M-50 intersection.

Motor Racing Stables is recognized in Europe as the number one school for drivers, and one of its early students is top driver Graham Hill, winner of the 1966 Indianapolis 500.

The school is headed up by Geoffrey D. Clarke, managing director, driving ace Stirling Moss, and patron of motor racing, Rob Walker, president of Walker's Distillery, Scotland.

It was founded seven years ago and thousands of race drivers have graduated from its ranks, including many prospective drivers from the U. S.

Clarke contacted LoPatin after the announcement of MIS to be built in the Irish Hills, and signing of the agreement, or lease, culminated a year of correspondence and discussion.

LoPatin, who lives in Southfield, was accompanied on his trip to England by his designer, Charles H. Moneypenny, of Daytona, Fla.

Moneypenny, who designed the Daytona track, is considered the pre-eminent auto race track designer in the world. He designed speedways in Atlanta, and Rockingham, and was consultant for the International Grand Prix Circuit at Mt. Fuji, Japan.

LAWRENCE LoPATIN

At the Brands Hatch meeting, LoPatin told newsmen, "We feel honored that Motor Racing Stables should have chosen our race course, over all others, particularly when there are so many already in operation".

Clarke, in reply, said, "From the tremendous co-operation we have received from Mr. LoPatin and his board of directors, we know that his new Speedway will be a tremendous success. The speedway management bent over backwards to tailor our requirements for the training of novices, into the overall concept of the new plant."

Moss, recognized as the leading authority on international motorsport and after studying detailed plans of the Michigan track, said, "It's the most complete racing track I've seen, catering not only to the drivers, but the spectators as well".

He will be consultant to Mr. Moneypenny on the infield road-racing section of the track.

Plans now call for the building of the Formula Ford single-seat racers — smaller versions of the Grand Prix Formula One and Indianapolis 500 cars, which will be shipped to Detroit next Spring.

British instructors and staff will accompany the Lotus' and will train U. S. drivers in an instruction course. Once underway, the school will be wholly American operated.

Meanwhile, at the track's location on 600 acres, the staking out of the property is presently underway, under the direction of architect Bruce Smith, of the firm of Smith & Smith, Royal Oak.

Construction will begin within 10 days to two weeks.

Because of a delay caused by a public referendum on the rezoning of the speedway site — a vote that saw residents endorse the speedway by over three to one — it is not now expected that Michigan International will be completely ready for a full schedule of races in 1968.

Present plans, however, call for at least one major United States Auto Club race next year. A full USAC card of two Indy Car races and two Late Model Stock car events has been approved for 1969.

The new track will feature a two-mile asphalt "D-shaped" oval for Indy and stock cars, and an International Grand Prix road racing course on the infield.

Initially, seating in modern grandstands is set for 25,000. As more races are run, this seating capacity will be increased to meet demands.

Another feature of the track will be a fully enclosed restaurant located at a key vantage point near the main straight. This follows the practice of another LoPatin venture at the Windsor Raceway in Canada.

Directors of MIS, besides LoPatin and Moss, are George E. Kawamoto, Detroit advertising photographer; H. "Ronnie" Householder, Competitions Manager for Chrysler Corp.; Leslie Share, Detroit Builder; Ford Mudgett, Tecumseh Businessman; and Scott Davis, of the Ralph W. Davis & Co., Chicago.

Budget Tops $1.9 Million

Record-breaking school budgets are the rule, rather than the exception, and the 1967-'68 budget of $1,921,808.52 tops all previous Tecumseh budgets.

The new budget is approximately $250,000 higher than last year and $500,000 more than in 1965-'66.

Although school income for 1967-'68 is expected to fall short of the budget, a general fund balance of $36,036.40 on July 1 will more than cover expenses and give the schools a balance next July 1 of nearly $36,000.

Income for the new school year is estimated at $1,861,645.99.

Most of the increase in the new budget comes from salary increases for teachers and other school personnel.

Jaycees Hosting Traffic Council

Tecumseh Jaycees will host the Governor's Regional Traffic Safety Council Sept. 15, at the Tecumseh Country Club.

The meeting will be one of a series of seven conferences to be conducted in the state by the Michigan Safety Commission.

According to Dave Schoonover, Traffic Safety Chairman for the Jaycees, the purpose of the meeting is to bring interested officials and citizens together to discuss what has taken place in the area of state-wide traffic safety programs and to consider the impact of legal and scientific developments in safety.

Ideas for future improvements will include discussion of the so-called Illinois plan, which requires that drunk drivers who are apprehended have their licenses revoked immediately.

Tecumseh's safety consciousness was recently brought to the fore with the announcement that the Tecumseh Rotary Club has earned the National Safety Award for the second year.

Charles Butler, chairman of the Rotary Traffic Safety Committee, is assisting with arrangements for the regional safety conference.

Lt. Gov. William G. Milliken will be the keynote speaker at the luncheon and experts from the Michigan State Traffic Safety Center, State Safety Commission and the Michigan State Police will conduct forums throughout the day.

The Automobile Club of Michigan is expected to be represented. A representative of the Breathalizer Corp., will demonstrate the new device which is acceptable for determining alcohol in the blood stream of suspected drinking drivers, necessitated by Michigan's new applied consent law.

Invitations for the event are going out to heads of local government, school superintendents, driver training instructors and members of the clergy.

In addition, the meeting is open to the public and more than 200 persons are expected.

Reservations are $3.50 and will include the cost of the luncheon.

Rotary Honored

Tecumseh Rotary Club has been notified that it has again been nationally honored for the second straight year with a citation for conducting the safety check program and parade here for motorists.

Last week, C. O. Butler, club chairman for the program, received a wire: "Tecumseh winner of 1967 national award for cities in under 10,000 population. Letter follows. National board of judges and sponsors extend congratulations — from M. R. Darlington, Jr., director of National Vehicle Safety Check, Washington, D. C."

In 1957, Secretary of State James Hare honored Mr. Butler as the man who did most for safety that year.

Rotary has conducted the safety check program here since 1960. About 10 years ago, three other service clubs — Exchange, Jaycees and Kiwanis — also participated.

Evelio Garrido - Pardo is now a permanent resident of the United States and eligible for citizenship. See story on page 6.

Rites Held for 2 Killed by Truck

Double funeral services were held here Wednesday at the Methodist Church for Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins, victims of a car-truck accident Saturday afternoon, about four miles west of Saline.

The mishap occurred shortly after one o'clock while en route to Ann Arbor.

According to State Police, a westbound truck, carrying another piggy-back, went out of control after a hood popped up on the driver's vehicle.

The truck then crossed the centerline, smashing into the Collins car.

Mrs. Collins was pronounced dead at the scene, and he on arrival at Saline hospital.

Driver of the truck, Heirvell Moss, 22, of Sapulpa Creek, Okla., suffered a broken leg and other injuries. He's confined in the Saline hospital.

Mr. Collins, 74, was a well-known Tecumseh businessman, operating a funeral home here since 1926. He was first a mortician in Detroit in 1925, and then moved here a year later, forming a partnership with the late Edward Braun, Sr., of Adrian.

Their funeral home and furniture store was first located on W. Chicago Blvd., in downtown Tecumseh, and then later in the building now occupied by the Tecumseh Camera Shop.

When the partnership ended in 1932, the funeral home was moved to 211 N. Union St. He soon moved it to the corner of S. Union and W. Pottawatamie Sts., where it is still continued as the Proctor Funeral Home.

In 1956, Mr. Collins sold the business to Thomas Corkery, who

Taxes Cut by 1.2 Mills

A cut of 1.2 mills in school tax was determined Monday night when Board action voted not to start financing the new Sutton elementary school until next year.

School officials were not certain how much could be cut until Tuesday, when school attornies told them they should wait until next year before collecting monies for the new school.

Reduction in millage will be sufficient to pay off the $1,900,000 school building construction, approved in 1957, and will put the local schools in the envied position of being out of debt.

Next year, however, the Board will bond the school district for financing the new school, estimated to cost between $300,000 and $400,000.

Being a third class district, the Board can bond the district up to 2% of the district's state equalized evaluation. With the schools out of debt and with a $45,600,000 assessed figure, over $900,000 can be collected for capital improvements without voters' approval.

Loss Is Estimated at $75 to $100

Robbers broke a small rear plate glass window at the Gaston & Son Jewelry store in downtown Tecumseh late Sunday night, or early Monday morning, but failed to gain entry to the store.

Loss is estimated between $75 and $100.

5 New Teachers Hired by Board

A high school English teacher is still needed by the Tecumseh Schools for the 1967-'68 term.

At the Board meeting Monday night, contracts for five new teachers were approved:

Mary A. Weitenhagen, first grade, Sutton.

Gretchen Lovett, English, Junior High.

Dolores Surratt, fifth grade, Ridgeway.

Ann Riley, helping teacher, Junior High.

Laurine Burtless, fourth grade, Ridgeway.

in turn sold it to the present owner and mortician, Wes Proctor of Clinton.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Collins were active in Tecumseh affairs before moving to Timber Lake in the Irish Hills.

He was a life member of the Masonic Lodge, a member of the Methodist Church here, and held memberships in the Exchange Club, Wit and Wisdom Club, and state and national funeral directors' association.

He was born in Macon on Jan. 11, 1893, and was graduated from Tecumseh High School.

Mrs. Viva Gretal Conklin Collins, 72, was born on Jan. 25, 1895, in Streator, Ill.

They were married here on Feb. 10, 1917, and celebrated their golden wedding anniversary last February.

Mrs. Collins was a member of the Methodist Church, a charter member of the WSCS, AJ Chapter of PEO, Wit and Wisdom Club and Herrick Hospital Auxiliary.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Leajaro Manso of Detroit, and Mrs. Orval Minney of Dallas, Tex. There are six grandchildren.

The Rev. Blair O. Bashore of Tecumseh's First Baptist Church and former neighbor, and the Rev. William W. Harvey, Brooklyn pastor, officiated at the services.

Services and burial by the Proctor Funeral Home was in Brookside Cemetery.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG
Herald Women's Editor

An active young woman on W. Brown St., didn't tell us that she has a birthday anniversary Aug. 23, but one of her many friends did. We think they must have been dreaming when they said that Vi Snedecor was 89 years young this year. She insists that she got over birthdays a long time ago but she does attribute her longevity to school teaching about 40 years in county schools, mostly in the Blissfield area.

Miss Snedecor abhors any publicity and a picture — "I should say not" but she did appreciate the cards sent as a surprise shower and wants her friends to know it.

Chief Warrant Officer S. A. Messer, USMC, retired, and wife, Ida, from Seattle, Wash., visited the Charles Trickey residence this last week, spending several days. Mr. Trickey and Mr. Messer did duty together but had not seen each other in 22 years though they had kept up correspondence.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Daniels returned Sunday evening from a weekend fishing trip to Boyne Falls.

Mr. and Mrs. William Schooley and daughters, Diane and Helen, and her friend, Larry Jenkins, attended the annual Berry reunion, held at Twin Lakes, near Muskegon, Sunday. They returned home Sunday evening.

Visiting at the home of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Meyers, Red Mill Dr., have been Amy and Jill Meyers and their mother, Mrs. Richard R. Meyers of Munich, Germany. The latter Mrs. Meyers was called to the home of her parents in Perrysburg, O., due to the death of her father, Cornelius Francis. He suffered a heart attack. She will leave with the children for Munich about Sept. 1.

Mr. and Mrs. James Hartsell visited Mrs. Fred Marsh in Pontiac Sunday. Mrs. Marsh is about the same.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Elliott of Connecticut, formerly of Tecumseh, have returned home after attending the funeral of Mrs. Edward Boudrie.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Meyers and family have returned from a vacation in the southwestern states.

Unexpected visitors at the Orville Bishop residence this past week were his brother, Ellis Bishop, and daughter, Debbie, and son, Mike, from Baldwin, Miss. William Bishop has accepted a position with General Telephone Co., in Adrian. His wife, Joan, has been employed for the past two weeks at the Fisher Body plant.

Dr. Fred Freeman and two daughters, Cynthia and Carol, left Friday to spend a week at Traverse City attending concerts at Interlochen, plays at the Cherry Theatre and exploring the Big Bear dunes.

Mr. and Mrs. William Steele and son were recently surprised to meet the Ed Mengerink family, also attending Expo in Montreal, Ontario, Canada. All have returned home.

A daughter, Lisa Marie, was born Aug. 11 to Lt. and Mrs. Larry Gray in Biloxi, Miss., at the base hospital. The 8-lb., 9-oz. girl is the first granddaughter for Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Gray and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph LeFevre are the maternal grandparents. Mr. and Mrs. Art Gray and Mrs. LeRoy Holdridge are the baby's great-grandparents.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Kohler met their daughter, Carol, Sunday evening as she arrived at Metropolitan Airport with 160 other Youth For Understanding exchangites on the summer program. While in the air each of the young people were allowed 15 minutes in the cockpit of the plane. Carol mentioned seeing the icebergs near Greenland. Her "sister for the summer," Helena, of Ballnas, Sweden, arrived Saturday to spend the school year in Montague.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Colson and sons, Mark and Tommy, have returned from a trip to Expo '67.

Mrs. James A. Tonneberger received a surprise call from her husband in DaNang, Vietnam, Saturday through the MARS hookup, a method of amateur radio operation on the telephone. This call happened to come through Omaha, Neb. Tonneberger told his wife that he had seen George Heeman in An Hoa the day before and expected to see Brad Bruce the following day. Both are Tecumseh servicemen.

Mr. and Mrs. Merrill Gray and Jim and Sylvia have returned from Colorado Springs, Colo., where they visited their son and brother, Lt. Bob Gray. The group spent one day in Nebraska visiting Mrs. Gray's sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Hart, and family and points of interest in that state.

Mr. and Mrs. Jens Touborg have returned after a three-week trip to Denmark. They were joined there by their daughter and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Klapperich, and two daughters, Susan and Margaret of Northbrook, Ill. The family visited relatives.

Mrs. Edgar Buttolph and Mr. and Mrs. Don Berkley returned Saturday evening from the southwestern states where they studied the Indians and visited the Mesa Verde ruins in the area, the Grand Canyon, petrified forest, painted desert and attended an Indian Festival in Galop, N. M. Tey also went to Colorado Springs and the Garden of the Gods.

CE (p) CN Fred Withrow arrived home Aug. 15 from Rainbridge, Md., to spend a 30-day leave with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Withrow and other relatives. He will report to Gulfport, Miss., Sept. 15, where he will be attached to a mobile construction battalion.

Mr. and Mrs. B. B. Hannibal have returned home from a three week tour of Europe. They were joined in Germany by their son, Pfc. Doyal Hannibal, who is with the army stationed in Baumholder, Germany. They were in Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Netherlands, Belgium and Luxembourg. They also visited in London en route to Germany and in Paris on their return trip home. Pfc. Hannibal will be returning to Tecumseh in December.

Soldiers To Get Ditty Bags

"The Red Cross is again asking for help from all communities to fill important needs for the armed forces and for Vietnamese children," Lenawee County Chapter Chairman Warren Phillips, of Blissfield said.

"Immediate help is needed with the Christmas Ditty Bag Project. These gifts must be shipped between Sept. 15 and Oct. 15," Phillips continued.

This project through American Red Cross Chapters provided gifts for GIs last year and was one of the most successful venture of its kind in many years.

With the help of individuals and groups, the local chapter will again help boys and men over their holiday loneliness.

Letters of thanks came last year to many people as cards were inserted in each bag with the name and address of the sender and the name of the chapter.

Greater chapter participation will be necessary this year due to the increase of military personnel in Vietnam.

The Ditty Bag Project is the production of strong cloth bags, of red or green, filled with a variety of small gifts. Red Cross Field Directors stationed in Vietnam distribute them at Christmas.

Lenawee County Red Cross Production Chairman Mrs. H. H. Hungerford, invites everyone to share in proving guts, materials, funds or to make and pack the needed items.

"Help us help," she urges, "by participating with this project or with the other four this chapter is willing to provide."

The National Red Cross is requesting a report on the response from each community to know how much assistance can be anticipated. The local Red Cross office has instructions for all projects.

Every contribution will be gratefully acknowledged. There is something for everyone to do.

"Call your Red Cross office at 263-1904 or 263-9384," Mrs. Hungerford suggests.

"The next urgent project is the Special TET Friendship Kits for children in camps in Vietnam," she said. "These must be mailed by Nov. 30."

The camps are managed by the South Vietnam Red Cross in cooperation with the American Red Cross.

The kits are colorful bags filled with one T shirt, one pair shorts, thong sandals and a few small gifts for children from eight to 12 years old.

TET in Vietnam is a three day celebration signifying the beginning of spring and the new lunar year. The giving of gifts is an important part of TET, a Vietnamese holiday like Christmas. It begins Jan. 31.

Two more projects are for other children in Vietnam. One is for regular Friendship kits to be distributed through military channels to children of the same ages who will not be reached in any other way.

These are filled with personal and recreational gifts but no clothing. The other project is Layettes for Vietnam.

The South Vietnam Red Cross is assisted by the provision of light weight layettes for maternity and other hospitals in Saigon and in the provinces.

Only those in greatest need will receive them.

There is also the year-around project of Unfilled Ditty Bags for servicemen and servicewomen in hospitals in the U.S., the Far East, and at ports of debarkation. These are used as a carry-all for their personal items and are much appreciated.

ACCIDENTS

For the third straight week, a Tecumseh youngster was injured in a traffic accident.

Last Wednesday, Gary, Wesel, 12, of 3926 Kaiser Rd., suffered minor lacerations when his bicycle was struck by a car on N. Evans St.

Doris Bixler, 39, Britton, pulling from a driveway, apparently did not see the boy who was headed north.

Last Friday, Larry Petrovish, 20, of 324 Brown St., told police that another oncoming car caused him to lose control of his car while driving south, just north of the N. Evans St. River Raisin bridge.

Petrovish's car hit both sides of the bridge before stopping.

He reported that the other car was left of center and did not stop for identification.

Mrs. Ella M. Klomp, Clinton, told police Monday that her car was backed into behind the Woolworth store. Other driver was Mrs. Fred Schwartz, Clinton, who refuted Mrs. Klomp's claim.

The Schwartz car showed no damages.

Kathleen Bayman Is Wed To Michael J. Ferguson

Marriage vows were exchanged by Kathleen S. Bayman and Michael J. Ferguson July 29 in Saint Peter Lutheran Church, Delphos, O.

Parents of the couple are Mrs. John Bayman of Delphos and the late Mr. Bayman and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Ferguson, 725 N. Union St.

Vases of white daisy pompons graced the altar.

Given in marriage by her brother, John K. Bayman, the bride wore a floor length gown of whipped cream crepe which she designed and made herself.

It featured an empire waist, long tapered sleeves and a sheath skirt. Imported Belgian lace accented the front of the skirt and the floor length train secured at the shoulders.

Her shoulder length veil of French illusion was attached to twin roses dotted with tiny seed pearls.

She carried a bouquet of lacy pompons, white roses and ivy.

Elaine Bayman served as maid of honor for her sister and the bridesmaids were Gloria Bayman, sister-in-law of the bride, Debbie Osburn, cousin of the groom, and Vicki Butler, a friend of the couple, of Delphos.

The attendants wore floor length apricot gowns with white daisy trimmed empire waist lines, square necklines and baby doll sleeves.

They wore matching apricot bows and veils in their hair and carried colonial bouquets of white daisies edged with lace and apricot and white streamers.

Richard Baker served as best man with Paul Limes, Joe Jackson and Dan Cramer of Delphos seating the guests.

A reception was held following the ceremony featuring a four tiered cake encircled with yellow daisy chrysanthemums on an apricot skirted round table.

Mrs. Richard Baker was in charge of the gift book.

The couple are residing in Delphos where the bride is employed by the J&J Wig Salon. Her husband is employed by the Moreo Barber Shop.

The rehearsal dinner was given by the groom's parents at the Steak House in Delphos.

Mr. and Mrs. Ferguson also spent last weekend with their son and his wife, coming home Sunday evening.

MRS. KIRK LUCAS

Carol Woodby, Kirk Lucas Wed

Carol Ann Woodby and Kirk Douglas Lucas were united in marriage August 19 in the First Baptist Church by the Rev. Blair Bashore.

White gladioli and pompons with lighted candelabra were used on the altar and the pews were marked with pink and green bows and greens.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Keith Woodby, 733 S. Union St., and Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Lucas of Atlanta, Ga., formerly of Tecumseh.

Mrs. Katharine Hunt played the organ.

The bride wore a floor-length gown of white satin featuring a bouffant skirt with layers of lace and a natural waistline, tapered sleeves and a Sabrina neckline edged with lace and seed pearls.

Her long train of satin and lace was detachable at the shoulders.

Her fingertip veil was secured to a forward headpiece of lace petals, seed pearls and rhinestones.

She carried a cascade of white daisies.

Sandra McKenzie, cousin of the bride, was maid of honor and the bridesmaids were Patricia Morris and Elena Kutz of Toledo, O., and Deborah and Sharon Woodby, sisters of the bride, were junior bridesmaids.

Kathy King was the flower girl in a floor-length empire gown of white lace and pink crepe. She carried a basket of petals.

The bride's attendants wore floor-length empire styled gowns of chiffon over crepe with matching ribbon bows in their hair. They carried matching bouquets of daisies.

Miss McKenzie's dress was mint green and the bridesmaids' dresses were pale pink.

John Goodman served as best man and 150 guests were seated by David Woodby, brother of the bride, and Jim Lawson, a friend.

The reception was held in the Youth House for the guests, including Mrs. William Woodby, grandmother of the bride, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Woodby and son, Roger, all of Fort Myers, Fla.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Tecumseh High School and attended Toledo Hospital School of Nursing. She is employed at Herick Memorial Hospital.

The groom is a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School and is attending Eastern Michigan University. He is employed in the Hydramatic Plant at Willow Run.

Following a brief trip in the southern states, the couple will live on Short St., in Clinton.

Obituaries

● MRS. HAZEL C. BARNARD

Services were held Sunday at Proctor Funeral Home, Clinton, for Mrs. Hazel C. Barnard, 81, who died August 18 at the Stephenson Home in Adrian.

She had been a patient there for a year in declining health.

Born in Clinton Dec. 13, 1885, she had lived there most of her life.

She married Harry S. Barnard in 1909 and he preceded her in death in 1924.

Mrs. Barnard was a graduate of Clinton High School and Eastern Michigan University. She taught school in Clinton and Highland Park.

The long-time resident was a member of the United Church of Christ in Clinton and was active in its organizations.

She was also a member of the Clinton Women's Club and the Lenawee Historical Society.

Surviving are one daughter, Mrs. Robert L. Mobus of Adrian; one son, Harry, of Clinton; a brother, John R. Clark of Detroit; and a sister, Mrs. James A. Blanchard of Morenci.

Burial was in Riverside Cemetery.

● LEONARD KEHOE

Private services were held Saturday morning for Leonard J. Kehoe, 56, formerly of Clinton, who died Aug. 16 at the Veterans' Hospital, Ann Arbor, where he had been a patient for the past two months.

He was born Nov. 20, 1910, in Flint.

He is survived by one sister, Sister Mary Giles of Oakland, Calif.; one brother, Harry, of Riverside, Calif.; and an aunt, Katherine Kehoe, of Clinton.

Arrangements were made by the Proctor Funeral Home.

● JOHN M. FOREMAN

Graveside services were held Monday at Reynolds Corners Cemetery for John M. Foreman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foreman, 11637 Wisner Hwy., who was dead at birth at Herrick Memorial Hospital Aug. 17.

Surviving are two brothers, Eddie and Tommy, both at home; a sister, Patty, at home; grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Wisner of Manchester and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Foreman, Sr., of Holloway.

The Rev. Alvin Brazee officiated.

● C. EDWARD GRIPTON

Services were held Wednesday in Dearborn for C. Edward Gripto, 61, of that city, who died Sunday in Mercy Hospital, Grayling.

He and his family had been vacationing when he was stricken.

Mr. Gripton was born in Britton Jan. 21, 1906. He had lived in Dearborn 37 years and at the time of his death was principal of a Dearborn junior high school.

Surviving are his wife, Mildred; one son, Edward; one daughter, Mary Kay; one brother, Glen of Britton and one sister, Mrs. Margaret Lewis of Dearborn.

Burial was in the Ridgeway Cemetery.

School Starts Sept. 5

by the same rules as last year. Children living within 7/10ths mile of school will be expected to walk home for lunch. Special arrangements may be made if both parents work away from home. Such parents should contact the principal of the school that their child attends.

The hot lunch and milk programs were both operated at a loss for the last two years. The 35c fee at the cafeteria did not meet the needs of the program, and it will be increased to 45c for this year.

Federal and state aid, both in money and surplus foods have in the past enabled the schools to provide a wholesome lunch at reasonable prices. The school is not allowed to operate at a profit nor is it expected to lose money.

Milk will be available through the Federal program at reduced prices as usual in all the elementary schools. Pupils bringing lunches may buy milk at 4c per carton for white, and when available, chocolate milk.

Recent additions to the high school and junior high school have made it possible for all pupils to come to school at the same time, and to leave school at the same time. Increased enrollment in the high school has made it necessary to have two noon hour periods, so that classes can operate an extra hour a day.

The early elementary programs will all start and end together. This is made possible by the rearrangement and improvement of the elementary curriculum, and the addition of mobile classrooms at Sutton School.

Bus service will again be on a "safety first" basis. The state law states that pupils in the grades, kindergarten through sixth, may be required to walk up to ½ mile to scheduled bus routes, and pupils in grades seven through 12 up to 1 mile.

Backtracking has been eliminated unless absolutely necessary.

Parents of pupils requested to join groups at pick-up points are again asked to give their cooperation.

The state will again pay for the transportation of parochial school children to parochial schools on public school buses. All parochial school children, who meet the requirements of the State of Michigan for transportation, will be bussed by the Tecumseh Public Schools.

Schedules for school days are:

High School Schedule
7:35 to 8:35 a.m.—1st Hour
8:40 to 9:35a.m.—2nd Hour
9:40 to 10:35 a.m.—3rd Hour
10:40 to 11:35 a.m.—4th Hour
11:40 to 12:35 p.m.—5th Hour
12:40 to 1:35 p.m.—6th Hour
1:40 to 2:35 p.m.—7th Hour

Afternoon Classes — 12:35 p.m. to 2:35 p.m.

Grades 1 thru 6
Pupils in class—9:05 - noon.
Lunch hour—noon - 1:05 p.m.
Pupils in class—1:05 - 3:35 p.m.

Kindergarten
Morning—9:05 - 11:35
Afternoon—1:05 - 3:35.

St. Elizabeth School
9:00 a.m. to 2:50 p.m.

Children who were enrolled in Tecumseh Public Schools last spring have already received notice of the grade and school in which they will be located this fall. However, some changes must be made due to the rapid growth of the community and overcrowding in the grades.

Parents of children who are new to the community and who have not yet been enrolled, should see the counselor of the high school — John Pobuda — for pupils in the 9th through 12th grades; junior high principal—David Dick— for pupils in the 7th and 8th grades; and Mrs. Rose Anne Vollmar at the Board of Education Office for children in kindergarten through the 6th grades.

The Secondary people will all be in their respective offices August 29 and 30 expressly for this purpose and may be contacted on those dates. Please register new pupils at this time.

Enrollment of kindergarten through grade 6 children should be made immediately with Mrs. Vollmar.

The textbook rental plan, which was started in 1947, was revised by the Board of Education for the 1967-68 school year and will be as listed below. The textbook fee includes textbooks, workbooks, and art materials, except in special classes where additional supplies are necessary.

The fees are:
- Kindergarten—$4.
- First thru Sixth—$7.
- Seventh and Eighth—$8.
- Ninth thru Twelfth—$9.

All textbooks are the property of the Board of Education, and students should use the books with care to avoid paying fines. All lost books must be paid for in full.

The principals and their appointed teachers are to be in charge of collecting money. Receipts will be issued to all pupils paying fees of any kind on official Board of Education forms.

Elementary pupils should be prepared to pay the book rental fee to the teacher on the opening day of school, and parents should expect their children to bring a receipt after the initial enrollment. All elementary pupils will remain in school as usual on the opening day.

High school pupils report to the gym at 7:30 a.m. to 9:30 a.m. for the payment of book fees of $9 and a lock fee of 50c. They will then secure their class schedule cards from their class advisor.

Pupils at 9:40 a.m. will go to their third hour class and will complete the rest of their full day. Regular classes will begin Wednesday, September 6.

Pupils enrolled in physical education should be prepared to pay a $1.50 fee for towels and locker at the first meeting of their physical education class on Wednesday.

Chemistry and biology students should be prepared to pay a laboratory fee of $1.50, and chemistry students an additional fee of $1.50 for equipment which will be refunded if there is no breakage.

Junior High pupils are to report at 7:35 a.m. September 5, the seventh grade to the boys' gym on the first floor, and the eighth grade to the girls' gym on the third floor.

Book fees of $8 will be collected, and schedule cards handed out. Pupils may leave for the morning after obtaining their schedule cards.

Pupils are to return at 1:00 p.m. and go to their sixth hour class for orientation.

All junior high pupils must be prepared to pay a $1.50 towel and locker fee at the first meeting of their physical education class. This fee will not be required to be paid on September 5th.

Regular classes will begin Wednesday, September 6th, at 7:35 a.m.

Pupils in junior high who do not come prepared to pay their book fees must report directly to the principal's office before receiving permission to enroll.

Children starting kindergarten will not meet until Wednesday, September 6th.

On that date, parents of the kindergarten children are requested to pin a note on the child, giving the child's name and address.

These parents are requested to meet the child's teacher on Tuesday, September 5, and pay the $4 book fee.

Wherever possible, rural kindergarten pupils have been placed in the morning section to facilitate bus schedules. Kindergarten bus drivers will make home calls sometime Tuesday, September 5th, to acquaint parents of their school bus routines.

The Sutton School will be open again this fall. The building houses two classrooms which will provide for a first and second grade and a storage room for coats, lunches, etc., and will be used for lunches for four grades.

The mobile building will house a third and fourth grade at this location.

Tecumseh will also operate an elementary orthopedic and an elementary deaf room at the Lenawee School Services building at Sutton, as well as a secondary orthopedic room at the high school, and a secondary deaf room at the junior high.

A facility for the slow learners has been added to the high school to serve pupils from the seventh through the 12th grades. These special programs are in cooperation with the Intermediate School Superintendent and his staff.

The engagement of Marilyn L. Curtis to Fred Wesley Freeman, 11, is being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Almond S. Curtis, 509 Nokomis St. Mr. Freeman is the son of Dr. and Mrs. Fred Freeman of Hidden Lake Gardens, Tipton. Both are 1966 graduates of Tecumseh High School and are sophomores at Michigan State University. Miss Curtis is majoring in elementary education and her fiance, in communication arts. A 1968 wedding is being planned.

Placement Tests

The 10th in a series of placement tests for students planning to attend Monroe County Community College for the fall semester will be given in Ida High School in Ida, Aug. 25, from 6 to 10 p.m.

TRACTOR CHAMP — Larry Ries, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Ries, 8300 Wisner Hwy., Onsted, won the Championship trophy and $50 in the heavyweight tractor pulling contest with a John Deere tractor Friday afternoon at the Lenawee County Fair.

Cleary To Offer Business Course

For the second straight year, Cleary College will offer evening business courses at Tecumseh High School.

Dr. Donald A. Houghton, executive vice president, says registration will be held Sept. 25, with courses starting Sept. 26.

Tecumseh was selected last year by the Ypsilanti business school for its first extension program. Cleary's second extension school is to be opened this year at Brighton.

"Magnificent cooperation from Supt. McDowell and the Tecumseh schools has helped make the school and courses here a success," according to Dr. Houghton.

Approximately 100 students attended sessions here last fall and winter, mostly on a tuition refund basis from local industries.

Tuition refund is a plan whereby the industry reimburses an employee who successfully completes a course. Dr. Houghton calls it the "heart of the whole thing."

Ron Coleman, of Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant, is an alumnus of Cleary and has help in organizing the extension program here.

Purpose of the courses is to refresh and educate business personnel in regards to today's business methods and practices, and in Tecumseh's case, by bringing such educational courses directly to the student.

Although there has been some rumors that Cleary College might establish a branch in Tecumseh, Dr. Houghton refused to substantiate such talk.

He said continued industrial growth and demand for Cleary courses in Tecumseh could make the area favorable.

The school has over 2,000 students enrolled at Ypsilanti and is fully accredited, offering a bachelor's degree in business administration.

It is not tax-supported by the state and is regarded as a non-profit institution.

Any adult — or high school student who can pass the General Education Development test — with a high school diploma, can attend and qualify for the courses.

Most of the students are adults working in management or supervisory levels in area industries.

You Told Us

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Wilt have returned from a 15-day trip looking for cattle in Wisconsin, Minnesota, the Dakotas, Iowa and Indiana. Mr. Wilt said, "We hit every auction between here and Rapid City, S. D., and finally bought some from out of Montana. All was not business, however. The Wilts did some trout fishing though "more got away than we caught," remarked the local rancher. Also included in the 4,000-mile trip was a visit with Tom Wenstrand and his parents in Essex, Page County, Ia. Tom was one of the 4-H youth from Page County who stayed with the Wilts on an exchange program two years ago. Mr. Wilt was astonished to learn that Tom's folks farm 2,400 acres with about 2,000 head of cattle.

√

Mrs. Earl Lindsley and Mr. and Mrs. Ivel Harmon of Clinton returned Saturday after a five-day trip to Lodi, N. Y., to visit Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Smith.

√

Dow Bilby returned Sunday from Toronto, Ontario, where he underwent surgery the previous Thursday.

√

Mr. and Mrs. Harold Hall and Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hall of Santa Cruz, Calif., are spending a week at the former's cottage on Clear Lake near Gaylord. Kris Kennedy, who accompanied the Gary Halls here, left Wednesday morning to return to Santa Cruz.

√

Stephen Cook, son of Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Cook, will be admitted to St. Joseph Hospital Sunday for surgery on Monday. He expects to be there a week.

Pedestrian Safety Citation Earned for Second Year

Tecumseh is one of 29 Michigan communities receiving Pedestrian Safety Citations in the 28th annual AAA National Pedestrian Safety Program.

The citation is awarded to cities competing in the program which record no fatalities for at least one year, according to the Automobile Club of Michigan.

In addition to the no death requirement, cities must have an effective pedestrian education program.

Auto Club will present the Tecumseh citation to city officials Sept. 18, for two years without a pedestrian death.

PRICE REDUCED
From $14,500 to $13,900

THIS HOME, located at 713 North Union Street, has been reduced from $14,500 FHA to $13,900 conventional. The home has a recreation room, carpeting, gas furnace and a cozy, attractive fireplace in the living room. And there's plenty of comfortable living left in this 1948 model that doesn't look a day over 5 years old. Two large trees in the front yard provide that much-cherished shade during the summer months that new ranch style homes often lack

New Funds Allows $120 To Teachers

An increase in state aid should give Tecumseh teachers about an additional $120 for the 1967-68 school year, Robert Duhan, business manager and assistant superintendent, announces.

When the School Board and Tecumseh Education Association approved a new salary agreement earlier this year, it was stipulated that 70% of an increase in state aid would go for salaries.

Present Tecumseh base wage is $5,700, and teachers who have been in the system for a year or longer, will benefit from the additional funds.

Payments will be included in the regular checks, probably starting in October, and will be spread out over the school year.

Evelio Garrido Is Here To Stay

Evelio Garrido-Pardo has gained status of a permanent resident, a possibility that seemed quite slim just two years ago.

John Zeigler, Tecumseh attorney who fought deportation proceedings and counseled Evelio in his struggle to stay in the United States, was notified of the decision Thursday by the Immigration and Naturalization Service, United States Department of Justice.

The lawyer says he plans to file initial papers for Evelio to become a naturalized citizen within the next few weeks. It takes about five years for the process.

Evelio, a native of Spain, first entered the U.S. on Nov. 4, 1964 and was authorized to stay until Sept. 1, 1965.

During this period, he had become a hair stylist here — a trade learned in Europe — and a designer of women's clothing. He is known locally as a partner with William Dean Heimerdinger in "Exclusives EvelDean," custom designing and fitting of expensive women's wear.

These two occupational trades, according to Mr. Zeigler, qualified him for a review of his deportation proceedings and eventually a permanent resident status.

Although several Tecumsehites aided his cause to stay in the U.S., former Rep. Wes Vivian of Ann Arbor and Senator Robert Griffin played a major role by introducing a private bill in Congress for his behalf.

He was given additional assistance, and probably the most important, by a labor official in Detroit. He saw that Evelio qualified under an immigration labor law, which in turn qualified him to stay here.

Law Course at Adrian

Principles of law applying to real estate transactions will be presented at Adrian this fall in "Real Estate Law," a required course in The University of Michigan's program leading to a Certificate in Real Estate.

The course will meet on Tuesdays for 11 sessions, beginning Sept. 12, from 7 to 10 p.m., in Room 105, Mahan Hall, Adrian College.

Instructor William H. Walker, attorney, Adrian, will explain the sources of real estate law and the nature of land and its various rights. In addition, lectures will present the rights and duties of all parties involved in real estate transactions, including the proper preparation of listing and purchase agreements.

Other topics include title insurance, abstracts of title, types of ownership, legal descriptions and various liens or encumbrances.

Students may register for the course at the first class session. The registration fee is $50 and must be paid by the end of the week in which the first class session is held.

Council To Meet Next on Sept. 11

Since the next regularly scheduled Council meeting falls on Labor Day and three members will be attending the annual Municipal League Convention that week, the next session will be held Sept. 11.

Councilmen and officials attending the convention will be Mayor Harold Easton, Don Sunderland, Dr. Carlton Cook and City Manager Cal Zorn.

Duane Valentine Heads Speeders

Duane was also the victor in the big 50-lap Feature, beating out the other 15 cars for his second trophy. Louie Stemen finished second and Dan Taylor, third.

Ed Todd turned the fastest time in the Super Stocks and went on to win the 35-lap, 15-car Featire. Chuck Hinds placed second and Ben Snider took third.

Ed took home his third trophy by winning the Pursuit with Glen Stevens, second and Jesse Lowe, third.

Dan Taylor was the proud winner of two trophies, picking up the First Heat and Pursuit wins.

Duane Valentine finished second in the heat and Ed Hage, third. Louie Stemen crossed second and Duane Valentine, third in the Pursuit.

Dick Crup received the trophy for the second heat, with Bill Kopka, second and Bill Cattell, third.

The third heat trophy went to Chuck Hines with Glen Stevens second and Ben Snider third.

Sam Henson picked up the fourth heat win and trophy. Bob Kash finished second and Jim Mosig, third.

The trophy for the fifth heat went to Junior Gary with Bill Davis, second and Jim Horn, third.

Ed LaRowe received the sixth heat trophy with Bob Paul, second and Leo Laraway, third.

The Consey saw quite a bit of action as Jerry Whiteman rolled and Louis Wheeling tried to wipe out th judges stand. Bill Davis was the Consey winner with Junior Gary, second and Mel Schraufe, third.

The 25-lap Semi win went to Bill Kapka with Eddie Green, second and Bill Cattell, third.

No Parking

City officials voted unanimously for no parking between 7 a.m. and 4 p.m. weekdays on east Shawnee between north Ottawa street and north Maumee.

In the previously scheduled council meeting it was decided that one-way traffic be directed on east Shawnee between these streets for the benefit of student pedestrians going to and from the Tecumseh Junior High School. The loading and unloading of school buses will be confined to the south side of Shawnee in the morning and afternoon. According to police chief, Murell Clark, one-way and no parking signs have been ordered, but have yet to arrive.

One-way enforcement will be delayed for 10 to 15 days in order to give the drivers a chance to become familiar with the change from the normal two-way traffic pattern.

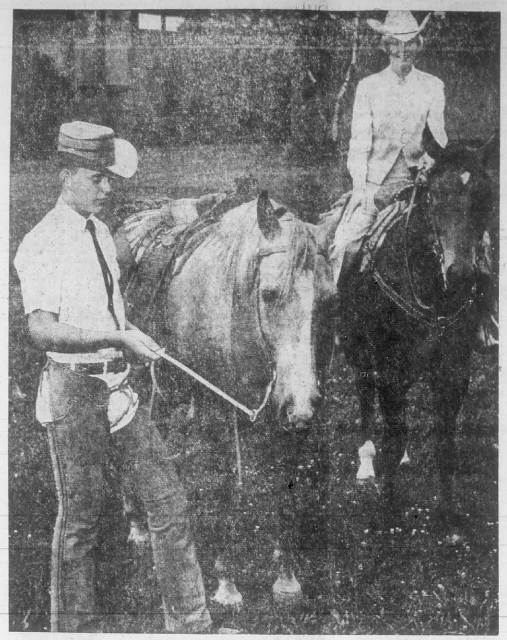
John Anderson Has Completed Infantry Training

Pvt. John F. Anderson, 25, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delmar S. Anderson, 5220 Jackson, Ann Arbor, completed nine weeks of advanced infantry training Aug. 4 at Ft. Polk, La. His last week of training was spent in guerrilla warfare exercises.

During his guerrilla training, he lived under simulated Vietnam conditions for five days, fighting off night attacks and conducting raids on "enemy" villages. He was taught methods of removing booby traps, setting ambushes and avoiding enemy ambushes.

Other specialized training included small unit tactics, map reading, land mine warfare, communications and firing the M-14 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 3.5-inch rocket launcher.

His wife, Molly, lives at 509 W. Brown St.



COUNTY FAIR WINNERS — Bob, left, and Carol Moore are members of the 4-H Equestrian Club and brought home many fine honors from Lenawee County Fair. Bob's horse earned second in pleasure and third in halter and he also won a second in horsemanship. His sister, Carol, earned a blue ribbon in fitting and showing, placed first in girls' pleasure and received a first in horsemanship. Both will enter competition at the State Show. Carol also won the reserve for the high point trophy for horse and rider.

Witnesses Prepare

Jehovah's Witnesses of the Tecumseh congregation are completing their preparations to form a delegation for a four-day convention of the group in Jackson.

Under the direction of Richard Krebs Jr. of 3400 Wells Road, local presiding minister, the Witnesses will be among 7,500 or more persons attending the "Disciple-Making" District Assembly of Jehovah's Witnesses to be held at the Jackson County Fairgrounds, Aug. 24-27.

According to Krebs, many of the local group have arranged their vacations from secular jobs so they can attend the entire convention.

"Most people spend a vacation at the shore or in the mountains and they cannot conceive of families using their vacations to attend sessions of Bible talks," he said. "It is even more difficult for them when they learn that oftentimes the delegates volunteer to work in one of the convention departments.

"Yet to us the annual assembly is the highlight of the year . . . something we really look forward to."

There has to be a motive and, of course, there is.

"It's love of God and of one another," Krebs explained. "Love expresses itself by action, by what it does. So a grand occasion for displaying Christian love is when we gather together each year to be taught from God's Word and to be instructed in Christian doctrine and practice."

There are Scriptural injunctions, too, Mr. Krebs said. "In the Bible at Deuteronomy 31:12 God commanded his people: "Congregate the people, the men and women and the little ones . . . in order that they may learn . . . to carry out all the words of this (God's) law."

"This instruction also carries over into the Christian era."

The entire convention will be operated by Witnesses who volunteer their time and skills without pay. More than 1,500 such workers will be needed.

RAYMOND SHEPHERD, JR., LEFT, AND HELPER FILL UP THE OLD CAR IN FRONT OF THE PARKVIEW MARKET.

Shepherds Sell Everything

Parkview Market carries anything and everything to fill camping and picnicking needs.

The Market, owned and operated by Raymond Shepherd, is located directly across from the entrance to Hayes State Park on US-12 in the Irish Hills.

Mr. Shepherd, who has owned the Market since 1958, is assisted by his son, Raymond Jr., store manager.

The popular area store carries a complete line of picnic supplies. Ice and gas are also sold at the Market.

A franchise permits Mr. Shepherd to sell a complete line of guns and ammunition and State Park permits and fishing licenses may be obtained at the store.

Smokecraft and Schumancraft boats are available and fishing enthusiasts can look over the fishing tackle and bait to be found at the market.

With the help of high school and college students, year-round customers can choose from a full selection of records, meats, beer and wine, produce and other needs to make vacations more fun.

The Market is open seven days a week from 8 a.m. till 10 p.m.

The place to go for your vacation goods is Parkview Market.

Proud of US Pavilion

By KAYE STEELE

Thousands of people, enthusiasm, long lines, patience, unusual buildings, curiosity — all of these combined to make Expo '67 an exciting experience. The pavilions — whether national or private — adhered closely to the Expo '67 theme, "Man and His World."

Pages could be written to describe the beauty of the architecture, the tempo of the fair, the overwhelming multitude of people, but these thoughts have been collected to express pride and pleasure in the geodesic bubble that was the United States exhibit.

So much criticism has been leveled at our pavilion that we approached it with much curiosity — almost prepared for the worst. After 45 minutes of browsing, we came away feeling that our exhibit was MAN — a U.S. citizen — in HIS world — the U.S.A.

Our flag was there—uniquely hung as a mobile catching your eye as you rode the escalator to the first level. Here you stepped off to view the American Indian — our first American — through his colorful dress and crafts as well as what he used in his daily work and play.

You then proceeded to the cowboy, not the TV variety, but the MAN who was the West, but who also had time to produce beautifully tooled saddles, bridles and leather work.

The doll display traced our growth from the colonial to the cinema era. The myriad of hats showed us as we are — workers, scholars and fun-lovers. Modern art, on canvas and in sculpture, emphasized another part of a U.S. MAN.

The motion picture area, which has brought much criticism of our pavilion from our own people, did not dominate the exhibit. True, it probably attracted viewers for the longest time, but isn't this the media that has made us, known to each other and to the world?

Critics have made much of the fact that we displayed little of our technological and scientific achievements. But this exposition was about MAN himself—not men working to show their power.

We were proud of our pavilion.

It showed us as we are — a country where scientific and technological advances are so great we need not prove ourselves through them because we have time to be individuals enjoying our heritage and our unique way of life.

Our pavilion was a living example of the Expo theme, 'Man and His World.'

Scouts Camp-Out

By NORMA JAMES

Every boy and his father likes to get together, out in the woods, and camp under the stars.

If they are members of Troop 32, they get that chance often, but especially once a year at the annual Father-Son Camp-out.

This event was instituted by Veryl Stephenson, former Scoutmaster and retired Tecumseh Products worker, now of Lowell, Fla.

The troop is most fortunate in having the use of land, down a softly winding lane, back in the woods on the August Breckel farm on Valley Rd.

Twenty-eight men and boys played baseball, cooked, performed skits and sang around the campfire last weekend. It was strictly a fun-filled camp-out and the only skills learnd were the ability to share good times and experiences with one's Dad.

Even if you're a man in scouting, without a son, you can borrow one such as Ass't. Scoutmaster Glen Griewahn has "adopted" John James and Ass't. Scoutmaster Bob Sager has "adopted" Steven James.

In the softball contest, the Dads routed the boys while Sunday afternoon the visiting Moms, after leading innings, were bested by their boys.

A hot dog roast for the families topped off a great time.

Those attending included: Steve, Mike and John Richardson; Bob Cissney Sr. and Bob Jr.; Jim and Larry Marvin; Glen and Randy Richard; Steven and Doug Schneider; James and Henry Voss; Wayne, Danny and Joe Sprow; Rusty and Bill Hiser; Augie, Steven and Allen Breckel; Vieto and Joe Guana; Rick, Mike, Dennis, John, Steve and Dick James.

HOW TO BUILD YOUR CABIN OR MODERN VACATION HOME by Harry Walton. This book will tell you how to select the site, choose plans and materials, build foundations, log cabins, porches, fireplaces, chimneys, how to solve water, waste disposal and power problems. Photos, diagrams and drawings.

NEW DIRECTOR — Kenneth G. Herrick, president and chief executive officer of Tecumseh Products, was elected last Thursday to the Board of Directors of The Ohio Citizens Trust Co., Toledo. In addition, he is also a director of United Savings Bank of Tecumseh and General Telephone Co. of Michigan, and serves on the boards of Adrian College, Lenawee County YMCA, Herrick Memorial Hospital, Herrick Foundation, and Howe Military Academy.

David G. Rangler Is Seeing Action Over in Vietnam

Marine Corporal David G. Rangler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Rangler of 5553 Macon Road, is serving with Headquarters and Service Company, Third Battalion, Fifth Marine Regiment, a unit of the First Marine Division in Vietnam.

As part of the Marine Corps air-ground team, the mission of his unit is to search out and destroy the enemy forces operating in South Vietnam. They accomplish this task through daily patrols and ambushes as well as through large scale operations mounted against the enemy.

The unit is also engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools. Equipment and materials for the projects are made available through the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund.

Marines in Vietnam provide the know-how and guide the Vietnamese people in carrying out these projects.

Vaporizing Liquid Fire Extinguishers Proved Dangerous

Capt. Glenroy M. Walker, chief of the Michigan State Police fire marshal division, has warned that a new state law prohibits offering for sale, selling or giving certain types of vaporizing liquid fire extinguishers for use in private dwellings and private vehicles.

The law is an amendment of a statute which also prohibits the sale or installation of these types of extinguishers for use in public buildings or in vehicles carrying passengers for hire.

Due to their nature, Walker said, the liquids in the extinguishers decompose into products dangerous to health when used to extinguish a fire.

Clinton Chatter

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Hindes and children have returned to their home in Salina, Kan., after visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Hoelzer. Terry and Greg Hindes had spent some weeks here with their grandparents before their parents came to take them home.

William Service remains confined to his home, 7020 Clinton-Macon Rd., after having major surgery in July.

Nursery Center To Hold Sessions at Local Church

Tecumseh Nursery Center will open sessions Sept. 5-6 with the two-day group beginning Tuesday, and the three-day group Wednesday.

The Center opens for classes at 9 a.m., in the Presbyterian Church nursery rooms under the direction of Mrs. Warren Puffer.

Any children not previously registered may do so with a parent at either of the morning sessions. Three- and four-year-old children have valuable pre-school experiences in art, music, dramatics, science and social growth.

1890 Trail Town Recreated

By DENICE ANDERSON

With attendance approximately double from last year, Stagecoach Stop has galloped into its third season of fun for the entire family.

Located ideally in the Irish Hills on US-12 just east of the entrance to Hayes State Park, the Stop is under the direction of Fred and Dorothy Bahlau.

The Bahlaus have recreated the old west atmosphere and they, along with 30 helpers, mostly teenagers from Clinton, Brooklyn and Onsted, have made the Stop a comfortable place to relax and enjoy the pleasant surroundings.

Come for a ride on the old train and see the trail town spring alive and relive the days of guns, horses and heros . . . .

The old steam train slowly pulls away from the station with each rider sportin' a rifle to help protect the train from a possible attack.

As it winds down the dusty main road of the trail town, the train pauses in front of the 1890 general store.

One of the most authentic Old Time County General Stores in the country, it specializes in Pennsylvania Dutch Candies, cheese, German meats, fancy canned goods plus unusual gifts and souvenirs.

Filled to capacity with such old time goods, the store also has a pickle barrel, where youngsters and oldsters alike, can scoop out delicious gigantic pickles.

As the train gains speed, the Old Trail Shop comes into view.

Featuring the finest in saddles and tack, cowboy boots, hats, moccasins, Indian goods and jewelry, the Shop is just the place to completely outfit yourself in a western get-up.

Further down the lane the flicker movies begin to whirl — making possible a trip into the past via the screen.

The silent movies offer thrills to all as they show a thriller, a romance and a real bang-up western, all in the exciting lore of yester-year.

Next comes the Longhorn Saloon where one can enjoy soft drinks and fine foods in the gaudy atmosphere of the old west.

Drink Red Eye while listening to the jumping music of the honky tonk music boxes and make a meal of the speciality of the house — Buffalo Burgers.

The Pistols and Petticoats Room is a reproduction of an old time fancy ball room. It is entered from the Saloon and visitors can relax in the authentic atmosphere and thrill to the colorful costumes and general decor.

Mom and Dad will remember the amusement arcade where many a gay time was spent in their youths. There are approximately 100 antique coin operated machines in good working order at the arcade.

A carefully-reproduced gold mine includes the e shaft, cars, water wheels and all other accessories old time prospectors used to get rich quick.

In the ice cream parlor, the family can enjoy as and soft drinks and the specialty of the house — y hot chocolate fudge sundaes.

The Dorothy Janes Class Gift Shop, located next he ice cream parlor, has an unusual and rare collec- of reproduced glass ware that has been assembled resale.

There are many unique gifts and souvenir items sale.

Also assembled at Stagecoach Stop is one of the st collections of horse drawn carriages and harness he country.

As the train pulls out of town and onto the dusty, ow trail, one sees cannon barrages, Shady Junction an Indian Village.

But suddenly, from behind the trees, come the aws.

It's Old Black Bart and he looks like he means business. Shoot!

The guns go off and so does Black Bart and his gang.

But ahead is Pancho Villa and more trouble. Guns leap into action to frighten away the bad guy.

And as Pancho races away at a mad gallop, the train slowly reenters Stagecoach Stop's main street and passengers disembark to once more roam the street and browse in the shops.

General admission to the Stop is 75c for adults and 35c for children. Opening at 10:30 a.m., the town is still alive at 7:30 p.m. when the doors close.

The Stop is open full time until Labor Day. Then the resort spot will just be opened weekends until Oct. 31. It is closed Mondays.

The Bahlaus live in Jackson and Mr. Bahlau owns the Electric Maintenance and Repair Company in Jackson.

In the future, more rides will be added to Stagecoach Stop.

60 Band Kids Leave for Camp

CLINTON — Sixty members of the Clinton High School band are brushing up on their playing and marching precision this week at Camp Hiawatha, 90 miles north of Bay City near Comins.

The group left at 8:30 a.m. Sunday in school buses, accompanied by Mrs. Guy Hoover, Mrs. Homer Dermyer, Mrs. George Heimerdinger and the band director, Richard Perkins.

Rick Welsh and Dave Olsen, graduates of the band, went along as instructor aids.

Marching drills and band practice sessions are scheduled both mornings and afternoons, and the camp offers ample facilities for the usual camp recreation.

The band of Forestview High School, Ill., will be sharing Camp Hiawatha for the same week.

The Clinton band will arrive home at 1:30 p.m. Sunday.

Joseph Caruso To Do Research with University

CLINTON — Joseph A. Caruso, 27, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Caruso, of Clinton, recently received his PhD in chemistry from Michigan State University. He plans to do research at the University of Texas in Austin.

The 1958 graduate of Clinton High School attended Eastern Michigan University for his undergraduate work and received his masters degree at Wayne University in 1964.

He has taught chemistry at Cass Technical High School in Detroit and at MSU. He has also written several publications concerning chemistry.

Ben Mahrle, USN, Is New Graduate of Officers' School

Ensign Mahrle's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mahrle, II, and grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Ben Mahrle, I, flew to Newport to attend the graduation ceremony Friday.

He will now be assigned as Electronics Material Officer on the USS Beatty at Norfolk, Va.

The new officer is a graduate of Clinton High School and Michigan State University. Ensign Mahrle's wife, Mary Ann, has been spending the summer in Newport and plans to go to Norfolk.

Book, Food Prices Up for Fall Term

CLINTON — An increase in the price of textbooks and materials will be reflected in higher book rental fees, the Board of Education has announced.

Book rental fees in Clinton schools will be:

Kindergarten — $4.
Grades 1-6 — $8.
Grades 7 & 8 — $9.
Grades 9 - 12 — $10.

Some changes in the hot lunch program to permit an enlarged menu will mean increased prices.

Grades 1 - 5—35c.
Grades 6 - 8—40c.
Grades 9 - 12—45c.
Adults — 50c.

CLINTON'S NEW FIRE TRUCK — was delivered last week. Featuring a 750-gallon tank and high pressure lines, the new truck replaces a 1937 pumper and a 1945 tank truck, which had low pressure lines. The Dodge truck cost about $18,000, shared by Clinton Township and Village, Fire Chief Arthur Schuler, above, explained. Firemen had a two-day school of instruction with the new equipment. Sunday, after the firemen completed their practice session, their families joined them at the Firemen's cabin for a picnic.

Reading Attitudes Change

By MAXINE CALHOUN

CLINTON — Donald Quick, Clinton Elementary principal, directed a remedial reading program for children of the Inland Lakes School, Indian River, for six weeks this summer.

The federally financed program involved 40 children, four reading teachers and a recreation teacher, in correlation with Central Michigan University, Mt. Pleasant.

Primarily, the federal program is set up to reach the deprived child and those who have "reading disability." It is similar to the remedial reading program already instituted in the Clinton Elementary School, which is taught by Mrs. Earl Greene.

In addition, the Inland Lakes children were taken on field trips to the fort and Straits bridge at Mackinaw City, a radio station and a fish hatchery at Cheboygan.

They were also given generous breakfasts and lunches, each day.

The old familiar Dick and Jane readers seem somewhat passe as one becomes acquainted with the newer visual-aids to reading.

One language master device permits a youngster to slide a card with a sound track upon it. The child can then imitate the sentence he hears "spoken" by the machine.

Tape recorders permit a child to play back their own voices and he can soon correct his mispronounciations.

"Experience has shown that what a child can speak, he can read," Mr. Quick said.

Word game cards are used to stimulate a child's interest.

At the Inland Lakes School, a new device, the tactistoscope, flashed a word or phrase on a screen for identification by the child. Some children can identify words up to 100th of a second.

Reading booklets involve the child in completion of sentences to increase his vocabulary use.

In the Clinton school, children are placed in the remedial reading program by teacher referral. They are then given extensive tests to determine all the elements of their total learning problems, their interests and home and family information, which is correlated into carefully maintained records.

Last year, about 30 Clinton children, in grades one through three, participated in remedial reading and another 10 from grades five and six were [illegible] in to benefit from special corrective techniques.

Individual training is emphasized with four children sharing the 45-minute period at a time in the small, specially-equipped reading lab room, directed by Mrs. Greene.

Clinton parents have been "most cooperative," Mr. Quick said, and conferences held to acquaint them with the program were well attended.

The reading enrichment programs at Inland Lakes School and at Clinton, achieved a noticeable result — a changed attitude on the part of the child, Mr. Quick explained.

The youngster who begins as a shy, uncertain reader, almost always gains in confidence and interest in reading which carries over when he returns to his other classes, he said.

Waldo Papsdorfs Have Left Home for Denver, Colo.

CLINTON—Mr. and Mrs. Waldo Papsdorf and children, Robin and Michael, left Monday for Denver, Colo., where Mr. Papsdorf has accepted a new position. He had been employed at Thomas Company and was a member of the Clinton Board of Education until his resignation last week.

Some years ago, Mr. Papsdorf operated the Bildwell Corp., just north of Tecumseh in the building where the Tecumseh Health Study is located now.

Their son, Paul, 15, will remain with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schindler to continue high school in Clinton.

CHS Census Counts 1,344

CLINTON — A total of 1,344 children were counted in the recent census of the Clinton School District.

This includes 245 children under the age of five and 1,099 between the ages of five and 19.

While at most of the ages, the figures show almost an equal number of boys and girls, there are a few years when there is a preponderance of one sex.

For example: at 5 years, there are 40 boys and 24 girls; at nine years there are 28 boys to 49 girls; at 16 years, there are 50 boys to 25 girls; and at 18 there are 45 boys to 29 girls.

The tabulation shows:

Two Ladies Are Honored at Ceremony

CLINTON — Mrs. Oley Mahrle and Mrs. Ben Mahrle, I, were surprised with a special ceremony and presentation of their 50-year pins at a meeting of the Clara Camp Royal Neighbors last Wednesday evening.

The presentation was made for their devoted service to the local camp and to the Society of Royal Neighbors of America by Mrs. Leo Smith and Mrs. Ben Mahrle, II, past oracles, and Mrs. Lillian Ogden, marshal.

The honored members also received gift corsages.

Mr. and Mrs. Leo Smith hosted the potluck supper event, at which husbands and neighbors were guests.

The camp made plans to work on the 1968 Fraternal Scholarship program. This is a service of the Society offered to deserving young Royal Neighbors who wish to continue their education at the college or university of their choice.

Applications should be made by Sept. 25 by young members who will graduate from high school in 1968, to Mrs. Gladys Schuler.

Methodist Annex Use Discussed

CLINTON — At a special meeting of the Board of Education Aug. 16, discussion concerned the use of the Methodist Education Building.

It was suggested by Mr. and Mrs. Dan Schindler that the sixth grade classes be placed in the Methodist building instead of the first grade classes which were previously taught there.

The administration explained that the first graders could be accommodated there with less damage to the building and with a more restricted playground area than would be the case with the older children.

Several parents were present for the discussion. Further consideration will be given by the board before a decision is made.

The matter of increased rent for the use of the Methodist building is still to be negotiated.

There was some discussion about the possibility of using mobile classrooms, but no action was taken.

Bids were accepted for fuel oil to Tri-County Oil Company and to Standard Oil for gasoline.

James Woodward appointed a committee of Mrs. Marilyn Vogel and Donald Geiger to evaluate the present school insurance program.

The master contract was negotiated between the Board and the Clinton Education Association after a marathon bargaining session ending at 3 a.m. Aug. 15. Richard Wegner told the board. It is now being prepared for presentation to both teams of negotiators for ratification.

Announcemnt was made that two new school buses have been delivered.

JOYCE I. ANDERSON

Joyce Anderson Receives Degree in Library Science

CLINTON — Joyce I. Anderson, daughter of Sgt. and Mrs. Carl M. Anderson of 210 E. Church St., Clinton, has received her masters degree in library science from Western Michigan University.

Miss Anderson is a 1966 graduate of Michigan State University where she received her degree in anthropology. She graduated from Clinton High School in 1962.

Miss Anderson will leave at the beginning of September for Osborn High School in Detroit, where she will begin her student teaching for the fall term.

She had been employed in the library at the Custer Job Corps Center in Battle Creek prior to her graduation.

Tot Registration for Kindergarten

CLINTON — Parents who have not previously registered their children for kindergarten may do so any day this week between 9 a.m. and 4 p.m., in the Clinton Elementary School.

A record must be presented showing that all the necessary immunizations have been received by the child prior to school opening, or "he may be excluded, according to the State Law," explained Donald Quick, elementary principal.

The child's birth certificate must be brought at the time of registration.

OUTDOORS with GORDIE

by GORDON CHARLES

One of our favorite people, Ernie Swift, raised an interesting question sometime back. Writing for the National Wildlife Federation, he asked, "Is conservation for the multitude?

He went on to tell about a group of people who obtain maximum enjoyment from the outdoors by paying particular attention to the "little things" to be found there. This includes the study of bird life, plants, flowers and rocks, among other things.

By way of camparison, he told of a highway that ran north into Canada. On this route is a constant parade of overloaded cars, trailers, various camping outfits and oversized boats.

"Some have a destination," he sies vainly looking for a recreational rainbow. They are racing too fast to some unknown Utopia to see the roadside flowers — and couldn't identify them if noticed.

"The birds go unnoticed and unnamed; trees are simply trees with no eye for good or bad forestry practices; an appreciation of land management is as remote as Mars.

"They are a cross-section of the 'Great American Public,' he continued, "with a sensitive eye for rootbeer stands, nightclubs and rest rooms instead of the vast complex of nature which they are passing through.

"At a filling station they either ask about or complain about the fishing. They want to know if there is a resort close by with a swimming pool; and where there is a good place to eat. On occasion they may ask what the hicks around that vicinity do for a living."

Ernie's thoughts along these lines make a person stop a moment for a personal look-see.

What are we trying to get from the outdoors? Is it simply limits of game birds or animals we want? Is it a heavy stringer full of fish?

If these are our main objectives when we seek recreation in the outdoors, then perhaps we are cheating ourselves.

There is no reason why we can't hunt or fish as we always have and add the great big PLUS of enjoying the other smaller, but no less important, parts of the outdoors.

Next time you are in the outdoors seeking relaxation, take time to slow down your frantic pace. Take time to watch the antics of a chipmunk, the busy activity of a songbird or perhaps the beauty of a late flower which has been missed by the frost.

Do this and you will find you have added a lot to what might otherwise have been just another routine day of hunting or fishing.

Community Club Enjoys Picnic At Lake Cottage

Shut-in cards were signed for Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gilmore and Mrs. Gertrude Birdsall.

Rev. and Mrs. Alvin Brazee of Tecumseh, Mrs. Joseph Sheward of Erwin, Tenn., Mrs. Thelma Frayer and daughter, Cynthia, and her granddaughter were guests.

Rev. Brazee gave several serious thoughts on today's world and Mrs. Dewey Sturdevant read "Minding Your Own."

"It's a Pretty Good Plan To Forget It," was given by Mrs. Charles Gorton, who also read "Walk A Country Mile."

Mrs. William Grigg read "Memories," taken from the Christian Advocate.

David G. Rangler on Daily Patrol in South Vietnam

Marine Corporal David G. Rangler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Rangler of 5553 Macon Rd., is serving with Headquarters and Service Company, Third Battalion, Fifth Marine Regiment, a unit of the First Marine Division in Vietnam.

As a part of the Marine Corps air-ground team, the mission of his unit is to search out and destroy enemy forces operating in South Vietnam. This is accomplished through daily patrols and ambushes as well as through large scale operations mounted against the enemy.

The unit is also engaged in a civic action program designed to assist the Vietnamese people in completing self-help projects, such as the building of wells, culverts, small bridges and schools.

Equipment and materials for the projects are made available through the Marine Corps Reserve Civic Action Fund.

Marines in Vietnam provide the know-how and guide the Vietnamese people in carrying out these projects.

'Bingo Bucks' Spend Like Cash at Participating Merchants Listed Below

Winners Last Week

ELEVENTH WEEK

PURPLE CARDS

AUG. 21 to AUG. 28

Here How It Works:

PICK UP FREE BINGO CARDS: Each week (adults only, please) pick up your FREE Bingo cards from any of the sponsoring merchants listed below. Rules of the game allow the merchants to give you only one card on each store visit. However, you may make as many visits as you wish each day of the week. THE MORE CARDS YOU PLAY THE BETTER ARE YOUR CHANCES OF WINNING.

HOW TO PLAY: To play, check the ads in each week's issue of The Tecumseh Herald. The ads of the merchants listed below will contain one or more "Newspaper Bingo" numbers in the "Bingo Bug" symbol (shown above). Occasionally numbers, in the "Bingo Bug" symbol, may be found elsewhere in the newspaper. Check the classified ads for additional numbers. IF YOU CAN MATCH (JUST CIRCLE OR "X" THE MATCHING NUMBERS) ALL 24 NUMBERS ON ANY ONE OF YOUR BINGO CARDS — YOU HAVE A "BINGO" — AND YOU ARE A WINNER!!

AT LEAST $50 WEEKLY!! Winners will share a weekly prize of $50 issued in "Bingo Bucks" that spends like cash at any of the sponsoring merchants. If there is only one winner, he wins all of the $50. If there is more than one winner, all winners will share the $50 in equal amounts. If there are no winners any week, the $50 weekly prize money will be added to the following week's prize fund.

CHECK EACH ISSUE OF THE TECUMSEH HERLAD: Each game is complete in each week's issue. A new game will start each Wednesday and be completed the following Monday. A new set of Bingo numbers will be published each week in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper and these new numbers only must be used. A new color of Bingo cards each week will be available at the participating stores. To be eligible to win, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week's game. The color of the cards for each week's game will be announced on this page.

IF YOU ARE A WINNER: If you have a winning Bingo card, ON WHICH ALL 24 NUMBERS HAVE BEEN MATCHED WITH THE NUMBERS APPEARING EACH WEEK IN THE HERALD, write your name, address, phone number, and the name of the store where you got your winning card on the back of your card and mail to The Herald. The envelope containing your card must be received by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week; or bring your winning card to the office by 5 p.m. Monday of the following week.

Rules of the Game

NO OBLIGATION OR PURCHASE NECESSARY: There is no obligation or purchase necessary. A copy of the paper is available for playing the game at the office of this newspaper — also at the public libraries. You may play as many cards as you wish — they are free. Get additional cards — one at a time — each day of the week — from the friendly merchants listed below (adults only, please).

DIFFERENT COLORED CARDS EACH WEEK: The color of the cards changes each week. To be a winner, you must play Bingo cards of the correct color for that week. Mutilated or altered cards will not be honored. ALL 24 NUMBERS ON A CARD MUST BE MATCHED TO WIN.

CHANCE DETERMINES NUMBERS: Bingo numbers for each week's game are drawn at random from a revolving Bingo number dispensing cage at the office of this newspaper. Some duplication of Bingo numbers may appear in the merchants' ads. This duplication does not affect the game or the total numbers drawn. All numbers for each week's game will be some place in the sponsoring merchants' ads and possibly elsewhere in the paper. Employees of this newspaper and their families are not eligible to win any of the prizes.

School Days Are Coming

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

BRITTON — If you were to go down to visit the school some day this week, you would see a quiet and peaceful scene with everything shining and clean inside and out.

The halls are dim and quiet, with only an occasional footstep echoing lonesomely in the corridors. In the office you'd hear the subdued click-click of the secretary's typewriter.

But don't let this apparent inactivity fool you. It is only the calm before the onslaught of the storm.

In less than two weeks, our school will be a beehive of activity; around 600 students from age five to 18 will crowd the hallways looking for their rooms, checking the new teachers, greeting friends and preparing to settle down for another year of "hitting the books."

The classrooms, the cafeteria, the gym, the playground, will all come to life once again. Returning students will discover that the gym was painted during the summer and the commercial room was painted and got a new ceiling.

Parents are requested to pay the students' book rental fees in advance of school opening if at all possible. The office will be open the week of Aug. 28 to Sept. 1, during the hours of 9 a.m. to noon, and from 1 to 4 p.m. each day.

Rates will be the same as last year: Kindergarten, $3; Elementary, $6.50; Junior High, $5; and Senior High, $6.

School will resume for all pupils except kindergarten students on Tuesday, Sept. 5. School will be dismissed at noon the first day. Parents of kindergarten children who did not register their child last spring may do so Sept. 5.

Regular classes for the kindergarten will start Wednesday, Sept. 6. All children living northwest of the Wabash railroad tracks will attend in the afternoon.

It is suggested that mothers of kindergarten children put them on the bus the first day. Those who do bring their children Wednesday are requested to leave them in the room with the teacher and not remain, as this method makes it easier for the child to adjust to school.

FIVE POSITIONS remain unfilled on the teaching staff: elementary teachers for grades 4 and 5; librarian, girls' physical education and junior high history teacher.

The staff to date is: William Saxton, superintendent; Robert Christ, principal; Marilyn Alexander, Spanish and English; Mary Ann Berry, home economics; Wilnelia Bush, vocal music; Edgar Ericsson, English and speech; Sam Hamilton, history; Jim Landfair, science and coaching; Dorothy Long, commercial; Paul Marks, vocational agriculture; Don Morrill, math; Bill Osak, government and civics; Paul Palka, junior high and coaching; Marilyn Preston, English and math; Sari Rynew, instrumental music; and Louise Barnard, high school English.

The elementary staff is: Lorene Edelbrock, kindergarten; Cathrine Smith and Rosemary Schroder, first grade; Ruth Sturgeon and Ruth Davis, second grade; Ann Creger and Alice Nixon, third grade; Rosemary Niblack, fourth grade; Geraldine Gorton, fifth grade; and Barbara Klump and Doris Forsythe, sixth grade.

Mrs. Herma Jackson is the new secretary-bookkeeper.

Art Van Wormer returns as head custodian. The cafeteria staff has changed, due to the retirement of Mrs. Nellie Barrett.

Cafeteria manager will be Mrs. Henry Brown and head cook will be Mrs. Art Van Wormer. Assistants are Mrs. Melvin Henry and Mrs. Neal Judkins.

Cafeteria lunches will be served beginning on Wednesday, Sept. 6, for all pupils and teachers. Pupils who do not carry lunches are expected to eat in the school cafeteria.

In other announcements, Supt. Saxton reported that the annuals will be given out after the opening of school.

The new football scoreboard is to be installed this week. Football practice starts next week, under the direction of Coach Paul Palka.

About 40 boys are expected to turn out for the fall sport.

School Contracts Still Unsettled

BRITTON — The Board of Education met Thursday evening with six members present.

Teacher negotiations were reported still unsettled. It is hoped that agreement will be reached soon. Britton-Macon is in the same category as many other Michigan school districts, which have not yet settled on final contracts.

The school wishes to hire a noon hour supervisor for the cafeteria and the playground for elementary children. Anyone interested should contact Mr. Saxton.

The board voted to give Supt. Saxton authority to revise the school schedule to provide for 180 days of actual teaching for the coming year.

Alice Nixon and Louise Barnard, both of Tecumseh, were hired to teach third grade and high school English, respectively.

Mrs. Henry Brown will be the cafeteria manager and Mrs. Art Van Wormer will be head cook. Mrs. Melvin Henry and Mrs. Neal Judkins will be assistants.

Still needed to complete the teaching staff are fourth and fifth grade teachers as well as a librarian, a girls' physical education teacher and a junior high history teacher.

Virgil Bortel Sheep Shown at Fairs

BRITTON — Virgil Bortel has returned home with his sheep after exhibiting them at Jackson County Fair, Mason State Sheep Show and the Lenawee County Fair.

He will go Saturday to exhibit sheep at the Michigan State Fair next week and will finish the season later this fall at the Saginaw Fair.

D. Grudiers Visit with Eldon Reecks

BRITTON — Weekend guests of Mr. and Mrs. Eldon Reeck and sons were her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Dale Grudier and family of Cincinnati, O.

Sunday dinner guests were Mr. and Mrs. Cletus Reed and family of Pontiac and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Grudier of Tampa, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Grudier left Monday to return to Florida after spending several weeks with their daughter and family.

BRITTON — Second Lieutenant Ronald Mastie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Mastie of Britton, received his comsion May 18 in ceremonies held at Fort Benning, Ga. He entered the army in June of 1966. Lt. Mastie is currently a tactical officer training new OCS candidates at Fort Benning.

Property Taxes Due by Aug. 31

BRITTON — This is the final week for property owners in the village of Britton to pay their summer taxes without penalty, announced village treasurer Christine Fairbanks.

The deadline for payment is Aug. 31. Taxes have been due and payable since July 1.

Collection hours are 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Tuesdays and Saturdays at the home of the treasurer at 360 North Main Street, or payment may be sent by mail.

Late payments will have to be paid at the county treasurer's office in Adrian. A penalty is charged after August 31.

Star Trek Set To Go Saturday

Folks who are setting off on the Jaycee Star Trek Saturday are reminded to look over the official check list to be sure they have all the requested items.

If more information is needed, phone: Dr. W. C. Elwartowski, 423-7360; Dwight Helms; or Dr. S. Adams, 423-3600.

The treasure hunt includes dinner, swimming, dancing and refreshments.

OFF the TOP

By CHRISTINE FAIRBANKS

Well, we finally broke loose from the routine for a few days rest and relaxation on the shores of Lake Huron up near Tawas.

I was getting that desperate feeling again and we all needed a change of scenery and a real rest.

Because of the many problems involved at the garage and at home for us to get away, I couldn't believe we were really going until the suitcases were carefully packed in the car and we actually headed north and out of town.

Our teen-age sons were left at home to "batch" it.

Of course, we had to turn around after a four or five minute ride because I had forgotten my sweater.

"My gosh," grumbled hubby, "I thought you packed everything you owned!" But he obligingly turned back and it's a good thing he did, the way the weather turned that week.

Anyway, once more we headed north and this time, after a four-hour ride up US-23, we were lucky to find a cozy little cottage just big enough for me, and hubby and daughter; in fact, it was nick-named "The Doll House."

There was a beautiful view of Lake Huron beyond the expanse of clean white sand. In less than an hour we were unpacked and swimming in the cold, clear waters of Lake Huron.

What an exciting treat for daughter, who was trained in the placid waters of the Tecumseh pool, to swim in the waves of the big lake!

After a refreshing swim, we spread out the beach towels and laid on the shore in the warm sun. I could feel the taut nerves start to unwind and the tensions start to fade. For a few days at least, we could be completely lazy, do what we wanted when we wanted to and not when that ever-present clock said so.

No worries about getting up on time, getting meals on time, washing or ironing, repairing cars or anything else.

What a life! Too bad it could not last.

Our days were filled with swimming and sunning ourselves and just lazing around. When the weather turned cool, we explored the nearby territory, driving to watch a herd of 36 wild deer grazing at sunset in a farmer's fields one evening.

MRS. FAIRBANKS, DARLENE

Miss Nine discovered the fun of miniature golf and teased us several times to go to a nearby course featuring a giant dinosour out in front.

We were fortunate that she met an "instant friend" staying in the neighboring cottage and the two girls had a good time swimming and playing house together like real old buddies.

Friend Robin joined us when we went for the famed paddleboat ride, churning down the river.

The girls waved to campers along the banks and the oldsters aboard enjoyed the beautiful scenery and the sight of two eagles soaring over the high banks.

One day we hiked out to the end of Tawas Point to view the lighthouse and foghorn warning station maintained by the U. S. Coast Guard. From here we had a great view of Tawas Bay.

On our last day, we drove north to Alpena and visited the old lighthouse at Presque Isle Harbor.

We found an outstanding attraction for young and old alike near Ossineke, where we visited Domke's Prehistoric Gardens.

Here, on a 40-acre tract of land which was mainly a drained cedar swamp, Paul N. Domke, a man now 81 years of age, has worked for 35 years to create a realistic setting for his life-size models of the giant dinosaurs of the past.

We walked through the dim woods on wide paved paths, with natural woods on either side. Every 100 or 200 feet, as the path turned, we came upon authentic life-size models of these prehistoric monsters.

It was a little spooky, but interesting.

Then all too soon, our days of leisure were over and it was time to return to the everyday life. Our days in the sun did provide a pleasant and needed change of pace and we returned home ready to take up our responsibilities once again.

But already I'm plotting how we can manage an autumn visit to the "Doll House." The fall colors must be gorgeous along the AuSable.

Let's see — our wedding anniversary is near the end of September — that ought to be just about right for a weekend jaunt!

Katharine Smith, Richard Hadsell Exchange Vows

Katharine Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Smith of Selma, N. C., became the bride of A2/C Richard S. Hadsell July 23 in a ceremony at the Baptist Church there.

Nancy Swaney will be participating this fall in a relatively new program initiated by the Student-Faculty International Exchange Committee at Eastern Michigan University.

The committee made the selection of the 14 students on the basis of scholarship, campus activities, recommendations and an interview.

All 14 are juniors at EMU and are pursuing a teaching career.

Nancy is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Olin Swaney of 202 N. Wyandotte Street. She is an honor student at Eastern, majoring in early elementary education and is a 1965 graduate of Tecumseh High School.

Bulmarshe College of Education, located in Reading, England, is the school where she will study. Nancy will live on campus with the English students.

Her courses will consist of educational [illegible] related to their major field of study.

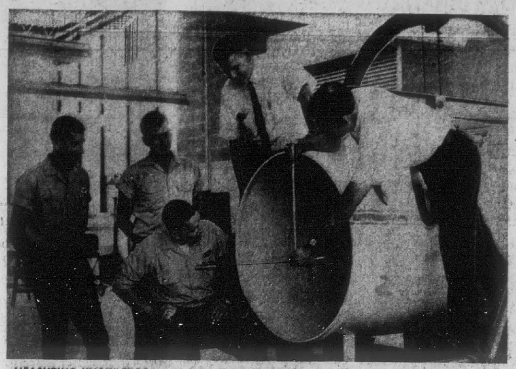
In the five months' stay, the students will complete a semester's work and enjoy other activities. Since they will be arriving earlier than school commences, a period of around ten days will be allotted for them to get acquainted with London and the people.

Perhaps the most exciting part will be a 34 day vacation during the Christmas holidays to tour Europe.

Returning from vacation, they will be able to complete three weeks of student teaching in the English school system.

The group will be leaving Sept. 5 from Metro Airport aboard a BOAC jet and fly nonstop to London.

An exchange professor from EMU and his family will also accompany the group.



MEASURING KNOWLEDGE — At Ferris State College's workshop for liquified petroleum technicians, instructor Charles Cushway, right, demonstrates the operation of a float guage to Donald Van Dorn, left, Tecumseh; Richard Kugelard, Wayland, and Clive Wilson, seated, Traverse City. Ronald Bechler, Cadillac, is assisting with the instruction. The sessions, held Aug. 13-18, are co-sponsored by Ferris and the Michigan LP- Gas Association.

Mrs. Laakaniemi Set To Graduate at Adrian College

Mrs. Ray Laakaniemi of 713 N. Union, is scheduled to complete graduation requirements at Adrian College Aug. 25, at the end of the College's summer session.

Mrs. Laakaniemi, a graduate of Arlington High School, Arlington, O., is to be awarded a Bachelor of Arts degree with a major in biology.

Formal graduation ceremonies are not held at Adrian during the summer and most students elect to go through commencement ceremonies in May.

Karen was a member of the Biology Club.

Adrian College, now completing its 122nd year, is a private liberal arts college related to the Methodist Church.

Dairy Herd Body Types Classified

Several dairy herds in the local area have been recently scored for body type by a staff classifier of the Holstein-Friesan Association of America.

It measures the physical conformation of individual bulls and cows, compared to the ideal or True-Type models.

Those classified included:

Fred J. Feight of Tecumseh: 16 animals classified; three 'very good'; six 'good plus'; and six 'good.'

Richard W. Platt of Tipton: 19 animals classified; eight 'very good'; eight 'good plus'; and one 'good.'

Tour Kellogg's Plant

By NORMA JAMES

As the final touch to the wonderful summer program the Cub Scouts of Den 2, Pack 32 have had, they were taken to the Kellogg's Plant at Battle Creek by Den Mothers Mary Griewahn and Norma James.

They were joined by other members of the Cub Pack, their older brothers in Scouting and Mrs. Lois Dillon of Den 5.

This summer the boys have toured the Lenawee Sheriff Dept., the Water Plant, went swimming and were entertained in backyard games.

These were arranged btween the parents of each Cub, with each family taking a different meeting, The Den Mothrs assisted. Last week they toured the Fisher Body Plant with special permission obtained because of their age by one of the Cub's mothers, Mrs. Neva Armstrong.

Wednesday, the trip to Battle Creek was highlighted by a ride to Gull Lake for a picnic lunch. Then the group toured the interesting Kellogg Bird Sanctuary, feeding and photographing the many animals sheltered there.

At each place the boys gave their guides the traditional thank you from Scouts, a cheer. They made up original ones; at Kellogg's it was "Crunch, crunch, crunch," and at the Sanctuary, "Bob, Bob White."

Both were applauded by the guides.

Making the trip were Mrs. Lois Dillon, George Gartee, Ronald Pierce, Gary Griewahn, Bradley Barnett and Nick DuShane.

Also Mrs. Mary Griewahn, Scott and Todd Griewahn, Robert James, Tom Gordon, Doug Armstrong and Joseph Jenkins.

And Mrs. Norma James, Rick, Mike, Dennis, John and Steve James; Kraig, Kevin and Kerry Skinner.

The final Pack meeting of the summer was held by Pack 32 at the Shelter House on Island Park with a 6 p.m. potluck dinner enjoyed by the large attendance, filling the entire Shelter House.

Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Potts Sr. of Adrian, grandparents of the six James boys who are all in Scouting. Prayer was offered by Mike Richardson.

Ray Potts, who has coached and managed boys in Little League baseball for going on 17 years, had the former Plotter Squad and currently has the Exchange Club.

He has coached such local celebrities as Steve Marshall and Fritz Fisher in their Little League careers, furnished regulation equipment and acted as manager while the Cubs played their older brothers in Scouting in an hilarious game.

The umpire, Den Dad Dick Johnson saw to it that the Cubs had advantages nor allowed the big boys. The many incidents that arose amused the spectators.

At dark the game was called and ruled in favor of the Cubs by the "Ump" who was promptly chased all over the park by the Boy Scouts.

Everyone gathered to sing "God Bless America" and made their way home.

Mrs. David Robart Is Honored Guest at Baby Shower

Mrs. David Robart of Newaygo, nee Teresa Mann, formerly of Tecumseh, was guest of honor at a baby shower at the home of Mrs. Al Street Saturday evening.

Mrs. Robart's mother, Mrs. Lloyd Mann, assisted the hostess.

Guests were 16 relatives and friends from Grant, Newaygo, Adrian, Jasper and Tecumseh.

Mrs. Robart was presented with a pink and white carnation corsage.

A baby carriage theme was carried out in decorations and a bassinet full of baby clothes and other gifts were presented to Mrs. Robart.

The refreshments included a sheet cake decorated to baby in bed with a fancy blanket, rattle and bottle.

COEDS STROLL ACROSS THE CAMPUS AT ADRIAN COLLEGE, A LIBERAL ARTS SCHOOL.

Campus Is Growing

Significant strides are being taken this fall at Adrian College, strides which will further the reputation Adrian has of being one of America's fine church-related liberal arts colleges

Important innovations for the 1,550 students on campus this fall will include a new four-year honors program for outstanding students, an ultra-modern language laboratory more advanced than any other in the nation at this time, the addition of Geology or Earth Sciences to the curriculum and the first full year of the college's new FM station, WVAC-FM, 88.1 megacycles.

The honors program signals an important advancement in the academic program, an advancement which will allow superior freshmen students to enroll in an honors section of freshman English and other students to take junior and senior seminars which cross normal course boundaries.

Topics of the seminars will include the History of Science, Social Ethics and Social Causation, Science and Society in Science Fiction and the Creative Process and the Artist. Senior students will be offered advanced studies programs which will entail either honors papers, original research or original art.

The language lab, currently under construction in Mahan Hall, will be unique in that each student will have an individual booth for his language study but will not need earphones.

Students will also be able to dial directly to random access recordings, tape their own voices and replay their voice from these tapes.

The addition, which will highlight the addition of French, German, and Spanish as individual majors, is being financed through a $26,000 federal grant and a matching gift provided by a Michigan woman with an interest in the college.

The radio station, featuring student-oriented production but light classical and academic-type programming, was opened in the spring of last year. A wide range of cultural program offerings, including several programs related to the Canadian centennial observance, are being offered from 3 p.m. to 8 p.m., Monday through Friday.

The addition of geology will further strengthen the natural science area, an area for which Adrian has been noted for many years.

Currently the college is offering 21 majors, all related to the liberal arts area of education and built upon the college's concern for developing four aspects of a person — professional, social, cultural and spiritual — through his education.

This year some 540 freshmen students will come to campus on Sunday, Sept. 10 for the start of "Welcome Week." Regular classes for all students begin Sept. 14.

Students from the Tecumseh area are James Bryon Goodman, James Edward Gray and Richard Raynor Sweet.

THE LANSING REPORT FROM senator
GIL BURSLEY

Workmen's Compensation Legislation as it affects agricultural employment was before the legislature during almost the entire 1967 session. Various changes in legislative proposals and in public statements may have confused some persons as to just what finally did pass.

As chairman of the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Economic Development, I received a particularly heavy volume of queries on the subject.

At my request, the director of the Michigan Department of Agriculture has prepared a statement on the subject, which I quote, having reference to House Bill 2623 which becomes effective about Nov. 1 and Senate Bill 43 now known as Public Act 8 of 1967.

"Farmers employing agricultural workers under two classifications are required to provide workmen's compensation coverage. A third classification of agricultural workers does not have to be covered under the law, but farmers are liable for any injury to them.

So it is unwise for any farmer not to provide coverage for this third classification.

"It is vital that an employer keep accurate payroll records. This is because it is necessary for him to know and prove worktime status for each employee in relation to the Workmen's Compensation Act and also for the determination of insurance premiums he must pay.

"It is a misdemeanor for an employer to discharge employees in an attempt to avoid covering an employee.

"It is also well for an agricultural employer to provide himself with insurance coverage even though the employer is exempt from the act. This is so because the law has removed the traditional common law defenses of an agricultural employer.

"The three classifications mentioned above are:

► "All agricultural employees of three or more regular employees, paid hourly wages or salaries and not paid on piecework basis, who are employed 35 or more hours per week by that same employer for 13 or more consecutive weeks during the preceding 52 weeks, must provide full workmen's compensation coverage.

► "All agricultural employees of one or more employees who are employed 35 or more hours per week by the same employer for five or more consecutive weeks shall provide such employees with full medical or hospital coverage for all personal injuries arising out of and in the course of employment suffered by such employee not otherwise covered by this act.

► "Farmers hiring other kinds of labor such as occasional workers, harvesters or those working less than five weeks are not required under this particular law to provide insurance coverage.

"But farmers are now more than ever liable for any injury that might occur, so the farmer should provide coverage of this type o femployee for his own protection although the law exempts him. Many farmers have long recognized this responsibility."

Kevin Bordine, 2, Is Honored Guest at Birthday Party

HOLLOWAY—Kevin, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bordine, celebrad his second birthday Saturday with the following guests: Mrs. Josephine Prielipp and Merlyn, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Bidle and family, Mr. and Mrs. William Condit of Britton, Mrs. Wanda Hartman and family of Blissfield and Mr. and Mrs. Howard Prielipp and family of Deerfield.

They all had supper and spent the evening socially. Kevin received many nice gifts.

A Son Is Born To Bill Millers

A son, Jay Charles, was born Aug. 17 to Marine Cpl. and Mrs. William Miller in Santa Ana, Calif. Cpl. Miller is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, Pawson Rd., Onsted.

Mrs. Miller is th former Sally Pollack, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Pollack of Adrian.

Self-Concept Studied

Mrs. James A. Tonneberger and Mrs. Frank Lasky were participants in a recent workshop at Eastern Michigan University on self-concept.

For two weeks, Aug. 7-18, 74 counselors and teachers were hosted for the workshop including 60 hours of intensive study.

It was conducted by Charles Baty, chairman, Dr. Paul Nau and Dr. Phillip Wells.

The need for a positive self-image and positive feelings about ones self were explored.

An obvious need for early recognition of children's feelings about themselvs was felt to be the most important issue. It was shown in many ways that when children feel poorly about themselves, their ability to learn is severely handicapped.

Therefore, it was natural that from small group meetings a resolution evolved expressing a need for increased attention in this area.

Elementary counselors, in cooperation with elementary teachers, were enthusiastically supported for the fine work they have been doing.

Mrs. Tonneberger is a second grade teacher at Tecumseh Acres School and Mrs. Lasky teaches third grade at Patterson.

VOICE of THE HERALD

Remember "Shop Tecumseh"

"For $7.98 our merchants will give you $70 in merchandise."

Quite a deal!

This old, worn out solicitation gimmick — via telephone — was started here in Tecumseh this week by merchants in a nearby town.

We hope that local residents didn't bite. Sometimes we forget that we usually get what we pay for, and vice versa. It sounds unreasonable that $7.98 will buy $70 "worth" of merchandise.

Knowing local business folks the way we do, we urge you to do your business here. Tecumseh businesses are pretty well stocked, and more often than not, they'll have the merchandise you're looking for.

Also, your local business pays a good share of the cost of educating our youngsters here, and a large share of the operating expenses of our city government.

A dollar spent elsewhere doesn't help Tecumseh business, Tecumseh schools, city hall — or even you.

"Shop Tecumseh" is a worthwhile slogan for all of us to remember, especially when we receive unwanted phone solicitations.

Camp Has Corn Boil

Hickory Hill Christian Camp held a corn boil Sunday which was well attended with 62 persons enjoying over 10 dozen ears of corn.

Prepared in an antique copper kettle, the corn, along with salads furnished by the participating picnickers, rounded out a day spent relaxing and visiting with Don Bone, a visiting preacher from Lincoln Park.

He is a professor at Wayne State University and will take the place of the Rev. Edgar Pistole, minister of the Church of Christ, until a new replacement is found.

The Rev. Pistole will leave with his wife and family for Defiance, O., Oct. 1 where he will be the minister of the Defiance Church of Christ.

He has been in Tecumseh for four years and, along with his wife Frances, started the Hickory Hill Christian Camp. They have two children, Sharon, 10, and Leon, 8.

The camp is located on Newburg Rd., on property owned and donated by Bob Rupert Sr. He also donated the use of his antique copper kettle.

Fund Collections To Be Distributed

The State Highway Commission has started distributing second quarter Motor Vehicle Highway Fund collections to Michigan counties and incorporated cities and villages.

The net receipts received during April, May and June of 1967 amounted to $55,927,146, an increase of $1,410,322 compared to the same period in 1966.

Lenawee County will receive $247,672.

From that total, Clinton will receive $3,163; Britton, $1,357; and Tecumseh, $15,006.

Letters to the Editor

TO THE EDITOR:

Having returned recently from a tour of the Orient, may I pass on a few impressions? Thank you.

- In these trying times it might be comforting to those who have loved ones buried in our government cemeteries in other countries to know that those in charge are taking excellent care of the graves and the government has built beautiful chapels and memorials with inscriptions out of this world.
- In Bangkok at one of the Temples a troop of military men were participating in a religious service before leaving for duty while their loved ones stood by. I understand that Thailand has remained free and independent.
- While in Manila, I made it a point to visit the office of the USO. The Directress, a young Filipino lady, was very cordial and through our conversation, I learned that so many services are available to our service people with the money received from our United Fund Drives each year. USO is one of the 35 agencies which Tecumseh Community Fund Foundation reaches through the Michigan United Fund besides raising funds for our charitable and and youth programs. Manila is designated as a Rest and Recreational Center for our military people.
- Oh yes, I was amazed at the way those people use and enjoy their public parks and the pride they take in keeping them clean and beautiful. They really love to walk. I immediately thought and dreamed of Tecumseh developing facilities at our Tecumseh Park, formerly the Pit property. That spot has possibilities unlimited and loads of natural beauty.

In closing with a thought close at home, "Are our people aware of the services rendered by the Salvation Army and Red Cross in the riot areas and, no doubt, in Alaska during the recent floods?"

Sincerely,
Ruth V. Rentschler

POSTSCRIPTS

I thought our discussion of wrens ended with the submission of my Wren Surveillance Report No. 3. The other afternoon, however, I was fortunate enough to play Peeping Tom on a wren-squirrel confrontation which bears repeating.

And, since we are back with the wrens, could we please start with that exciting July 19th, the day we saw the three youngsters leave home?

You know, I am still excited about that. It was truly one of the highlights of the summer.

Just to jog your memory a bit — there was, if you will remember, a hard beating rain which started sometime during the night and did not stop until between eight and nine in the morning.

When it finally did quit everything was, of course, wet and drippy and steamy. Even so, we noticed an unusual amount of activity.

At first our only comment was that Mr. and Mrs. Wren were mighty busy on such a muggy morning.

They kept flying back and forth in front of their house, occasionally one would light on the door-step and look in but seldom did he actually enter. We now know they were trying to coax the youngsters out — isn't it amazing how clear hindsight can often be.

When the youngsters finally did work up enough nerve to venture forth into this great, wide, wonderful world, they popped out of the doorway: one — two - three. They clung to the house as long as they could but there was no good foot-hold and as they slipped, their wings started fluttering — they were flying!

Isn't Mother Nature and her built-in instinct wonderful, with no practice at all the baby wrens did a fine job of flying on their very first time out.

I believe that I owe a big thank you to the early morning rain storm. Wrens usually leave home at almost the crack of dawn — at least, in all of our past experience with wren families, we have never been able to wake up early enough to catch the departure.

To forestall the question that I know someone will ask, yes, the youngsters were quite small. Their wings did not seem to be as long as the adults and their fluffiness disguised the true body size.

They looked like three little round balls of brown feathers.

But that was our first wren family. To say that the little house has been popular this summer is practically an understatement. The very same day that the old tenants moved out, new renters moved in.

We could hardly believe it but shortly after lunch there were Mr. and Mrs. Wren inspecting. They not only inspected, they signed the lease and started shoving out the old furniture.

To be honest, this new family has not been kept under as close surveillance as was the other. There just hasn't been the time, too many other bird happenings to watch.

I am sure that the newcomers did not discard all of the old nest. They added some of their own sticks and lining material but most of their nest building was in the nature of remodeling.

One day last week the birds were particularly hungry and by mid-afternoon all of the feeding stations were empty. As empty as Mother Hubbard's cupboard. A squirrel came by for lunch; he made the rounds two or three times and was most unhappy.

He did not sit for long, though — one little wren came rocketing out of the house and the other zoomed in from a nearby tree. Showing absolute fearlessness, they lit into the squirrel.

The tiny wrens sent the squirrel flying down that post so fast that I'm not sure he knew what was happening. But just imagine, wrens fighting a squirrel, again how wonderful Mother Nature is.

So it is that to our original wren surveillance reports we just had to add this postscript.

NEXT WEEK:
"Dining Fashionably Late"

Even though feeling a bit guilty, I also had to laugh as he climbed every place looking for corn or scratchfeed. He just couldn't seem to believe that there wasn't something somewhere.

Finally, in utter desperation, he shinnied up the skinny metal post which supports the wren house. It was a tough climb and I chose to believe that he felt he was discovering a new feeder — not a bird house.

Clawing his way to the roof he sat down and looked around. One very puzzled squirrel.

Services Are Today for J. Paul Ammer

Funeral services for J. Paul Ammer, 65, retired Tecumseh Products executive, will be held this Thursday afternoon at 1:30 at St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

He died early Tuesday morning in Herrick Hospital after a five-month illness, and just recently was released from University Hospital in Ann Arbor.

Mr. Ammer was well known in the area and active in many organizations. He retired from the Tecumseh Products last Oct. 7, after serving the company for 26 years.

A former Ford Motor Company executive, he moved to Tecumseh in 1940, leaving the Ford Motor Purchasing Department to head the purchasing division at the Products.

He later became assistant general manager, vice president, and director of the local company.

In Detroit, he took his early training at the Ford Motor Highland Park Plant, and attended the Ford Trade School and the Detroit Institute of Technology.

Mr. Ammer served on the vestry and as a warden for St. Peter's Church, and was a member of the Tecumseh Masonic Lodge, Detroit Consistory, Moslem Shrine, Lenawee Shrine Club, Elks Lodge at Adrian, and the Tecumseh Country Club.

He was born at Columbus, O., on Oct. 7, 1901, and married Ann Anderson in Highland Park on June 11, 1924.

Survivors, besides the widow, are: son, Dean Ammer of Belmont, Mass.; two grandchildren and his mother, Mrs. Roy Breese of Harrison.

The Rev. Frank Hawthorne, assisted by the Rev. Russell Cooper, will officiate at today's services. A requiem service was held Wednesday evening at the Dunn Funeral Home.

Burial will be in Brookside Cemetery.

1-Way Street Is In Effect Near Schools

Two blocks of E. Shawnee St., between N. Ottawa and N. Maumee, were posted and made one-way east last week.

Street traffic originally was scheduled for one-way east on Aug. 20, but the necessary signs had not been received by the city.

Although school busses will be allowed to park and load students on the south side of the street, the only parking on the street will be limited to the 200 block — first block east of N. Ottawa — and then only on the north side.

Another improvement in the area was finished Friday when city crews finished installing 72 feet of guard rail on the N. Ottawa St. curve by the athletic field.

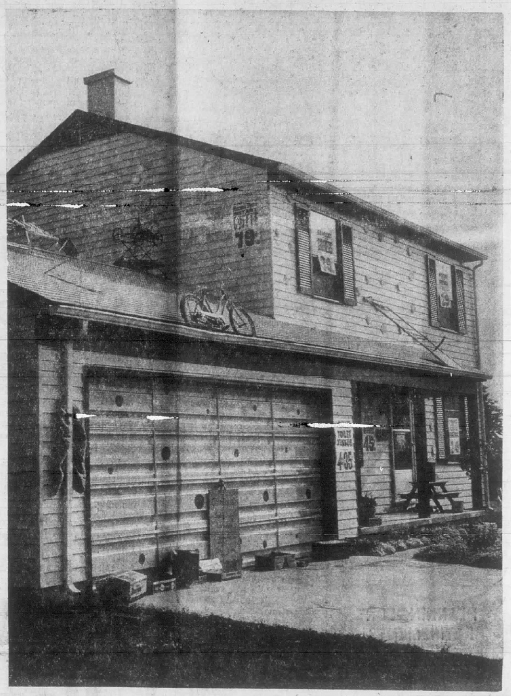
Firemen Save Heart Victim

Prompt action by the Tecumseh Fire Department Sunday morning saved the life of Harold Joseph, elderly Franklin Township resident, who lives at 1320 Taylor Rd.

Tecumseh's emergency vehicle was sent to the Joseph home after the department had received a telephone call from his daughter in Blissfield.

She reported that her father had just called her in Blissfield, saying he was dying. He had suffered a heart attack.

Mr. Joseph has lived alone since his wife died, about three years ago.



HERALD PHOTO BY BILL WHITING

EXTERIOR DECORATORS — Who needs enemies with friends like John Graham and Jack Puffer? These two, who frequently take advantage when the other is gone from home on vacation, dolled up the Herb Camfield home at 303 Miami Court with painted paper plates — for polka dots — and other signs, equipment and odds and ends.

Schools Ready for Opening

School officials report everything "go" for the start of school here next Tuesday morning.

Not only have the buildings and equipment been cleaned, but contract agreements have been reached with the bus drivers, custodians, maintenance employees and secretaries.

Only ratification by the employees and the School Board remains.

Supt. James McDowell also filled out the staff last week when he employed Sharon Hyde of Adrian as high school English teacher.

She has three years' experience and taught last at Kalamazoo.

If the schools' projection for enrollment is accurate, 3,350 students will start the 1967-68 term. Grades one through 12 will start next Tuesday, and the kindergartners on Wednesday.

Official enrollment for state aid purposes will be taken the fourth Friday of September. Some increase is expected at the high school but not enough to change Tecumseh from Class B to Class A.

Last year, the high school had approximately 1,000 students and could top 1,040 this year. At least 1,100 students are required for Class A rating.

Girl Attacked by Own Dog

A young Tecumseh girl was severely bitten by the family dog Tuesday morning and is hospitalized in Bixby Hospital, Adian.

Alison Phillips, six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvah Phillips, 212 W. Cummins St., suffered severe lacerations on the scalp and head when attacked by the family's German shepherd dog.

Surgery, requiring 32 stitches across the top of the head and 16 on the face and on an ear, was performed at the Adrian hospital.

Mrs. Phillips said her daughter had gone out to feed the dog, and may have taken the dish from him. The family plans to hold the animal for the required 10 days and then have him destroyed.

Alison also has a heart condition that hospitalized her earlier, this year for a whole month, March 14 to April 15. Restrictions, due to the condition, were lifted just a week ago.

10-Week Tour in VISTA Ends

By DOROTHY GRIGG

Mary Boynton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Boynton, 4171 Allen Rd., has recently returned from 10 weeks spent as an Appalachian Volunteer with the VISTA program in Mingo County, W. Va.

VISTA is Volunteers In Service To America.

She will return to Michigan State University this fall as a senior.

The summer program served as part of her training for future Peace Corps service.

Of the effort, Mary said, "We were working to enlarge the representation of the Community Action Group set up by the Economic Opportunity Commission and increase their communication about the people and their problems in poverty stricken areas."

"VISTA gives the kids planning for Peace Corps work a chance to meet new people and try working with them.

"First, we had a week of training when the situation was explained to us to a small extent.

"We learned about air and water pollution, regressive taxation, decreasing employment opportunities and poor road facilities in the coal mining area.

"Filth is not in the homes there, it's in the air," stated the young volunteer, bent on doing her bit for her country.

"The above-mentioned problems came up frequently as we talked to the people and lived with them for 10 weeks," she said.

Mary lived with a 65-year-old lady who, she said, looked more like 80 and who spent from early morning until late at night working in her garden or peddling some of the produce.

"She didn't have much to sell but it helped supplement the $64 she receives each month to live on. "She is very nice," the house guest remarked.

Two or more volunteers lived in a Community and Mary said that there were no Negroes in hers but probably there were in some of the other areas.

She said that some of the volunteers set up tutorials and recreation programs while others worked with a county-wide newspaper.

"All of us spent a lot of time talking to the people in the community and encouraged them to discuss their problems with their neighbors."

"Through the discussion it is hoped that new solutions to the age-old problems could be arrived at and instituted."

"I felt, as did most of the others, 10 weeks was barely long enough to get to know the area and the people. It's hard to work with people until you know them.

"I wish that I could have stayed longer as I made many friends and became involved in the activities of the community," Mary concluded.

Robberies Cause for 3 Blockades

Three blockades, all due to armed robbery, were set up by Tecumseh police over the weekend, and Tuesday afternoon.

Saturday night, blockades were established at M-50 and M-52 and at M-50 and Rogers Hwy. Tuesday another blockade was made at Rogers Hwy., after a robbery north of Ann Arbor.

Fisher Body May Strike

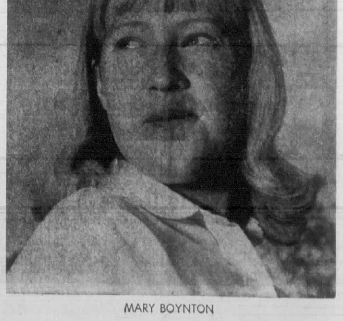
If General Motors becomes the target company and a new contract between the company and UAW is not reached by 11:59 p.m. on Sept. 6, Tecumseh's Fisher Body Plant will be one of many out on strike.

It appears that a strike is a certainty, as both company and union are far apart in their offers.

There's also a possibility GM will be out on strike even if not picked as the target company. The Big Three — GM, Ford and Chrysler — may stick together and all shut down.

UAW is expected to announce its target company Friday.

Tecumseh Fisher Body Plant employs approximately 1,000.



MARY BOYNTON

Traffic Accident Fatal to Tecumseh Resident

For the second straight week, at least one Tecumseh person was killed in a traffic accident.

Saturday night, Kenneth R. Lyon, 56, of 416 W. Logan St., was killed when the car he was driving crashed head-on with another on M-50 at Matthews Hwy., about one and a half miles west of Tecumseh.

Some mystery still surrounds the accident. It's not known whether the Lyons turned off Matthews Hwy. onto M-50, or whether they were on M-50 all the time.

It is believed they were en route to Cambridge Junction to join relatives for a snack.

Driver of the other car, Millard Bell, 61, rural Brooklyn, suffered two broken legs, internal injuries and lacerations. His condition is rated good.

Bell's car also was hit from the rear by Jack Schiouville, 44, of Lincoln Park. He was not injured.

Mr. Lyon had been a resident of Tecumseh since last November when he started to work at the Tecumseh Products. He lived most of his life at Prattville, and for six years prior to coming to Tecumseh, he lived at Quincy.

He was born June 3, 1911, at Hillsdale and married Emma E. Reasoner on Nov. 21, 1926.

Survivors, besides the widow, include a son, Richard Lyon, an orderly who happened to be working in the emergency room at Herrick Hospital when his parents were brought in.

Other survivors are three daughters, Mrs. Phillip (Gloria) Porter of Quincy; Mrs. Robert (Nancy) Robertson, Palmyra; Mrs. Jack (Sandra) Meridith, Hodgenville, Ky.; and a brother and six grandchildren.

Services were held Wednesday afternoon at the Proctor Funeral Home with the Rev. T. R. Dolson of Hudson officiating.

Burial was in Brookside Cemetery.

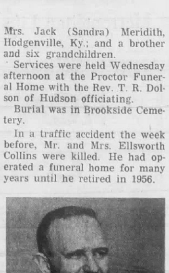
In a traffic accident the week before, Mr. and Mrs. Ellsworth Collins were killed. He had operated a funeral home for many years until he retired in 1956.

St. Elizabeth Classes To Begin

Classes will begin Wednesday, Sept. 6, at St. Elizabeth School, preceded by mass at 9 a.m.

The teaching staff this year is:

Sister Ann Seraphim—8th
Sister Joseph Victor—7th
Mrs. Ronald Cheever—6th
Sister Maria Delores—5th
Sister Anne Celestine—4th
Mrs. Carl Towers—3rd
Mrs. Ramon Aylesworth—2nd
Sister Ellen Leo—First.



Don Moffatt, Tecumseh Recreational Director, will start Sept. 1 as partime secretary for the Chamber of Commerce. The Chamber is experimenting with a partime secretary and has employed Moffatt till the end of the year. He will continue, however, as head of Tecumseh's recreation program, and combine the two jobs.

30 Days Is Too Much, Man Flees

30 days! Oh, no!

With that, Robert LaGore, 24, Munger Rd., fled from Justice of Peace Ernie Oliver's court Monday afternoon.

He admitted to the Justice that he had made a mistake.

Oliver, however, still fined him $114.90 and sentenced him to 30 days in the county jail, plus a year's probation.

LaGore had been picked up earlier on a drunk and disorderly charge by the State Police.

22 Boats Parade

A parade of 22 boats and rafts decorated by members of the Evans Lake Land Owners Association and their guests started the festivities at the second annual Lake-A-Rama Saturday afternoon.

Frank Gardale's raft, "Bambino," looking like a baby carriage, won first prize of $20. Jim Caverier's "Tisket a Tasket," looking like a basket, won the second prize of $10 and "Good Ole Summer Time" by Bill Sorke won third, receiving $5.

"The Pirate Ship" by Jeff and Jerry Feudi won second and the "Hippy Skippy" entered by the Dave Falings, Bill Sisson and Dr. Schroeder of Toledo, won third.

Mrs. Gordon Dutz had charge

Obituaries

GROVER SWARTS

Services were held Saturday at the Tipton Community Church for Grover Swartz, 78, who died at 5:30 p.m. Aug. 23 at Herrick Memorial Hospital where he had been a patient for three hours.

A rural mail carrier out of the Adrian post office for 24 years, Mr. Swarts served an additional ten years as Tipton rural carrier before retiring in 1956.

Mrs. Swarts, the former Thelma Jones, whom he married May 25, 1933, is postmaster at Tipton.

His first marriage in February 1915 was to Grace Richardson. She died in 1932.

A veteran of World War One, Mr. Swarts was a member of the Community Church, Knights of Pythias and Grange, all at Tipton, as well as the Lenawee Farm Bureau.

Besides his wife, he is survived by a son, Kenneth Swarts of Jackson, and one grandchild.

A brother preceded him in death.

The Rev. Philip Rusten officiated and burial was in Tipton Cemetery. Arrangements were made by the Dunn Funeral Home.

David Whelan, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Whelan, Tipton, received a book and a certificate for his three combs of honey which he displayed at the State 4-H Show. He is a member of the Tipton Jets.

Rhonda Leismer, Patrick Smith Marry at Church of Christ

Rhonda S. Leismer and Patrick L. Smith were married Aug. 11 in the Church of Christ by the Rev. Edgar Pistole.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Leismer, 505 Russell Rd., and Mr. and Mrs. Gerald Smith, 602 Island Drive.

She carried yellow and white roses.

Dallas Knight seated the 35 guests.

The groom is employed at Hoover Ball Bearing and the couple will live in Clinton.

"There were many other committees that should have recognition as they worked so hard," said Mrs. Ray Redman, wife of the chairman of the event.

Rain drowned the fire under the corn roast and dampened the dancing area in the evening but not the spirits of the 250 or so participating.

The Hubert VanCamps, the Culversons, the Bradleys, Sweeneys and Gensiers provided lakefront area for the event.

Music for square dancing was provided by a Hudson group and "The Radicals," composed of Bernard Riordan, Bill Humphries, Bill Bailey and Mike Bates, played for round dancing on the asphalt.

Flanders Music provided a half hour show which was well received.

Our Readers Write

TO THE EDITOR:

Well, here I am again with pen in hand, writing to the best paper in the States.

Unlike the other articles I've written on Vietnam and just being in the hospital, this one is very important to me and three other guys.

On Aug. 22 at Subirrai, Okinawa, it just happened that four of us guys got together. Of course, unlike most get-togethers, this one was very special — the four who met for this party are all old friends from back home.

The four who were present were: SP/4 William Watson; Pfc. Phillip Mobley; Pfc. LaVern Stites and of course myself, SP/4 Gary L. Dunham.

The other three are all from Tecumseh. I am from Britton.

Since I was the first one on the island and the first to leave, I was elected to write this letter.

It was real good to talk to someone from home and we had a lot to talk about. Next month the four of us are getting together and having a small party. This will be in honor of LaVern's birthday.

In closing, I would like to tell each one of the parents of the boys from Tecumseh that their sons are doing fine and looking forward to coming home.

I have 166 more days and I'll be home after nearly 18 months on Okinawa.

It's been an experience I'll never forget.

Yours,

Republican Ladies Meet at the Home of C. Greenwalds

The Shawnee Republican Women's Club met informally Tuesday evening at the country home of Mr. and Mrs. Clayton Greenwald on Taylor Rd.

A potluck dinner was served on the patio. Guests for the special event were husbands and friends of the members.

Plans are being made by some of the members to attend the fall Conference of State Republicans to be held at Mackinac Island the week end of Sept. 22-24.

Senator Bursley's LANSING REPORT

How to pay for a college education? That's a tough problem for many students — and their parents — especially at this time of the year. Tuition is up; room and board is up; and the cost of living is up.

Four types of financial aid are generally available to college students: scholarships, loans, special grants and part-time employment.

Scholarships are the most sought after but require superior academic ability and usually some degree of financial need.

Loans — increasingly popular — are available from colleges and universities themselves. Also large amounts of state and federal loan funds are now obtainable. Financial need is not a prerequisite for most loans.

Grants are usually given for unusual skill in fields such as athletics, art and music. A high academic record is not usually necessary. Educational Opportunity Grants are now provided by the federal government to students with limited resources.

Employment on a part-time basis provides vitally needed financial aid to over one third of Michigan's college students. Many work and save during the summer season.

Michigan college students have opportunities in all these areas. The Higher Education Assistance Authority provides real help through the State Guaranteed Loan Program and the State Scholarship Program.

A student going to a college-level institution can borrow up to $1,000 $1,500 for graduate study) from participating banks and credit unions. The State Authority guarantees these loans to the banks.

Monthly repayment begins nine months after graduation. Interest rates are low and carefully regulated. Application should be made three months before school begins.

The State Scholarship Program grants competitive scholarships up to $800 per year to a student so that he can attend the Michigan college he chooses — public or private. The money is a credit against the tuition and for no other purpose.

A tuition grant program is also administered by the State Authority. Under it Michigan students are eligible to receive from $100 to $500 a year based on family "effective income" of $10,000 or less.

Information on these programs is obtainable from the college or high school or by writing directly to the Michigan Higher Education Assistance Authority, 541 E. Grand River, East Lansing, Michigan.

Now the Federal Government also has several programs to help college students. National Defense Student Loans are of a long-term low-interest nature. Borrowers who elect to teach in a public or other non-profit elementary or secondary school may have 50% of the loan canceled at the rate of 10% for each year of teaching service.

There is a college-work-study program for students from low-income families where in the college or an off-campus agency employs the student for up to 15 hours per week.

There are Educational Opportunity Grants for needy students ranging from $200 to $800 per year.

There are many other special federal programs and benefits. Details may be obtained from any college financial aid officer or by writing for a copy of "Aids to Students" at the U.S. Office of Education, Washington, D.C. 20202.

Besides the state and federal sources I have mentioned, Michigan students may obtain financial help from a variety of other programs run by alumni associations, labor unions, veterans groups, private organizations, foundations, corporations, benevolent societies and local community sources. These awards are usually for amounts ranging from $100 to $1500 per year.

Remember this though. A good record and good character are of great help in getting any financial help.

Hudson Realty 'Snowed Under'

"I haven't had a chance to put any lipstick on, we've been snowed under all day," said Mrs. Robert Lafferty of the J. L. Hudson Realty Agency.

Mr. and Mrs. Lafferty took over the managership of the company office in the Irish Hills about two and one half months ago, coming from Detroit.

He was a financial analyst for Ford Motor Co., for eight years at the Utica plant and sold real estate out of Plymouth before coming to the lake area.

"We were offered the opportunity and thought we would see if we could earn a living out here," remarked the tanned, distinguished appearing realtor.

"We love it here," he continued. "It's so different from living in the city. You get such a warm welcome and people are always so eager to help."

"We have no complaints, business is good." Lafferty stated. This is evidenced by the fact that they are adding two full time salesmen to the staff of six already employed by the office located near Evans Lake Trading Post on U.S. 12.

"I wouldn't want to go back to Detroit," said smiling Kay Lafferty from the other office.

The move has been some change for her since up until that time she had busied herself with caring for the Lafferty home and the family of two sons and two daughters.

Now Kay has taken over the office work while her husband travels "the field."

They keep the phone covered at all times, seven days each week.

"If that phone rings and you don't answer it, you have lost money," said the earnest businessman, emphasizing his remark by answering the B-ring" of the phone on his desk at that moment.

"Our policy is to follow the real estate manual to the letter," he continued after suggesting that someone on the other end of the line come out and take a walk over the property in which they were interested.

From the busy, happy atmosphere in the Hudson Realty office, it would appear that the Laffertys, natives of Detroit, have come to the "Hills" to stay.

Susan Van Doren Mark Vaillancourt Say Nuptial ows

Susan M. Van Doren and Mark Vaillancourt were married Aug. 19 by Fr. James FitzGerald at St. Joseph Shrine.

Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Van Doren of Evans Lake and Mr. and Mrs. Robert Vaillancourt, 1007 River Acres Dr.

A reception was held for 250 guests Aug. 21 at Bauer Manor.

The couple are living in the West Campus Apartments at Western Michigan University where the groom is a senior in business administration this year.

The bride was feted at two showers at the Manor given by Nancy Walker and Mrs. Raymond Briggs and by her sister, Kay Lee Van Doren.

FORD MARSH, LEFT, SHOWN WITH MR. AND MRS. GLEN WORK

Glen Work Opens Cleaning Service

Glen Work has opened a new business at his 711 Adrian St., home. Recently graduated from Duraclean International in Chicago, Mr. Work has begun his furniture upholstering and cleaning shop, complete with pick-up service.

Mr. Work, along with his wife, Eva, and their three children, Randy, 19, Buddy, 17, and Jackie, 15, has lived in Tecumseh since 1950. He is employed at the Tecumseh Products.

The training program in Chicago in which Mr. Work participated covered all aspects of dealership operations with classes conducted by members of the Duraclean international headquarters staff.

His training included sessions in absorption cleaning and spot removing, carpet construction, personal and telephone selling, national and local advertising, special services to retailers and decorators, contract cleaning services and business management.

Mr. Work was awarded a certificate of recognition from Ford A. Marsh, president of the world wide organization.

Duraclean Home Services will employ an exclusive absorption process to clean carpeting and upholstered furniture without soaking or mechanical scrubbing.

Six services will be offered including absorption cleaning, soil retarding, mothproofing, flame retarding, spot removal and carpet repair.

The hours of Mr. Works new business will be from 7 a.m. till 11 p.m., for customer convenience.

Golfers Win

The Golf committee will have charge of the arrangements for closing ladies day at the Tecumseh Country Club.

They are Mrs. Ralph Dabe, Mrs. Edward Schwartz, Mrs. Wayne Gillespie, Mrs. Vern Manwaring, Mrs. William Peterson and Mrs. Richard Meyers.

Winners Guests Day, Aug. 23, at the Club were:

NINE HOLES

Low Net — Florence Rentschler, Mrs. Austin Miller.

Low Putts — Mrs. O. W. Laidlaw, Mrs. Willis Porter.

18 HOLES, LOW NET

First — Shimla Bassett, Mrs. Leonard Purdy.

Second — Jenny Kern, Mrs. Glenn Lehr.

Low Putts — Isabelle Sortori, Mrs. Cliff Collins, Mrs. William Snook.

Mrs. Paul Clauda, Mrs. Porter and Mrs. Lehr were chip-in winners.

Those on committee for the day were Mrs. Al Merz, Mrs. Clauda, Mrs. Albert Caesar, Mrs. Rozella Rice and Mrs. Max Skinner.

Robert D. Proctor Home on Leave from Naval Center

Seaman Recruit Robert D. Proctor, 18, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wesley G. Proctor, of 209 Jackson St., Clinton, was graduated from nine weeks of Navy basic training at the Naval Training Center, Great Lakes, Ill.

His training was highlighted by participating in mid-America's "Salute to the Flag" ceremonies held at Soldier Field in Chicago. He was one of the more than 10,000 Navymen who formed a human "Living Flag" in honor of all men and women who are, or have been, in the U. S. Armed Forces.

During his training he studied military subjects and lived and worked under conditions similar to those he will encounter on his first ship or at his first duty station.

He also received instruction in seamanship, survival techniques, military drill and other related subjects.

Robert is visiting his parents this week. He will leave Sept. 5 for the Air Base at Sanford, Fla., where he will study electronics at the Aeronautic School in the Air Division of the Navy.

Slow Pitch Gals Lose To Monroe

A tough Monroe team defeated the local group, 7-4, in the first game.

Loretta Vogel and Kathy Hall each singled and scored on infield outs by Wendy Ehlert and Brenda Watson.

Emily Manwaring brought in the [illegible]. She rounded the diamond on errors and scored on a fly by Kathy Hall.

Monroe again defeated the girls, 17-1. They scored all of their runs in the second and sixth innings.

The Tecumseh gals hit the ball well but the Monroe team was superb in the field and held the locals to one run in the seventh inning.

Emily Manwaring singled and advanced as Jackie Rodgers was safe on an error. She scored on an out by Peggy Martinus.

Emily's two hits and one by Gail Greene were the only hits for the Tecumsehites.

The Tecumseh girls' softball team would like to thank the merchants who sponsored them in the tournament and the many local fans who patronized their team this year.

Haze Takes Honors

CLINTON — Mr. and Mrs. Ted Kiebler's poodle, Haze, continues to capture High Scoring Dog in Trial awards everywhere they take him in competition.

Recent shows in which he has achieved that title were at:

Sudbury, Ont.; topped all three shows in a three-day event in mid-July.

Gambier, O., Aug. 12. Wellington, O., Aug. 13, and Cleveland, Aug. 25; he won both the utility and obedience classes in the Western Reserve Poodle Specialty Show.

Last weekend, Haze was High Scoring Dog at the Chagrin Falls, O., show where last year a bug bite kept him from scoring so high.

Mr. and Mrs. Kiebler spent the weekend with Mr. and Mrs. F. D. Effinger of Chagrin Falls and the Effinger's daughter, Carol, returned to spend a week at the Kiebler home.

The Kieblers are looking forward to taking Haze to Bermuda in November for his second appearance in competition there.

Clinton Lady Is Cited After Mishap on S. Maumee St.

Mary L. Brown, 21, Clinton, was cited last Wednesday for defective equipment after she ran into the rear of a car driven by David H. Damon, 19, of 506 Seminole Dr.

The mishap occurred at S. Maumee St., near Patterson.

She told police that she attempted to stop but her brakes did not hold. Police took her to Herrick Hospital for observation.

Mrs. Clyde Bailey spent Sunday in Ann Arbor with her daughter, Mrs. Royce E. Beal and family. The Beals have returned from a vacation to Cape Cod.

Postponed

The American Legion Auxiliary has postponed the September meeting until Sept. 12.

Mrs. Carl Garrison will be the hostess for the 8 p.m. meeting.

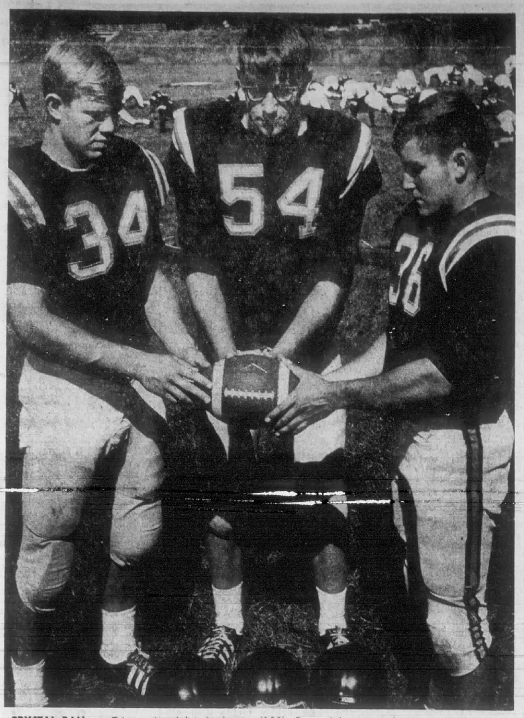
READY TO START — These six lettermen are back for another season and all are primed for starting roles. Bottom three are Carlo Mobley (183), Jim Hunt 165), Randy Robinson, (145). At the top and biggest man on the squad is junior tackle Jim Parros (210), Jim Upell (182) and Chuck Gillies (168) at his left.



CRYSTAL BALL — Tri-captains John Anderson (180), Doug Schwartz (192), and Buddy Work (150), are hoping the magic football bounces the right way this season. All three must stay healthy if the Indians are successful in the Huron League this season.

Carol Denz Honored At Shower

Mrs. E. J. Aebersold entertained Tuesday evening with a bridal shower honoring Carol Denz, whose marriage to John Carter of Adrian will be an event of Sept. 9.

Mrs. Aebersold was assisted by Mrs. Raymond Randells of Battle Creek, Mrs. Henry K. Smith and Mrs. David Watson.

Guests were relatives of the bride from Battle Creek, Pontiac, Coldwater, Birmingham, Wayne and Adrian.

Prizes were presented for a game using the guests' names with Mrs. Carl Vinton, Mrs. Jody Randells, Mrs. George Tilton and Mrs. James Meade as winners.

Duplicate prizes were presented to the bride-elect.

The bride's mother, Mrs. Frank Denz, poured coffee and assisted the hostess who presided at the punch bowl and served decorated cakes.

LETTERMEN BACK — Three of Tecumseh's 12 lettermen back are Steve Dalton, split-end (151); quarterback Jim Mobley (160), and Rick Durkee (142), also a split-end. Except for injuries, Mobley started every game for the Indians at quarterback last season.

Euchre Party

Ice cream will be furnished for the Grange Euchre party Saturday at 8 p.m. at the Grange Hall.

The committee asked those attending to bring cookies or cake to serve with the dessert.

Scrimmages Start

Just two weeks remain for Coach Tom Fagan and his Tecumseh Indians to ready themselves for their grid opener at Hillsdale — and that's not much time to solve some obvious problems.

Last year, the Indians had strength on the line and an untested backfield. This fall it's just the opposite.

Fagan will start a letterman at all four backfield posts and still have a letterman or two in reserve. Up front the story is different.

Tri-captain Doug Schwartz leads a [illegible] undoubtedly will include Carlo Mobley, Jim Upell, Jim Parros and split ends Rick Durkee and Steve Dalton.

All three coaches — Fagan, Pat Conners and Jim Curth — hope to get a better idea of the squad this Saturday morning when an intra-squad scrimmage will be held on the practice field.

More individual attention is planned, too, as the varsity and Jayvee squads will be divided, either Friday or Saturday.

There's little doubt that the Indians will be stronger in the backfield with Jim Mobley and Jim Hunt battling it out for quarterback. It's also likely that one or the other will be a running [illegible] when not quarterbacking.

John Anderson, a tri-captain along with Schwartz and Buddy Work, was Tecumseh's top runner last year and could well repeat this season.

Although not fast, Anderson is a strong runner and an additional 10 pounds, boosting him to 180, shouldn't hurt.

Chuck Gillies and Randy Robinson also are top backfield prospects and both lettered there last year.

Tri-captain Work played safety on defense most of last season and is scheduled to hold up the defense again this year. Whether he can crack the offensive unit depends on the upcoming scrimmages.

Nearly 60 players are working out daily as a group. However, several, including some promising sophomore prospects, will likely be placed on the Jayvee squad.

Some will [illegible] and Fagan has high hopes that they will come through, especially on the line where the Indians will be critically thin at spots.

After Saturday's scrimmage, Tecumseh will participate in a five-way scrimmage with Ypsilanti, Jackson, Austin of Detroit, and Jackson St. John.

The date has not been scheduled yet.

Swim Show

The Annual Parents Night Demonstration Show will be given at 7 p.m. Friday by the children who have been taking swimming lessons at the Joyce Andrews Memorial pool.

More than 25 million men and women in the U. S. today were former 4-H Club members. Among them are many of the nation's leaders.

PHOTO BY TECUMSEH HERALD

The Tecumseh Jaycee Auxiliary proudly dedicates this Serviceman's Bulletin Board to our Tecumseh area men serving in the Armed Forces — in the United States, Vietnam, Alaska, Germany, Hawaii, or wherever they may be. In this small way, we hope to draw attention to the fact that there are many young men, momentarily forgotten by many of us in Tecumseh, said Mrs. Gordon Gutowski, who are doing their part in serving our country and helping to preserve the ideals of freedom and democracy for which our forefathers fought so many years ago. Perhaps, too, this bulletin board may prompt those of us who care, to send a card or letter to these men, she noted, and let them know what they are doing is appreciated by us all. Mrs. Gutowski, above left, and Mrs. Robert Bowers of the Citizens Savings Bank, where the board is displayed, look over the location of Tecumseh's servicemen. Anyone knowing the location and addresses of servicemen not listed, is asked to call either Mrs. Gutowski at 423-7365 or Mrs. Charles Robinson at 423-2246.

Fall Tennis Tournament Date Is Set

All men interested in competing in Tecumseh's fall tennis tournament are urged to sign up at the City Hall before the Sept. 7 deadline, said Don Moffatt, superintendent of the Parks and Recreation Department.

Entry fees are $1 for singles and $2 for doubles. Trophies will be awarded to winners and runners-up.

The tournament will be held at the Municipal tennis courts behind the library, beginning the week of Sept. 11.

► RUHL'S CITGO 19, KEMP MURPHY 5

C. E. Locker and Mike Montgomery were the winning pitcher and catcher as Ruhl's Citgo continued to stay on top of the Slo-Pitch League when they defeated Kemp-Murphy, 19-3.

Doug Ives and Wes Whelan were the losing battery.

In the top of the third with one out, Alan Vallad got a hit that started the rally and Ruhl's Citgo batted all the way around to score ten runs.

Montgomery belted the big hit of the game in the third inning to score Vallad, Locker and Brad Hatch.

► WAGON WHEELS 21, TECUMSEH JAYCEES 20

With two out in the seventh inning, Bart Aluto came to bat and drove in the winning run as the Wagon Wheels slipped by the Tecumseh Jaycees, 21-20.

Chuck Noragon and Jim Payton were the winning battery and D. Osworth and R. Hebert fought for a lost cause as the Tecumseh Jaycees' pitcher and catcher.

► RUHL'S CITGO 17, THREE LAKES SUPPLY 4

Despite a shortage of players, Ruhl's Citgo went ahead to defeat Three Lakes Supply, 17-4.

Alan Vallad hit a double in the second inning to score Greg Allen and C. E. Locker. That was all the team needed to win the game.

C. E. Locker was on the mound for Ruhl's Citgo and Brad Hatch was behind the plate.

Ron Burns and D. Marsh were the losing battery.

► RUHL'S CITGO 27, TECUMSEH JAYCEES 4

Ruhl's Citgo stomped the Jaycees, 27-4.

C. E. Locker and Brad Hatch wer the winning battery and Doug Osworth and D. Hebert were the losers.

What's the daily limit on ducks in Michigan this year? Four? Nine? Eleven?

Depending upon which part of the Oct. 9 to Nov. 17 huntings season you were talking about, all of those figures can be correct. The whole thing is wrapped up in selective or "species" shooting.

Under the 1967 duck hunting rules, Michigan hunters are restricted to a basic four ducks per day. Of these four, no more than two may be mallards, nor more than one wood duck or canvasback.

Realizing, however, that most duck hunters tend to pass up mergansers, the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service allows five of these to be taken daily, in addition to four "eating type" ducks.

By mergansers, the USFWS means American and red-breasted mergansers. In any case, only one hooded merganser is allowed in the daily bag. These ducks are scarce.

Okay, so that's how we can bag nine legal ducks per day. Now, what about 11?

Beginning Nov. 1 and continuing for the last 17 days of the duck season, three areas of Michigan are open to the taking of two extra scaup or bluebills each day.

These include all of the Michigan waters of Lake Erie, the Detroit River and Lake St. Clair; Saginaw Bay south of a line from San Point to Point Au Gres; and Muskegon Lake west of Causeway Drive.

All of this makes a good deal for those sportsmen who take their duck hunting seriously but are not content with the regular four-per-day limit.

It won't make a lot of difference to the guy who normally goes out just on opening day to bang away at a few birds, then forgets ducks till the next year.

There is no doubt that species hunting is the coming trend in the years ahead. The special, "teal-only" season is another good example.

This 9-day season opens Sept. 15 for about 8,000 holders of special permits but hunting is limited to eight special areas around the state.

The same teal season sees special hunts for rails and jacksnipe in the teal hunting area. Sept. 15 also opens a "woodcock only" season in the northern two-thirds of Michigan, during which hunters are being trusted to pass up shooting at ruffed grouse.

Hunting opportunities could be dwindling rapidly for most of us if it was not for the innovation of species hunting.

We can take advantage of it and enjoy some fine outdoors recreation or we can sit back and mourn the passing of "the good old days."

Which will you choose?

HOLLOWAY NEWS

Dennis Green and Charles Calhoun gave a birthday party for Cheryl Calhoun, 18, Tuesday. Friends came from Palmyra, Blissfield, and Adrian. The evening was devoted to dancing and cape, pop and potato chips were served. The honored guests had two lovely cakes.

Mrs. Lillian Wood of Adrian was a Sunday afternoon caller at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Machan.

Tuesday, Mrs. Leo Horoszewski and daughters of Berkey, O., were visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Louis Machan.

SS Checks Will Be Sent Day Earlier

Social Security checks next month will be delivered Sept. 2, a day earlier than usual, Postmaster General Lawrence F. O'Brien announced recently.

Mr. O'Brien said the Treasury Department and the Social Security Administration made the arrangements with the Post Office Department for the earlier delivery to avoid hardship among the more than 20,000,000 persons on social security rolls.

Because Sept. 3 is a Sunday, delivery of the checks normally would be made on Monday, Sept. 4. However, since Monday is the Labor Day holiday, the Saturday deliveries will avoid a 2-day wait until Tuesday, Sept. 5, said Mr. O'Brien.

To insure against any erroneous holdover of the checks until Sept. 5, the Treasury is providing envelopes with printed instructions showing that delivery must be made Sept. 2.

Instructions are also being placed in the Postal Bulletin covering the earlier delivery as further insurance against misunderstanding by postal personnel.

Service Club Asks for Used Clothing

A plea comes from the Tecumseh Service Club for clothing for needy school children of all ages, but especially for boys, ages 6, 7 and 8.

Anyone desiring to donate such clothing may leave them at the fire hall, where they will be picked up and distributed to the needy.

NOTICE

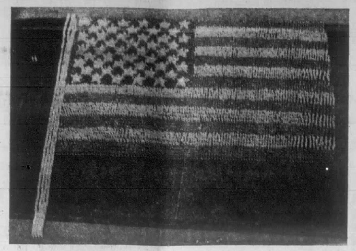
To Water Users In The City of Tecumseh

September 1st, it will be time to read the water meters again. Please co-operate with the meter readers when they come to your home.

If you are not at home when the meter man calls you will find a return card for you to put your reading on or call 423-2107.

PLEASE SIGN THE CARDS AND GIVE ADDRESS.

THANK YOU,
NAOMI SALLOWS,
City Clerk.



THIRD FROM LEFT — A human "Living Flag" is formed by more than 10,000 Naval Training Center Great Lakes sailors at Soldier Field in Chicago. The first human flag was formed in Chicago by Great Lakes Navymen in November of 1917, seven months after the United States entered World War I. This year's ceremonies commemorated the 50-year anniversary of that "Living Flag", and rededicated the principles of America, and demonstrated the mid-west's support of U. S. fighting forces. Seaman Recruit Robert D. Proctor took part in the flag formation.

City Post Office Closed Labor Day

The Tecumseh Post Office will be closed Monday, Sept. 4, for Labor Day. There will be no window, city delivery or rural carrier service.

All special delivery mail received at the office on Sept. 3 or 4 will be delivered.

All mail deposited in the two boxes in the business district and the two boxes in front of the Post Office before 5 p.m. on both days will be dispatched each day.

Ladies Enjoy Meeting

MACON — Mrs. Gerald Miller opened the general meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service by reading "Take Time." Mrs. Charles Gorton Jr., told the story of how the Hymn "Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow," was written for an English Boys College.

The group sang the hymn, with Mrs. Gorton at the piano. "Isn't That The Way Trouble Starts?" was read by Mrs. Gorton.

Mrs. Edward Clark, vice-president, conducted the meeting in the absence of the president. Mrs. Harold Ruhl will be chairman for the Church calendar project and Mrs. Guy Zelluff reported that two tables and one dozen metal folding chairs had been ordered.

Mrs. Clark closed the business meeting with the reading "He's Gone To School Today." Mrs. Guy Zelluff and committee served Jello, salads and assorted crackers, mints and nuts, and coffee.

Pickup Rams Parked Car

Howard L. McGowan, 33, Adrian, miraculously escaped serious injury Saturday night when his pickup ploughed into a parked car on N. Union St.

McGowan's pickup drove a large, late model sedan completely over the curb and into a tree. The impact demolished the front end of the truck and the rear of the automobile.

Traffic was blocked for over 20 minutes before the pickup could be moved. Firemen were also called to wash down gasoline spilled on the street.

Mrs. Clyde Bailey Entertained Heads of Monday Club

Mrs. Clyde Bailey recently entertained officers and the executive board of the Monday Club at her home which was also the site for a birthday tea to be held Sept. 18, in the Youth House of the First Baptist Church.

Members and guests will be welcomed.

Brick Walker Tavern Is Still Alive with Priceless Antiques and Tales

By DOROTHY GRIGG

"I got hooked on antiques, that's how I got into the business," said Charles Green at the Brick Walker Tavern recently.

Mr. Green and his wife, Sharon, took over operation of the Tavern for the Schmidt Brothers of Ypsilanti, who bought the property last year.

Formerly of Detroit, the Greens now have an apartment at the rear of the building with their pure bred Dalmation dog, Nate, who fits right into the picture.

"There is always a customer for every piece," Green remarked, "because there was a customer for it when it was first made."

At this point in the interview, Green interrupted a customer who was explaining to her companion about the Flea Market to be held Saturday.

"It's when people bring their junk —"

"Don't use that word," he stated. "Our Flea Market is not a backyard swap meet. I don't sell anything for 25c and I don't allow anyone else to do so."

Green revived the Flea Market last year, antique style. The Markets were started in Europe, more particularly in Paris, where stalls were set up each Saturday and people would bring articles for sale — everything from produce to paintings.

Now dealers come from Indiana, Ohio and all parts of Michigan to set up their displays next to the Tavern which is filled with an estimated 5,000 antiques, most of them imported. There is no admission charge, something that is not done in the East, Green noted.

"We like to buy locally and do when we can, but we have quite a turn-over and not enough is available.

Flea Markets are more popular in Ohio than here. Mr. Green said that there are probably not more than four or five in the whole state of Michigan. These are in Detroit, Benton Harbor and Port Huron.

Saturday's sale included an auction of all of the articles in the room on the south side of the building, many beautiful furnishings as well as cut glass punch bowls and other lovelies.

To the query, "Just what is an antique," Mr. Green stated, "An antique, according to the United States Government, is anything 100 years old. This was changed last year. It used to be 1830."

"Now that grandfather's clock," he continued, pointing, "is 100 years old, but some things are not, such as the round glass China cabinet from the 1910 era. But everyone wants them. They are most desirable."

One room in the Tavern is entirely reproductions, gorgeous glass ware.

Mr. Hewitt, who now lives in Jackson with his daughter, used to conduct his tours himself, never giving the same spiel twice, from his vast knowledge of the area and events said to have taken place there.

Outside the Brick building is a huge old street lamp valued by the proprietor at $500. When asked why so much he replied, "Because I've never seen anything like it. That sets the price."

Lava holders and huge black cooking kettles are among other artifacts at the front entrance to the antique store. There is also a wrought iron bench where a photographer from the Brooklyn Exponent took a picture of Mr. Hewitt one day for publication.

"Some day, I'm going to sit there and have my picture taken, too, said the jovial antique dealer to conclude the interview.

Meyers Aircraft Company is final testing a new 240-horsepower plane, to be known as the Model 200. It has four seats and a crusing speed of 185 miles per hour with a range of 600 miles. The company is also engaged in making several models of boat trailers and aluminum boats.

Members of the Municipal Planning Commission are consulting local merchants about further support for, and methods of, financing a plan to provide off-street downtown parking for 550 automobiles.

Second grade students of Patterson School are scheduled to attend classes in the First Baptist Church on a temporary basis.

The engagement and approaching marriage of Anna Marie Bennett to Donald H. Wolff are being announced by her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Vernon J. Bennett of Adrian. Miss Bennett is a graduate of Tecumseh High School and is a dental assistant at the office of Dr. William J. Adams. Her fiance is a graduate of Airport High School and is employed at the Eaton, Yale and Towne Research Center in Southfield. He is the son of Mrs. Harold Wolff of Carleton and the late Mr. Wolff. A Sept. 24 wedding is planned by the couple.

Two Doctors Re-Elected To AAGP

Two Tecumseh doctors have been re-elected to active membership in the American Academy of General Practice, the national association of family doctors.

They are Richard Dale Cook, M. D., and Alvin Joseph Phelan, M. D.

Re-election signifies that the physician has successfully completed 150 hours of accredited postgraduate medical study in the last three years.

The academy, the country's second largest national medical association, is the only medical group that requires members to keep up with medical progress through continuing education.

The Academy, founded in 1947 and headquartered in Kansas City, Mo., currently is spearheading a movement to create a new specialty of family medicine that will enhance the ability of the family physician to provide comprehensive, continuing care to the public.

The foundation of the new specialty will be the Academy's postgraduate education program.

Books, Heirlooms To Go on Display at Antique Show

Rare old books will be among other remnants of the romantic era at the Detroit Fall Antique Show Sept. 7-10 at the Light Guard Armory.

Hours of the show will be from 1-10 p.m., all four days with free parking for 4,000 cars adjacent to the armory.

An appraisal booth will highlight the annual show with profits going to the chapel fund of the Lapeer State Home and Training School in order to erect an interfaith chapel on the grounds of the state-supported hospital for the mentally retarded.

Two well known antique authorities will be at the show to solve mysteries of the real value of heirlooms for only $1 per item.

Tecumseh, Britton School Census Is Up for 1967-68

According to a county-wide school census for 1967, Tecumseh and Britton are just two of four school districts which can expect an increase in enrollment for the new school term.

The Britton district census shows 212 youngsters in the under five age bracket, and 711 for ages six through 19. This is an increase of 13 over 1966.

Tecumseh's census increase is only nine, with a total of 5,721 youngsters counted.

Largest increase is Addison, up 144.

Clinton and Adrian show the largest decrease, with Clinton's census down 274 and Adrian's 226.

There's a decrease of 498 for the entire county.

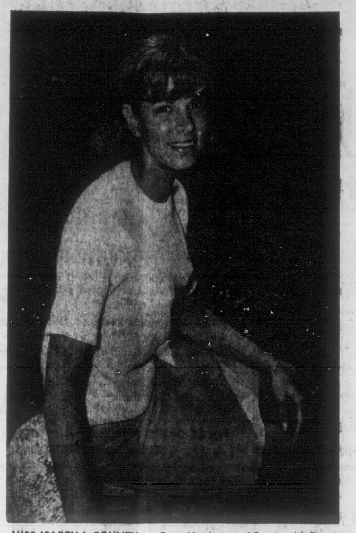
Sunday Sermon

"Know ye that the Lord he is God: it is he that hath made us, and not we ourselves; we are his people, and the sheep of his pasture."

The Golden Text of this week's Bible lesson on "Man" to be read in all Christian Science churches this Sunday, is from the hundredth Psalm.



MISS ISABELLA COUNTY — Caty Maples, an 18-year-old Central Michigan University coed who sings with a campus folk group called the Sandalwood Singers, has been named Miss Isabella County for 1968. Caty won the title this week in competition at the Isabella County Youth and Farm Fair and will represent the county in the Miss Michigan pageant in Muskegon next June. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sevedus Maples of 607 Herrick Park Dr. A 5-foot-8 ash blond with green eyes, she sang folk songs for the talent portion of the contest. Caty, sponsored by her sorority, Omega Chi, will be a sophomore this fall at Central where she is majoring in French.

Open House

A surprise open house honoring Mr. and Mrs. Ben F. Gillies, 712 Outer Dr., on their 25th wedding anniversary was held Sunday at the summer home of Mrs. Gillies' mother, Mrs. J. Ralph Kirk at Devils Lake.

Arrangements for the occasion were made by Mrs. Kirk, Mrs. Jack Curtiss and Mrs. Stuart Costigan.

A decorated cake was served from a table covered in blue linen with appointments of crystal and silver.

Approximately 35 friends and relatives called to extend congratulations and presented the couple with many silver gifts.

Jeannette Kirk, daughter of the late J. Ralph Kirk and Mrs. Kirk, and Ben Gillies, son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Ben Gillies Sr., all of Adrian, were married Aug. 29, 1942, in the home of the bride's parents by the late Rev. George Prentice, former minister of the First United Presbyterian Church of Adrian.

The couple have two sons, Douglas, a student at Michigan State University and Charles, a senior at Tecumseh High School.

Commercial Farms Are Increasing in Number, Size

Each day during the past five years, Michigan has been losing about nine "census farms" but gaining three "commercial farms," according to John Doneth, Michigan State University agricultural economist.

Commercial farms are those with $20,000 or more gross income while census farms can be a rural tract of land with little or no farming operations.

The agricultural economist thinks it is important to distinguish between them because the total business volume on commercial farms is rapidly increasing.

"By 1980 we expect 55 to 60 per cent of all our farms to be commercial in contrast to less than 5 per cent five years ago and only about 10 per cent today," Doneth commented.

A study of farm records shows that expenses and investments are increasing as faster rates than gross income. This means the farmer is faced with narrower margins of net income on each bushel of grain, hundredweight of livestock or milk, or ton of fruit.

Rev. L. Redmond Set To Address WSCS Meeting

The Rev. Louis Redmond of Cass Community Center in Detroit will be the speaker at the opening meeting of the Woman's Society of Christian Service of the Tecumseh Methodist Church Sept. 6 at 8 p.m.

"Being with People Who Hurt" is the title of the Rev. Redmond's address. He will discuss the underprivileged inhabitants of Detroit's inner city in the light of the recent upheaval there and what the church does or does not do or could do for such people.

Cass Community Center sponsors projects for Negroes and whites in "have-not" areas.

The executive board will meet at 7 p.m. A business meeting and refreshments will follow the program.

News from the Tecumseh Library

New books ready for you to borrow at your Public Library:

THE SUN KING by Nancy Mitford. In this book a novelist and biographer of distinction brings a glittering century to life. She takes as her subject Louis XIV at Versailles, from the moment he decided to transform his father's hunting lodge into the greatest palace in Europe, to his death there 54 years later.

THE FOURTH R, a return to learning for sidetracked adolescents, by Robert Heinemann. For six years this author experimented with an approach to drop-outs who had failed to benefit from enrollment in some of America's best private and public schools. The results were exciting and provocative and are outlined in his book.

KING OF THE RAINY COUNTRY by Nicholas Freeling, who creates complicated and convincing people, not just plots; and so doing, he skillfully unravels the mysteries of human conduct.

SUITE IN THREE KEYS, three new plays by Noel Coward: A SONG AT TWILIGHT, SHADOWS OF THE EVENING, and COME INTO THE GARDEN, MAUD.

TIMELOCK, a who-dun-it by Desmond Cory.

CHINESE LOOKING GLASS, a most illuminating book on China and her enigmatic people. The author, Dennis Bloodworth, for 12 years Far Eastern correspondent for "The Observer" of London, has set out to provide the average reader with a reliable guide to the history, development and present situation of the Chinese.

ON A CLEAR DAY YOU CAN SEE FOREVER, a musical play that starred Robert Goulet, by Alan Lerner and Burton Lane.

THE MOONLIT DOOR by Anne Maybury. When Rachel meets handsome and wealthy Paul at a Paris party, she begins a brief but intense love affair that sets the stage for many days of pain and terror to come. How Rachel finally rescues herself becomes the beautifully-suspenseful climax to this tale.

STONECLIFF by Robert Nathan. The title is the name given to the home, perched like an eagle's nest high above the craggy California coast, of a famous author, and the story has to do with the mystery that shrouds him.

Mary Pfister and George Lancaster Are Wed

CLINTON — Nuptial vows were solemnized uniting Mary Kathryn Pfister and George Henry Lancaster Saturday in the Christ Episcopal Church, Adrian.

The officiating ministers were the Rev. Jack Warner of Christ Episcopal Church, and the Rev. Joseph Hendrick of West Adrian United Church of Christ.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Medford W. Pfister of 6148 Forrester Rd., Adrian, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George E. Lancaster, 111 E. Church St., Clinton.

White gladioli and chrysanthemums graced the altar, which was flanked by flower-trimmed candelabra. Candles lighted the aisle for the 7:30 p.m. ceremony.

The bride wore a wedding gown of her own design, fashioned by her mother. Re-embroidered Chantilly lace applique with seed pearls and chrystals accented the Sabrina neckline, short sleeves and the front of the empire waist.

The organist was Thomas Nixon and Wayne Shaw was the soloist.

MRS. GEORGE LANCASTER

The bodice was of white lace over blue chiffon and a matching chiffon back panel flowed from the empire waist.

The bridesmaids were Jeanne Lancaster of Clinton, sister of the groom, Linda Henry and Karen Woerner of Adrian.

Their gowns were styled identically to the matron of honor's, in a lighter shade of pink.

The guests were seated by John and Donald Hoyt of Clinton, Joseph Jeannette of Utica and Kenneth Koch of Dearborn, cousins of the groom; and Russell Pfister, Key West, Fla., brother of the bride.

A reception attended by 275 guests was held in the church parlor immediately after the ceremony.

The wedding cake was cut by Mrs. Garrett Linger of Tipton, aunt of the bride.

Hostesses for the reception were Mrs. Roger Linger of Tecumseh and Mr. and Mrs. Roy Van Doren of Adrian. Assisting were Mrs. Joseph Jeannette of Utica, Carol Van Doren, Janis Linger of Tipton, and Joan Pfister of Evansdale, Ia.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of Adrian High School and is a sophomore at Michigan State University. The bridegroom is a 1965 graduate of Clinton High School and is a junior at Michigan State University where both plan to continue their education.
